The offence of the tongue. 1. Man is but a vaine thing. 2. Happy is he that conuerteth in wisdom.

Blessed is the man that hath not fallen by the sword of his mouth, and is not tormented with the sorrow of sinne.

2 Blessed is he that is not condemned in his conscience, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard, and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 Hee that gathereth together from his owne soule, heapeth together for others, that will make good chere with his goods.

5 Hee that is wised vnto himselfe, to whom will hee be good? how much one can haue no pleasure of his goods.

6 There is nothing worse then when one enuie himselfe: and this is a reward of his wicked doings. 7 And it hee doe any good, hee doth it not knowing thereof, and against his will, and at the last hee declareth his wickedness.

8 The enuious man hath a wicked looke: 1 hee turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A courteous manseye hath richer enogh of a portion, and his wicked malice withereth his owne soule.

10 A wicked eye enuieth the bread, and there is scarcenesse upon his table.

11 My soune, doe good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and giue the Lord his due offerings.

12 Remember that death tarieth not, and that the content of the graine is not thinned to tice.

13 Doe good vnto thy friend before thou die, and according to thine abilitie stretch out thine hand and giue him.

14 Despayre not thy selfe of the good day: & let not the portion of the good desires overpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not fraye thy troubles vnto another, and thy labours for the diuiding of the heritage?

16 Giue and take, and sanctifie thy soule: worke thou righteously till thou come to death: for in the hell there is no meat to finde.

17 All flesh waxeth old as a garment, and this is the conition of all times, Thou shalt die the death.

18 As the greene leaues on a thicke tree, some fall, and some grow, so is the generation of flesh and blood: one cometh to an ende, and another is borne.

19 All corruptible things shall faile, and the worke thereof shall grow withall.

20 Every exaltation is caken: shall be iustified, and he that worketh it shall haue honour thereby.

21 Blessed is they man that doth meditate honest things by wisdom, and exerciseth himselfe in iustice, and he that reasoneth at holy things by his vnderstanding.

22 Which considereth in his heart her wayes, and vnderstandeth her secrets.

23 Goe thou after her as one that seeketh her on, and lie in wait in her wayes.

24 He shall looke in at her windowes, and hearken at her doores.

25 He shall abide beside her house, and fasten a stake in her wals: he shall pitch his tent beside her.

26 And he shall remaine in the lodging of good men, and shall see his children vnder her couering, and shall dwell vnder her branches.

27 By her he shall be couered from the heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAP. XV.

1 Toe goodnesse that followeth him that feareth God. 8 God testifieth and casteth off the sinner. 11 God is not the author of euill.

HE that feareth the Lord will doe good: and he that hath the knowledge of the Law wil keepe it sure.

2 As an honourable mother shall shee meete him, and thee, as his wife married of a virgin, will receive him.

3 With the bread of life and vnderstanding shall shee feede him, and giue him the water of life. 4 He shall assure himselfe in her, and shall not be moved, and shall hold himselfe fast by her, and shall not be confounded.

5 He shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the mids of the Congregation shall he open his mouth: with the spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding shall he fill him, and clothe him with the garment of glory.

6 She shall cause him to inherite joy, and the crowne of gladnesse, and an everlasting name.

7 But foolish men will not take hold vpon her: but such as haue vnderstanding will meet her: the sinners shall not see her.

8 Because she is large from pride and decreie, and men that lie cannot remember her: but men of errou shall haue her, and shall prosper euery vnto the beholding of God.

9 Praise is not secretly in the mouth of the sinner: for that is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisdom, and be plentiful in a faithfull mouth, then the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It hathough the Lord that I turne backe: for thou oughtest not to doe the things that he hath said.

12 Say not thou, It hath caused me to erre: for he hath no need of the sinner.

13 The Lord hateth all the imagination of errou: and they that are Gods louers not.

14 We made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell, and gave him his Commandements and precepts.

15 If thou wilt, thou shalt obserue the Commandements, and testifie thy good will.

16 He hath for water and life before thee stretch out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

17 Before man is life and death, good and euil: what him lieth shall be giuen him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mightie in power: and he holdeth all things continually.

19 And the eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commanded a man to flee vago, by neither hath he giuen him licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of sinners, and vnpromisable children.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of the happie and wicked children. 17 No man can hate himselfe from God. 22 An exhortation to the execution of instruction.

Desire not the multitude of vnpromisable children, neither delight in vngodly children: though they be many, reioyce not in them: except the feare of the Lord be with them.

2 Trust not thou to their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

3 For one that is iust is better then a thousand such, and better it is to die with one child, then to leaue behind him vngodly children.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, shall the citie be inhabited, but the stocke of the wicked shall be wasted incontinently.

5 Many such things haue I seene with mine eyes, and mine eare hath heard greater things then these.

6 In the congregation of the vngodly shall a Chap. 17. fire be kindled, and among vniuall people shall the wrath be set on fire.

7 He spared not the old gyants which were rebellious, trusting to their owne strength.

Gen. 19. 8 * Neither spared he whereas Lot dwelt, those whom he abhorred for their pride.

9 Hee had no pittie vpon the people that were destroyed, and pulled vp in their finnes.

Num. 14. 20 * And so he preferred the sixe hundred thousand lootes that were gathered in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them and pitying them, in finishing them and healing them, with mercy and with chastisement.

11 Therefore if there bee one stiffnecked among the people, it is maruile if hee escape vnpunished: for mercy and wrath are with him: he is mightie to forgive and to powre out displeasure.

Chap. 5. 6. 12 * As his mercie is great, so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape with the spoile, and the patience of the godly shall not be delayed.

14 Hee will giue place to all good deedes, and euery one shall finde according to his workes, and alter the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that hee should not know him, and that his workes should be known vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is known to all creatures: hee hath separate his light from the darknesse with an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lord: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be known in so great a heape of people: for what is my foule amongst such an infinite number of creatures?

2. Pet. 3. 18 Behold, the heauen, & the heauen of heauens, which are for God, the depth, and the earth, all shall therein be, shall be moued when he shall visit.

Chap. 6. 19 All the world which is created and made by his will, the mountains also, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when the Lorde looketh vpon them.

20 These things doth no heart vnderstand worthily, but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? and the storme that no man can see? for the most part of his workes are hid.

22 Who can declare the workes of his righteousness? or who can abide them? for his ordinances faile off, and the trying out of all things faileth.

23 He that is humble of heart will consider these things: but an vnwise and crooked man casteth his mind vpon foolish things.

24 My sonne hearken vnto me, and learne knowledge, and marke my words with thine heart.

25 I will declare thee weightie doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledge.

26 The Lord hath let his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath hee sundered from the other, when he first made them.

27 Hee hath garnished his workes for euery, and their beginnings so long as they shall endure: they are nothungry nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them haudeth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his words.

29 After this the Lord looked vpon the earth and filled it with his good things.

30 With all manner of liuing beasts hath hee covered the face thereof, & they returne into it againe.

2 Hee gaue him the number of dayes, and certaine times, and gaue him power of the thinges that are vpon earth.

3 Hee clothed them with strength, as they had neede, and made them according to his image.

4 Hee made all flesh to feare him, so that hee had the dominion ouer the beasts, and foules.

5 * Hee created out of him an helper like vnto himselfe, and gaue them discretion, and tongue, and eyes, eares, and an heart to vnderstand, and sixly 9. he gaue them a spirite, and sensethly, hee gaue them speech to declare his workes.

6 And hee filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 Hee let his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble workes,

8 And gaue them occasion to reioyce perpetually in his mirales, that they should prudently declare his workes, and that the elect should praise his holy Name together.

9 Beside this, hee gaue them knowledge, and gaue them the law of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were mortall.

10 He made an euertlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the Maiestie of his glory, and their eares heard his glorious voyce.

12 And he said vnto them, Beware of all vnrighteous things. * He gaue euery man also a commandement concerning his neighbor. Exod. 20. 16, 17. 6.

13 Their wayes are enen before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Euery man from his youth is giuen to euill, and their stony hearts cannot become flesh.

15 He appointed a ruler vpon euery people when he diuided the nations of the whole earth.

16 * And hee did cunke Israel, as a peculiar people to himselfe, who he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light and doeth not forsake him. Deut. 4. 10, and 10. 15.

17 All their workes are as the Sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighteousnesse is hid from him, but all their finnes are before the Lord.

19 And as hee is mercifull, and knoweth his workes, he doeth not leaue them, nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 * The almes of a man is as a thing sealed vp before him, and he keepeth the good deeds of man as the apple of the eye, and giueth repentance to their finnes and dayes.

21 * At the last shall he arise and reward them, and shall repay their reward vpon their heads.

22 * But vnto them that will repent, hee giueth them grace to returne, and exhorteth such as faile, with patience, and sendeth them the portion of the vertice.

23 * Returne then vnto the Lord, and forsake thy finnes: make thy prayer before his face, and take away the offence. Jer. 3. 13

24 Turne againe to the most High: for hee will bring thee from darknesse, to wholesome light: forsake thine vnrighteousnesse, and hate greatly all abomination.

25 Know the righteousness and iudgements of God: stand in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the prayer of the most high God, and goe in the parts of the holy world, with such as be lining and confesse: God.

16 * Who can praise the most High in the hell, as do: all they that liue and confesse him? Psal. 5. 15. 9.

37 Abide not thou in the error of the vagaboly, but praise the Lord before death.

38 Thankfull be perillith from the dead, as though he were not: but the living, and he that is sound of heart, praise the Lord, and reioyceeth in his mercie.

39 How great is the loving kindnes of the Lord our God, and his compassion vnto such as turne vnto him in holinesse.

40 For all things cannot be in men, because the sonne of man is not immortal, and they take pleasure in the vanitie of wickednesse.

41 What is more cleare then the Sunne? yet shall it faile.

42 So flesh and blood that thinketh euil shalbe repressed.

43 He seeth the power of the hie heauen, and all men are but earth and ashes.

C H A P. XVIII.

1 The maruailous workes of God. 6. 7. The misery and wretchednesse of man. 9. Against God wee ought not to complaine. 21. The performing of vowes.

Gen. 1. 1.

HE that liueth for euil, made all things together: the Lord, who onely is iust, and there is none other but he, and hee remaineth a victorious King for euil.

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for hee governeth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 To whom hath hee giuen power to expresse his workes? Who will seeke out the ground of his noble actes?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnes? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither can any thing bee put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, hee must begin againe, and when hee thinketh to come to an end hee must goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man? wherefore serueth hee? what good or euill can hee doe?

Gal. 3. 1.

8 If the number of a mans dayes bee an hundred yeere, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 As drops of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand yeeres to the dayes euerlasting.

11 Hee saw and perceived that the arrogancie of their heart and their ruine was euill: therefore heaped he vp his mercie vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: hee chasteneth, and nurturcth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe as a shepheard his flocke.

13 He hath mercie on them, & receiue discipline, and that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, reprove not: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, vie no discomfortable words.

15 Shall not he draw affwaie the heart? so is a word better then a gift.

16 Loe, is not a word better then a good gift? but a gracious man giueth them both.

17 A foole will reproch churillily, and a gift of the enuious putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteously before thou come to iudgement, leaue befoe thou speake, and vie silence or euil thou be sicke.

19 Examine thy selfe before thou bee iudged, and in the day of the visitation thou shalt finde mercie. 1. Cor. 11.

20 Humble thy selfe before thou bee sicke, and whilst thou mayest yet stand, shew thy conuersion.

21 Let nothing let thee, to pay thy vow in time, and deferre not vnto death to be reformed: for the reward of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest prepare thy selfe, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

23 Thinke vpon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the houre of vengeance when he shall turne away his face. 17. 34.

24 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon pouertie and need. 1. Cor. 11.

25 From the morning vntill the evening the time is changed; and all such things are soone done before the Lord.

26 A wife man searcheth in all things, and in the dayes of transgression hee keepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doeth not obserue the time.

27 Every wise man knoweth wickednesse, and knowledge, and praiseth him that findeth her.

28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in words: they vnderstand the truth and righteousnesse, and powre out with modestie graue sentences for mans life.

29 The chiefe authoritie of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortal man hath but a dead heart.

30 Follow not thy lust, but turne thee from thine owne appetites. Rom. 6. 4.

31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires it shall make thine enemies that enuie thee to laugh thee to scorne.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, and entangle not thy selfe with such companie.

33 Become not a begger by making bankets of that that thou hast borrowed, and so leaue nothing in thy purse, else thou shouldest slanderously lie in wait for thine owne life.

C H A P. XIX.

1 Wise and wholesome bring men to pouertie. 6. In thy words vs differs on. 22. The difference of the wisdom of God and man. 27. Whereby thou mayest knowe what is in man.

A labouring man that is giuen to drunkennesse shall not be rich, and he that counteneth final things, shall fall by little and little.

2 Wine and women leade wife men out of the way, & put men of vnderstanding to reproofe. 1. kin.

3 And hee that accompanieth adulterers, shall become impudent, rottennesse and wormes shall haue him to heritage, and he that is too bold, shall be taken away, and be made a publike example.

4 Hee is without good credit, is light minded, & he that crieth, smeth against his owne soule.

5 Who so reioyceeth in wickednesse, shall be punished: he that hateth to be reformed his life shall be shorned, and hee that abhorreth babbling of words quencheth wickednesse: but he that resisteth pleasures, crosseweth his owne soule.

6 Hee that refraineth his tongue, may liue with a troublefome man; and hee that hateth babbling shall haue lesse euill.

7 Rehearse not to another that which is tolde vnto thee: so thou shalt not be hindered.

8 Declare not other mens manners neither to friend nor foe, and if the sinne appertaine not vnto thee, reueale it not.

- For he will hearken vnto thee, and make thee free, and wherein findeth opportunity he will hate thee.
- 10 * If thou hast heard a word against thy neighbour, let it die with thee, and be sure it will not burst thee.
- 11 A foole is as a man when he hath hard a thing as a woman that is about to bring forth a child.
- 12 As an arrow that sticketh in ones thigh, so is a word in a loquax heart.
- 13 * Reproue a friend, lest hee doe much, and if he haue done it, thus hee doe it no more.
- 14 Reproue a friend, that he may keepe his tongue; and if he haue spoken, that hee say it no more.
- 15 Tell thy friend his fault: for oft times a slander is raised, and giue no credence to every word.
- 16 A man talketh with his tongue, but not with his will: * and who is he that hath not offended in his tongue?
- 17 Reproue thy neighbor before thou threaten him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the law of the most High.
- 18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to be receiued of him, and wisdom obtaineth his loue.
- 19 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him, shall receive the fruit of immortality.
- 20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdom, and the performing of the Law is perfect wisdom, and the knowledge of his Almighty power.
- 21 If a servant say vnto his master, I will not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterward hee doe it, hee shall displease him that knoweth him.
- 22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisdom, neither is there prudence wheras the counsell of sinners is: but it is euen execrable walke: and the foole is void of wisdom.
- 23 He that hath small vnderstanding, and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the Law of the most High.
- 24 There is a certaine subtiltie that is wise, but it is vnrighteous: and there is a wisesth the open and manifest lawe: yet there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.
- 25 There is some that being about wicked purposes, doe bow downe them: elces and are fadde, whose inward parts burne altogether with deceit: he looketh downe with his face, and leigneth himselfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue hee will be vpon thee to hurt thee.
- 26 And though he be so weake that he can doe thee no harme, yet when he may find opportunitie, he will doe euill.
- 27 * A man may be kn owen by his looke, and one that hath vnderstanding may be perceiued by the marking of his countenance.
- 28 * A mans garment, and his excessive laughter, and going, declare what person he is.

CHAP. XX.

Of correction and repentance. 6 To steale and keepe silence in time. 17 The fall of the wicked. 23 Of lying. 24 The theft of the man ribber. 28 Gifts blind the eyes of the wise.

There is some rebuke that is not comely: againe some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

It is much better to reprove then to beare euill will: and he that acknowledgeth his fault shall be preferred from hurt.

29 * As when a gelded man through lust would defile a maid, so is he that vseth violence in judgement.

How good a thing is it, when thou art repented, to shew repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

Some men keepe silence, and is some wife, and some by much babbling becomeeth hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because hee hath not to answer: & some keepe silence, waiting a convenient time.

7 * A wife man will hold his tongue, till hee see opportunitie: but a rascal and a foole will regard no time.

8 He that vseth many words, shall be abhorred, & he that taketh authority to himselfe, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things, and some are a thing that is found bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, & there is some gift whose reward is double.

11 Some man humbleth himselfe for glories sake, and some by humblenesse lifteth vp the head.

12 Some man buyeth much for a little price: for the which he payeth seven times more.

13 * A wife man with his words maketh himselfe to be loved: but the merry tales of foolcs shall be poured out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole shall doe thee no good, neither yet of the envious for his importunity: for hee looketh to receive many things, for once he giueth little, and hee vbraydeth much: he openeth his mouth like a towns crier, to day hee lendeth, to morrow asketh kee: gaine, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend: I haue not that he for all my good deedes: and they that ease my bread, speake euill of me.

16 How oft and of how many shall he be laughed to scorne: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is as one, as though he had it not.

17 The fall of a punishment is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is often told by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wife sentence looketh grace, when it cometh out of a loquax mouth: for hee speaketh as in due season.

20 Some man flourisheth not because of poverty, and yet is not grieved when he is alone.

21 Some man shames it that he deserveth his owne soule because he is shamed, and for the regard of persons loqueth it.

22 Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for nought.

23 * A lie is a wicked shame in a man yet is it Chas. 23. a. oft in the mouth of the vnwise.

24 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue deliuation to heritage.

25 The conditions of liars are vn honest, and their shame is euer with them.

26 A wise man shall bring himselfe to honour with his words, and hee that hath vnderstanding, shall please great men.

27 * He that tilleth his land, shall increase his heape: he that worketh righteously shall be exalted, and hee that pleaseth great men, shall haue pardon of his iniquitie.

28 * Rewards and gifts blind the eyes of the wife, and make them dumbe, that they cannot see the pious faulcs.

29 Wife some that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profit is in them both?

10 Better is he that keepeth his governance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

21 The necessary patience of him that followeth the Lord, is better then hee that governeth his life without the Lord.

Hand. 3. 9. 22. 23.
 5 The prayer of the pious going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but hee that feareth the Lord conuerteth his heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowne as afe off: but hee that is wise percelueth when hee falleth.

8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his grave.

Chap. 16. 6.
 9 And the congregation of the wicked is like row wrapped together: their end is a flame of fire to destroy them.

10 The way of sinners is made plaine with shoules, but at the end thereof is hell, darknesse and paines.

10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.
 11 He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, ruleth his owne affections thereby: and the increase of wisdom is the end of the feare of God.

12 He that is not wise, will not suffer himselfe to be taught: but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall abound like water that runneth ouer, and his counsell is like a pure fountaine of life.

Chap. 33. 3.
 14 The inner parts of a foole are like a broken vessel: he can keepe no knowledge whiles he liueth.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise word, he will commend it, and increaseth it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he will disallow of it, and cast it behind his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like a burthen in the way, but there is comelines in the talk of a wiseman.

17 They enquire at the mouth of the wise man in the Congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wisdom vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the wise is as words without order.

19 Doctrine vnto fooles is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles vpon the right hand.

Chap. 19. 7. 28.
 20 A foole liueth vpon his voice with laughter, but a wise man doth feare smile secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewel of gold, and like a bracelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in his neighbours house, but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.

23 A foole will prepein at the doore into the house: but hee that is well mortured, will stand without.

24 It is the point of a foolish mans to bearken at the doore: for hee that is wise will be grieved with such dishonour.

25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertaine not vnto them, but the words of such as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balace.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the vagodly curseth Sathan, hee curseth his owne soule.

28 A backbiter desileth his owne soule, and Chap. 28. is hated wherfoerer he is: but hee that keepeth his tongue and is discreet, shall come to honour.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

A SLUGGARD man is like a filthy stone, which euery man mocketh at for his shame.

2 A slouthfull man is to bee compared to the dung of oxen, and euery one that taketh it vp, will shake it out of his hand.

3 An euill nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: & the daughter is least to be esteemed.

4 A wife daughter is an heritage vnto her husband, but shee that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauinesse.

5 Shee that is bolde, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, and is not inferior to the vagodly, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time is as musike in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 Who so feareth a foole, is as one that gleweth a potherd together, and as hee that waketh one that sleepeth from a sound sleepe.

8 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewith, they shall put a way the shame of their parents.

9 But if children be proude with hautesse and foolishnes, they desile the nobility of their kined.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is as a man which speaketh to one that is asleepe: when he hath told his tale, he saith, What is the matter?

11 Weepe for the dead, for hee hath lost the light: so weepe for the foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding: make small weeping for the dead, for hee is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death. Chap. 38.

12 Seven dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation for the foole and vagodly should endure all the dayes of his life.

13 Talk not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to paine, and lest thou bee defiled, when he shaketh himselfe. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue sorrow by his foolishnesse.

14 What is heavier then lead? and what other name should a foole haue?

15 Sand and salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolish, and vagodly man. Pro. 27. 3.

16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building cannot bee loosed with slaking, so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.

17 The heart that is confirmed by discreet wisdom, is as a faire plaistering on a plaine wall.

18 As reedes that are set vp on his cannot abide the winde, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can endure no feare.

19 Hee that hurteth the eye, bringeth forth teares, and hee that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affection.

he shall not be innocent, but his house shall bee full of plagues.

12 There is a worde which is cloathed with death: God grant that it bee not found in the heritage of Iacob: but they that feare God, eschew all such, and are not wrapped in sinne.

13 Vfe not thy mouth to figment rafhneſſe for therein is the occaſion of finne.

14. Remember thy father and thy mother, which is the first commandment, that thou art set among great men, lest thou bee forgotten in their sight, and so though thy custome become a soyle, and with that thou hadst not bene borne, and curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 * The man that is accustomed to opprobrious 2. Sam.
words, will never be reformed all the dayes of his 16.7.
life.

16 There are two sorts of men that abound in sinne, & the third bringeth wrath and destruction: a mind bore as fire that cannot be quenched till it be consumed: an adulterous man that giueth his body no rest, till he haue kindled a fire.

26 Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a seale of wisedome vpon my lippes, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

17 (All bread is sweet to a whoremonger : he will not leave off till he perish)

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, * Who seeth me ? I am com-passed about with darkness: the walles couer me:
no body seeth me: whom need I so feare ? the most High will not remember my finnes.

19 Such a man only feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter then the Sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the ground of the deepe, and considereth the most secret parts.

2 Who will correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdom in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignorance, neither let their fault pass?

3 Left mine ignorances increase and my finnes about to my destruction, and lest I fall before mine adversarie, and mine enemies reioyce over mee, whose hope is farre from thy mercie.

26 He knew all things or ether they were made,
and after they be brought to passe also hee looketh vpon them all.

21 "The same shall be punished in the streets of the city, & shall be chased like a yong horse foale, and when hee thinketh not vpon it, he shall be taken:
thus shall he be deputed to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord

23 And thus shall it go alio with euery wife that leaueh her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

23 For first she hath disobeyed the law of the most Hie. and secondly she hath transgressed against her owne husband, and thirdly she hath played the Whore in adultery, and gotten her children by another man.

9 * Accustome not thy mouth to swearing: for in there are many falles: neither take vp for a custome the naming of the Holy One: for thou shalt not be vniuersally for such things.

24. Shee shall be brought out into the Congregation, & examination shall be made of her children.

25 Her children shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.

26 A shameful report shall thee loose, and her reproach shall not be hid from.

27 And they that remaine shall know that there is nothing better then the feare of the Lorde; and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heed vnto
the commandements of the Lord.

28 It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be received of him: for life.

1 A praise of wisdom proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her works and place wher she releaseth. 20 She is given to the children of God.

Wiledome shal praise herselfe and be honoured in God. & reioyce in the midis of her people.

2 In the Congregation of the most high shall thou open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 In the midst of her people shall thee be exalted and wondered at in the holy assembly.

4.4 In the multitude of the chosen ~~shall~~ be commended, & among such as be blessed, he shall be praised, and shall say, 1 I am come out of the mouth of the most high, and borne before all creatures.

 2 I caused the light that falleth not, to rise in the heaven, and covered the earth as a cloud.
 3 My dwelling is above in the height, and my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.
 4 I alone have gone round about the compass of heaven, and have walked in the bottome of the depth.
 5 I possessed the wanes of the sea, and all the earth, and all people, and nations: and with my power have I troden downe the hearts of all, both high and low.
 6 In all these things I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance,
 7 So the Creator of all things, gaue me a commandement, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and said, Let thy dwelling be in iacob, and take thine inheritance in israel, and roote thy selfe among my choloen.
 8 He created me from the beginning, and before the world, and I shall neuer faile: * In the holy habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I established in Sion.
 9 In the welbeloued citie gaue hee mee rest, and in ierusalem was my power.
 10 I tooke roote in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lords inheritance.
 11 I am set vp on his like a cedar in Libanus and as a cypres tree vpon the mountaines of Hermon.
 12 I am exalted like a palme tree I about the fountaines, and as a rose plant in Iericho, as a faire olive tree in a pleasant field, and am exalted as a plaine tree by the water.
 13 I smelled as the cinamon, and as a bagge of spices: I gaue a sweete odour as the best myrre, as galbanum, and onyx, and sweete storax, and perfume of officense in an house.
 14 As the terebinth, haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.
 15 As the vine haue I brought forth fruit of sweete savour: and my flowres are the fruit of honour and riches.
 16 I am the mother of beaustifull loue, and of feare and of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue external things to all my children to whome God hath commanded.
 17 In me is all grace of life and trueth: in mee is all hope of life and vertue.
 18 Come vnto me alie yet that be desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruits.
 19 For the remembrance of me is sweeter then honey, and mine inheritance sweeter then the honeycombe: the remembrance of me endureth for evermore.
 20 They that eat mee shall haue the more hunger, and they that drinke me shall thirst the more.
 21 Whoso hearkeneth vnto mee, shall not come in confusion, and they that worke by mee, shall not offend: they that make me to be knowen, shall haue euerslasting life.
 22 All these things are the booke of life, and the covenant of the most high God, and the knowledge of the trueth, and the law that Moises in the precepts of righteousness commanded for an heritage vnto the house of iacob, and the promises pertaining vnto israel.
 23 Be not weary to be heare your selues valiantly with the Lord, for he may also confirme you: cleave vnto him: for the Lord Almighty is but one God, and besides him there is none other Saviour.

 24 Out of David his seruant he ordeined to raise vp a most mighty king that should sit in the throne of iherusalem for evermore.
 25 He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Phylon, and as Tyrtis in the time of the new fruites. Gen 2. 11.
 26 He maketh the vnderstanding to abound like Euphrates, and as a fountaine in the time of the new fruites.
 27 Hee maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and ouerfloweth as Geon in the time of the vintage.
 28 The first man hath not knowen her peisest, for no more shall the last seeke her out.
 29 For her considerations are more abundant then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.
 30 A wise dome haue cast out floods: I am as an arme of the riner: I runne into paradise as a water conduit.
 31 I said, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleasant ground: and loe, my ditch became a flood, and my flood became a sea.
 32 For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euere.
 33 I will peace throw all the lower parts of the earth: I will looke vpon all such as be asleepe, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.
 34 I will yet powre out doctrine, as prophetic, and leaue it vnto all ages for euere.
 35 Beholde that I haue not laboured for my selfe only, but for all them that seeke wisdom.
 CHAP. XXV.
 1 Of three things which please God, and of three which hee hateth. 2 Of many things that be kept in secret. 3 Of the malice of a woman.
 Three things reioyce me, & by them am I beautified before God and men: * the yntie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree together.
 2 Three sorts of men my lonelich heart, and I utterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doeth.
 3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?
 4 Oh how pleasant a thing is it when gray headed men minister indgement, and when the elders can giue good counsell.
 5 Oh how comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honoure.
 6 The crowing of old men is to see much experience, and the feare of God is their glory.
 7 There be nine things which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happy, and the tenth will I pronounce with my tobgue: a man that while he liueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.
 8 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not serued such as are vvorthy of him.
 9 Well is him that findeth prudence, and hee that speaketh in the ears of them that will heare.
 10 Oh how great is he that findeth wisdom: yet is there none about him that feareth the Lord.
 11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in cleerenesse.
 12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graced to have the feare of God. Veto whom shall hee be likened that hath attained it?

13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his wisedome, and faith is the beginning to bee ioyned vnto
him.

14 ¶ The greatest heauinesse is the heauinesse of the heart, and the greatest mallice is the mallice of a woman.

15 Giue me any plague, save only the plague of the heart, and any mallice, save the mallice of a woman.

16 Or any assault, save the assault of them that hate, or any vengeance, save the vengeance of the enemie.

17 There is not a more wicked head, then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath above the wrath of an Ienemie.

18 ¶ I had rather dwell with a lion and dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednes of a woman chaugeth her face, and maketh her countenance blacke as is sick.

20 Her husband is sitting among his neighbors, because of her he sighteth fore or he be ware.

21 All wickednes is but litle, as the wickednesse of a woman: let the portion of the sinner fall vpon her.

22 As the climbing vp of a furdie way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

23 ¶ Stumble not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for thy pleasure.

24 If a woman nourish her husband, she is angry, and impudent, and full of reproch.

25 A wicked wife maketh a fory heart, an heauie countenance, and a wounded minde, weake handes, and feeble knees, and cannot comfort her husband in heauinesse.

26 Of the * woman came the beginning of sinne:
and through her we all die.

27 Giue the water no passage, no not a litle, neither giue a wicked woman libertie to goe out.

28 If she walke not in thine obedience, she shall confound thee in the sight of thine enemies. Cut her off thou from thy flesh: ¶ Giue her, and forsake her.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The praise of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 6 Of the lecherous and drunken woman. 29 Of two things that cause sorrow, and of the third which moueth wrath.

Blessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shall be double.

2 An honest woman reioyceth her husband, and she shall fill the yeeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, which shall be given for a gift, vnto such as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poore, hee hath a good heart toward the Lord, and they shall at all times haue a cheerefull countenance.

5 ¶ There be three things that mine heart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: treason in a citie, the assembly of the people, and false accusation: all these are heavier then death.

6 ¶ But the sorrow and griefe of the heart is a woman that is iealous ouer another: and shee that commoueth with all, is a sponge of the tougue.

7 An euill wife is as a yoke of oxen that draue diuers wayes: he that hath her, is as though he led a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and such as cannot be tamed, is a great plague: for she cannot couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes, and eye lids.

10 ¶ If thy daughter be not chaste, holde Chap. 26 her straightly, lest she abuse her selfe through ouer much liberty.

11 Take heede of her that hath an vnsteepe eye: and marmelet not if the trespass against thee.

12 As one that goeth by the way and is thirstie, so shall he open her mouth, and drinke of euery next water: by euery hedge shall she sit downe, and open her quiver against euery arrow.

13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman, and of a good heart, is a gift of the Lord, and there is nothing so much worth as a woman well instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to be compared vnto her continent minde.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in the high places of the Lord, so is the beauty of a good wisethe ornament of her house.

17 As the cleare light is vpon the holy candi-stick, so is the beauty of the face in a ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of silver: so are faire feet with a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that bee layd vpon a strong rocke: so are the commandments of God in the heart of an holy woman.

20 My soune, keepe the strength of thine age stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.

21 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the fields, sowe it with thine owne seed, trusting in thy nobility.

22 So thy stocke that shall liue after thee, shall growe, trusting in the great liberality of their vocality.

23 An harlot is compared to a sow: but the wife that is married, is counted as a towre against death to her husband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a reward to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

25 A shamelesse woman contemneth shame: but a shamefast woman will reuerence her husband.

26 A shamelesse woman is compared to a dog:
but shee that is shamefast reuerenceth the Lord.

27 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be ludged wife of all: but shee that despiseth him, shall be blazed for her pride.

28 A lowd crying woman and a babbler, let her be sought out to driue away the enemies: the mind of euery man that lieth with such, shall be couer-sant among the troubles of waite.

29 There be two things that grieue mine heart, and the third maketh mee angry: a man of waite that suffereth pouerty: and men of vnderstanding that are not set by: and when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: the Lord appointeth such to the sword.

30 There be two things which me thinke to bee hard and perillous: a merchant cannot lightly keepe him from wrong, and a vitaller is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of the poore that would be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 13 The unconstantnesse of a foole. 16 The secrets of firuils are not to be reuered. 26 The wicked imagineth euill which turneth vpon himselfe.

Because of pouerty haue many sined: and * hee that seeketh to be rich turneth his eyes aside. Prv. 30. 4

2 As a nail in the wall sicketh fast betweene the ioynts of the stones, so dash sin sicketh betweene

the selling and the buying.

3 If hee hold him not diligently, in the feare of the Lord, his house shall soon be overthrowen.

4 As when one sitteth, the fleth in him remaineth in the fleish, so y^e fleth of man remaineth in his thought.

Prov. 27. 5 The fornicer proueth the potters well: so doeth temptation trie mens thoughts.

Matth. 17. 6 The fruit declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed, so the word declareth what man hath in his heart.

7 Praise no man except thou haue heard his talke: for this is the trial of men.

8 If thou follow: it rightconscience, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a faire garment, and shalt dwell with her, and she shall defend thee for ever: and in the day of knowledge thou shalt find stedfastnesse.

9 The birds resort vnto their like: so doeth the truest turne vnto them that are practised in.

10 As the lion waiteth for the beast, so doeth sin vpon them that doe euill.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdom: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vnadirect, obiectue the time, but haunt still the assembly of them that are wise.

13 The talking of fooles is grievous, and their sport is in the pleasure of sinne.

Eccl. 33. 14 The talke of him that sweareth much, maketh the haire to stand vp: and to strue with such, stoppeth the eares.

15 The strife of the proud is blood sueding, and their scolding: are grievous to heare.

Chap. 19. 16 * Who so discouereth secrets, looseth his credit, and findeth no friend after his will.

30. and 33. 32. 17 Loue thy friend, and bee faithfull vnto him: but if thou bewrayest his secrets, thou shalt not get him againe.

18 For as a man destroyeth his enemy, so doeth thou destroy the friendship of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canst not get him againe.

20 Follow after him no more, for he is too farre off: he is as a Roe escaped out of the snare: for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundsthey may be bound vp againe, and an euill word may bee reconciled, but who so bewrayeth the secrets of a friend, hath lost all his credit.

Prov. 10. 22 * He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth euill: and hee that knoweth him, will let him alone.

23 When thou art present, he will speake sweetly, and praye thy words: but at the last he will turn his taile, and slander thy saying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill as such one: for the Lord also hateth him.

25 Who lo casteth a stone on high, casteth it vpon his own head: and he that smiteth with guile, maketh a great wound.

Psal. 7. 13 26 Who so diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, and he that layeth a snare for another, shall be taken in it himselfe.

104. 26. 27 He that worketh euill shall be wrapped in euill, and shall not know from whence they come vnto him.

28 Mockery and reproch follow the proud, and vengeance lurketh for them as a lion.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall betaken in the snare, and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Despite and anger her a yominable thing: and the fustall man is abied to them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 It ought not so desire vengeance, but to forgive the offence. 13 Of the victs of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

HE that seeketh vengeance shall find vengeance of the Lord, and he will surely keepe his finnes.

2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done to thee, so shall thy finnes bee forgiven thee also when thou prayest.

3 Should a man beare hatred against man, and desire forgiveness of the Lord?

4 He will shew no mercie to a man, which is like himselfe: and will he aske forgiveness of his own finnes?

5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, and aske pardon of God, who will inrease for his finnes?

6 Remember the end, & let enimity pass: imagine not death and destruction to another through anger, but perseuere in the commandements.

7 Remember the Commandements: so shalt thou not be rigorous against thy neighbour, consider diligently the Couenant of the most High, and forgive his ignorance.

8 * Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy finnes fewer: for an angry man kindleth strife.

9 And the fustall man disquieteth friends, and bringeth in false accusations among them that bee at peace.

10 * As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth, and mans anger is according to his power: and according to his riches his anger increaseth, and the more vehement the anger is, the more is he inflamed.

11 An hasty brauling kindleth a fire, and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood: a tongue that beareth false witness, bringeth death.

12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne: If thou spit vpon it, it shall bee quenched, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 * Abhorre the slanderer: & double tongued: for such haue destroyed many that were at peace.

14 The double tongue hath diquieted many, and driuen them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it broken downe, and overthrowen the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and been the decay of mighty nations.

15 The double tongue hath cast out many vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hath arkened vnto it, shall neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh marks in the flesh, but the stroke of y^e tongue breaketh the bones.

18 There be many that haue perished by the edge of the sword, but not so many as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and cometh not in the anger thereof, which hath not drawn in that yoke, neither hath been bound in the bands thereof.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of yron, and the bands of it are bands of brasse.

21 The death thereof is an euill death: he would better then such one.

22 It shall not haue rule ouer them y^e feare God, neither shall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forsake the Lord shall fall therein: and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a lion, and deuoure them as a leopard.

24 Hedge thy possession with thornes, and make doores

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Doe lend money, and doe almes. 15 Of a faithfull man answer ing for his friend. 24 The poore mans life.
He that will shew mercy, lendeth to his neighbour: and he that hath power ouer himselfe, keepeth the commandments.

2 * Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.
3 Keepe thy word, & deale faithfully with him, and thou shalt alway find the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and grieved them that had helped them.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his hands, and for their neighbors good they humble their voice: but when they should pay againe, they proleing terme, and giue a carelesse answer, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though hee be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, and rekeneth the other as a thing found: els he deceiuet him of his money, and maketh him an enemy without a cause: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, & giueth him euill wordes for his good deed.

7 There be many which refuse to lend because of this inconuenience, fearing to bee defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humbleth himselfe, and deferre not mercy from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the Commandements sake, and turne him not away, because of his poverty.

10 Lose thy money for thy brothers and neighbours sake, and let it not rust vnder a stone to thy destruction.

11 * Bestow the treasure after the Commandement of the most High, and it shall bring thee more profit then gold.

12 I Lay vp thine almes in thy secret chambers, and it shall keepe thee from all affliction.

13 A mans almes is as a purfe with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of the eye, and afterward shall it arise, and pay euery man his reward vpon his head.

14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a strong man, or speare of the mighty.

15 An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent, forsaketh him.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath laid his life for thee.

17 The wicked despiseth the good deede of his surety.

18 The wicked will not become surety: and hee that is of an vnthankfull minde, forsaketh him that deliuered him.

19 Some man promisseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honesty, he will forsake him.

20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and removed them as the waues of the sea: mighty men hath it diuied away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

21 A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord, shall fall into suretiship: and he that meddeth much with other mens business, is tangled in controuersie.

22 * Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy life fall not.

23 * The chiefe thing of life is water, and bread, and clothing, and lodging to conser thy frame.

24 [The poore mans life in his owne lodge is better then delicate fare in another mans.]

25 Be it little or much holde thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.

26 For it is a miserable life to goe from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darst not open thy mouth.

27 Thou shalt lodge and feed vnthankfull men, and after shalt haue bitter wordes for the same, saying,

28 Come, thou stranger, and prepare the table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.

29 Giue place, thou stranger, to an honorable man: my brother cometh to be lodged, and I haue need of mine house.

30 These things are heauy to a man that hath vnderstanding, the vpbraiding of the house, and the reproch of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commendation of health. 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life. 22 Of the ioy and sorrow of the heart.

He that loveth his sonne, * causeth him oft to seele the rodde, that he may haue ioy of him in the ende.

2 He that chastiseth his son, shall haue ioy in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.

3 He that * teacheth his son, grieveth the enemy, and before his friends he shall reioyce of him.

4 Though his father die, yet is he as though hee were not dead: for he hath left one behind him that is like him.

5 In his life he saw him, and had ioy in him, and was not sorry in his death, neither was hee ashamed before his enemies.

6 Hee left behind him an auenger against his enemies, and one that should shewe fauour vnto his friends.

7 Hee that flattereth his soune, bindeth vp his wounds, and his heart is grieved at euery crie.

8 An vntamed horse will bee stubburne, and a wanton child will bee wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy soune delicately, he shall make thee afraid: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou bee sorry with him: and lest thou gush thy teeth in the end.

11 * Giue him no liberty in his youth, and winke not at his folly.

12 Bow downe his necke while hee is yong, and beate him on the sides while hee is a childe, lest hee waxe stubburne, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorrow vnto thine heart.

13 Chastise thy childe, and be diligent theria, lest his shame grieue thee.

14 * Better is the poore, being whole & strong, [The then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.]

15 Health and strength is aboue all golde, and a healthful body aboue infinite treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, and long rest then continuall sicknesse.

18 The good things that are powred on a mouth (but vp. are as meales of meat set vpon a graue.

19 What good doeth the offering vnto an idle?

15 ¶ Who so feareth $\frac{1}{2}$ Lord, will receive his doctrine, and they that rise early, shall find favour.

16 He that seeketh the Law, shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended therat.

17 They that feare the Lord, shall finde $\frac{1}{2}$ which is righteous, and shall kindle iustice as a light.

18 As vngodly man will not be reformed, but stoneth out excuses according to his will.

19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth not counsel: but a lewd and proud man is not touched with feare, euen when he hath done rashly.

20 My sonne, doe nothing without aduise ment: so shall it not repent thee after the deede.

21 Goe not in the way where thou mayest fall, nor where thou mayest stumble among the stones, neither trust thou in the way that is plaine.

22 And beware of thine own children, and take heed of them that be thine owne household.

23 In euery good worke be of a faithfull heart: for this is the keeping of the commandements.

24 Who so beleueth in the $\frac{1}{2}$ Lord, keepeth the commandements, and he that trusteth in the Lord, shall take so hurt.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 4 The answer of the wise. 12 Man is in the hand of God, as the clay is in the hand of the potter. 23 Of euill seruants.

¶ Here shall no euill come to him that $\frac{1}{2}$ feareth the Lord: but when he is in temptation, he will deliuer him againe.

2 A wife man hateth not the Law: but he that is an hypocrite therein, is as a thip in a storme.

3 A man of vnderstanding walketh faithfullly in the Law, and the Law is faithfull vnto him.

4 As the question is made, prepare the answers, and so shalt thou be heard: bee sure of the matter, and so wastewet.

5 The heart of the $\frac{1}{2}$ foolish is like a cart wheele: and his thoughts are like a rolling axletree.

6 As a wild horle nyeth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon him, so is a cornefull friend.

7 Why doth one day excell another, seeing that the light of the daies of the yere come of the Sun?

8 The knowledge of the Lord hath parted them alunder, and hee hath by them disposed the times and solemne feasts.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and sanctified, and some of them hath he put among the dayes to number.

10 And all men are of the $\frac{1}{2}$ ground, and Adam was created out of the earth: but the Lord hath diuided them by great knowledge, and made their wayes diuers.

11 Some of them hath he blessed & exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and appropriate to himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed and brought them low, and put them out of their estate.

12 ¶ As the clay is in the potters hand, to order it at his pleasure, so are men also in the hand of their Creator, so that hee may reward them as liketh him best.

13 Against euill is good, and against death is life: so is the godly against the sinner, and the vngodly against the faithfull.

14 So in all the workes of the most High $\frac{1}{2}$, thou mayest see that there are euery two, one against another.

15 ¶ I am awaked vp last of all, as one that gathereth after them in the vintage. In the blessing of the Lord I am increased, and haue filled my wine-press, like a grape-gatherer.

16 ¶ Behold, how I haue not laboured onely for Chap. my selfe, but for all them that seeke knowledge. 24 25

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the Congregation.

18 Ofte not thy some and wife, thy brother and friend power ouer thee while thou liest, and giue not away thy substance to another, lest it repent thee, and thou increasest for the same againe.

19 As long as thou liest, and hast breath, giue not thy selfe ouer to any person.

20 For better it is that thy children should pray vnto thee, then that thou shouldst looke vp to the hands of thy children.

21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thine honour be neuer stained.

22 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.

23 ¶ The fodder, the whip, & the burden belong vnto the asse: and meat, correction, and worke vnto thy seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seeke liberty.

25 The yoke and the whip bow downe the hard necke: so tame thine euill seruant with the whips and corrections.

26 Send him to labour that he goe not idle: for idleness bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for $\frac{1}{2}$ belongeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, $\frac{1}{2}$ put on more heavy letters.

28 But be not excessive toward any, and without discretion doe nothing.

29 ¶ If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him bee vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hath thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, intreat him as thy brother: for thou hast need of him as of thy selfe. If thou intreat him euill, and he run away, wilt thou seeke him?

CHAP. XXXIII.

Of dreames. 13 The praise of them that feare God. 18 The offring of the wicked. 23 The bread of the needy. 27 God doeth not allow the workes of an vnfaitfull man.

¶ The hope of a foolish man is vaine, and false, and dreames make fooles to haue wings.

2 Who for regardeth dreames, is like him $\frac{1}{2}$ will take hold of a shadow, and follow after the wind.

3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames, as the likenesse of a face is before another face.

4 Who can bee cleansed by the vncleane? or what truth can be spoken of a liar?

5 Soothsayings, witchcraft, & dreaming is but vanity, and a mind that is occupied with fantasies, is as a woman that trauaileth.

6 Where as such visions come not of the most High to try thee, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceived many, and they haue failed that put their trust therein.

8 The law shall be fulfilled without lies, & wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tried?

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, and he that hath good experience, can talke of wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth little, and he that erreth is full of craft.

11 When I wandred to and fro, I sawe many things, and mine vnderstanding is greater then I can expresse.

12 I was oftentimes in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.

12 The spirit of those that feare the Lord, shall live: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who so feareth the Lord, feareth no man, neither is afraid: for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lord: in whom putteth hee his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him: he is their * mighty protection, and strong ground, a defence from the heat, and a shadow for the noone day, a succour from stumbling, and an helpe from falling.

17 Hee setteth vp the soule, and lightneth the eyes, he giueth health, life, and blessing.

18 He that * giueth an offering of vnrighteous goods, offereth a mocking sacrifice, and the gifts of the vnrighteous please not him.

19 But the Lord is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of truth and righteousness.

20 The most high doeth not allow the offerings of the wicked, * neither is he pacified for sinne by the multitude of sacrifice.

21 Who so bringeth an offering of the goods of the poore, doth as one that sacrificeth the soune before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needfull is the life of the poore: he * defraudeth him thereof, is a murderer.

23 Hee that taketh away his neighbours liuing, slayeth him, * and he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

24 When one buildeth, and another breaketh downe, what profit haue they then, but labour?

25 When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord heare?

26 He that washeth himselfe because of a dead body, and toucheth it againe, what availeth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his slos, and committeth them againe: who will heare his prayer? or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Of true sacrifice. 2 The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widow, and him that humbleth himselfe.

3 Who so keepeth the Law, * bringeth offerings enough: he that holdeth fast the commandments, * offereth an offering of saluation.

4 Hee that is thankfull to them that haue well deserued, offereth fine floure: * and he that giueth almes, sacrificeth praise.

5 To depart from euill, is a thankfull thing to the Lord, and to forsake vnrighteousnes, is a reconciling vnto him.

6 Thou shalt not appeare empty before the Lord.

7 For all these things are done because of the commandment.

8 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the smel thereof is sweet before the most High.

9 The sacrifice of the righteous is acceptable, & the remembrance thereof shall neuer be forgotten.

10 Giue the Lord his honour with a good and liberal eye, and diminish not the first fruits of thine hands.

11 In all thy gifts shew a ioyfull countenance, and dedicate thy tithes with gladnes.

12 Giue vnto the most High according as he hath enriched thee, * and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a chearefull eye.

13 For the Lord recompenseth, and wil giue thee seven times as much.

14 Diminish nothing of thine offerings: for he will not receiue it, and obtaine from wrongfull sacrifices: for the Lords is the lodge, and regardeth no * mans person.

15 Hee accepteth not the person of the poore, but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

16 He despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse, nor the widow when shee pouerth out her prayes.

17 Doth not the teares run downe the widows cheekes? and her crie is against him that caused them: for from her cheekes doe they goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lord which heareth them doth accept them.

18 He * serueth the Lord shall be accepted with fauour, and his prayer shall reach vnto the clouds.

19 The prayer of him that humbleth himselfe, goeth thorow the cloudes, and ceaseth not till it come neere, and will not depart till the most High haue respect thereunto to iudge righteously, and to execute iudgement.

20 And the Lord will not be slacke, nor the Almighty will tary long from them, till he hath smitten in sunder the loynes of the vnmmercifull, and auenged himselfe on the heathen, till he haue taken away the multitude of the cruell, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, till hee giue euery man after his works, and reward them after their deuires, till he haue iudged the cause of his people, and comforted them with his mercy.

21 Oh how faire a thing is mercy in the time of anguish and trouble! it is like a cloud of raine that commeth in the time of a drought.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithful men, against those that persecute his Church. 2 The praise of a good woman.

3 Aue mercy vpon vs, O Lord God of all things, and behold vs, and shew vs the light of thy mercies,

4 And send thy feare among the nations which seek not after thee, that they may know that there is no God but thou, and that they may shewe thy wondrous works.

5 Lift vp thine * hand vpon the strange nations, that they may see thy power.

6 As thou art sanctified in vs before them, so be thou magnified among them before vs,

7 That they may know thee, as we know thee: for there is none other God, but only thou, O Lord,

8 Renew the signes, and change the wonders: shew the glory of thy hand, and thy right arme, that they may shew forth thy wondrous acts.

9 Raise vp thine indignation, and pouere out wrath: take away the aduersary, and smite the enemy.

10 Make the time short: remember thine oath, that thy wondrous works may be praised.

11 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that escape, & let them perish that oppress the people.

12 Smite in sunder the heads of * princes that be our enemies, and say, There is no other but we.

13 Gather all the tribes of Iacob together, that they may know that there is none other God, but onely thou, and that they may shew thy wondrous works, & inherit thou them as from the beginning.

14 O Lord haue mercy vpon thy people that is called by thy Name, and vpon Israel, * whom thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.

15 Oh, be mercifull vnto Ierusalem the citie of thy Sanctuary, the city of thy rest.

16 Fill Sion, that it may magnifie thine oracles, and fill thy people with thy glory.

17 Gipe witness vnto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and tale vp the prophetes that haue bene shewed in thy name.

18 Reward them that waite for thee, that thy Prophetes may be found faithfull.

Num. 6. 23.

19 O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruants according to the * blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteousness, that all they which dwell vpon the earth may know that thou art the Lord the eternal God.

20 The belly deuoureth all meates, yet is one meat better then another.

21 As the throat tasteth venison, so doeth a wise minde discern false words.

22 A froward heart bringeth griefe, but a man of experience will resist it.

23 A woman is apt to receiue every man: yet is one daughter better then another.

24 The beaute of a woman cheateth the face, and a man toucheth nothing better.

25 If there be in her tongue gentlenesse, meeknesse, and whollsome talker, then is not her husband like other men.

[The praised of a good woman.]

26 Hee that hath gotten a iust woman, hath begun to get a possession: the is an helpe like vnto himselfe, and a pillar to rest vpon.

27 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and hee that hath no wife, wandereth to and fro mourning.

28 Who will trust a thiefe that is alway ready and wandereth from town to towne? and likewise him that hath no rest, and lodgeth wherefor he the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 How a man should know friends and counsellors.

2 To keepe his company that feareth God.

3 Very friend faith, I am a friend vnto him also: but there is foule friend, which is only a friend in name.

4 Remaineth not there in heauines vnto death, when a companion, and friend is turned to an enemy?

5 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to coner the earth with deceit?

6 There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyeth with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.

7 There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the belly sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemy.

8 Forget not thy friend in thy mind, & thinke vpon him in thy riches.

[Of who we should take counsel.]

9 Seeke no counsell at him of whom thou art suspected, and disclose not thy counsell vnto such as hate thee.

10 Every counsellor praiseth his owne counsell: but there is some that counselleth for himselfe.

[Chap. 8. 19. and 9. 16. [Of who we should take counsel.]]

11 Beware of the counsellor, and be aduised afore whereto thou wilt vnto him: for he wil counsell for himselfe, lest he cast the lot vpon thee.

12 And say vnto thee, Thy way is good, and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shal become of thee.

13 Aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religion, nor of iustice, of him that hath no iustice, nor of a woman touching her of whom she is tealous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a merchant concerning exchange, nor of a buyer for the sale, nor of an envious man touching thankfulness, nor of the vnumercifull touching kindness, nor of an vn honest man of honesty, nor of the

Southfull for any labour, nor of a hireling for the finishing of a worke, nor of an idle seruant for much businesse: hearken not vnto these in any matter of counsell.

14 But be continuall with a godly man, whome thou knowest to keepe the commandments of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy minde, and is sory for thee when thou stumblest.

15 Take counsell of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithfull vnto thee then it.

16 For a mans minde is sometime more accustomed to shew more then seven watchmen that sit aboue in an hie tower.

17 And aboue all this, pray to the most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

18 Let reason goe before every enterprise, and counsell before every action.

19 The changing of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: some things appeare, good and euill, life and death, but the tongue hath euermore the gouernement ouer them.

20 Some man is witty, and hath instructed many, and yet is vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

21 Some man will be wise in words, and is hated, yea, he is defilte of all fowle.

22 Because grace is not giuen him of the Lord: domine for he is defilte of all wilddome.

23 Another is wise for himselfe, and the fruits of vnderstanding are faithfull in his mouth.

24 A wife man instructeth his people, and the fruits of his wisdom faile not.

25 A wife man shall be plentifully blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

26 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

27 A wise man shall obtaine credit among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

28 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy life, and see what is euill for it, and permit it not to doe it.

29 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soule pleasure in euery thing.

30 Bee not greedy in all delights, and bee not too hasty vpon all meates.

31 For excess of meates bringeth sickness, and gluttonie cometh into choleticke diseases.

32 By farrest haue many perished: but hee that dieth himselfe, prologeth his life.

[Of remembrance.]

1 A Physician is commendable. 2 To bury the dead. 3 The wisdom of him that is learned.

4 Honour the Physician with honour: for he is due vnto him, because of necessity: for the sicke and the Lord hath created him.

[Of Phys. & physicks.]

5 For of the most High cometh healing, and he shall receiue gifts of the king.

6 The knowledge of the Physicion lifeth vp his head, and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

7 The Lord hath created medicines of feare, and he that is wise will not abhorre them.

8 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that men might know the vertue thereof?

9 So hee hath giuen men knowledge, that hee might be glorified in his wondrous workes.

10 With such doeth hee heale men, and taketh away their paines.

11 Of such doeth the Apothecary make a confession, and yet he cannot finish his owne workes: for of the Lord cometh prosperity and wealth ouer all the earth.

12 My soune, faile not in thy sickness, but pray

[14. 38. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50.]

vnto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

90 Leane off from sinne, and order thine hands aright, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

91 Offer sweet incense, and fine flour for a remembrance: make the offering fat, for thou art not the first yger.

92 Then giue place to the physician: for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

93 The houre may come, that their enterprises may haue good successe.

94 For they also shall pray vnto the Lord, that he would prosper that, which is giuen for ease, and their physike for the prolonging of life.

95 He that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the physician.

96 My sonne, powre forth teares ouer the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou hadst suffered great harme thy selfe, and then couer his body according to his appoyntment, and neglect not his buriall.

97 Make a grienous lamentation, and be earnest in mourning, and vs lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be euill spoken of, and then comfort thy selfe for thine heavinesse.

98 * For of heavinesse cometh death, and the heavinesse of the heart breaketh the strength.

99 Of the affection of the heart cometh sorrow, and the life of him that is afflicted, is according to his heart.

100 Take no heavinesse to heart: driue it away, and remember the last end.

101 Forget it not: for there is no turning againe: thou shalt doe him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

102 Remember his iudgement: thine also shalt be likewise, vnto me yesterday, and vnto thee to day.

103 * Seeing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort thy selfe againe for him when his spirit is departed from him.

104 ¶ The wisdom of a learned man cometh by vsing well his vacant time, and hee that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdom.

105 Now can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the good, and in driving oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breed of bullocks?

106 He giueth his mind to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.

107 So is it of euery capenter or workemaster, that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and graue scales, and make sundry diuersities, and giue themselves to counterfeite imagerie, & watch to performe the worke.

108 The Smith in like maner abideth by his anvil, and doth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fire drieth his flesh, & he must fight with the heat of the fornace: the noise of the hammer is euer in his eares, and his eyes looke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he setteth his minde to make vp his workes: therefore he watcheth to polishe it perfectly.

109 So doeth the potter sit by his worke, he turneth the wheele about with his feet: he is careful alway at his worke, and maketh his work by number.

110 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feet he tempereth the hardnesse thereof: his heart imagineth how to couer it with lead, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

111 All these hope in their hands, and euery one bestraweth his wisdom in his worke.

112 Without these cannot the cities be maintained, nor inhabited, nor occupied.

113 And yet they are not asked their iudgement in the counsell of the people, neither are they high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seats, nor vnderstand y order of iustice: they cannot declare matters according to the forme of the law, and they are not meet for hard matters.

114 But they maintaine the state of the world, and their desire is concerning their worke and occupation.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 A wise man. 16 The works of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things profite, but vnto the euill, euill good things: are euill.

HE onely that applieth his mind to the Law of the most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, seeketh out the wisdom of all the ancients, and exerciseth himselfe in the propheties. [Of true wisdom]

2 He keepeth the sayings of famous men, and entrench in also to the secrets of darke sentences.

3 He seeketh out the myserie of graue sentences, and exerciseth himselfe in darke parables.

4 He shal serue among great men, and appeare before the prince: he shal trauaile thorow strange countreys: for he hath tried the good and the euill among men.

5 He wil giue his heart to resort easly vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and pray for his finnes.

6 When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of vnderstanding, y he may powre out wise sentences, and giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 [He shall direct his counsel and knowledge:] Or, the so shall he meditate in his secrets. [Or, the Lrd.]

8 He shal shew forth his science and learning, and reioyce in the law and covenant of the Lord.

9 Many shall commend his vnderstanding, and his memorie shall neuer bee put out, nor depart away: but his name shall continue from generation to generation.

10 * The Congregation shall declare his wisdom, and shew it. [Chap. 44. 15.]

11 Though he be dead, hee shal leaue a greater fame then a thousand: and if he liue still, he shall get the fame.

12 Yet will I speake of moe things: for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy children, and bring forth fruit as the rose that is planted by y brooks of the field.

14 And giue ye a sweet smell as y incense, and bring forth flowers as the lillie: giue a smell, & sing a song of praise: blesse the Lord in all his workes. [Or, Li. 10.]

15 Giue honour vnto his name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, & with harps, and ye shall say after this maner,

16 * All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandments are done in due season. [Gen. 1. 31. mar. 7. 37.]

17 And none may say, What is this? Wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all bee fought out: at his commandment the water stood as an heape, and at the word of his mouth the waters gathered themselves.

18 His whole fauour appeared by his Commandement, and none can diminish that which he wil doe.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from everlasting to everlasting; and there is nothing wonderfull vnto him.

21 A man need not say, What is this? Wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their owne vs.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moisten the earth like a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into saltnesse, so shall the heathen feele his wrach.

24 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.

25 ¶ For the good are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the sinners.

[Chap. 39] 26 * The principall things for the whole vse of mans life, is water, fire, & yron, and salt, and meale, wheate and hony, & milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothing.

27 All these things are for good to the godly: but to the sinners they are turned vnto euill.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their rigor lay on sure strokes: in the time of destruction, they shew forth their power, and accomplish the wrath of him that made them.

[Chap. 40] 29 * Fire and haile, and famine, and death: all these are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wild beastes, and the scorpions, and the serpents, and the sword execute vengeance, for the destruction of the wicked.

31 They shall be glad to do his commandments: and when need is, they shall be ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandment.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.

[Gen. l. 3] 33 * All the workes of the Lord are good, and he giacth euery one in due season, and when neede is:

34 So ¶ a man need not say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all wo thy praise.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

C H A P. XL.

1 Many miseries in mans life. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogative of the feare of God.

[The miseries of mans life] Great trauell is created for all men, and an heauie yoke vpon the sonnes of Adam from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, till the day that they returne to the mother of all things.

2 Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they wait for, and the day of death.

3 Fro him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, vnto him that is beneth in the earth, and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blue silke, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is clothed in simple linen.

5 Wrath and enuie, trouble and vniuersall, and feare of death, and rigour and strife, and in the time of rest, the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleeping he is as in a watch tower in the day: he is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And when all is safe, hee awaketh, and maruellet that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seenen fold to the vagodly.

[Chap. 39] 9 Moreouer, * death, and blood and strife, and sword, oppression, famine, destruction, and punishment.

20 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the * flood also.

21 * All things that are of the earth shall turne to earth againe, and they that are of the * waters, shall returne into the sea.

22 ¶ All bribes and varietousnes shall be put away, but ¶ faithfulness shall endure for euer.

23 The substance of the vagodly shall be dried vp like a riser, and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

24 When hee openeth his hand, he reioyceth: but all the transgressors shall come to nought.

25 The children of the vagodly shall not obtaine many branches: for the vnclene roots are as vpon the high rocks.

26 Their tender stalke by what water soener it be, or water banke, it shall be pulled vp before all other herbs.

27 Friendlinesse is as a most plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercy endureth for euer.

28 * To labour, and to bee content with that a man hath, is a sweete life: but he that findeth a treasure, is aboue them both.

29 Children & the building of the citie maketh a perpetual name: but an honest woman is counted aboue them both.

30 Wine and musike reioyce the heart: but the loue of wisdom is aboue them both.

31 The pipe and the pfallerion make a sweete noise: but a pleasant tongue is aboue them both.

32 Thine eye desireth fauour and beauty: but a greenesced time rather then them both.

33 A friend and companion come together at opportunity: but aboue them both is a wife with her husband.

34 Friends & helpe are good in the time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer more then them both.

35 Cold and siluer fasten the feet: but counsell is esteemed aboue them both.

36 Riches and strength lift vp the minde, but the feare of the Lord is aboue them both: there is no want in the feare of the Lord, and it needeth no helpe.

37 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautifull as it is.

38 ¶ My sonne, leade not a beggers life, for better it were to die then to begge.

39 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for hee tormenteth himselfe after other mens meat: but a wise man, and well outured, will beware thereof.

40 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vashamefast, and in his belley there burneth a fire.

C H A P. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heed vnto wisdom. 27 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

O Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meat!

2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, & to him that despaieth and hath oft patience!

3 Feare not the iudgement of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after: this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou be against the pleasure of the most High (whether it be ten, or an hundred, or a thousand yeeres, there is no defence for life against the grave.

5 ¶ The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe company with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall perish, & their posterity shall haue a perpetual shame.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly father, because they are reprob'd for his sake.

8 Woe be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the Law of the most High God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish.

9 If ye be borne, ye shall be borne to cursing: if ye die, the curse shall be your portion.

10 ¶ All that is of the earth shall turne to earth againe: so the vngodly go from the curse to destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shall be put out.

12 Haue regard to thy name: for that shall continue with thee about a thousand treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath the dayes numbered: but a good name endureth ever.

14 My children, keepe wisdom in peace: * for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in all things to be ashamed, neither are all things allowed as faithfull in all men.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of authority:

18 Of sinne before the Iudge and ruler: of offence before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnesse before a companion and friend:

19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the truth of God and his covenant, and to leane with thine elbows vpon the bread, or to be reproued for giuing or taking,

20 And of offence to them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot,

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion, or a gift, or to bee euill minded toward another mans wife,

22 Or to sollicite any maids maid, or to stand by her bed, or to reprove thy friends with words, 23 Or to vpbraide when thou giuest any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to reueale secret words.

24 Thus mayest thou well bee shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with all men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The Law of God must be taught. 9 A daughter. 34 A woman. 18 God knoweth all things, yet a man the secrets of thine heart.

OF these things be not thou ashamed, neither haue regard to offend for any person.

2 Of the Law of the most High, and his covenant, and of iudgement to iustifie the godly:

3 Of the cause of thy companion, and of strangers, or of distributing thy heritage among friends.

4 To be diligent to keepe true balance, and weight, whether thou haue much or little:

5 To sell merchandise at an indifferent price, and to correct thy children diligently, and to beat an euill seruant to the blood:

6 To set a good Locke where an euill wife is, and to Locke where many hands are:

7 If thou gise any thing by number & weight, to put all in writing, both that that is giuen out, and that that is receiued againe:

8 To teach the vnlearned and the vnwise, and the aged, that contend against the young: thus shalt thou be well instructed, and approved of all men liuing.

9 ¶ The daughter I maketh the father to watch: Or, a secretly, and the carefulnesse that he hath for her, seuereth away his sleepe in the youth, lest she should passe the flower of her age: and when she hath an husband, lest she should be hated:

10 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled, or gotten with child in her fathers house, and when shee is with her husband, lest the misbehauour hurt herselfe: and when she is married, lest the continue vnfruitfull.

11 ¶ If thy daughter be vnshamefast, keepe her straitly, lest she cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorn, and make thee a common talke in the citie, and defame thee among the people, and bring thee to publike shame.

12 ¶ Behold not euery bodys beauty, and compare thyselfe among women.

13 For as the moth cometh out of garments: so doeth wickednes of the woman.

14 The wickednesse of a man is better then the good intreacie of a woman, to wit, of a woman that is in shame and reproch.

15 ¶ I will remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue seene: by the word of the Lord are his workes.

16 The Sunne that shineth, looketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord appointed that his Saints should declare all his wondrous workes, which the Almighty Lord hath established to confirme all things by his Maiestie?

18 He seeketh out the depth, & the heart, and he knoweth their praides: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he be holdeth the signes of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth the paths of things that are secret.

20 ¶ No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent workes of his wisdom, and hee is from euerlasting to euerlasting, and for euer: vnto him may nothing bee added, neither can he be diminished: he hath no neede of any counseller.

22 Oh, how delectable are all his workes, and to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fire!

23 They liue all and endure for euer: and whensoever need is, they are all obedient.

24 They are all double one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any fault.

25 The one I commendeth the goodnesse of the other, and who can bee satisfied with beholding Gods glory?

CHAP. XLIII.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

THIS high ornament I the cleare firmament, the beauty of the heauen so glorious to behold, wonder- The Sunne also, a marueilous instrument ful workes when it appeareth, declareth at his going out the of God. worke of the most High.

3 At noone it burneth the countrey, and who may abide for the heate thereof?

4 The Sunne burneth the mountaines three times more then hee that keepeth a fornicie with condemnation: he it casteth out the fiery vapors, and with the shining beames blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made it, and by his commandment he causeth it to runne hastily.

Gen. 1. 16 6 * The moone also hath he made to appeare according to her season. that it should be a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

Ezek. 1. 23 7 * The seasons are appointed by the Moone: the light thereof diminisheth vnto the end.

8 The month is called after the name thereof, and groweth wonderfully in her changing.

9 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heauen: the beauty of heauen are the glorious starres, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lord.

10 By the commandment of the holy One they continue in their order, and faile not in their watch.

Gen. 9. 13, 14. 11 * Looke vpon the rainebow, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in the brightness thereof.

Isa. 40. 12 12 * It compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the most High haue bended it.

13 * Through his Commandment he maketh the snow to halte, and sendeth swiftly the lightning of his iudgement.

14 Therefore hee openeth his treasures, and the cloudes flie forth as the fowles.

15 In his power hath he strengthened the clouds, and broken the hailstones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the South wind bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beateth the earth: so doth the storme of the North: the whirlwinde also, as birds that flie, scattereth the snow, and the falling downe thereof is as the grasshoppers that light downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beauty of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.

19 He also powreth out the frost vpon the earth like salt, and when it is frozen at flickness on the tops of pales.

20 When the cold North winde bloweth, an yce is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and clothe the waters as with a brestplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wilderness, and destroyeth that that is greene like fire.

22 The remedy of all these is when a cloud commeth hastily, and when a dew commeth vpon the heate, it refresheth it.

23 By his word he filleth the winde: by his counsell hee appeareth the deepe, and planteth ylands therein.

24 They that faile ouer the sea tell the perils thereof, and when wee heare it with our eares wee marueile thereat.

25 For there be strange and wonderous works, diuers maner of beasts, and the creation of whales.

26 Through him are all things directed to a good end, and are stablished by his word.

27 And when we haue spoken much, we cannot attaine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that hee is all.

28 What power haue we to prayse him? for hee is aboue all his worker.

Psa. 96. 4 29 The Lord is terrible, and very * great, and marueilous is his power.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doth hee farre exceede: exalt him with all your power, and be not weary, yet can yet not attaine vnto it.

31 * Who hath seene him that he might tell vs? Iob. 1. 1 and who can magnifie him as he is? Psa. 113. 3

32 For there are hidde yet greater things then these be, and we haue seene but a few of his works.

33 For the Lord hath made all things, and giuen wiledome to such as feare God.

C H A P. XLIIII.

The praise of certaine holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob.

1 Et vs now commend the famous men, and our fathers, of whom we are begotten.

2 The Lord hath gotten great glory by them, & that through his great power from the beginning.

3 They haue borne rule in their kingdoms, and were renowned for their power, and were wise in counsell, and declared propheties.

4 * They gouerned the people by counsell, and by the knowledge of learning meet for the people, Ezek. 1. 25 in whose doctrine were wise sentences.

5 They inuented the melodic of musike, and expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were rich and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.

7 All these were honorable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 There are of them that haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shalbe spoken of.

9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, * and are perished, as though they had neuer bene, and are become as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them.

10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not bene forgotten.

11 For whose posterity a good inheritance is reserved, & their seed is contained in the Couenant.

12 Their stocke is contained in the Couenant, and their posteritie after them.

13 Their seed shall remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name lieth for euermore.

15 * The people speake of their wisedome, and the Congregation talke of their praise.

16 * Enoch pleased the Lord God: therefore was he translated for an example of repentance to the generations.

17 * Noe was found perfect, and in the time of wrath he had a reward, therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An euertlasting couenant was made with him, that all flesh * should perish no more by the Flood.

19 Abraham was a * great father of many people: in glory was there none like vnto him.

20 He kept the law of the most High, and was in Couenant with him, and he set the Couenant in his flesh, and in tentation he was found faithfull.

21 Therefore he assured him by an * oath, that he would blesse the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the starres, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the end of the world.

22 * With Isaac did he confirme likewise, for Abraham his fathers sake, the blessing of all men, and the Couenant.

23 And caused it to rest vpon the head of Isaac, and made himselfe known by his blessings, and gaue him an heritage, and diuided his portions, * and parted them among the twelue tribes.

T t 4 24 And

eph 24 And he brought out of him a merciful man which found favour in the sight of all both.

CHAP. XLV.

The praise of Moses, Aaron and Phinees.

And Moses, the beloved of God and men brought he forth, whose remembrance is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him glorious in the sight of Kings, and gave him commandements for his people, and shewed him his glory.

4 Hee sanctified him with faithfulness and meeknesse, and chose him out of all men.

5 He caused him to heare his voyce, & brought him into the darke cloudes, & there he gave him the commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that hee might teach Jacob the covenant, and Israel his iudgements.

6 He exalted Aaron, an holy man like vnto him, even his brether of the tribe of Levi.

7 An everlasting covenant made he with him, and gave him the Priesthood among the people, and made him blessed through his comely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect joy vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a tunicke, and an ephod.

9 Hee compassed him about with bells of gold, and with many belles round about, that when he went in, the sound might be heard, & might make a noyse in the Sanctuary, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people.

10 And with an holy garment, with gold also & blue silke, and purple, and diuers kinds of workes, and with a breasteplate of iudgement, and with the signes of truth.

11 And with work of scarlet cunningly wrought, and with precious stones grauen like scales, and set in golde by goldsmiths worke, for a memoriall, with a writing grauen after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 And with a crowne of golde vpon the miter bearing the forme and marke of holinesse, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, & pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no strainger put them on, but only his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed every day twise continually.

15 Moses filled his hands, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed, so long as the heauens should remaine, that hee should minister before him, and also to execute the office of the Priesthood, and blesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lord chose him, that he should preface offerings before him, and a sweete fauour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

17 He gave him also his commandements and authority according to the lawes appointed, that hee should teach Jacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his law.

18 Strangers stood vp against him, and envied him in the wilderness, euen the men that tooke Dauid and Abirams part, and the company of Core in fury and rage.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed:

hee did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fiery flame.

20 But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him an heritage, and parted the first fruits of the first borne vnto him: vnto him especially he appointed bread in abundance.

21 For the Priests did eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave vnto him and to his seed.

22 Els had he none heritage in the land of his people, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord is the portion of his inheritance.

23 The third in glory is Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because hee had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stood vp with good courage of heart when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should haue the dignitie of the Priesthood for ever.

25 And according to the covenant made with David, that the inheritance of the kingdom should remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron should be to the onely sonne of his sonne, and to his seed. God giue vs wisdom in our heart to iudge his people in righteousnes, that the good things that they haue be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for their posteritie.

CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Iosue, Caleb, and Samuel.

1 Iesus the sonne of Nane was valiant in the warres, and was the successeur of Moses in prophesies, who according vnto his name was a great sauiour of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.

2 What glory gate he when hee lift vp his hand and drew out his sword against the cities.

3 Who was there before him like to him? for he fought the battels of the Lord.

4 Stood not the Sunne still by his meanes and one day was as long as two?

5 He called vnto the most high gowernor when the enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lord heard him with the hailestones, and with mightie power.

6 He rushed in vpon the nations in battel, and in the going downe of Bashoron he destroyed the aduersaries that they might know his weapons, & that he fought in the sight of the Lord, for hee followed the Almighty.

7 In the time of Moses also hee did a good worke: he and Caleb the sonne of Iephone stood against the enemy, and withheld the people from sinne, and appealed the wicked murmuring.

8 And of sixe hundred thousand people of foote, they two were preferred to bring them into the heritage, euen into the land that floweth with milke and hony.

9 The Lord gave strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his old age, so that he went vp into the high places of the land, & his seed obtained it for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 Concerning the Iudges euery one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, their memorie be blessed.

12 Let their bones flourish out of their place, and their names by succession remaine to them that are most famous of their children.

19 Then trembled their hearts & hands, so that they forwiled like a woman in trauell.

20 But they called vpon the Lord which is mercifull, and lift vp their hands vnto him and immediately the Holy one heard them out of heauen.

CHAP. XLIX.

Of Iosias, Ezekias, Dauid, Jeremias, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesou, Neemias, Enoch, Ioseph, Sem, and Seth.

1 The remembrance of I * Iosias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the arte of the apothecary: it is sweeter as hony in all mouthes, and as musklike at a banquet of wine.

2 Hee behaned himselfe vprightly in the reformation of the people, and tooke away all abominations of iniquitie.

3 He * directed his heart vnto the Lord, and in the time of the vngodly he established religion.

4 All, except Dauid and Ezekias, and Iosias, committed wickednes: for euen the Kings of Iuda forsooke the Law of the most High, and failed.

5 Therefore he gaue them if home vnto other, and their honour to a strange nation.

6 He burnt the elect city of the Sanctuary, * and destroyed the streetes thereof according to the prophesie of Jeremias.

7 For they * intreated him euill, which wene theles was a Prophet, * sanctified from his mothers wombe, that he might root out, and afflict, and destroy, and that he might also build vp, and plant.

8 * Ezechiel * saw the glorious vision, which was and, 8. shewed him vpon the charet of the Cherubims.

9 * For he made mention of the enemies vnder Chap. 46. the figure of the raine, and directed them that went right.

10 * And let the bones of the twelue Prophets flourish out of their places: and let their memory be blessed: for they comforted Iacob, and deliuered them by assured hope.

11 * How shall we praise I * Zorobabel, which was as a ring on the right hand!

12 So was I * Iesou also the sonne of Iosedec: these men in their time builded the house, and set and, 3. vp the Sanctuary of the Lord againe, which was Neh. 7. t prepared for an euertlasting worship.

13 * And among the elect was I * Neemias, whose renowne is great, which let vp for vs y wals of Enoch, that were fallen, and set vp the gates and the bars, Gen. 5. 24 and laid the foundations of our houses.

14 * But vpon the earth was no man created like Gen. 11. 5. I * Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto I * Ioseph, the gouernour of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people, whose bones were kept.

16 I * Sem and I * Seth were in great honour among men: and so was I * Adam about euery liuing thing in the creation.

CHAP. L.

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord. 27 The author of this booke.

Simon * the sonne of Onias the hie Priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, and in his dayes established the Temple.

2 Under him was the foundation of the double height laid, and the high wals that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his dayes the places to receiue water that were decayed were restored, and the brasie about in measure as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people that they should not fall, and fortified the cite against the siege.

5 How honorable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house conuered with the vaile!

6 Hee was like the morning starre in the mids of a cloud, and as the moone when it is full.

7 And as the Sunne shining vpon the Temple of the most High, and as the rainbow that is bright in the faire clouds.

8 And as the floure of the roses in the spring of the yeere, and as lilies by the springs of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of Summer.

9 As a fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessell of masie golde, set with all manner of precious stones.

10 And as a laire olive tree that is fruitfull, and as a Cypress tree which groweth vp to the clouds.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beauty, he went vp to the holy altar, and made the garment of holinesse honorable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of y Priests hands, hee himselfe stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as the branches doe the Cedar tree in Libanus, and they compassed him as the branches of the palme trees.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might accomplish his ministration vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the most High, and Almightye.

15 He stretched out his hand to the drinke offering, and powred of the blood of the grape, and hee powred at the foote of the altar a perfume of good fauour vnto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and blowed with brasen trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard for a remembrance before the most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces, to worship their Lord God Almightye, and most High.

18 The fingers also sung with their voices, so that their sound was great, and the melodie sweet.

19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord most High, with prayer before him that is mercifull, till the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.

20 Then went hee downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole congregation of y children of Israel, that they should giue praise with their lips.

lips vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his Name.

24 He began againe to worship, that hee might receiue the blessing of the most High.

25 Now therefore giue praise all yee vnto God, that worketh great things euery where, which hath increased our dayes from the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie,

26 That he would giue vs ioyfulness of heart, and peace in our dayes in Isral, as in old time, 27 That he would confirme his mercie with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

28 ¶ There be two maner of people that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:

29 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistims, and the foolish people that dwell in Sicinna.

30 ¶ Iesus the sonne of Sirach, the sonne of Eleazarus of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding & knowledge in this booke, and hath powred out the wisdom of his heart.

31 Blessed is he that exerciseth himselfe therein: and he that layeth vp these in his heart, shal be wise.

32 For if he doe these things, he shal be strong in all things, for he setteth his feet in the light of the Lord, which giueth wisdom to the godly. The Lord be praised for euermore. So be it, so be it.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I Will confesse thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God my Saniour: I will giue thanks vnto thy Name.

1 For thou art my defender and helper, & hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that are occupied with lies: thou hast holpen mee against mine aduersaries,

2 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy Names sake, from the roaring of them that were ready to deuoure me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had,

3 And from the fire that choked mee round about, and from the middes of the fire that I burned not,

4 And from the bottome of the belly of hell, from an vnclane tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the king, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue.

5 My soule shall praise the Lord vnto death: for my soule drew neere vnto death, my life was nere to the hell beneath.

6 They compassed me on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked for the succour of men: but there was none.

7 Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Lord and vpon thine aids of old, how thou deliuerest such as wait for thee, and sauest them out of the hands of the enemies.

8 Then lifted I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

9 I called vpon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proud without helpe.

10 I will praise thy Name continually, & will sing praise with thanksgiving: & my prayer was heard, 11 Thou sauest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the cull time: therefore will I giue thanks and praise thee, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

12 When I was yet young or euer I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

13 I prayed for her before the Temple, & sought after her vnto farre countreys, and she was as a grape that waxeth ripe out of the sower.

14 Mine heart reioycd in her: my foot walked in the right way, and from my youth vp sought I after her.

15 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, and receiued her, and gat me much wisdom:

16 And I profited by her, therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me wisdom.

17 For I am aduised to doe therewith: I will be zealous of that that is good: so shall I not be confounded.

18 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I have examined my workes: I lifted vp mine handes on high, and considered the ignorances thereof.

19 I directed my soule vnto her, and I found her in purenesse: I haue had mine heart ioyned with her from the beginning, therefore shal I not be forsaken.

20 My bowels are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession, 21 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my reward wherewith I will praise him.

22 Draw neere vnto mee, yee vnlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

23 Wherefore are ye slow? and what say you of these things, seeing your soules are very thirstie?

24 I opened my mouth, and said, Buy her for you without money.

25 Bow downe your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shall receiue instruction: shee is ready that ye may finde her.

26 Behold with your eyes, how that I haue had but litle labour, & haue gotten vnto me much rest.

27 Get learning with a great summe of money, for by her ye shall possesse much gold.

28 Let your soule reioyce in the mercie of the Lord, and be not ashamed of his praife.

29 Doe your dutie betimes, and hee will giue you a reward at his time.

¶ BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which hee read before Iechonias and all the people. 2 The leues sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, so the iustes that shal the pray for them.

¶ Nd these are the words of the booke which Baruch the son of Nerias the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of I Aladaias, the sene of Helcias wrote in at Babylon;

1 In the fift yeere, and in the seuen day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

2 And Baruch did read the words of this booke that Iechonias the sonne of Ioachim King of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heate the booke.

3 And in the audience of the gouernour, & of the kings sonnes, and before the Elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest to the highest, before all them that dwell at Babylon by the riuer: Snd.

Or, Sodi.

5 Which when they heard, wept, fasted, and made prayers before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to every mans power,

7 And sent it to Ierusalem vnto Ieacim the son of Helcias the sonne of Salom Priest, and vnto the other priests, & to all the people which were with him at Ierusalem.

8 When he had received the vessels of the temple of the Lord, that were taken away out of the Temple, to bring them againe into the land of Iuda, the tenth day of the month | Sinan, so wit, silver vessels, which Sedecias the sonne of Iosias king of Iudah had made,

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away Iechonias from Ierusalem, and his princes, and his nobles prisoners, and the people, and caried them to Babylon.

10 And they said, Behold, we haue sent you money wherewith ye shall buy burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, and prepare a | meat offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God,

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen.

12 And that God would giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that wee may liue vnder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the shadow of Baltasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God, for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day the fury of the Lord, and his wrath is not turned from vs)

14 And reade this booke (which we haue sent to you to be reheared in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the feast dayes, and at time conuenient

15 Thus (hall ye say, * To the Lord our God belongeth righteousnesse, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto them of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

16 And to our Kings, and to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers,

17 Because wee haue * sinned before the Lord our God,

18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, enen vnto this day, we haue been disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue been negligent to heare his voice.

20 * Wherefore these plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moses his seruant at the time that hee brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and honic, as appeareth this day.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, according to all the words of the Prophets, whom hee sent vnto vs.

22 But euery one of vs followed the wicked imagination of his owne heart, to serue strange gods, and to do euill in the sight of the Lord our God, them. 22. Hee promisseth that he will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a new and euerslasting iustification.

Therefore the Lord our God hath performed his word, which he pronounced against vs, and against our Iudges that governed Israel, & against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer came to passe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ierusalem, according to things, that were written in the Law of Moses,

3 That some among vs should * eat the flesh of Dens. 27. his owne sonne, and some the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer hee hath deliuered them to be in subiection to all the kingdomes, that are round about vs, to be as a reproch and desolation among all the people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath, and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voice.

6 * To the Lord our God appertaineth righte- Cba. 1. 13. onnes, but vnto vs and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue wee not prayed before the Lord, that we might turne euery one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

9 So the Lord hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet wee haue not hearkened vnto his voice, to walke in the commandements of the Lord that he hath giue vs vnto vs.

11 * And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and in an high arme, and with signes, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day, 12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned: wee haue done wickedly: wee haue offended in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, & our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine owne sake, and giue vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs away, 15 That all the earth may know that thou are the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Israel, and vpon their posteritie.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: incline thine care, O Lord, and heare vs.

17 * Open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousnesse.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the greatnesse of sinne, and he that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule will giue thee praise and righteousnesse, O Lord.

19 For we doe not require mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousnes of our fathers, or of our kings,

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken | by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 * Thus

Ier. 27. 21 *Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remaine in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if yee will not heare the voyce of the Lord to serue the king of Babylon, 23 I will cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and so Ierusalem will I cause to cease the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of joy, and the voyce of the bridegroom, and the voyce of the bride, and the land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be carried out of their places.

25 And now, they are cast out to the heate of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great misery with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as appeareth this day, for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast entreated vs according to equity, & according to al thy great mercy,

28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses in the day when thou didst commaund him to write thy Law, before the children of Israel, saying,

29 *If ye will not obey my voice, then shall this great swarme and multitude be turned into a very few among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I know if they will not heare me: for it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember themselves.

31 And know that I am the Lord their God: the will I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares, 32 And they shall heare, and praise mee in the land of their captiuitie, & thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their euill workes: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into the land, which I promised with an oath vnto their fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them: and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euertlasting covenant with them that I will be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance. 2 He praisth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto the for the despising thereof. 36 Only God was the finder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

○ Lord Almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, cryeth vnto thee.

31 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy: for thou art mercifull, and haue pity vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

32 For thou endurest for euer, and wee vtterly perish.

33 O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

34 Remember not the wickednesse of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power, and thy Name at this time.

35 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

36 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuitie: for we haue considered in our minds all the wickednes of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

37 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs to be a reproof, and a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

38 O Israel, heare the Commandements of life, hearken vnto them that thou mayst learne wisdom.

39 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen old in a strange country?

40 And art defiled with the dead, and art counted with them that goe downe to the granes?

41 Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom.

42 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue remained safe for euer.

43 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou mayst know also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.

44 Who hath sound out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

45 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?

46 They that had their pasture with the fowles of the heauen, that horded vp silver & gold, wherein men trust, and made none end of their gathering.

47 For they that coynd silver, & were so carefull of their worke, and whose inuention had none end, 48 Are come to nought, and gone down to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

49 When they were young, they saw the light and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstood not the way of knowledge.

50 Neither perceiued the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were far off from that way.

51 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Canaan, neither hath it bene seene in Theman, 52 Nor the Agariens sought after wisdom vpon the earth, nor the merchants of Nerran, & of Theman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisdom, haue known the way of wisdom, neither doe they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

53 O Israel, how great is the house of God: and how large is the place of his possession!

54 It is great, and hath none end, it is high and vmeasurable.

55 There were the gyants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

56 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

57 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

58 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take her, and brought her downe from the clouds?

59 Who hath gone ouer the sea to find her, and hath brought her rather then for gold?

60 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her paths.

11 But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, and hee hath found her out with his vnderstanding: the same is he which hath prepared y^e earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beasts.

13 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth and when he calleth it again, it obeith him with feare

14 And the starres shine in their watch and reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Heere we bee: and so with cherefullnesse they shewe light vnto him that made them.

15 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

16 Hee hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Iacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloved.

17 Afterward hee was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

C H A P. IIII.

1 The reward of them that keepe the law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaints of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure thereof the Church. 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

This is the booke of the commandements of God, and the Law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall die.

2 Turne thee, O Iacob, & take hold of it: walke by this brightnesse before the light thereof.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Irael, wee are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Be of good comfort, O my people, which art the memoriall of Israel.

6 Ye are solde to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye promoued God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

7 For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euermolting God, and yee haue grieved Ierusalem that nourished you.

9 When shee saue the wrath comming vpon you from God, she said, Harken ye that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought mee into great heauinesse.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sons and daughters, which the euermolting will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, which for the finnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousness, nor walke in the wayes of his commandements: neither did they enter into the pathes of discipline, through his righteousness.

14 Come, ye that dwell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which the Euermolting hath brought vpon them.

15 For he hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an inpendent nation & of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pity the young: these haue caried away the deare beloved of the widowes, leauing me alone, and desolate of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely hee that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O children, goe your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and so long as I liue, I will call vpon the euermolting.

21 Bee of good comfort, O children, erie vnto God, and hee will deliuer you from the power and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the euermolting, and ioy is come vpon me from the Holy one, because of the mercie which shall quickly come vnto you from our euermolting Saviour.

23 For I sent you away with weeping & mourning: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse will God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glory and brightnesse from the Euermolting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God, for thine enemy hath persecuted thee: but shortly thou shalt see his destruction and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Be of good comfort my children, and erie vnto God: for he that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your mind to goe astray from your God, so endueour your selues ten times more to turne againe, and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euermolting ioy againe with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem, for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, and such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whom thy children serue: miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as shee reioycied at thy decay, and was glad at thy fall, so shall shee be fery for her owne desolation.

34 For I will take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her ioy shall bee turned into mourning.

35 For a fire shal come vpon her from the Euermolting, long to endure, and she shalbe inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem, look toward the East, & behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from thy God.

37 Lo, thy sonnes (whom thou hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioycing in the word of the Holy one, vnto the honour of God.

C H A P. V.

1 Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Church.

Put off thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, and thine affliction, and decke thee with the worship & honour that commeth vnto thee from God for euermore.

2 Put on the garment of righteousness, that commeth from God, and set a crowne vpon thine head, of the glory of the Euermolting.

3 For God will declare thy brightnesse to euery countrey vnder the heauen.

4 And God will name thee by this name for ever, The peace of righteousness, and the glory of the worship of God.

5 Arise, O Ierusalem and stand vp on high, and looke about thee toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the holy One, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdom.

7 For God hath determined to bring down euery high mountaine, & the long enduring rocks, and to fill the valleys, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods and all sweet smelling trees shall ouershadow Israel at the commandment of God.

9 For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the sight of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousness that cometh of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPY OF THE EPISTLE THAT Jeremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babylon by the King of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

Because of the finnes that yee haue committed against God, ye shall be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

1 So when yee be come into Babylon, yee shall remaine there many yeeres, and a long season, euen seven generations, and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

2 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

3 Beware therefore that yee in no wise be like the strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when yee see the multitude before them, and behinde them, worshipping them.

4 But say yee in your hearts, O Lord, wee must worship thee.

5 For mine Angel shall be with you, and shall care for your soules.

6 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselves are gilted, & laid ouer with siluer, yet they but lyes & cannot speake.

7 And as they take golde for a mayd that loueth robe deckt,

8 So make they crownes for the heads of their gods: sometimes also the Priests themselves conuey away the gold and siluer from their gods, and bestow it vpon themselves.

9 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of gold, and of wood with garments like men.

10 Yet cannot they be preserued from rust and wormes.

11 Though they haue couered them with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

12 One holdeth a scepter, as though hee were a certaine Iudge of the country: yet can he not stay such as offend him.

13 Another hath a dagger, or an axe in his right hand: yet is hee not able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from theenes: so then it is euident that they be no gods.

14 Therefore feare them not: for as a vassal that a man vict is nothing worth when it is broken,

15 Such are their gods: when they be set vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feete of those that come in:

16 And as the gates are shut in round about, vpon him that hath offended the King: or as our courts, that should be led to be put to death in the Priests keep their temples with doores and with lockes, and with barres, lest their gods should be spoyled by robbers.

17 They light vp candles before them: yea, more then for themselves, wherof they cannot see ones for they are but as one of the posts of the Temple.

18 They confesse that euen their hearts are gnawen vpon: but when the things that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feelee it not.

19 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the Temple.

20 The owles, swallows, & birds sit vpon their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, and the cats also,

21 By this ye may be sure that they are no gods: therefore feare them not.

22 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe off the rust, they cannot shine: neither when they were molten, did they feelee it.

23 The things wherin is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

24 * They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feet, whereby they declare vnto men that they be nothing worth: yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

25 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselves, neither if one set them vpright, can they moue of themselves, neither if they be bowed downe, can they make themselves straight, but they set gifts before them as vnto dead men.

26 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their priests sell them & abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

27 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: feare them not.

28 From whence cometh it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of siluer, and gold, and wood.

29 And the priests fit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heads and beards are shauen, and being bareheaded, 30 They roare and cry before their gods, as men doe at the fealt of one that is dead.

31 The priests also take away their garments, and clothe their wiues and children.

32 Whether it be euill that one doth vnto them or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

33 In like maner they can neither giue riches nor money: though a man make a vow vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

34 They can lue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

35 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

36 They can shew no mercie to the widow, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

37 Their gods of wood, gold, and siluer, are as stones that be hewen out of the mountaine, & they that worship them shall be confounded.

32 How should a man then thinke or say that they are gods?

33 Moreover, the Caldeans themselves dishonor them: for when they see a dumbe man that cannot speake, they present him to Bel.

34 And desire that he would make him to speake, as though he had any feeling: yet they that vnderstand these things, cannot leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

35 Furthermore, the women girded with cords, for ierem. 36 in the streetes, and burne straw.

37 And if one of them be drawn away, and lie with any such as come by, the casteth her neighbor in the teeth, because she was not so worthily reputed, nor her cord broken.

38 Whatseuer is done among them is lies: how may it then be thought or said, that they are gods?

39 Carpenters and goldsmithes make them, neither bee they any other thing, but euen what the workeman will make them.

40 Yea, they that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

41 Therefore they leaue lies and shame for their posterity.

42 For when there cometh any war, or plague vpon them, the priests imagine with themselves, where they may hide themselves with them.

43 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselves Psalm 125. from warre, nor from plagues?

44 For seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of gold, men shall knowe hereafter, that they are but lies, and it shall be manifest to all nations & kings, that they be no gods, but the workes of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them.

45 Whereby it may be knowne that they are no gods.

46 They can set vpon no king in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

47 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preleue from iniury: they haue no power, but are as crookes betwene the heauen and the earth.

48 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood and of siluer, and of gold, the priests will escape and saue themselves, but they burne as the barks therein.

49 They cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said, that they bee gods?

50 Moreover, these gods of wood, of gold and of siluer, can neither defend themselves fro theues nor robbers.

51 For they that are strongest, take away their gold and siluer, and apperill, wherewith they bee clothed, and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not helpe themselves.

52 Therefore it is better to be a king, and in to shew his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, whereby he that oweth it, might haue profit, then such false gods, or to be a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as bee therein: then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

53 For the sunne, and the moone, and the starres that shine when they are sent downe for necessary uses, obey.

54 Likewise also the lightning when it shineth, it is euident: and the wind bloweth in euery country.

55 And when God com mandeth the cloudes to goe about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

56 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hilles and woodes, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme nor power.

57 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say, that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor doe men good.

58 For so much now as ye are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

59 For they can neither curse nor blesse kings:

60 Neither can they shew signes in the heauen among the heathen, neither shine as the moone.

61 The beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, and do themselves good.

62 So yee may be certified that by no manner of meanes they are gods: therefore feare them not.

63 For as a scar-crow in a garden of cucumers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of gold:

64 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde, and siluer, are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euery bird sitteth vpon, and as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

65 By the purple also and brightnesse, which fa-
66 deth vpon them, ye may vnderstand that they be no gods: yea, they themselves shal be consumed at the last, and they shall be a shame to the countrie.

67 Better therefore is the iust man that hath none idoles: for he shal be farre from reproofe.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN, which followeth in the third Chapter of Daniel after this place.

They fell downe bound into the mids of the hote fiery furnace.

CHAP. I.

33 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The cruelty of the King. 48 The flame deuoreth the Caldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the furnace. 51 The three children praise the Lord, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

And they walked in the middes of the flame, praying God, and magnified the Lord.

52 Then Azarias stood vp, and prayed on this manner, and opening his mouth in the mids of the fire, sayd, 36 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fath: 37 thy Name is worthy to be praised and honored for evermore.

38 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy works are true: and thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgments certaine.

39 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, & vpon Ierusalem the holy city of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements: for by right and equity hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes.

chap. 10

39 For wee haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue wee trespassed.

40 And not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded vs, that we might prosper.

41 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and in euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgment:

42 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our wicked enemies, and most hazzell traitours, and to a righteous king, and the most wicked in all the world.

43 And now we may not open our mouthes: we are become a shame, & reprooke vnto thy seruants, and vnto all that worship thee.

44 For thy seruants in this we beseech thee, gine vs out of our sinnes, and be mercie to thy couenant, 45 Neither take away thy mercie from vs, for thy beloved Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaac sake, and for thy holy Israels sake.

46 To who thou hast spoken, and promised that thou wouldest multiply their seede as the starrs of heauen, and as the sand that is vpon the sea shore.

47 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:

48 So that now we haue neither Prince nor Prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, that we might find mercy.

49 Neuertheles in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit let vs be receiued.

50 As in the burnt offering of rams and bullocks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

51 And now wee follow thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.

52 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnes, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

53 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and gine thy Name the glory, O Lord, 54 That all they that doe thy seruants euill, may bee confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken.

55 That they may knowe that thou onely art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole world.

56 ¶ Now the kings seruants that had cast them in, ceased not to make the owen hore with [Naphtha] and with pitch, and with tow, and with fagots, 57 So that the flame went out of the furnace forty and nine cubits.

58 And it brake forth, and burnt those Caldeans that it found by the furnace.

59 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the furnace with them that were with Azarias, and smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace, 60 And made in the mids of the furnace like a moist hissing wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither grieved nor troubled them.

61 Then these three (as out of one mouth) prayed, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,

62 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praised, and exalted about all things for euer, and blessed bee thy glorious and holy Name, and praised about all things, and magnified for euer.

63 Blessed bee thou in the Temple of thine holy glory, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

64 Blessed bee thou that beholdest all the depths, and sittest vpon the Cherubims, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

65 Blessed be thou in the glorious throne of thy kingdom, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

66 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, and praised about all things, and glorified for euer.

THE HISTORY OF SVSANNA, WHICH COME IOYNE to the end of Daniel, and make it the xiiij. Chapter.

8 The two gouernours are taken with the love of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They ſolicite her to wickednesse. 23 Shee cunneth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 Shee is accused. 43 Daniel doeth iudice her. 63 The gouernours are put to death.

Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Ioachim.

1 And hee tooke a wife whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very faire woman, and one that feared God.

2 Her father and her mother also were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moyses.

3 Now Ioachim was a great rich man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Iewes, because hee was more honourable then all others.

4 The same yere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to bee iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, that the iniquity came from Babylon, and from the ancient iudges, which seemed to rule the people.

5 These haunnted Ioachims house, and all such as had anything to doe in the Law, came thither vnto them.

6 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.

7 And the two Elders saw her that she went in daily and walked, so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

8 Therefore they turned away their minde, and cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heaven, nor remember iust iudgements.

9 And albeit they were both wounded with her Ioue, yet durst not one shew another his griefe.

10 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, what they desired to haue to doe with her.

11 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

12 And the one said to the other, Let vs goe now home, for it is dinner time.

13 So they went their way, and departed one from another, yet they returned againe and came into the same place. After that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time to meet together when they might find her alone.

14 Now when they had spent a convenient time that shee went in as her manner was, with two maydes onely, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden (for it was an hore season)

15 And there was no body there save the two elders that had hid themselves in the backe doore: 17 Shee hid herselfe in the backe doore, and shut the garden doores, and lay with me.

18 And they durst as shee bad them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselves as a backe doore, to set the thing that shee had commanded them: but they sawe not the Elders, because they were hid.

19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two Elders rose vp, and ran vnto her, saying,

20 Beholde, the garden doores are shut, that no man can see vs, and wee burae in Ioue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witness against thee, that a young man was with thee, and therefore thou didst send away thy mayds from thee.

22 Then Susanna sighed, and saide, I am in trouble on euerie side: for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto mee: and if I doe it not, I cannot escape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not doe it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voyce, and the two Elders cried out against her.

25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

26 So when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morow after came the people to Ioachim her husband, and the two Elders came also full of malicious imagination against Susanna, to put her to death.

29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Helcias Ioachims wife. And immediately they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was very tender & faire of face.

32 And these wicked men commanded to vncover her face, (for shee was couered) that they might so be satisfied with her beauty.

33 Therefore they that were about her, and all they that knew her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders stood vp in the mids of the people, and laid their hands vpon her head, 35 Which wept and looked v toward heauen for her heart trailed in the Lord.

36 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom shee sent away from her, and shut the garden doores.

37 Then a young man, which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 Then wee which stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, raine vnto them, and we saw them as they were together.

39 But we could not hold him: for he was stronger then we, and opened the doore, and leaped out.

40 Now when we had taken this woman, wee asked her what young man this was, but shee would not tell vs: of these things are we witneses.

41 Then the assembly beleued cloth, as those that were the Elders and Iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cryed out with a loud voyce, and said, O euerglasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they come to passe.

Then knowest that they haue borne false witness against me and behold, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously innented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 ¶ Therefore when shee was led to be put to death, the Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a young child, whose name was Daniel,

46 Who cried with a loud voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and sayd, What meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stood in the mids of them, and said, Are ye such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, ye haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste and the elders said vnto him, come, sit downe among vs, and shewe it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then said Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside, one farre from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, & said vnto him, O thou that art old in a wicked life, now thy finnes which thou hast committed alosome time are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty goe free albeit the Lord said, * The innocent Ex. 23 and righteous shalt thou not day.

54 Now then, if thou hast sene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them comming together? Who answered, Vnder a lemnus tree.

55 Then said Daniel, Verely thou hast lied against thine owne head: for loe, the Angel of God hath for. 14 receiued the sentence of God to cut thee in two.

56 So put her him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou sceler of Canaan, and not of Iuda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath subverted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for leare companied with you, but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell me, Vnder what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a prime tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Verely thou hast also lied against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assembly cryed with a loud voyce, and praised God, which sancteth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had coueit them of false witness by their owne mouth)

62 * And according to the Law of Moses, they deale with them; as they dealt wickedly against their neighbor, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was fained the same day. Deut. 19. 19-21

63 Therefore Helcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with loacim her husband, and all the kinges, that there was no dishonestie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And king Artaxerxes was layd with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his stead.

¶ THE HISTORY OF BEL AND OF THE DRAGON, which is the 14. chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

Now when king Artaxerxes was layd with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian receiued his kingdom.

1 And Daniel did eate at the kings table, and was honoured above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idole called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day, twelue great measures of fine flour, and fourtie sheepe, and sixe great pots of wine.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went dayly to honour it, but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the king said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idoles made with hands, but the living God which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath power vpon all Beasts.

6 Then said the king vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living God? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, bee not deceived: for this is but clay within, and a raffe without, and did neuer eate any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his Priests, and sayd vnto them, If yee tell me not who this is that eateth vp these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 (Now the Priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wiues and children) and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bel's priests said, Behold, wee will goe out, and set thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine be filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet.

12 And to morrow when thou comest in: if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, wee will suffer death, or else Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

13 Now they thought themselues safe enough:

for vnder the table they had made a priuy entrance, and there went they in euer, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring ashes, and these they throwed thoroughout all the Temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the kings signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the priests with their wiues and children (as they were wont to doe) and did eate and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betimes the King arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the King said, Daniel, are the scales whole? Who answered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And as soon as he had opened the doore, the King looked vpon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not goe in, & sayd, Behold now the paucement, and marke well whose footstaps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footstaps of men, women, and children, therefore the king was angry.

21 And tooke the priests with their wiues and children, and they shewed him the priuy doores where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 Moreover, in that same place there was a great dragon which the Babylonians worshipped.

24 And the king said vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is of brasse also? loe, hee lieth, and eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say that hee is no liuing god: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel vnto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leave, O king, and I will slay this dragon without sword or staffe. And the king sayd, I giue thee leave.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitch and fat, and haire, and did see the them together, and made lumps thereof: this hee put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel said, Behold whom ye worship.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, for he hath destroyed Bel, and hath slaine the dragon, and hath put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliuer vs Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Now when the king sawe that they pressed fore vpon him, and that necessity constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them.

31 Who cast him into the lions den, where hee was fixe dayes.

32 In the denne there were seauen lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies; and two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

33 ¶ Now there was in lewrya a Prophet called Abacuc, which had made pottage, & broken bread into a boll, and was going into the field for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord said vnto Abacuc, Go cary the meate that thou hast into Babylon, vnto Daniel which is in the lions denne.

35 And Abacuc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, neither doe I know where the den is.

36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, and bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mighty winde set him in Babylon vpon the den.

37 And Abacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

38 Then said Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon mee, and thou neuer failest them that seeke thee, and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose and did eate, and the Angel of the Lord set Abacuc in his owne place againe immediately.

40 Vpon the seuenth day, the king went to bewaile Daniel, and when he came to the denne, hee looked in, and behold, Daniel sate in the midst of the lions.

41 Then cryed the king with a loud voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, & there is none other besides thee.

42 And hee drew him out of the denne, and cast them that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

¶ THE FIRST BOOKE OF THE MACCABEES.

CHAP. I.

8 The death of Alexander the king of Macedonia.
11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12 Many of the children of Israel make covenants with the Gentiles.
21 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his domination. 40 Antiochus seeth vp idoles.

After that Alexander the Macedonian, the sonne of Philip, went forth of the land of Chettim, and slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him, as hee had before in Grecia.

2 Hee tooke great warres in hand, and wanne strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth.

3 So went hee thorow to the ends of the world, and tooke spoiles of many nations, in so much that the world stood in awe of him, therefore his heart was puffed vp, and was haughty.

4 Now when he had gathered a mighty strong hoste,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations and kingdomes, that became tributaries vnto him.

6 After these things hee fell sicke, and knewe that he should die.

7 Then hee called for the chiefe of his seruants which had been brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them while hee was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeres when he died.

9 And his seruants reigned euery one in his roume.

10 And they all caused themselves to bee crowned after his death, and so did their children after them many yeres, and much wickedness increased in the world.

10. For out of these came the wicked root, Joseph.
Ant. 12. cap. 6. Antiochus Epiphanes, the sonne of King Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and hee reigned in the hundredth and seven and thirtieth yeere of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11. In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which incited many, saying, Let vs goe, and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, wee have had much sorow.

12. So thus desir'd pleased them well.

13. And certaine of the people were readie, and went to the King, which gave them license to doe after the ordinances of the heathen.

14. Then set they up a place of exercise at Ierusalem according to the fashions of the heathen,

15. And made themselves vaciemciled, & forsooke the holy covenant, and ioyned themselves to the heathen, and were sold to doe mischief.

16. So when Antiochus kingdome was set in order, he went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that hee might haue the dominion of two realmes.

17. Therefore he entered into Egypt with a mighty company with charres and Elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great Noise,

18. And moued war against Ptolemus king of Egypt, but Ptolemus was afraid of him, and fled, and many were wounded to death.

19. Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the spoyles of the land of Egypt.

20. And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, hee turned againe in the hundred sortie and three yeere,

21. And went up toward Israel and Ierusalem with a mighty people,

22. And entered proudly into the Sanctuary, and tooke away the golden Altar, and the candlesticke for the light, & all the instruments thereof, and the Table of the Shew bread, and the pouring vessels, and the holles & the golden basins, and the vaille and the crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

23. He tooke also the silver and golde, and the precious iewels, and he tooke the secret treasures that he found, and when he had taken away all, hee departed into his owne land,

24. After he had murdered many men, and spoken very proudly.

25. Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

26. For the princes and the elders mourned: the young women and the young men were made feeble, and the beautie of the women was changed.

27. Euery bridegrome tooke him to mourning, and shee that fate in the marriage chamber, was in heavinesse.

28. The Land also was moored for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Iacob was covered with confusion.

29. After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe taxe master into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude.

30. Who spake peaceable words vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

31. Then hee tell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, and destroyed much people of Israel.

32. And when he had spoiled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

33. The women and their children tooke the captiue, and led away the cattell.

34. Then fortified they the citie of David with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towers, and made a strong hold for them.

35. Moreover, they set wicked people there, and vagodly persons, and fortified themselves therein.

36. And they stored it with weapons & vittails, and gathered the spoile of Ierusalem, and laid it up there.

37. Thus became they a fore snare, and were in ambushment for the Sanctuary, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

38. For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuary, and defiled the Sanctuary.

39. In so much that the citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, & it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whose shee had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

40. Her Sanctuary was left waste as a wilderness: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, and her honour brought to nought.

41. As her glory had bin great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorow.

42. Also the king wrote vnto all his kingdomes, That all the people should be as one, and that euery man should leaue his lawes: Joseph.
Ant. 12.
cap. 6.
and 7.

43. And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.

44. Yet many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idols, & defiling the Sabbath.

45. So the King sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem and to the cities of Iuda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey.

46. And that they should forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the offerings in the Sanctuary.

47. And that they should defile the Sabbath, and the feasts.

48. And pollute the Sanctuary and the holy men, and to set up altars, and groves, and chapells of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beasts,

49. And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their foules with vncleannesse, and pollute themselves, that they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances,

50. And that whosoever would not doe according to the commandement of the King, should suffer death.

51. In like manner wrote hee thorowout all his kingdomes, and set our officers ouer all the people, for to compell them to doe these things.

52. And he commanded the cities of Iuda to doe sacrifice citie by citie.

53. Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

54. And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euery where, that they could see for succour.

55. The fifteenth day of Caslee in the hundred and fiftie and fortieth yeere, they set up the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars thorowout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

56. And before the doores of the houses, and in the streets they burnt incense.

57. And the bookes of the Law which they found, they burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

58. Whosoever had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Law, the Kings commandement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

59. And they executed these things euery mo-neth vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.

63 And in the nine and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the street of the altar of the sacrifices.

64 And according to the commandement they put certain women to death which had caused their children to be circumcised, 65 And they hanged vpon the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slew the circumcisers of them.

66 Yet were there many in Israel which were of courage, and determined in themselves that they would not eat vnto such things, 67 But chose rather to suffer death than to be defiled with those meats: so because they would not breake the holy covenant, they were put to death.

68 And this tyranny was very loue vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy cite. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles. 34 The zeale of Mattathias for the law of God. 37 They are slaine and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying, commaundeth his sonnes to stick to the word of God after the example of the fathers.

IN those dayes flood vp Mattathias the Priest, the sonne of Ioannes the son of Simeon, of the sonnes of Iosab of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sonnes, Ioanna called Gaddis, Simon called Thafai,

3 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,

4 Eleazar called Abegron, and Ionathan whose name was Apphus.

5 Now he saw the blasphemies which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem:

6 And hee said, Woe is me: wherefore was I borne to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy cite, and thus to sit still: it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies:

7 And the Sanctuary is in the hands of strangers; her temple is as a man that hath no renoume.

8 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity: her infants are slaine in the streets, and her young men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.

9 What people is it which hath not some possession in her kingdom, or hath not gotten of her spoiles?

10 All her glory is taken away: of a free woman she is become an handmaid.

11 Behold, our Sanctuary and our beauty & honour is desolate, and the Gentiles haue defiled it.

12 What helpeth it vs then to line any longer?

13 And Mattathias rent his clothes, hee and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon their, and mourned very sore.

14 Then came men from the king to the cite of Modin, to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.

15 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.

16 Then spake the commissioners of the king, and said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chief and an honourable man, and great in this cite, and hast many children and brethren:

17 Come thou therefore first & fulfill the kings commandement: as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Ierusalem, so shal thou and thy family be in the kings favour, and thou and thy children shall bee enriched with silver and gold, and with many rewards.

18 Then Mattathias answered and said with a loud voyce, Though all nations that are vnder the kings dominion obey him, and fall away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements:

19 Yet will I and my sonnes and my brethren walke in the covenant of our fathers.

20 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forsake not the Law, and the ordinances.

21 We will not hearken vnto the kings words to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

22 And when hee had left off speaking these words, there came one of the Iewes in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandement.

23 Now when Mattathias saw it, hee was so inflamed with zeale, that his reins shooke, and his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance of the Law: therefore he ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar.

24 And at the same time he slew the kings commissioner that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.

25 Thus bare he a zeale to the law of God, as do Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.

26 Then cried Mattathias with a loud voice in the cite, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the Law, and will stand by the covenant, let him come forth after me.

27 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the cite.

28 Then many that sought after iustice and judgement,

29 Went downe into the wilderness to dwell there, both they & their children and their wives, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.

30 Now when it was told vnto the kings servants, & to the garrison which were in Ierusalem in the city of Dauid, that men had broken the kings commandement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wilderness, 31 Then many pursued after them: and hauing overtaken them, they camped against them, and set the battell in aray against them on the Sabbath day.

32 And said vnto them, Let this now bee sufficient: come forth and doe according to the commandement of the king, and ye shall liue.

33 But they answered, We will not goe forth, neither will we doe the kings commandement, to defile the Sabbath day.

34 Then they gaue them the battell.

35 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, or stopped the priue places.

36 But said, We will die all in our innocencie, the heauen and the earth shall testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs wrongfully.

37 Thus they gaue them the battell vpon the Sabbath, & slew both men and cattell, their wives and their children, to the number of a thousand people.

38 When Mattathias and his friends vnderstood this, they mourned for them greatly.

39 And said one to another. If we all doe as our brethren haue done, & fight not against the heathen for our liues & for our lawes, then shall they incessantly destroy vs out of the earth.

40 Therefore they concluded at the same time saying, Whosoever shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, that we did not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

41 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Ascendans which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Law.

42 And all they that were fied for persecution ioyned themselves vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

43 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

44 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars, 45 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel.

46 And they pursued after the proude men: and this acte prospered in their hands.

47 So they recovered the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

48 Now when the time drew neere that Mattathias should die, hee said vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.

49 Now therefore, my sonnes, be yee zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the Couenant of our fathers.

50 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall yee receiue great honour and an euerslasting name.

51 * Was not Abraham fide and faithfull in temptation, & it was imputed vnto him for righteousness?

52 * Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the Commandement, & was made the Lord of Egypt.

53 * Phinees our father because he was zealous, and feruent, obtained the Couenant of the euerslasting Ring Priesthood.

54 * Iesus for fulfilling the word, was made the gouernour of Israel.

55 * Caleb, because hee bare witness before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.

56 * Daniel because of his mercie, obtained the throne of the kingdom for euermore.

57 * Elias, because hee was zealous and feruent in the Law, was taken vp enen vnto heauen.

58 * Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.

59 * Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lions.

60 And thus yee may consider throughout all ages, that whosoever put their trust in him shall not want strength.

61 * Feare not ye then the words of a sinful man: for his glory is but dung and wormes.

62 * Today is he set vp, and to morrow he shall * not bee found: for hee is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth.

63 Wherefore my sonnes, take good hearts, and shew your selues men for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glory.

64 And behold, I know that your brother Simoa is a man of counsell: giue care vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

65 And Iudas Maccabeus hath been mighty and strong euen from his youth vp: let him bee your captaine, and fight vnto the battell for the people.

66 Thus shall yee bring vnto you all those that obtrude the Law, and shall auenge the injuries of your people.

67 Accompenise fully the heathen, and giue your selues to the commandement of the Law.

68 So he blessed them, and was laid with his fathers.

69 And died in the hundred fortie and sixe yere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin: and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

v Iudas was made ruler over the Iewes. 11 He killed Apollonius and Seron the Trincers of Syria. 22 The confidence of Iudas toward God, vs Iudas determined to fight against Lyfias, whom Antiochus had made captaine over his hoste.

Then Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose up in his place.

1 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that beld with his father, and fought with courage the battell of Israel.

2 So he gate his people great honour: hee put on a breitt plate as a giant, and armed himselfe, and set the battell in aray, and defended the campe with the sword.

3 In his acts he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelp roaring after the pray.

4 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people.

5 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

6 And he grieved diuers kings, but Iacob reioiced by his acts, & his memoriall is blessed for euery.

7 Hee went also thorow the cities of Iuda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, & turned away the wrath from Israel.

8 So was hee renowned vnto the ends of the earth, and hee assembled together those that were ready to perih.

9 And Appollonius gathered the Gentiles, & a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

10 Which when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

11 So Iudas tooke their spoiles, and tooke also Appollonius sword, and fought with it all his life long.

12 Now when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria heard that Iudas had gathered vnto him the Congregation & Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the warre, 13 He said, I will get me a name, and will be glorious in the realme: for I will goe fight with Iudas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the Kings commandement.

14 So he made him ready to goe vp: & there went with him a mighty hoste of the vagodly to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

15 And when he came neere to the going vp of Beth-horon, Iudas went forth to meet him with a small company.

16 But when they sawe the armie coming against them, they sayd to Iudas, How are we able being so few to fight against so great a multitude, & so strong, seeing we be so weary, and haue fasted all this day?

17 Then said Iudas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut vp in the hands of few, and there is no difference before the God of heauen to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company.

18 For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength cometh from heauen.

19 They come against vs with a cruell & proude multitude.

multitude to destroy vs, and our wives, and our children, and to rob vs.

31 But we do fight for our liues, & for our lawes. 32 And God himselfe will destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.

33 And when hee had left off speaking, hee leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his holle destroyed before him.

34 And they pursued them from the going downe of Beth-horon vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the rest fled into the land of the Philistines.

35 Then the feare and terrour of Iudas and his brethren fell vpon the nations round about.

36 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Iudas.

37 ¶ But when king Antiochus heard these tidings, he was angry in his minde, wherefore he sent forth, and gathered all the power of his realme, a very strong armie.

38 And opened his treasure, and gaue his holle a yeeeres wages in hand, commanding them to bee ready for a yeeer for all occasions.

39 Neuerthelesse, when he saw that the monney of his treasures failed, and that y tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissention & plagues that he had brought vpon the land, in taking away the lawes which had bene of old time,

40 He feared lest he should not haue now at the second time as at the first, for the charges and gifts that he had giuen with a liberrall hand afore: for in liberalitie hee farre passed the other kings that were before him.

41 Wherefore he was heauy in his minde, and thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreys, and to gather much monney.

42 So hee left Lyfias a noble man and of the kings blood to oversee the kings busines, from the river of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt.

43 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus till hee came againe.

44 Moreover he gaue him halfe of his holle, and elephants, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done.

45 And concerning those which dwelt in Iudea and Ierusalem, that hee should send an armie against them to destroy and root out the power of Israel, and the remnant of Ierusalem, and to put out their memoriall from that place, 46 And to set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and part their land among them.

47 And the king tooke the halfe of the holle that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royall cite in the yeeere an hundredth fortie and seuen, and passed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the high countreys.

48 Then Lyfias chose Ptolemies the sonne of Dotiminius, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men and the kings friends, 49 And sent with them fortie thousand footmen and seuen thousand horsemen, to goe into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it as the king commaunded.

50 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plaine countrey.

51 Now when the Merchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much siluer and golde, and seruants, and came into the campe to buy the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria, and of strange nations ioyned with them.

¶ Now when Iudas and his brethren saw that trouble increased, and that the host drew neere vnto their borders, considering the kings wordes, whereby hee had commaunded to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them, 43 They said one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuary.

44 Then the Congregation were soone ready gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercy and compassion.

45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderness. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuary was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fortreffe, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Iacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselves together, and came to Mafpha before Ierusalem: for in Mafpha was y place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sackcloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes.

48 And opened the book of the Law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenes of their idoles.

49 And brought the Priests garments, and the first fruits, and the tithes, and set there the Nazarenes, which accomplished their dayes.

50 And they cryed with a loud voice toward heauen, saying, What shall we do with these? and whither shall we cary them away?

51 For thy Sanctuary is troden downe & defiled, and thy Priests are in heauines, & brought downe.

52 And behold, the heathen are come against vs to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this Iudas ordained captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten.

56 And they commaunded them that builded houses, and married wiues, and planted vineyards or were fearefull, that they should returne euery one to his owne house, according to the Law.

57 So the holle remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, and be valiant men, & be ready against the morning to fight with these nations which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell then to see y calamities of our people, and of our sanctuary.

60 Neuertheles, as the will of God is in heauen, so be it.

C H A P. IIII.

1 Iudas goeth against Gorgias, which hath in wait.

14 Hee putteth Gorgian and his host to flight. 28 Lyfias innueth Iudea, 39 but Iudas driueth them out.

43 Iudas purifieth the Temple, & dedicateth the altar.

Then tooke Gorgias fiftie thousand foot men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed lib. 12.

out of the campe by night, 2 To invade the campe of the Iewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fortreffe were his guides.

3 Now when Iudas heard it, hee remoued, and they that were valiant men, to smite the Kings armie which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the armie was disperſed from the campe.

5 In the meane ſeaſon came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: and when he found no man there, he ſought them in the mountaines: for ſaid he, they flee from vs.

6 But ſoſoone as it was day, Iudas ſhewed himſelfe in the field with thre thouſand men which had neither harneſſe nor ſwords to their minds.

7 And they ſaw that the armies of the heathen were ſtrong and well armed, and their horſemen about them, and that theſe were expert men of warre.

8 Then ſaid Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare yee not their multitude, neither bee afraid of their aſſault.

9 Remember how our Fathers were deliuered in the red ſea, when Pharaoh purſued them with an armie.

10 Therefore now let vs cry vnto heauen, and the Lord will haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and will deſtroy this hoſte before our face this day.

11 So ſhall all the heathen know that there is one which deliuereth and ſaneth Iſrael.

12 Then the ſtrangers liſt vp their eyes, and ſaw them coming againſt them.

13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, and they that were with Iudas blew the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, & the heathen were diſcomfited, and fled by the plaine.

15 But the himſt of them fell by the ſworde, and they purſued them vnto Gazeron, and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Iamnia, ſo that there were ſlaine of them about three thouſand men.

16 So Iudas turned againe with his hoſte from purſuing them.

17 And ſaid vnto the people, Be not greedie of the ſpoiles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but ſtand yee now faſt againſt your enemies, and ouercome them: then may yee ſafely take the ſpoiles.

19 As Iudas was ſpeaking theſe words, there appeared one part which looked fro the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias ſaw that his were fled, and that Iudas ſouldiers burnt the tents: (for ſmoke that was ſcene declared what was done.)

21 When they ſaw theſe things, they were fore afraid, & when they ſaw alſo that Iudas & his hoſte were in the ſeld ready to ſet themſelues in aray, 22 They fled every one into the land of ſtrangers.

23 So Iudas turned againe to ſpoile the tents, where he gat much golde and ſiluer, and precious ſtones, and purple of the ſea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and ſung Pſalmes, and praized toward the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And Iſrael had a great victory in that day.

26 ¶ Now all the ſtrangers that eſcaped, came and told Lyſias all the things that were done.

27 Who when hee heard theſe things, was fore afraid and diſcouraged becauſe ſuch things came not vpon Iſrael as he would, neither ſuch things as the king had commanded him, came to paſſe.

28 Therefore the next yee following, gathered Lyſias threſcore thouſand choiſen ſoor men and ſue thouſand horſemen to fight againſt Ieſuaſalem.

29 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tents at Deſchura, where Iudas came againſt them with ten thouſand men.

30 And when he ſaw that mightie armie, he peried, and ſaid, Bleſſed Beſethou, O Saviour of Iſrael, which diddeſt deſtroy the aſſault of the mightie man by the hand of thy ſeruant Dauid, and gaueſt the hoſt of the ſtrangers into the hand of Ionathan the ſonne of Saul, and of his armour-bearer:

31 ¶ Shew vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Iſrael, and let them bee comforted with their power and with their hope.

32 Make them aſtraide, and conſume their boldneſſe and ſtrength, that they may bee aſtoniſhed at their deſtruction.

33 Caſt them downe by the ſword of them that loue thee: then ſhall all they that know thy name, praife thee with ſongs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were ſlaine of Lyſias hoſte ſine thouſand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lyſias ſeeing his armie put to flight, and the manineſſe of Iudas ſouldiers, and that they were ready either to lue or die valiantly, hee went into Antiochia, and gathered ſtrangers, and when he had furniſhed his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come againſt Iudea.

36 Then ſaid Iudas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are diſcomfited, let vs now goe vp to cleaſe, and to repaſe the Sanctuary.

37 So all the hoſte gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they ſawe the Sanctuary laide waſte, and the Altar deſiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the ſhrubs growing in the courts, as in a ſorrell, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and caſt aſhes vpon their heads, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Iudas commanded certaine of the men to fight againſt thoſe which were in the caſtle, till he had cleaſed the Sanctuary.

42 So hee choſe Priests that were vndeſiled, ſuch as delighted in the Law.

43 And they cleaſed the Sanctuary, and bare out the deſiled ſtones into an vnclene place.

44 And conſulted what to doe with the Altar of burnt offerings which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was beſt to deſtroy it, leſt it ſhould be a reproch vnto them, becauſe y heathen had deſiled it: therefore they deſtroyed the Altar, 46 And laid vp the ſtones vpon the mountaine of the Temple, in a conuenient place, till theſe ſhould come a Prophet, to ſhew what ſhould bee done with them.

47 So they tooke whole ſtones according to the Law and builded a new Altar, according to the former,

48 And made vp the Sanctuary, and the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made alſo new holy veſſels, & brought into the Temple the candleſtike, and the Altar of the burnt offerings, and of incenſe and the Table,

50 And they burnt incenſe vpon the Altar, and lighted vp the lampes which were vpon the candleſtike, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They ſet alſo the ſhew bread vpon the Table, and hanged vp the vailles, and finiſhed all the works that they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the ſue and twenſith day of the ninth ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Chafleu, in the hundredth and eight and fourtieth yeere, they role vp becom in the morning, 12 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offerings that they had made.

13 According to the time, and according to the day that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day, was it made new with songs, and harpes, and lutes and cymbals.

14 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping, and praizing toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

15 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnesse, and offered sacrifices of dolourance and praise,

16 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crowns of gold, and shields, & dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.

17 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, and the reproch of the heathen was put away.

18 So Iudas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordained that the dayes of dedication of the altar should bee kept in their season from yeere to yeere by the space of eight dayes, from the five and twentie day of the moneth Chafleu, with mirth and gladnesse.

19 And at the same time builded they vp mount Sion with his wals and strong towres round about, lest the Gentiles should come, and tread it downe as they had done afore.

20 Therefore they set a garison thereto keepe it, and fortified Beth-fur to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

1 Iudas vanquished the heathen that were about to destroy Israel, and he helped his brethren Simon and Jonathan. 2 He overthrew the citie of Ephraim, because they denied him passage throu it.

3 Now when the nations round about heard that the altar was builded, and the Sanctuary renewed as afore, they were fore grieved.

4 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

5 Then Iudas sought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and hee smote them with a great plague, and droue them to straites, and tooke their spoiles.

6 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Beniamin, which had bene a snare and an hindrance vnto the people, when they lay in waite for them in the lie way.

7 Wherefore hee shut them vp in towres, and besieged them, and destroyed them verely, and burnt their towres with fire, with all that were with them.

8 Afterward went hee against the children of Ammon, where hee found a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their capitaine.

9 So hee had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so hee discomfited them.

10 And tooke Gazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe to Iudea.

11 Then the heathen that were in Galaad gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the citie of Datheman:

12 And sent letters to Iudas and to his brethren saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs to destroy vs.

13 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the fortreffe wherunto we are fled, and Timotheus is capitaine of their hoste.

14 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine.

15 And all our brethren that were at Tabin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wives, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

16 Whilsethese letters were yet a reading, behold there came other messengers fro Galile with their clothes rent, which told the same tidings.

17 And said that they of Ptolemais and of Tyrus and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them:

18 When Iudas and his people heard these words, a great congregation came together to consult what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and whom they besieged.

19 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and goe and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan will goe into the countrey of Galaad.

20 So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea:

21 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, until we come againe.

22 And vnto Simon were given three thousand men to goe into Galile, and to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

23 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

24 And hee pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais, and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so he tooke their spoile.

25 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile, and in Arbattis, with their wives, and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iudea with great ioy.

26 ¶ Iudas Maccabees also, and his brother Jonathan went ouer Iordan, and trauielled three daies iourney in the wilderness.

27 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, and told them enery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad.

28 And how that many of them were besieged in Bosorra, and Bosor, in Aleimis, Casbon, Maged, 10r, Cha; and Carnaim (all these cities are strong and great.) pbor.

29 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad: and to morrow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

30 So Iudas and his hoste turned in all haste by the way of the wilderness toward Bosorra, and won the citie, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoile, and set fire vpon the citie.

31 And in the night hee remoued from thence, and went toward the fortreffe.

32 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, behold there was an innumerable people beaving ladders and instruments of warre to take the fort and had assaulted them.

33 When Iudas saw that the battell was begun, and that the cry of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great sound,

34 Then

32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So hee went forth behind them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

34 Then the host of Timotheus knew that it was Maccabees, and they fled from him, and he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day almost eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maspha, and laid siege vnto it, and wanne it, and slew all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and let fire vpon it.

36 From thence went hee and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Bosor, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and he camped before Raphon beyond the flood.

38 Now Iudas had sent to espie the hoste, and they brought him word againe, saying, All the heathen that be round about vs are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is very great.

39 And he hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, and are ready to come and fight against thee. So Iudas went to meett them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captains of his hoste, When Iudas and his hoste come nere the flood, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he wil bee too strong for vs.

41 But if he bee afraid, and campe beyond the flood, we will go ouer vnto him, and shall prouaile against him.

42 Now when Iudas came nere to the flood, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, & commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let every man come to the battell.

43 So he went first ouer toward them, and all the people after him, and all the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which cite Iudas wan, & burnt the temple, with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued and might not withstand Iudas.

45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered all the Israelites that were in the country of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, and their baggage, a very great hoste, to come into the land of Iuda.

46 So they came vnto Ephraim, which was a great city by the way, and strongly defended: they could not passe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must goe thorow it.

47 But they that were in the city, shut themselves in, and stopped vp the gates with stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable words, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorow your land that we may go into our owne country, & none shall hurt you: wee will but only goe thorow on foote: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made thorowout the hoste, that every man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the city all that day and all that night, and the city was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and destroyed it, & tooke the spoile thereof, and went thorow the city ouer them: they were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Iordan into the great plaine before Bethsai.

53 And Iudas gathered together those that were behind, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorow, till they were come into the land of Iuda.

54 Thus they went vp with joy and gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safetie.

55 ¶ Now while Iudas and Ionathan were in the Iubid of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee belege Ptolemais, 56 Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captains hearing of the valiant actes and battails which they had achieved, said, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, & goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoste a commandement, and went toward Iamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the city to fight against them.

60 And Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the hill tops of Iudea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great overthrow among the people of Israel.

61 Because they were not obedient vnto Iudas and his brethren, but thought to doe some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.

63 But the man Iudas & his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, & of all the heathen, whereloeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterward went Iudas forth with his brethren, & fought against the children of Egipt in the land toward the South, where he wan Hebron, and therowies thereof, & he destroyed the castle thereof, and burnt the towers thereof round about.

66 Then remoued he to goe into the land of the strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the priests of the cities slaine in the battell, which would haue their valiantnesse, and went forth to battell without costell: and when Iudas came to Azotus in the strangers land, hee brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, and tooke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Iudaia.

1 Antiochus the king to take the cite of Elimaia, is driven away of the citizens. 2 Hee filleth into sickness, and dieth. 3 The sonne of Antiochus is made king. 4 The names to promouee Ephraim to fight. 43 Eleazarus his valiant act. 48 the siege of Siou.

Now when king Antiochus was troubled thorow the high courtreys, he heard that Elimaia in the country of Persia was a cite greatly renowned for riches siuer and gold.

2 And that there was in it a very rich Temple, whereas were coverings of gold, robe armours, and harness, which Alexander king of Macedonia the sonne of Philip (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the cite, and to spoile it, but hee was not able for the citizens were warned of the matter.

4 And rose vp against him in battell, & hee fled and departed thence with great humilitie, & came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in the country of Persia, of the armies that went went against the land of Iuda, were driven away.

6 And that Lyfias which went fourth first with a great power, was driven away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed.

7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination which he had set vp vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and fenced the Sanctuary with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when the king had heard these words, hee was astonished and fore moued: therefore he laide him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorrow, because it was not come to passe as hee had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he saw hee must needs die.

10 Therefore hee sent forth all his friends, and faid vnto them, The sleepes gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thinke with my selfe, into what aduersitie am I come: and into what floods of misery am I fallen now, whereas aforetime I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And now doe I remember the euils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the vessels of golde and silver that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, and his robe, and the ring, that he should instruct his son Antiochus, and bring him vp, till he might reigne himselfe.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundred and fortie and ninth yeere.

17 ¶ When Lyfias knew that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whom hee had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the castle at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuary, and fought alwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Iudas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together and besieged them in the hundred and fiftie yeere, and made instruments to shoot and other engines of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged gate forth (vnto whom some vagodly men of Israel ioyned themselves)

22 And they went vnto the king, saying, Now wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue beene ready to serue thy father, and to goe forward in those things that hee appointed, and to obey his commandements.

24 Therefore they of our nation fell down vs for this cause, and wherefoener they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoiled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not only laid hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuary and Beth-sura.

27 And if thou dost not preuene them quickly, they will doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friends, the capitaines of his armie, and his horsemen.

29 And bands that were hired, came vnto him from the kings that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundred thousand footmen, & twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie elephants exercised in battell.

31 These came thorow Idumea, and drew neere to Beth-sura, & besieged it a long season: and made engines of warre: but they came out and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle, and removed the host toward Beth-zacarias ouer against the kings campe.

33 So the king arose very early, and brought the armie and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set themselves in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the Elephants to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberries, 35 And they set the beasts according to the ranges: so that by eery elephant there stood a thousand men armed with coates of male and helmets of brasse vpon their heads, and to eery beast were ordeined five hundred horsemen of the beast.

36 Which were ready at all times wherefoener the beast was: and whitherfoener the beast went, they went also, and departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were strong towers of wood, that couered eery beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments, and vpon eery one was two and thirtie men that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon both the sides in two wings of the hoste to stir them vp, and to keepe them in the valleys,

39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lampes of fire.

40 Thus part of the kings army was spread vpon the hie mountaines, and part beneath: so they marched stroward warily and in order.

41 And all they that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were astonied: for their armie was great and mighty.

42 Then Iudas and his host entred into the battell, and they slew sixe hundred men of the kings armie.

43 ¶ Now when Eleazar the sonne of Abaron, saw one of the elephants armed with royal harness, and was more excellent then all the other beasts, he thought that the king should be vpon him.

44 Wherefore he leaped himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name.

45 And ran boldly vnto him throw the mids of the hoste, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.

46 So went he to the elephants feete, and gate him vnder him and slew him: then fell the elephant downe vpon him, and there he died.

47 But the other seeing the power of the king, and the fiercens of his armie, departed from them.

48 ¶ And the kings armie went vp to meet them toward Ierusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Iudea toward mount Sion.

49 ¶ Moreouer the king tooke trace with them that were in Beth-sura: But when they came out of the city, because they had no vittails there, & were that thus vp therein, and the land had rested,

50 The king tooke Beth-sura, and set there a garrison to keepe it.

51 And besieged the Sanctuary many dayes, and made instruments to shooe, and other engines of warre, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

For the
leues.

52 ¶ They also made engines against their en-ginis, and fought a long season.

53 But in the garners there were no victuals: for it was the seventh yeere, and then they that were in Iuda, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store.

54 So that in the Sanctuary were few men left: for the famine came so vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Now when Lyfias heard that Philip (whom Antiochus the king whiles he liued, had ordained to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might bee
King)

56 Was come againe out of Persia and Media, and the kings hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of things.

57 He and his hoste, and were stirred forward by them in the castle to goe and tell the king, and the capitaines of the hoste, and to others, saying, We decrease dayly, and our victuals are but small: and the place that we lay siege vnto is strong, and the affaires of the realme depend vpon vs.

For the
leues.

58 Now therefore let vs agree with these men, and take truce with them, & with all their nation,

59 And grant them to liue alter their lawe, as they did afore, for they be grieved, and do all these things, because we haue broken their lawes.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.

61 When the king and the princes had made an oath vnto them, they came vpon this our of the fortresse.

62 And the King went vp to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was well defended, hee brake his oath that hee had made, and commanded to breake downe the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lyfias. 5 He troubleth the children of Israel thow-ing the counsell of certain wicked persons. 37 The prayer of the Priest against Nicanor. 41 Judah-bilit Nicanor after he had made his prayer.

For the
leues.

IN the hundred and one and fiftieth yeere, departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a citie of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus and Lyfias and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he sayd, Shew mee nott their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him all the wicked, and vngodly men of Israel, whose capitaine was Alcimus, that would haue been the hie Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the king, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore send now some man whom thou truett, that he may goe and see all the destructions which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyond the flood, and was faithfull vnto the King, and sent him,

9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom hee wade hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great host into the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas and his brethren deceitfully with peaceable words.

11 But they beleened not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a company of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreat of reasonable points.

13 And the Iudeans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.

For the
leues.

14 For said they, hee that is Priest of the seede of Aarons come with his armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then hee spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, and said, Wee will doe you no harme, neither you friends:

16 And they beleened him: but hee tooke of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words that were written,

17 ¶ They haue cast the bodies of the Saints, and their blood round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would buy them.

For the
leues.

18 So there came a feare & a trembling among all the people: for they said, There is neither truce nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appointment and oath that they made.

19 Then Bacchides remooued from Ierusalem, and pitched his tent at Beth-zecha, where hee sent forth and tooke many of the men that had forsaken him, and certaine of the people, whom hee slew and cast into the great pit.

For the
leues.

20 Then commuted he the country vnto Alci-mus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him:
so Bacchides went vnto the king.

21 Thus Alcimus strove for the Priesthood.

22 And all such as troubled the people resorted vnto him, in so much that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas saw all the mischiefes that Alcimus and his company had done among the Iuraelites more then the heathen.

24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those that were fallen away, so that they came no more abroad in the country.

25 But when Alcimus sawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide them, hee went againe to the king, and accused them of wicked things.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor one of his chiefe princes which hated Israel deadly, and commanded him that he should destroy the people.

For the
leues.

27 So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully, with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betwene me and you:
I will come with fewe men, to see how yee doe friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Nevertheless it was told Iudas, that hee came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore hee feared him,
and

and would see his face no more.

Or. Ca. phar. sa. rana.

31 When Nicanor perceived that his counsell was betrayed, he went out to fight against Iudas, beside J Carphasas.

32 Where there were slaine o' Nicanors hoste about five thousand men: so they fled vnto the cite of David.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priests with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuary to salure him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt offering that was offered for the king.

34 But he laughed at them, and mocked them, and counted them prophane, and spake proudly, 35 And sware in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his host be not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in safety, I will burne vp this house. With that he went on in a great anger.

36 Then the Priest came in, and stood before the Altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

2. 2. 56. 57.

37 Forasmuch as thou, O Lord, hast chose this house, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should bee an house of prayer, and petition for thy people.

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them bee slaine by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

Or. A. dar. sa.

40 And Iudas pitched in J Adasa with three thousand men, where Iudas prayed, saying,

2. Km. 19. 35. 106. 1. 28. Eccles. 48. 12. 1. 37. 38. 2. mat. 8. 59. 1.

41 O Lord, because the messengers of king Senacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forth, and slew an hundredth fourescore and five thousand of them.

42 So destroy thou this host before vs to day, that all ether may know that hee hath spoken wickedly against the Sanctuary, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirteenth day of the month Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and hee himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his armie saw that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes iourney from Adasa vnto Gafara, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the townes of Iudea round about, and rushed vpon them, and threw them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the spoiles, and the pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand which he held vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Ierusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnesse.

49 And they ordained to keepe yeerely that day on the thirteenth day of the month Adar.

50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas considering the power and policie of the Romanes maketh peace with them. 2 The condition of mutual friendship sent to the Iewes.

Joseph. Ant. 13. chap. 18

Iudas also heard the fame of the Romanes, that they were mighty and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them.

¶ And that they were men of great power, and they told him of their battels, and of their worthe aske which they did amonge the J Galatians, whome they had conquered, and made to pay tribute, Or. Franch.

3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had wonne there the mines of silver and gold.

4 And that by their counsell and gentle behaviour they were rulers in every place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited, and giuen great overthrowes to the kings that came against them from the uttermost parts of the earth, and that others gave them tribute every yeere.

5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philip and Peres, Kings of the J Macedonians, and o. Or. Ci. 1. 100. thers that arose against them, and how they once came them.

6 And how great Antiochus King of Asia came against them in battell, hauing an hundred and twenty Elephantes with horsemen and charets, and a very great army was discomfited by them.

7 And how they tooke him aliue, and ordained him with such as should reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, and to giue hostages, and a separate portion.

8 Euen the countrey of India and Media, and Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they tooke of him, and gaue them to king Eumenes.

9 Again, when it was told them that the Grecians were coming to destroy them.

10 They sent against them a captaine which gaue them battell, and slew many of them, & tooke many prisoners with their wiues and children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and destroyed their strong holds, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day.

11 Moreover, how they destroyed and brought into subiection other kingdomes and yles, whoseuer had withstood them:

12 But that they kept amity with their owne friends, and those that stayed vpon them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes both far and neere, inso much that whoseuer heard of their renowne was afraid of them.

13 For whome they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned: and whome they would, they put downe: thus were they in most hie authority.

14 Yet for all this, that none of them ware crowne neither was clothed in purple, to bee magnified thereby.

15 But that they had ordained themselves a Council, wher in three hundred and twenty men consulted dayly, and prouided for the common affaires, to gouerne them well.

16 And that they committed their gouernement to one man every yeere who did rule ouer all their countrey, to whom euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuy among them.

17 ¶ Then Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Accus, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them vnto Rome to make friendship, and mutual fellowship with them, Or. 100. 1. 100. 1. 100. 1.

18 That they might take from them the yoker (for they sawe that the kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the J Senate, where they spake, and sayd, Or. conu. 100. 1. 100. 1.

20 Iudas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and wee register vs as your partakers and friends.

21. And the people pleased them.

22. And this is the copie of the Epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse, and sent to Ierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace and mutual fellowship.

23. Good incessible be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Iewes by sea and by land for euer, and the sword of the enemy be from them.

24. If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friendes thoroughout all their dominion,

25. The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shall be appointed with all their heart.

26. Also if they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor serue them with wheat, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, but if they shall keepe their covenants without taking any thing of them.

27. Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of the Iewes, the Romanes shall helpe them, with good wil according as the time shall be appointed them.

28. Neither shall wheat be giuen vnto them that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, who will keepe their covenants without deceit.

29. Accordig to these articles the Romans made the bond with the people of the Iewes.

30. If after these points the one partie or the other will adde or diminish, they may doe it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shal adde or take away, shal be ratified.

31. And as touching the euill of Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heauy yoke vpon our friends and confederates the Iewes?

32. If therefore they complaine any more against thee, wee will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

1. After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his army against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine. 31 Jonathan is put in the stead of his brother. 47 The battell betwene Jonathan and Bacchides. 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palsey, and dieth. 68 Her commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsel of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome. 70 The trust of Jonathan with Bacchides.

IN the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor and his hoste had giuen the battell, hee sent Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his chief strength with them.

2. So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tent before Mesaloth, which is in Arbela, and wan it, and slew much people.

3. And in the first moneth of the hundred fifty & two yere, they layd their siege against Ierusalem.

4. But they raised their campe and came to Beroza, with twenty thousand foote men, and two thousand horsemen.

5. Nowe Iudas had pitched his tent at Elcasai, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6. And when they saw that the multitude of the army was great, they were sore afraid, & many conuered themselves out of the host, so that there abode no more of them but eight hundred men.

7. When Iudas saw that his host failed him, and that hee must needs fight, he was sore troubled in mind, that he had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8. Nevertheless, he said vnto them that remained, let vs arise, and go vp against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9. But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather save our liues: to re- turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall we fight against them that are so few?

10. Then Iudas sayd, God forbid that we should do this thing, to flee from them: our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not stain our honour.

11. Then the host remeoned out of the tents, and stood against them, who had deuided the horsemen into two troups, and they that threw with slings, and the archers marched in the forward, and they that fought in the forward were all valiant men.

12. And Bacchides was in the right wing. Sothe army drew neere on both sides, and blew the trumpets.

13. They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noise of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14. And when Iudas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army was on the right side, hee tooke with him all the hardy men,

15. And brake the right wing, and folowed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16. Now when they which were of the lef wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they folowed Iudas behind, and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17. Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18. Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remanant fled.

19. So Jonathan and Simon took Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the city of Modin.

20. And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamented many dayes, joyning.

21. How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22. Concerning the other things of Iudas, both the battells, and the valiant acts that hee did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written: for they were very many.

23. ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men Joseph came vp in all the crafts of Israel, and there arose all such as gaue them selfe liues to iniquity.

24. In those dayes was there a very great famine in the lande, and all the country gaue ouer them- selfe liues with them.

25. And Bacchides did cleanse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26. These sought out, and made search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which at- tugged himselfe vpon them, and mocked them.

27. And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene among them.

28. Then came all Iudas friendes together, and said vnto Jonathan,

29. Seeing thy brother Iudas is dead, and there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, giuen against Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs,

30. Therefore this day we chuse thee, that thou mayest bee our prince and captain in his place, to order our battell.

31. So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 But when Bacchides knew it, he fought for to slay him.

33 Then Ionathau and Simon his brother perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecoa with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Alphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstood, he came over Iorden with all his hoste vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Now had Ionathau sent his brother John, a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage, which was much.

10r, Iam-
bri.

36 But the children of Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke Iohn, and all that he had, and when he had taken it, he went his way.

10r, Na-
dabab.

37 After this came word vnto Ionathau, & to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, and brought the bride from Medaba with great pomp: for he was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembered Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid themselves vnder the covert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes and looked, and behold, there was a great noyse, & much preparation: then the bridegrome came forth, & his friends, and his brethren met them with timbrels, and instruments of musike and many weapons.

40 Then Ionathaus men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, & slew many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaines, so that they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melody into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Ionathau said vnto his company, Let vs arise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battell is before vs and behind vs, and the water of Iorden on this side and that side, and the marish, and forest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may bee deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Then Ionathau stretched out his hande to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and recoled.

48 Then Ionathau and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmied ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe thorow Iorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, & built vp the strong cities in Iuda, as the castle of Iericho, and Emmaus, and Bethorom, and Bethel, and Thammatha, Pharathon, and Tephro, with high walles, with gates, and with barres, 51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He fortified also the city Bethsara and Gazara, and the castle, and set a garison in them with provision of victuals.

53 He tooke also the chiefeest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put them in the castle at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterward in the hundred fiftie and three yere, in the second month, Alcimus commanded that the walls of the inner court of the Sanctuary should be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palfie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus died Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides sawe that Alcimus was dead, hee turned againe to the king, and so the land of Iuda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vagodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Ionathau and his company dwell at ease and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose, and came with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Iudea, to take Ionathau, and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

maibau.

61 And they tooke fifty men of the countrey, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednesse, and slew them.

62 Then Ionathau and Simon with their company departed vnto Beth-basin, which is in the wilderness, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

10r, Beth basseu.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his host, and sent word to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came hee and laid siege to Beth-basin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Ionathau had left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the countrey, and came with a certaine number,

66 And slew Odomerus and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tents: so he began to slay, and increased in power.

10r, Ode-res.

67 Simon also and his company went out of the city, and burnt vp the instruments of warre,

68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him, and vexed him sore, so that his counsell and journey was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, & slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Ionathau had knowledge, he sent ambassadors vnto him to intreat of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an oath that he would neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne land, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel, and Ionathau dwelt at Machmas, & began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vagodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathau. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemus and Alexander.

Jo. 13.
Act. 13.
cap. 13.

IN the hundredth and threescore yeere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolemais, and they received him, and there he reigned.

1 Now when Demetrius the King heard it, hee gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

2 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Ionathan, with louing words, as though hee would proferre him.

3 For he said, We will first make peace with him before he ioyne with Alexander against vs.

4 Else hee will remember all the euill that wee haue done against him, and against his brethren, and his nation.

5 And so hee gaue Ionathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, & to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

6 Then came Ionathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

7 Therefore they were fore afraid, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an army.

8 So they that were of the castle, deliuered the hostages vnto Ionathan, who restored them to their parents.

9 Ionathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to build and repaire the city.

10 And hee commanded the workmen to build the walles, and the mount Zion round about with hewen stone to fortifie it, and so they did.

11 Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled.

12 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne country.

13 Only at Bethsura remained certain which had forsaken the law and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

14 Now when king Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathan, and when it was told him of the battels and noble doos which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured, 15 He said, Might we find such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

16 Vpon this hee wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him with these words, saying

17 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Ionathan sendeth salutation.

18 Wee haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

19 Wherefore this day we ordaine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to bee called the kings friend: (and hee sent him a purple robe, & a crowne of gold) that thou mayest consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

20 So in the seventh moeth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

21 Which when Demetrius heard, he was marvellously forieid.

22 What haue wee done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

23 Yet will I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewards, that they may helpe me.

24 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIVS vnto the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

25 Wee haue heard that yee haue kept your commandment toward vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioyned with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

26 Now therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelity toward vs, and we will recompense you for the good things that yee haue done for vs.

27 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

28 And nowel discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, & free you from the customes of salt, and the crown taxes, and from the third part of the feed.

29 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees which is mine owne due, I will release them from this day forth, none shall take any thing of the land of Iuda, or of the three gouernments which are added therunto, as of Samaria and of Galilee, from this day forth for euermore.

30 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall bee holy and free from the tenths and tributes.

31 And I release the power of the castle which is at Ierusalem, and giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may see in it such men as he shall chuse to keepe it.

32 Moreover, I freely deliuer euery one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and euery one of them shall bee free from tributes, yea, euery their cattell.

33 And all the Feastes, and Sabbathes, and new Moones, and the dayes appoynted, and the three dayes before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be dayes of freedome and liberty for all the Iewes in my realme.

34 So that in these no man shall haue power to doe any thing, or to vex any of them in any manner of cause.

35 Also thirtie thousand of the Iewes shall bee written vp in the kings hoste, and haue their wages payed them, as appertaineth to all them that are of the Kings army: and of them shalbe ordained certaine to keepe the kings strong holds.

36 And some of them shalbe set ouer the Kings most secret affaires, and their gouernours and their princes shalbe of themselves, and they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the King hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

37 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Iuda, from the country of Samaria, shalbe ioyned vnto Iuda, and they shall be as vnder one, and obey none other power but the hie Priest.

38 And I giue Ptolemais, & the borders thereof vnto the Sanctuary at Ierusalem, for the necessary expenses of the holy things.

39 Moreover, I will giue euery yere fiftene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues out of the places appertaining vnto me.

40 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for the things due, as they did in the former yeres, from henceforth they shall giue it toward the works of the Temple.

41 And best testis this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yere of the account appoynted for the enterainment of the Sanctuary theie yeres passed, euen these things shalbe released, because they appertaine to the Priestes that minister.

42 Item, whosoever they bee that bee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, and are indebted vnto the king for any manner of thing, thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the building also & repairing of the works of the Sanctuary, expenses shalbe giuen of the kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the wals of Ierusalem, and fortifying it round about, that the holdes in Iudea may be built vp, shall also the costes bee giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Ionathan and the people heard these words, they gaue no credit vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembered the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how fore hee had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had intreated of true peace with them, and so were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two kings toynd battell, but Demetrius hoste fled, & Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them.

50 So that fore battell continued till the Sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

Ioseph. Ant. 13. cap. 6. 51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolemeus the King of Egypt with these wordes, saying,

52 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realme, and am set in the throne of my fathers, & haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioy my countrie,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battell, and hee and his army is discomfited by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdom, 54 Lets now make friendship together, & giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shall I be thy son in law, and giue thee rewards, and vnto her things according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemeus the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come again vnto the land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 Now therefore will I fulfill thy writing, but meete me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, that I may make thee my sonne in lawe according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemeus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and two yere.

58 Where king Alexander met him, & hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote king Alexander vnto Ionathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 So hee went honourably vnto Ptolemais, and there hee met the two kings, and gaue them great presents of siluer and gold, and to their friends, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellows of Israel, and wicked men to accuse him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the King commanded that they should take off the garments of Ionathan, and clothe him in purple, and so they did: and the king appointed him to sit by him.

63 And said vnto his princes, Goe with him into the mids of the citie, & make a proclamation, That no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his honor according as he was proclaimed, and that hee was clothed in purple, they fled alway.

65 And the King preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chiefe friends, and made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Ionathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes.

67 ¶ In the hundred threescore and five yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius from Creta into his fathers land.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard, he was very fory, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Appollonius the gouernor of Coelosyria, who gathered a great host, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the high Priest, saying,

70 Darest thou being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched because of thee: now therefore why dost thou vaunt thy selfe against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine own strength, come down to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shal take my part: & they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bent wife chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou bee able to abide so great an host of horsemen and footmen in the plaine where is neither stone nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Ionathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moued in his mind: wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Ierusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tents at Ioppe: but they shur him out of the citie: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: so Ionathan wan Ioppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen, with a great hoste of foote men, and went toward Azotus, as though hee would goe forward, and came immediately into the plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Ionathan followed vpon him to Azotus, and the army skirmished with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behind him in ambush.

80 And Ionathan knewe that there was an ambushment behind him, & though they had compassed in his host, and shot darts at the people from the morning vnto the euening, 81 Yet the people stood still, as Ionathan had commanded them, till the horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste and set them against the band, but the horses were weary, and he discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the field.

83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idol, that they might there saue themselves.

84 But Ionathan set fire vpon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Ionathan removed the holke from thence, and and camped by Afcalon where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Jonathan and his host againe to Ierusalem with great spoiles.

88 And when King Alexander heard these things, he began to doe Jonathan more honour.

89 And sent him a collar of golde, as the vie is to be giuen to such as are of the kings blood: hee gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

cap. 7.

And the king of Egypt gathered a great hoste like the flood that lieth vpon the sea shure, and many shippes, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioine it vnto his owne realme.

4 Vpon this he went into Syria with friendly words, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to meet him: for King Alexander had commanded them to meet him, because hee was his father in lawe.

5 Now when he entred into the citie of Ptolemis, he left hands and garions in euery citie.

6 And when hee came nere vnto Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that hee had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.

7 And they told the king what Ionathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the king held his peace.

8 And Ionathan met the king with great honour at loppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

9 So when Ionathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Ierusalem.

10 So king Ptolemies gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.

11 ¶ And sent ambassadors vnto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

12 For I repect that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to fly me.

13 Thus hee slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his realme.

14 And hee tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowne.

15 Then Ptolemies came to Antiochia, where hee sett two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia, and of Egypt.

16 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him.

17 But when Alexander heard it, hee came to warre against him, and Ptolemies brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

18 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, thither to be defended: so Ptolemies was exalted.

19 And Zabdiel the Arabian gouernor of Alexander, heard and sent it vnto Ptolemies.

20 But the third day after king Ptolemies died, and they that were in the holds, were slaine one of another.

21 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuen yere.

22 ¶ At the same time gathered Ionathan them that were in Iudea, to lay siege vnto the citie which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.

23 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Ionathan besieged the citie.

24 So when he heard it, hee was angry, and immediately he came vnto Ptolemies, and wrote vnto Ionathan, that hee should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meet him, and speake with him at Ptolemis in all haste.

25 Neuerthelesse, when Ionathan heard this, hee commanded to besiege it: hee chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel and the Priests, and put himselfe in danger.

26 And tooke with him silver and gold, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemis vnto the king, and found fauour in his sight.

27 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him, 28 Yet the king intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.

29 And confirmed him in the high Priesthood with all the honourable things that hee had atore, and made him his chiefe friend.

30 Ionathan also desired the king that he would make Iudea free with the three gouernments, and the countrey of Samaria, & Ionathan promised him three hundred talents.

31 Whereunto the king consented, & gaue Ionathan writing of the time containing these words.

32 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

33 We send you here a copie of the letter which we did write vnto our counsellors concerning you, that ye should see it.

34 King Demetrius vnto Lathenes his father, sendeth greeting.

35 For the faithfulness that our friends, the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will towards vs, wee are determined to doe them good.

36 Wherefore we assigne to them the coasts of Iudea with the three gouernments, Apherea, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are adde vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem, both concerning the payments which the king tooke yere by sowe time, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruites of the trees.

37 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the teuths and tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt and crowne taxes which were payd vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.

38 And nothing hereof shall bee reckoned from this time forth, and for euer.

39 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these things, and deliuer it vnto Ionathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy Mount in an open place.

40 After this when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his host, euery man to his his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whom he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hostes hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders parte afore, which when hee saw that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, hee went to | Simalcus the Arabian, that brought vnto Antiochus the towne of Alexander.

40 And lay sore vpon him to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that hee might reigne in his fathers stead: hee told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Ionathan sent vnto king Demetrius to drine them out which were in the castle at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israhel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely doe these things for thee, and thy nation, but if opportunity serue, I will honour thee and thy nation.

43 Now therefore thou shalt doe mee a pleasure if thou wilt send me men so helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me.

44 So Ionathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the king: wherefore the king was very glad at their coming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twenty thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, and would haue slaine the king.

46 But the king fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streets of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him all together, and went abroad thorow the citie.

48 And he slew the same day an hundred thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the citie, and that they themselues were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication to the king, saying,

50 ¶ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the citie.

51 So they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Iewes were greatly honoured before the king, and before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great pray.

52 Then king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuerthelesse he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew himselfe from Ionathan, neither did hee reward him according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon, with the yong child Antiochus, which reigned and was crowned, 55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre whom Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the | beasts, and wan Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernments, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this hee sent him golden vessels to bee serued in, and gaue him leane to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of gold,

59 Hee made his brother Simon also capitaine from the coasts of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathan went forth, and passed thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went hee vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore hee laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Ionathan, and he made peace with them, and tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great host: purposing to drine him out of the countrey, 64 Hee came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he granted them, and afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the city, and set a garison in it.

67 Then Ionathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

68 And behold, the hosts of the | strangers met him in the plaine, and had layd ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places, and skirmished.

70 So that all that were of Ionathans side, fled, and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of | Abshalomns, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi, the captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Ionathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed, 72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after all vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Ionathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

C H A P. XII.

1 Ionathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renew their constant friendship. 24 Ionathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Ionathan by deceit.

Ionathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certain men, and sent them vnto Rome, to establish and renew the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the | Spartians and to other places for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Ionathan the hie Priest and the nation of the Iewes sent vs vnto you, for to renew friendship with you, and the bond of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should leade them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 ¶ AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Ionathan wrote vnto the Spartians.

7 Hereof ere were letters sent to Onias the hie Priest, from Arius which then reigned among you, that ye would bee our brethren, as the copy here vnder written specifieth.

8 And, Onias entreated the ambassadour honourably, and received the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs wee neede no such writings: for we haue the holy bookes in our hand for comfort.

10 Neuerthelesse we thought it good to send vnto you for renewing of the brotherhood and friendship, lest we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feasts, and other dayes appointed, when we offer sacrifices & prayers, as it is meet & convenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And we reioyceat your prosperous estate.

13 And though wee haue bene inuironed with great troubles and warres, so that the kings round about vs haue fought against vs, 14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friends in those warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, & we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue wee chosen Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Isalon, and sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renew the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 And now wee shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 ¶ And this was the copie of the letters which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, wee haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue wee commanded to bee shewed vnto you.

24 ¶ Now when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne country.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe and tolde him that they were appointed to come vnto him in the night.

27 Wherefore when the Sunne was gone down, Ionathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in armes ready to fight all the night, & sent watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Ionathan was ready with his men to battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Neuerthelesse, Ionathan & his company knew it not til the morning: for they saw the fires burning.

30 Then Ionathan followed vpon them, but he could not overtake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Ionathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zebedei, & slew them and tooke their spoile.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the country.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Ascalon, and to the next holds, departing vnto Ioppe, and wanne it.

34 For he heard that they would deliuer the hold to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherefore hee set a garison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Ionathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and desired with them for to build vp the strong holds in Iudea.

36 And to make the wals of Ierusalem higher, and to make a great mount betwixt the citie, and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to build vp the city: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Capernaia.

38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, & made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to bee crowned when hee had slaine the king Antiochus.

40 But he was fraide that Ionathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore hee went about to take Ionathan, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Ionathan south against him to the battell with fourtie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Ionathan came wth so great an host, he durst not lay hand vpon him.

43 But received him honourably, and commended him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to bee as obedient vnto him as to himselfe.

44 And said vnto Ionathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trouble, seeing there is no warre betwene vs?

45 Therefore send them now home againe, and chuse certaine men to wait vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais: for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, and the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of the common affaires: so will I returne and depart for this is the cause of my coming.

46 Ionathan beleecued him, and did as hee said, and sent away his hoste, which went into the land of Iudea.

47 And retained but three thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Now after: as Ionathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shute the gates, and tooke him, and slew all them with the sword that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footmen and horsemen to Galilee, and into the great plaine to destroy all Ionathans company.

50 But when they knew that Ionathan was taken and slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came south against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which followed vpon them law there was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes they all came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Iouathan and them that were with him and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them.

54 For they sayd, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: therefore let vs now fight against them, and root out their memory from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Iouathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine.

17 Tryphon taking his children, and money for the redemption of Iouathan, killeth him and his children.

31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus and possieth the seacie.

36 Demetrius taketh vnto him Simon.

43 Simon winneth Gaza.

50 He possieth the tower of Babel.

53 He killeth his sonne Iobucaptaine.

Now when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great host to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it.

2 And I saw that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye know what great things I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the law, & the quietuatie, and the battels and troubles that we haue seene.

4 By reason whereof all my bretheren are saine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbid that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my bretheren.

6 But I will avenge my nation, & the sanctuary, and our wiues, & our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these words, the hearts of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Thou shalt bee our captaine in stead of Iudas, and Iouathan thy bretheren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoever thou commandest vs, we will doe it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, making halt to finish the wallles of Ierusalem, and fortified it round about.

11 Thensenthee Iouathan the sonne of Abalomus with a great hoste vnto Ioppe, which droue them out that were therein, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie to come into the land of Iuda, and Iouathan was with him as prisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at f Addidis vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood vp in the stead of his brother Iouathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Iouathan thy brother, it is for money: he is owing in the kings account, concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundred talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for hostages, that when he is letten forth, he will not turne from vs, and wee will send him againe.

17 Neuertheles, Simon knew that he dissembled in his words: yet commanded hee the money, and children to be deliuered vnto him, lest hee should bee in greater hatred of the people of Israel.

18 Who might haue said, Because hee lost him not the money and the children, therefore is Iouathan dead.

19 So he sent the children & an hundred talents: but he dissembled, & would not let Iouathan goe.

20 ¶ Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Adon: but wherefoeuer they went thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that hee should make haste to come by the wilderness, and to send them victuals.

22 So Tryphon made ready all his hostemen: but the same night fell a very great snowe, so that he came not because of the snow: but he remoued and went into the countrey of Galad.

23 And when hee came neere to Baskama, he slew Iouathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Iouathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers cite.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his bretheren a building high to looke vnto, of hewen stone behinde and before.

28 And hee vp fenen pillars vpon it one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure bretheren.

29 And set great pillars round about them, and set annes vpon the pillars for a perpetuall memory, and caused ships beside the annes, that they might be seene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin standeth yet vnto this day.

31 ¶ Now as Tryphon went forth with the yong Ioseph, king Antiochus, he slew him traiterously.

32 And reigned in his stead, and crowned himselfe king of Asia, and brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also build vp the castles of Iudea, and compassed them about with hie towers, and great wallles, enen with towres and gates, and barres, and laid vp victuals in the strong holdes.

34 Moreover Simon chose certaine men, & sent them to king Demetrius, that hee would discharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner.

36 DEMETRIUS the king vnto Simon the hie Priest, & the friend of kings, and to the Elders, and to the nation of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and precious stone that yee sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers to releaue you of the things wherein we made you free.

38 So the things that we haue granted you, shall be stable: the strong holds which yee haue builded shall be your owne.

39 Also wee forgieue the oversights and fautes committed vnto this day, and the crowne tax that yee ought vs: and whereas was any other tribute in Ierusalem, it shall be now no tribute.

40 And they that are meete among you to bee written with our men, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundred and fawentie yeere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their their letters and publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon the high & chiefe Priest, gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about, where hee set vp an engine of warre, and approached neere the citie, and beat a tower, and tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie, and there was great trouble in the citie.

45 Inso much that the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed vp vpon the walles with their wiues and children, and cryed with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace, saying,

46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednesse, but according to thy mercy.

47 Then Simon pitied them, and would fight no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idoles were, and so entred thereunto with Psalmes and thankesgiuing.

48 So when he had cast all filthinesse out, hee set such men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now when they in the castle at Ierusalem were kept that they could not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them were famished to death,

50 Inso much that they besought Simon to make peace with them: which he granted them, and put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the three and twentie day of the second moneth in the hundred seuentie and one yeere, they entred into it with thankesgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with Psalmes and songs, because the great enemy of Israel was overcome.

52 And he ordained that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beside the castle, where he dwelt himselfe with his company.

54 Simon also seeing that Iohn his sonne was now a man, he made him captaine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwell in Gazaris.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius is overcome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine there is great quietnesse in Israel. 18 The covensants of friendship with the Romanes and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

IN the hundred seuentie and two yeere gathered king Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, hee sent one of his princes to take him a line.

3 So hee went and overcame the armie of Demetrius, and tooke him and brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land of Iudia was in rest so long as Simon liued: for hee sought the wealth of his nation, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worship alway.

5 Simon also wote the city of Ioppe to his great honour to bee an hauentowne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countrey.

7 Hee gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris and Bethsura, and the castle which hee cleaued from filthinesse, & there was no man resisted him, So that euery man tilled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her fruites, and the trees gaue their fruit.

8 The elders sate in the open places, & consulted altogether for the common wealth, and the young men were honourably clothed and armed.

9 Hee provided victuals for the cities, and all kind of manition, so that his glorious fame was renowned vnto the end of the world.

10 He made peace throughout the land, and Israel had perfect mirth and ioy.

11 For euery man sate vnder his vine, and the fig trees, and there was no man to fray them.

12 There was none in the land to fight against them: for then the Kings were overcome.

13 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people, hee was diligent to see the Law kept, and he tooke away the vngodly and wicked.

14 Hee beautified the Sanctuary, and encreased the vessels of the Temple.

15 When the Romanes heard, and the Spartians had knowledge that Ionathan was dead, they were very fory.

16 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, and how hee had wonne the land againe with the cities in it,

17 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renewe the friendship and bond of loue which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his brethren.

18 Which writings were read before the Congregation at Ierusalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent.

19 THE SENATORS and city of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Iewes their brethren send greeting.

20 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people certified vs of your glory, and honors, we were glad of their comming.

21 And haue registered their ambassage in the publike records in this manner, NUMENIVS the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Isator the Iewes ambassadours came vnto vs to renewe amitie with vs.

22 And it pleased the people that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the copy of their ambassage should bee registered in the publike records, that it might bee for a memoriall vnto the people of Sparta: and a copy of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Priest.

23 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of golde of a thousand pound weight to confirme the friendship with them.

24 Which when the people vnderstood, they said, What thanks shall we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

25 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue established Israel, and overcome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

26 The copy of the writing is this, In the eight and twentie day of the month Elul, in the hundred seuentie and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high Priest.

27 In Saramael in the great congregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouernours of Iudaea, the nation, and of the Elders of the countrey, we would signify vnto you that many battels haue bin fought in our countrey.

28 Wherein Simon the son of Mattathias (come of the children of Iarib) and his brethren put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuary and Lawe might be maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high Priest, and is laydewth his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue invaded their country, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on the ix Sanctuary.

32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, and Bethsura, that lieth vpon the borders of Iudea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garrison of the Iewes.

34 And hee fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpon the sea, and [Gaza] that bordereth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore), & there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with things necessary for the repairall thereof.

35 Now when the people saw the faithfulness of Simon, and to what glory hee thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because hee had done all these things, and for the vprightnesse and fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, & that sought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castle, out of the which they went and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuary, and did great hurt vnto Religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land and citie, and raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high Priesthood for these causes,

39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romanes called the Iewes their friends and confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours.

41 And that the Iewes and Priests consented that Simon should be their Prince, and high Priest perpetually till God raised vp the true Prophet.

42 And that hee should bee their capitaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuary, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the country, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that should make prouision for the holy things, 43 And that hee should be obeyed of enery man, and that all the writings in the country should bee made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear a gold.

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or Priests to breake any of these things or to withstand his wordes or to call any congregation in the country without him, or bee clothed in purple, or wear a collar of gold.

45 And if any did contrary vnto these things, or brake any of them, he should be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should bee done to Simon according vnto these wordes.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the capitaine, and the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priests, & to be the chiefe of al

48 And they commanded to set up this writing in tables of brasie, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuary in an open place.

49 And that a copie of the same should be laide vp in the tresorie, that Simon and his sons might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a courtesie of friendship with Simon. 12 Tryphon is puriued. 15 The Romanes write letters vnto Kings and nations in the aduice of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenant.

Moreouer, King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea, vnto Simon the Priest and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nations.

3 Containing these words, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon y great Priest, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

3 Forasmuch as certaine pestilent men haue usurped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to challenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde citize, wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre,

4 That I may goe through the country, and be auenged of them which haue destroyed our country, and waited many cities in the realme.

5 Now therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the payments wherof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy country.

7 And that Ierusalem and the Sanctuary be free, and that all the weapons that thou hast prepared, and the fortresses which thou hast builded, and keept in thine hands, shall be thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that shall be due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And when wee haue obtained our kingdome, we will giue thee, and thy nation, and the Temple great honour, so that your honour shall bee known throughout the world.

10 ¶ In the hundred seventie and foure yeere Iosaph. went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all right Ant. 13. bands came together vnto him, so that few were left cap. 11. with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus pursued him, but he fled and came to Dora which lieth by the sea side.

12 For hee saw that troubles were toward him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundred and twenty thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So he compassed the citie about, and the ships came by the sea. Thus they pressed the city by land and by sea, in such that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius and his company from Rome, hauing letters written vnto the Kings and countreyes, wheriu were contained these wordes.

16 LVCIVS the Consul of Rome vnto King Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The Ambassadours of the Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the high Priest and from the people of the Iewes, to renew friendship and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore wee thought it good to write vnto the kings and countreys that the y should not goe about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there bee any pestilent fellowes fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high Priest, that he may punish them according to their owne Law.

22 The same things were writen to Demetrius the king, and to Artalus, and to Arathas, and to Arfaces, 24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Doras the second time, euer ready to take it, and made diuers engines of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither goe in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with siluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuerthelesse, hee would not receiue them, but brake all the covenant which he had made with him afore, and withdrew himselfe from him.

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, saying, Ye witheld Ioppe, and Gazara, with the castle that is at Ietusalem, the cite of my realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernement of many places of my kingdom.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities which yee haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudea,

31 Or els giue me for them five hundred talents of siluer, and for the harme that yee haue done, and for the tributes of the places other five hundred talers: if not, wee will come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when he law the honour of Simon, and the shew of gold and siluer plate, and so great preparation, he was astonied, and tolde him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others, but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by shippes vnto Orthesias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeas captain of the sea coast, & gaue him bands of footmen & horsemen, 39 And commanded them to remooue the hostes toward Iudea, and to build vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the king pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeas came vnto Iamnia, and began to vex the people, and to invade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And he built vp Cedron, where hee set horsemen and garisons, that they might make more routes by the wayes of Iudea, as the king had commanded him.

Then came Iohn vp from Gazara, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeas had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue cuer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and wee haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now old, and yee by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore in stead of mee, and my brother, and goe forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of Heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeas, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose and went into the plaine field: and behold, a mightie great host came against them both of footmen and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when he saw that the people was afraide to goe ouer the riuer, hee went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed thorow after him.

7 Then he diuided his men, and set the horsemen in the mids of the footmen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blew the trumpets, Cendebeas fled with his hoste, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the forresse.

9 Then was Iudas Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeas had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towers, that were in the fields of Azotus, and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so he returned peaceably into his land of Iuda.

11 ¶ Now in the field of Iericho was Peolemeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and hee had abundance of siluer and gold.

12 (For he had married the daughter of the high Priest)

13 Therefore he waxed proud in his minde, and thought to rule the land, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thorow the cities of the countrey, and studied carefully for them, hee came downe to Iericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundred twentieth and fenen yere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

of the children of Israhel) and his brethren put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuary and Lawe might be maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their high Priest, and is laydewith his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue invaded their country, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuary.

32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, and Bethsura, that lieth vpon the borders of Iudea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) and set there a garrison of the Iewes.

34 And hee fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpon the sea, and [Gaza] that bordereth vpon Azotus (where the enemies dwelt afore), & there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with things necessary for the repa-ration thereof.

35 Now when the people saw the faithfulness of Simon, and to what glory hee thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because hee had done all these things, and for the vprightnesse, and fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, & that fought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also which were in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castle, out of the which they went and defiled all things that were about the Sanctuary, and did great hurt vnto Religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land and citie, and raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high Priesthood for these causes,

39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that the Romanes called the Iewes their friends and confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours.

41 And that the Iewes and Priests confessed that Simon should be their Prince, and high Priest perpetually till God raised vp the true Prophet,

42 And that hee should be their captain, and haue the charge of the Sanctuary, and lo set men ouer the workes, and ouer the country, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that should make provision for the holy things,

43 And that hee should be obeyed of enery man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and weare gold.

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or Priests to breake any of these things or to withstand his wordes or to call any congregation in the country without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collar of gold.

45 And if any did contrary vnto these things, or brake any of them, he should be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon according vnto these wordes.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the captain, and the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priests, & to be the chiefe of al

48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasie, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuary in an open place.

49 And that a copie of the same should be laide vp in the treasure, that Simon and his sons might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simon. 11 Tryphon is pursued. 15 The Romanes write letters vnto Kings and nations in the absence of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenants.

Moreover, King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the sea, vnto Simon the Priest and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nations.

2 Containing these words, ANTIOCHVS, the King vnto Simon, great Priest, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

3 Forasmuch as certaine pestilent men haue vsurped the kingdom of our fathers, I am purposed to challenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate, wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared shippes of warre,

5 Now therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all the liberties, whereof all the kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the payments wherof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stamp within thy country,

7 And that Ierusalem and the Sanctuary be free, and that all the weapons that thou hast prepared, and the fortresses which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine hands, shall be thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that shall be due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to greeke thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

He brethren the Iewes which bequat Ierusalem, and they that are in the countrey of Iudea, vnto the brethren the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, send salutation and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his euenant made with Abraham and Isaac, and Iacob his faithfull seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart to worship him, and to doe his will with a whole heart, and with a willing mind,

4 And open your hearts in his Lawe and commandments, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and bee reconciled with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and ninth yeere, wee Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence, that came vnto you in those yeeres, after that Iason and his company departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine floure, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 Now therefore keepe ye the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Challeu.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eight yeere, the people that was at Ierusalem and in Iudea, and the counceill, and Iudas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolemies master, which is of the stocke of the anointed Priests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 Inasomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though wee had overcome the king.

12 For hee brought them into Persia by heapes, that fought against the holy city.

13 For albeit the captaine and the armie that was with him seemed inuincible yet they were slaine in the temple of Nanea, by the deccite of Naneas priests.

14 For Antiochus, although hee would dwell with her, came thither, he and his friends with him, to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

15 But when the priests of Nanea had laide it forth, and hee was entred with a small companie within the temple, they shut the temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priue doore of the vault, they cast stones as it were thinder vpon the captaine, and his, and hauing bruised them in pieces, they cut off their heads, and threw them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered vp the wicked.

18 Whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the five and twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, wee thought it necessary to certifie you thereof, that yee also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neemias offered sacrifice, after that hee had built the Temple and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests which sought the honor of God, took the fire of the altar priuily, and hid it in an hollow pit, which was dry in y^e bottome, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnkownen vnto euery man.

20 Now after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Neemias should be sent from the king of Persia, he sent of the posterity of those priests which had hid it, to fetch the fire, and they tolde vs, they found no fire but thicke water.

21 Then commanded he them to draw it vp, and to bring it: and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Neemias commaunded the Priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things laid thereupon with water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the Sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man marvelled.

23 Now the priests and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Jonathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this maner: O Lord, Lord God, maker of all things, which art fearefull, and strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely and gracious King,

21 Only liberal only iust and almighty & ouerruling thou that deliuerst Israel from all trouble, and hast choosen the fathers and founded them.

22 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, and prestate thine owne portion and sanctifie it.

23 Gather those together that are scattered from vs: deliuer them that serue among the heathen:
looke vpon them which are despised and abhorred, that the heathen may know that thou art our God.

24 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

25 Plant thy people againe in thine Holy place, as Moyses hath spoken.

26 And the Priests sang Psalmes thereunto.

27 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Ne-emias commanded the great stones to bee sprinkled with the residue of the water.

28 Which when it was done there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

29 So when this matter was knowne, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place where the Priests which were led away had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices.

30 The king tried out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holy.

31 And to them that the king favoured, hee gaue and bestowed many gifts.

32 And Neemias called the same place Ephthar, which is to say, purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

CHAP. II.

4 How Ieremie had the Tabernacle, the Arke and the altar in the hill. 13 Of the five bookes of Iason contained in one.

IT is found also in the writings of Ieremias the Prophet, that hee commanded them which were caried away to take fire as was declared, and as the Prophet commanded them that were led into captiuities.

5 Giving them a law that they should not forget the commandements of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their minds when they sawe images of gold and silver with their ornaments.

6 These and such other things commanded hee them, and exhorted them that they should not let the law goe out of their hearts.

7 It is written also, how the Prophet by an oracle that he had charged them to take the Tabernacle, and the arke, and follow him: and when hee came vp into the mountaine where Moyses went vp,

8 And saw the heritage of God,

9 Ieremias went forth and found an hollow
caue, wherein he laid the Tabernacle, and the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

10 And there came certaine of those that followed him, to marke the place, but they could not find it.

11 Which when Ieremias perceived, hee repro-ued them, saying, As for that place, it shall bee vn-knowne, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and that mercy be shewed.

13 These things also are declared in the writings and registers of Neemias, and how hee made a library, and how he gathered the acts of the kings, and of the Prophets, and the acts of David, and the Epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts.

and the kingdome, and the Priesthood, and the Sanctuarie,

18 * As he promised in the Law, wil shortly hang mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for hee hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Iudas Maccabeus and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphane, and Eupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen vnto those which manfully stood for the Iewes religion: (for though they were but few, yet they ran thorough whole countries, and pursued the barbarous armies,

22 And repaired the Temple that was renowned, thoroughout all the world, and deliuered the citie and established the lawes that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie)

23 We will asay to abridge in one volume those things that Iason the Cyrenian hath declared in five bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, and the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearsal of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters

25 We haue endeavored that they that would read might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keepe them in memory, and that whosoever read them, might haue profite.

26 Therefore vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required both sweat & watching.

27 Like as hee that maketh a feast, and seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for many mens sakes are very well content to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leaving to the author the exact diligence of every particular, we will labour to goe forward according to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as he that will build a new house, must provide for the whole building, but he that setteth out the plat, or goeth about to point it, seeketh but only what is comely for the decking thereof.

30 Euen so I thinke for vs that it apperaineth to the first writer of a story to enter deeply into it, and to make mention of all things, and to be curious in euery part.

31 But it is permitted to him that will shorten it, to vs few words, and to mende those things that are curious therein.

22. Here then will we begin the story, adding thus much to our former words, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in words before the story, and to be short in the story.

CHAP. III

2 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles, 6 Simon uttereth what treasure is in the Temple 7 Heliodorus is sent to take it away. 26. He is stricken of God, and healed as the prayer of Onias.

W hat time as the holy cite was inhabited with all peace, and when the lawes were very well kept because of the godlinesse of Onias the high Priest, and hatred of wickednes,

3 It came to passe that euen the Kings did honour the place, and garnish the Temple with great gifts,

4 In so much that Seleucus King of Asia, of his owne reots, bare all the costs belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

5 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the high Priest concerning the iniquities committed in the cite.

6 And when he could not ouercome Onias, hee gave him to Apollonius the son of Thraceas, which then was gouernor of Coelosyria and Phenice,

7 And told him that the treasure in Ierusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the kings hands.

8 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the King chole out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement, to bring him the foresaid money.

9 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his journey as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the kings purpose.

10 So when he came to Ierusalem, and was curiously receiued of the high Priest into the city, hee declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so indeed.

11 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such things laide vp by the widowes and fatherlesse,

12 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, & that in all there were but foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold,

13 And that it were altogether impossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holinesse of the place and Temple, which is honoured thorow the whole world, for holians and integritie.

14 But Heliodorus because of the Kings commandement giuen him, saide, That in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasure.

15 So he appointed a day, and went in totake order for these things: then there was no small gulfie thorowout the whole cite.

16 For the Priests fell downe before the altar in the Priests garments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a Law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they should be safely preferred for such as had committed them to be kept.

17 Then they that looked the high Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorow of his minde.

18 The man was so wrapped in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorow he had in his heart.

19 Others also came out of their houses by heaps, vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contemp.

20 And the women girt with sackcloth vnder their breasts filled the streets: and the virgins that were kept in, ran some to the gates, and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes.

21 And all held vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

22 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sorts, and the expectation of the hie Priest being in such anguish.

23 Therefore they called vpon the almighty Lord, that he would keepe safe and sure the things which were laid vp for those that had deliuered them.

24 Neuerthelesse, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that did he performe.

25 And as he and his soldiers were now there present by the treasure, hee that is the Lord of the spirits and of all power, shewed a great vision, so that al they which presumed to come with him were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare and trembling.

26 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him most richly barbed, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat vpon the horse had haire of gold.

27 Moreover, there appeared two yong men notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparell, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many sore stripes.

28 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, and was couered with great darkenesse: but they that were with him, tooke him vp and put him in a litter.

29 Thus he that came with so great company, and many soldiers into the said treasure, was borne out: for he could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

30 So they did know the power of God manifestly, but he was dumbe by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

31 And they praised the Lord that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a little afore was full of feare and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioy and gladnes.

32 Then straightwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias that hee would call vpon the most Hie to graunt him his life which lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

33 So the hie Priest considering that the king might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some euill, hee offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

34 Now when the high Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life.

35 And seeing that thou hast bin scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these words they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lord sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him, which had granted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his host to the King.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man of the great works of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were more to be feare yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemy or traitour, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life, for in that place, no doubt there is a speciall power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obtayneth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the king, 27 and was by Menelaus defamed by like lying. 34 Onias is slaine iustly by Andronicus.

This Simon now, of whom we spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne naturall country, reported euill of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had been the issuer of the euill.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitour, that was so beneficiall to the cite, and a defender of his nation and so zelous of the lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that throw one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as he that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 Hewent to the king, not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the commonwealth both priuately and publicly.

6 For hee saw it was not possible, except the king tooke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his folly.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason (the brother of Onias laboured by valawfull meanes to be hie Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King and promised him three hundred and threescore talents of siluer, and of another rent fourescore talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundred and fiftie, if hee might haue licence to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, and that they would name them of Ierusalem, Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the king had granted, and he had gotten the sume riotric, hee began immediately to draw his kinemen to the customes of the Gentiles.

11 And abolished the friendly priuiledges of the kings that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn the father of Eusepius, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome to become friends and confederates: hee put down their lawes and policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrary to the law.

12 For he presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castle, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them wear hats.

13 So there began a great desire to follow the manners of the Gentiles, and they tooke vp the fashions of strange nations, by the exceeding witkindnes of Iason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person.

14 So that the Priests were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to be partakers of the wicked expences at the play after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not live by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to bee their enemies and punishers, whose custome they followed so earnestly, and desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 ¶ Now when the games that were vsed euery fift yeere were played at Tyrus, the king being present,

19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they had been Antiochians, which brought three hundred drachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they carried them, desired they might not bee bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expences.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were given to the making of galleies.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius the son of Menetheus was sent into Egypt, because of the coronation of king Ptolemus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceived that he was still affectioned toward his affaires, hee sought his owne assurance, and departed from thence to Ioppe, and so came to Ierusalem.

22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the cite, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings, and so he went with his hoste vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeeres after ward Iason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring to passe certaine necessary affaires, whereof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But hee being commended to the king, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe: for hee gaue three hundred talents of siluer more then Iason.

25 So he gaue the kings letters patents, albeit he had nothing in himselfe worthy of the hie Priesthood, but bare the stomacke of a cruel tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason, which had deceived his owne brother, being deceived by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gaue the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the king, hee tooke no order for it, albeit Soltraus the ruler of the castle required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Iysimachus in his stead in the Priesthood, and Soltraus left Crates, which was gouernour of the Cyprians.

30 ¶ While these things were in doing, the Tharsians, and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the Kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the King in all haste to appeale the businesse, leaving Andronicus a man of authority to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a com-consent they stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gave certaine of them to Andronicus: and some he sold at Tyrus, and in the citie thereby.

33. When when Onias knew of a surety, he reproached him, and withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuary at Daphne by Antiochia.

34. Wherefore Menelaus taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Onias: so when hee came to Onias, he counselled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an oath: (howbeit hee suspected him,) so hee slew him incontinently without any regard of righteousness.

35. For the which cause, not onely the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and tooke it heauily for the vnrighteous death of this man.

36. ¶ And when the king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Iewes that were in the citie, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37. Therefore Antiochus was lory in his minde, and hee had compassion, & wept, because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38. Wherefore being kindled with anger, hee tooke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commanded him to be led thorough out the citie, and in the same place where hee had committed the wickednesse against Onias, hee was slaine as a murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39. ¶ Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deeds in the citie, through the counsell of Menelaus, and the bruit was spread abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus: for he had caried out now much vessell of gold.

40. And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand, and began to vse lawfull power, a certaine tyrant being their capitaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit, then in age.

41. But when they understood the purpose of Lysimachus, some gate stones, some great clubs, and some cast handfuls of dust, which lay by vpon Lysimachus men, and those that invaded them,

42. Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Churchrobber himselfe they killed besides the treasure.

43. For these causes an accusation was layd against Menelaus.

44. And when the king came to Tyrus, three men sent from the Senate, pleaded the cause before him.

45. But Menelaus being now conuicted, promised to Ptolemies the some of Dorimenes much money, if he would perwade the king.

46. So Ptolemies went to the king into a court, whereas he was to coole himselfe, and turned the kings minde.

47. Insomuch that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusation (notwithstanding hee was the cause of all mischiefe) and condemned those poore men to death, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bin heard as innocent.

48. Thus were they soone punished vniustly, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49. Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednesse, and ministred all things libtally for their buriall.

50. And so through the courtesy of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authority, increasing in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitour to the citizens.

C H A P. V.

Of the siege and beleaguering in Ierusalem. & Of the end and wickednesse of Iason. 1. The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes. 25. The spoiling of the Temple. 27. Maccabeus fleeth into the wilderness.

A Bout the same time Antiochus vnderooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2. And then were there sene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem, forty dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of gold, and as bands of spearmen,

3. And as troups of horsemen set in aray, in countering and coursing one against another with shaking of shields, and multitude of darts, and drawing of swords, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour scene, and hardnesse of all sorts.

4. Therefore euery man prayed that those tokens might turne to good.

5. Now when there was gone sooth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Iason tooke at the least a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the citie, and they that were vpon the walles being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6. Menelaus fled into the castle, but Iason slew his owne citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue the aduantage against his kinsmen, is greatest disadvantage: but thought that hee had gotten the victory of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7. Yet hee gate not the superiority, but at the last receiued shame for the reward of his treason, and went againe like a vagabond into the countrey of the Ammonites.

8. Finally, hee had this end of his wicked conueration, that hee was accused before Areta, the King of the Arabians, and fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination as an enemy of his countrey and citizens, and was druen into Egypt.

9. Thus hee that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a banished man, after that hee was gone to the Lacedemonians: thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kiuied.

10. And he that had cast many out vnburied, was throwen out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his grave: neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11. ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the king, hee thought that Iudca would haue fallen from him: wherefore hee came with a furious mind out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12. Hee commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill, and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13. Thus was there a slaughter of yong men, and old men, and a destruction of men and women, and children, and virgines, and infants were murdered.

14. So that within three dayes were slaine fourescore thousand, and forty thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15. Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, hating Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his his owne country, to be his guide.

16 And with his wicked handes tooke the holy vessels which other Kings had giuen for the garnishing, glory and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So hanny in his mind was Antiochus, that hee considered not that God was a little wroth for the finnes of them that dwelt in the cite, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many finnes, hee, as soon as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, and put back from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasury.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore it is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwards shall it be partaker of the benefites of the Lord, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall bee set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eightene hundred talents out of the Temple, hee gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men saile vpon the drie land, and to walke vpon the sea: such an hee mind had hee.

22 But he left deputies to vex the people: at Ierusalem, Philip a Phrygian by birth, in maners more cruell then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin, Andronicus: and with them Menelaus, which was more grievous to the citizens then the others, and was despisefull against the Iewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruell prince, with an army of two & twenty thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women and the yonger fort.

25 So when hee came to Ierusalem, hee fained peace, and kept him still vntill the holy day of Sabbath, and then finding the Iewes keeping the feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone forth to the shew, and running thorow the cite with his men armed, he murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wildecnes, and liued there in the mountaines with his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, & eating grasse, lest they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the law of God. 2 The Temple is desiled. 3 The women cruelly punished. 28 The grievous paine of Eleazarus.

Not long after this, sent the king an old man of Athens, for to compell the Iewes to transgresse the lawes of the fathers, and not to be gouerned by the law of God.

2 And to desile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter that keepeth hospitallitie.

3 This wicked gouernment was sore and grievous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, and gluttony of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, and had to doe with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things as were abominable, and forbidden by the law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbath, nor to observe their ancient feasts, nor plainly to confesse himselfe to be a Iew.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were grievously compelled perforce every month to banquet, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to go in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuis.

8 Moreover, through the counsell of Ptolemies, there went out a commandement vnto the chief cities of the heathen against the Iewes, that the like custome and banquetting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conformance themselves to the maners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue scene the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought forth that had circumcised their sons, whom when they had led round about the cite (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast them downe headlong ouer the walles.

11 Some that were run together into denses to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered vnto Philip, and were burnt together, because that for reuerence of the honourable day they were afraide to helpe themselves.

12 ¶ Now I beseech those which reade this booke, that they bee not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to bee for destruction, but for a chaffening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnes, not to suffer finnes long to continue, but straightwayes to punish them.

14 For the Lord doth not long wait for vs, as for other nations, whom hee punisheth when they are come to the fullnesse of their finnes:

15 But thus hee dealeth with vs, that our finnes should not bee heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore he neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: and though hee punish with aduersitie, yet doth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this be spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 ¶ Eleazar then one of the principall Scribes, an aged man, & of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eatc swines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to die gloriously then to liue with hatred, offered himselfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to go to death which suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to take of for the desire to liue.

21 Entithy that had charge of this wicked banquet, for that old friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and praised him that he would take flesh as was lawfull for him to vie, and as hee would prepare of himself, and dissemble as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the king, euen the flesh of the sacrifice.

22 That in so doing he might be deliuered from death, and that fory old friendship that was among them, he would receiue this fauour.

23 But hee began to consider discretely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his gray haire, whereunto he was come, and his most honest conseruation from his childhood, but chiefly the holy Law made and giuen by God: therefore hee answered consequently, for As-

quently, and willed them straightway to find him to the place.

24. For it becometh not our age, old for so dissimble, whereby many young persons might think, that Alexander being four score yere old and ten, were now gone to his religion.

25. And so though many hypocrites (for a little time of a transitory life) they might be deceived by me, and I should procure malediction and reproch to mine old age.

26. For though I were now delivered from the torment of men, yet could I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead.

27. Wherefore I will now change this life manfully, and will shew my self such as mine age requireth.

28. And so will leane a notable example for such as bee young, to die willingly & courageously for the honourable and holy lawes. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to torment.

29. Now they that ledde him, changed the loue which they bare him before into hatred, because of the words that hee had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30. And as hee was ready to giue the ghost, because of the strokes, hee sighed, and sayd, The Lord that hath the holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue benee delivered from death, I am scourged, and suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my mind I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31. Euen now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoria] of vertue, not only vnto young men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seven brethren, and of their mother.

It came to passe also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken to be compelled by the king against the law, to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

1. But one of them which spake first, saide thus, What seekst thou? and what wouldst thou know of vs, we are ready to die rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

2. Then was the king angry, and commanded to heat pannes, and caldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

3. And he commanded the tongue of him that spake first to be cut out, &c. to slay him, and to cut off the vtmost part of his body in the sight of his other brethren, and his mother.

4. Now when hee was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to be brought alive to the fire, and to fry him in the pan: and while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the panne, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted one another to die courageously, saying in this maner,

5. The Lord God doth regard vs, and indeed taketh pleasure in vs, as Moses declared in the song, wherein hee testified openly, saying, that God will take pleasure in his seruants.

6. So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second, to make him a mocking stocke: and when they had pulled the skinne with the haire ouer his head, they asked him if he would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the body.

7. But hee answered in his owne language, and said, No. Wherefore hee was tormented forth with like torments.

8. And when hee was at the last breath, he said, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the King of the world will raise vs vp which die for his lawes, in the resurrection of euermlasting life.

9. After him was the third had in derision, and when they demanded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hander boldly.

10. And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Law of God I despise them, and trust that I shall receive them of my Father againe.

11. In so much that the king and they which were with him, marvelled at the young mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

12. Now when hee was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

13. And when hee was now ready to die, hee sayd thus, It is better that we should change this which we might hope for of men, and waite for our hope from God, that we may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

14. Afterward they brought the fifth also, and tormented him.

15. Who looked vpon the King, and said, Thou hast power among men, and though thou be a mortall man, thou dost what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our nation.

16. But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great power, how he will torment thee and thy feed.

17. After him also they brought the sixth, who being at the point of death, said, Decieue not thy selfe foolishly: for we suffer these things which are worthy to be wondered at for our own sakes, because we haue offended our God.

18. But thinke not thou, which vndertaketh to fight against God, that thou shalt be vnpanished.

19. But the mother was marvellous aboue all other, and worthy of honourable memory: for when shee saw her seven sonnes slaine within the space of one day, shee suffered it with a good wil, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

20. Yea, shee exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wisdom, stirred vp her womanly affections with a manly stomacke, and said vnto them,

21. I cannot tell how yee came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body.

22. But doubtles the Creator of the world, which formed the birth of man, & found out the beginning of all things will also of his owne mercy giue you breath and life againe, as yee now regard not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

23. Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and considering the iniurious words, while the youngest was yet alive, he did exhort him not onely with wordes but swaie also vnto him by an oath, that hee would make him rich and wealthy, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers, & that hee would take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

24. But when the young man would in no case hearken vnto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted that she would counsell the young man to fane his life.

25. And when hee had exhorted her with many wordes, shee promised him, that she would counsell her sonne.

26. So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her own language,

Q my

O my same, haue pity vpon me that haue thee nine months in my wombe, and giue thee lucke three yeres and nourish thee, and looke care for thee vnto this age, and thought thee vp.

18 I beseech thee my soune, looke vpon the heauen, and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not,
and he is making made creatures.

19 Feare not this hangman, but feare thy selfe worthy such brethren, by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercy with thy brethren.

20 While he was yet speaking these words, the young man said, Whom wast ye for? I will not obey the kings commandment: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was giuen vnto our Fathers by Moses.

21 And thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hand of God.

22 For we suffer these things, because of our sins.

23 But though the living Lord be angry with vs a little while for our chiding, and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his owne seruants.

24 But thou, O man without religion, and most wicked of all men, list not thy selfe vp in vaime, which art passed vp with vncertain hope, and listest thine hands against the seruants of God.

25 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of almighty God, which seeth all things.

26 My brethren that haue suffered a little paine, are now vnder the diuine Courant of Euerlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer infinite punishments for thy pride.

27 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God that he will sooner be mercifull vnto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse that he is the only God.

28 And that in mee and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation may cease.

29 Then the king being kindled with anger, raged more cruelly against him than the others, and rooke it grievously that he was knocked.

30 So hee also died holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

31 List of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

32 Let this now be enough spoken concerning the banquet and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas herbert tog: her la huffe. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Iudas exhorteth his followers to constan y. 20 Nicanor is overcome. 27 The Iewes give thanks after they haue put their enemies to flight, censuring parts of the power vnto the fishes lesse was vnto the w dovers. 37 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor fleeth vnto Antioch.

Then Iudas Maccabeus, and they that were with him went priuily into the towne, & called their kinsfolke & friends together, and looke vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled fixe thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of e-uery man, and haue pity vpon the temple that was desiled by wicked men.

3 And that he would haue compassion vp on the city that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that hee would heare the voyce of the blood that cried vnto him.

4 And that hee would remember the wicked laughter of the innocent children, and the blas-phemies committed against his Name, and that hee would thinke his hatred against the wicked.

5 Nowe when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at vntowens, and burge vnto the townes and cities: yet hee rooke the most comodi-ous places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially hee did the nightes to make such affaults, inasmuch that the bruit of his manlieffe was spread euery where.

8 ¶ So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him (for the most part, he wrote vnto Ptolemies the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businesse).

9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a special friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of y heathen, no lesse then twenty thousand men to root out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a captain, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the king of two thousand talents which the Romanes should haue, to be taken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on the sea coast, prouoking them to buy Iewes to be their seruants, promising to sell fourecore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of Almighty God that should come vpon him.

12 When Iudas then knewe of Nicanors com-ming, he told them that were with him of the coming of the army.

13 Now were there some of them feawfull, which trusted not vnto the righteousness of God, but fled away and abode not in that place.

14 But the other sold all that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold the more, &
he came neere them.

15 And though hee would not, doe it for their salues, yet for the couenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about six thousand, exhorting them not to be afraid of their enemies, neither to feare y great multitude of the Gentiles which came against them y night-only, but to fight manly.

17 Setting before their eyes the injury that they had vniuilly done to the holy place, and the cruelty done to the city by derision, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they said hee, trust in their weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the Almighty God, which at a becke can both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreouer he admonished them of the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when they perished an hundred and fourecore and fixe thousand vader S: Napheib.

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galarians, how they came to the battell eight thousand, with foure thousand Macdouls, and when the Macedonians were afflicted, the eight thousand slewe an hundred and twenty thousand, though the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefites.

21. Thus when hee had made them bolde with these wordes, and ready to die for the lawes and the country, he diuided his armie into foure parts,

22. And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the army, to wit, Simon, and Ioseph, and Jonathan, giuing each one fiftene hundred men.

23. ¶ And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which ledde the foreward, ioyed with Nicanor.

24. And because the Almighty helped them they slewe aboue nine thousand men, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors holste, and so put all to flight,

25. And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26. For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27. So they tooke their weapons, and spoiled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath, giuing thanks and praising the Lord wonderfully which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercy.

Num. 31. 28. And after the Sabbath, they distributed the spoiles to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and diuided the residue among themselves and their children.

37. 1. 2. 3. 4. 29. When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30. Afterward with one consent they fel vpon Timotheus, and Bacchides, & slew aboue twenty thousand, and wan high and strong holdes, and diuided great spoiles & gaue an equall portion to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31. Moreover, they gathered their weapons together, and laide them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoiles to Ierusalem.

32. They slew also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed the Iewes many wayes.

33. And when they kept their feast of victory in their country, they burnt Calisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fled into a little house: so hee receiued a reward meete for his wickednesse.

34. And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes,

35. He was through the help of the Lord brought downe of them whom hee thought as nothing, inasmuch that hee put off his glorious raiment, and fled ouerthwart the country like a fugitiue seruant, and came alone to Antiochia with great dishonour throw the destruction of his holste.

36. Thus hee that promised to pay tribute to the Romanes, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes that the Iewes had a defender, and for this cause none could hurt the Iewes, because they followed the lawes appointed by him.

CRAP. IX.

1. Antiochus will go to spoyle Persopolis, in put to fight. 5. As he persecuted the Jewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13. The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28. He dieth miserably.

At the same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of the country of Persia.

2. For when he came to Persopolis, and went about to rob the Temple, and to subdaie the ciitie, the people ranne in a rage to defend themselves with their weapons, and put them to flight, & Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3. Now when he came to Ecbatane, hee vnderstood the things that had come vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4. And then being chafed in his fume, he thought to impute to the Iewes their fault, which had put him to flight, and therefore commanded his charet man to drine continually, & to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had sayd thus in his pride, I will make Ierusalem a common burying place of the Iewes when I come thither.

5. But the Lord Almighty, & God of Israel (mote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for as soone as he had spoken these wordes, a paine of the bowels that was remediless, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inward parts,

6. And that most infirmy: for hee had tormented other mens bowels with diuers & strange torments.

7. Howbeit hee would in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, & commanded to haste the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell down from the charet that ran swiftly, so that all the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8. And thus he that a litle before thought hee might command the floods of the sea (so proud was hee beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the hie mountaines in the balance, was now call on the ground, and carried in an horlitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God.

9. ¶ So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and while hee was aliae, his flesh fell off for paine and torment, and all his army was grieved at his fmel.

10. Thus no man could beare, because of his stink, him that a litle afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.

11. Then he began to leane off his great pride & selfe will, when hee was plagued, and came to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, and by his paine which increased euery moment.

12. And when hee himselfe might not abide his owne stinke, hee said these wordes, It is meet to be subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not think himselfe equall vnto God through pride.

13. This wicked person praied also vnto the Lord who would now haue no mercy on him,

14. And said thus, That he would set at liberty the holy city, vnto the which hee made haste to destroy it, and make it a burying place.

15. And as touching the Iewes, (whome hee had iudged not worthe to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children, to be deuoured of the foules and wild beasts) he would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16. And whereas he had spoiled the holy Temple afore, hee would garnish it with great giftes, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17. Yea, and that hee would, also become a Iewe himselfe, and go thorow all the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.

18. But for all this his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him, therefore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vaderwritten, containing the forme of a supplication.

19. ¶ THE KING and prince Antiochus vnto to shew his loving citizens, witherth much joy, and health, and prosperity.

20. If yee and your children fare well, and if all things go after your mind, I give great thanks vnto God, hauing hope in the heauens.

21. Though I lie sick, yet I am mindfull of your honour, and good will for the loss I beate you: therefore when I returned from the country of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all.

22. Not distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sickness.

23. Therefore considering, that when my father led an hoste against the hie countries, he appointed who should succede him:

24. That if any controuersie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grieuous, they in the land might know to whom the affaires were comitted, that they should not be troubled.

25. Againe, when I ponder how that the gouernours that are borderers and neighbours vnto my kingdome, wait for all occasions, and looke but for opportunity, I haue ordained that my sone Antiochus shalbe king, whom I oft commended and committed to many of you, when I went into the high prouinces, and haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26. Therefore I pray you, and require you to remember the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally and particularly, and that every man will be faithfull vnto me and to my sone.

27. For I trust that hee will be gentle and louing vnto you according vnto my minde.

28. Thus the murderer and blasphemers suffered most grieuously, and as he had intreated other men, so hee died a miserable death in a strange country, among the mountaiues.

29. And Philip that was brought vp with him caried away his body, who fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemus Philometor.

C H A P. X.

1. Indas Maccabeus taketh the cite and the Temple. 10. The acts of Eupator. 16. The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 24. Timotheus himselfe is hurt, and whom Indas some battell. 29. First men appear in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 37. Timotheus is slaine.

Maccabeus now and his company through the helpe of the Lord, wan the Temple and the cite againe,

2. And destroyed the altars and chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,

3. And censed the Temple, and made another Altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them and offered sacrifices and incense two yeeres and fixe moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.

4. When that was done, they fell downe flate vpon the ground, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they sinned any more against him, that he himselfe would chasten them with mercie, and that they might not bee deliuered to the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5. Now vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the Temple, on the very same day it was censed againe, euen the fixe and twentie day of the same month, which is | Challeu.

6. They kept eight dayes with gladnes, as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles, when they liued in the mountaiues and dens like beasts.

7. And for y same cause they bare green boughes, and faire branches, and palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.

8. They ordained also by a common sature and decreet, that euery yeere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.

9. And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphaneus.

10. ¶ Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sone of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres that followed.

11. For when hee had taken the kingdome, hee made one Lysias, which had been captaine of the hoste in Phenice and Caelefyria, ruler over the affaires of the realme.

12. For Ptolemus, that was called Macron, purposed to doe iustice vnto the Iewes for the wrong that had beene done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.

13. For the which cause hee was accused of his friends before Eupator, and was called oft times traitor, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphaneus: therefore seeing that hee was no more in estimation, hee was discouraged, and paysoned himselfe and died.

14. ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, hee entertained strangers, and made waite oft times against the Iewes.

15. Moreover, the Idumeans that held the strong holds which were meete for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by retaining them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16. Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, and besought God that hee would be shier helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans,

17. And assaulted them fore, that they wanne the places, and slew all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slew no lesse then twenty thousand.

18. And because certaine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castles, hauing all want of things conuenient to liue, staine the siege,

19. Maccabeus left Simon and Ioseph, and Zacharias also, and those that were with them, which were enow to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessary.

20. Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were intricated for money (thorow certaine of those that were in the castle) and tooke seventy thousand dracmes, and let some of them escape.

21. But when it was tolde Maccabeus what was done, he called the gouernours of the people together, & accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money and let their enemies goe.

22. So he slew them when they were comit of treason, and immediately wan the two castles.

23. And hauing good successe as in all the warres that he tooke in hand, he slew in the two castles more then twenty thousand.

24. Now Timotheus whom the Iewes had overcome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all fort, and brought a great troupe of hostemen out of Asia to win Iewry by strength.

25. But when he drew neere Maccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth, 28 And fell downe at the foote of the Altar, and besought the Lord to bee mercifull to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and to be an aduersary to their aduersaries, * as the Law declareth.

Exod. 23.

29 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons and went on further from the citie, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke hede to themselves.

30 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victory, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

31 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen such comely sight vpon horses with bridles of golde, and two of them led the Iewes.

32 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, & couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe, and full of trouble.

33 There were slaine of those men twenty thousand and six hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

34 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong hold, wherein Chereas was capitaine.

35 But Maccabeus and his company laid siege against the fortress with courage for foure dayes.

36 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

37 Nevertheless vpon the last day in the morning, twenty young men of Maccabeus company whose hearts were inflamed because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and with bold stomackes smote downe those that they met.

38 Others also that climed vp vpon the engines of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towres, and burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake vp the gates, and received the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

39 And hauing found Timotheus that was crept into a caue: they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apolophanes.

40 When this was done, they praised the Lord with Psalmes and thanksgiving, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lyfias setteth about to overcome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lyfias vnto the Iewes. 30 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lyfias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romans to the Iewes.

V Ery shortly after this, Lyfias the kings steward and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, tooke sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would hee haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he would tell the Priests office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footemen, and thousands of horsemen, and in his fourescore elephants,

5 He came into Iudaea, and drew neere to Bethsura, which was a castle of defence, such furlious from Ierusalem, and laid sore siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus and his company knew that he besieged the holds, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lord, that hee would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would leopord themselves together with him to helpe their brethren, so they went sooth together with a courageous minde.

8 And as they were there besides Ierusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, shaking his harness of golde.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God altogether, and tooke heart, insomuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruell beasts, and to breake downe wallies of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lions, they slew eleuen thousand footemen, and fixteene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lyfias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vaderstanding considering what losse he had had, and knowing that the Hebrewes could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them sent vnto them,

14 And promised that hee would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the king to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lyfias requests, hauing respect in all things to the common wealth, and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote vnto Lyfias concerning the Iewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lyfias containing these wordes, L Y S I A S vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 Iohn and I Abessalom, which were sent from you, deliuered me the things that you demand by writing, and required me to fulfill the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soener were meete to be reported to the king himselfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends toward his affaires, hereafter also I will endeuour my selfe to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commandment to these men, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare yewell, the hundred and eight and fortie yeere, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Dioscorthinus.

22 ¶ Nowe the Kings Letter contained these wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lyfias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they which are in our Realme, liue quietly, that euery man may apply his owne affairs.

not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custom of the Gentiles, but would keepe their own manner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that wee would suffer them to liue after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is that this nation shall bee in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be gouerned according to the custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to send vnto them, & grant them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and cheerfully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

28 If yee fare well, wee haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs that your desire was to returne home, and to apply your owne business.

30 Wherefore those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtieth day of the month of Panthicus.

31 That the Iewes may vse their owne manner of liuing and lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue also sent Menelaus to comfort you.

33 Fare ye well, the hundred and eight and fortie yeres, the fiftenth day of the month of Panthicus.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter containing these words, QVINTVS MEMMIVS and Titus Manilius ambassadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes send greeting.

35 The things that Tyfis the kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shal report vnto the king, send hither some with speede, when yee haue considered the matter diligently, that we may consult thereupon as shalbe best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste, and send some men, that we may know your mind.

38 Fare well: this hundred and eight and fortie yeres, the fiftenth day of the month of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked dedes of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 6 Iudas awenged of them. 9 He resteth fire in the haven of Iamnia. 29 The pursuit of the Iewes against Timotheus. 34 Timotheus is taken, and lies gone vnto vs. 32 Iudas pursueth Timotheus.

When these conuents were made, Tyfis went vnto the king, & the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But the gouernors of the places as Timotheus and Apollonius the sonne of Genens, and Ieronimus, and also Demophon, and besides them Nicapor the gouernor of Cyprus would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe also did such a vile act: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wives and children into the ships which they had prepared, as though they had ought them none enill will.

4 And so by the common aduise of the city they obeyed them, and inspected nothing: but when they were gon: forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 Now when Iudas knew of this cruelty shewed against his nation, hee commanded those men that were with him to make them ready.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, hee went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haven by night, and burnt the shippes, and those that fled thence hee slew.

7 And when the citie was shut vp, hee departed as though he would come againe, and roote out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 ¶ But when hee perceived that the Iammites were minded to doe in like manner vnto the Iewes which dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Iammites by night, and set fire in the haven with the nauie, so that the light of the fire was seene at Ierusalem vpon a two hundred and fourtie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney toward Timotheus, about fise thousand men of Iudea, and fise hundred horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battel was sharpe, but it prospered with Iudas through the helpe of God: the Nomades of Arabia being overcome, besought Iudas to make peace with them, & promised to giue him certaine cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Iudas thinking that they should indeed bee profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Iudas also assaulted a citie called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it put such trust in the strength of their walles, and in store of victuals, that they were the slacke in their doings, reuiling them that were with Iudas, and reproaching them: yea, they blasphemed, and spake such words as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers calling vpon the great Prince of the world (which without any instruments or enignes of warre, did cast downe the wallles of Iericho in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles,

16 And tooke the citie by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, inasmuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby seemed to flow with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for he was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garrison in a very strong hold.

19 But Dosithus, & Sosipater, which were captaiues with Maccabeus, went forth and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortresse, more then tenthousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared and ranged his army by bands, and went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thousand men of foote, and two thousand and fise hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas coming, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage afore vnto a fere riffe called Carnion (for it was hard to be siege, and vncasie to come vnto because of the straits on all sides)

22 But when Iudas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, and a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth all things, insomuch that they seeing one here another there, were oftentimes hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the points of their owne swords.

13 But Iudas was very earnest in pursuing, and slew those wicked men, yet he slew thirtie thousand men of them.

14 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dorisheus and Sosipater, whom hee befought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because hee had many of the Iewes parents, and the brethren of some of them which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

15 So when hee had assured them with many words, and promised that he would restore them, without hurt, they let him go for the health of their brethren.

16 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, and Acragation, and slew five and twentie thousand prisoners.

17 And after that he had chased away and slaine them, Iudas remoued the hoste toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lysias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong yong men kept the walles, defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engines of warre and darts.

18 But when they had called vpon the Lord which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slew five & twenty thousand of them that were within.

19 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lieth sixe hundred furlongs from Ierusalem,

20 But when the Iewes which dwelt there testified that the Scythopolitans dealt leniungly with them, and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 21 They gaue them thanks desiring them to be friendly still vnto them: and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

22 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

23 Who came out with three thousand men of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

24 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Iewes were slaine.

25 And Dorisheus one of the Baccenors, which was on horsebacke, and a mightie man, tooke Gorgias and layd hold of his garment, and drewe him by force, because he would haue taken the wicked man aliue: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Marisa.

26 And when they that were with Eserin, had foughten long, and were wearie, Iudas called vpon the Lord that hee would shew himselfe to be their helper and captain of the field.

27 And when hee began in his owne language and sung Psalmes with a loud voice, insomuch that straightwayes he made them that were about Gorgias to take their flight.

28 ¶ So Iudas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seuenth day came, they clensted themselves (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

29 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

30 Now vnder the coats of euery one that was slaine, they found Jewels that had bene consecrated to the idoles of the Iammies, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Law. Then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue themselves to prayer and besought him, that they should not vnto be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to keepe themselves from sin, forsomuch as they saw before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine.

43 And hauing made a gathering therow the companie, sent to Ierusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very well and honestly, that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if he had not hoped, that they which were slaine should rise againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine to pray for the dead.

45 And therefore hee perceived that there was great fauour layd vp for those that died godly. (It was an holy and good thought) So hee made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sinne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iudea. 2 The death of Menelaus. 3 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, smiteth his souldiers vnto prayer. 4 He killeth foure thieue thousand men in the tents of Antiochus. 5 Riodochus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

IN the hundred thirtie and nine yeere, as was told Iudas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the steward & ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their army an hundred and ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, and five thousand horsemen, and two and twentie elephants and three hundred charrets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deceit encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of Kings mooued Antiochus minde against this wicked man, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him to Barea, to put him vnto death, as the manner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fiftie cubits hie, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rolled downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoener was condemned of sacriledge, or of any other grievous crime, was cast off all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should see such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because he had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, hee himselfe also dyed in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the king raged in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruel vnto the Iewes then his father.

13 Which things when Iudas perceived, he commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that if euery he had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they should be put from their law from their country, and from the holy Temple.

11. And that he would not suffer the people, which a little before began to recover, to be subdued unto the blasphemous nations.

12. So when they had done this altogether, and besought the Lord for mercie with weeping and fasting, and falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselves readye.

13. And hee being apart with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe forth alone the King brought his host into Iudaea, and should make the citie, and commit the matter to the helper of the Lord.

14. So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, hee exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, even unto death for the Lawes, the Temple, the citie, their country, and the common wealth, and camped by Modia.

15. And so giving his souldiers for a watchword, The victorie of God, hee picked out the manliest yong men, and went by night into the kings campe, and slew of the host fouretee thousand men, and the greatest elephant, with all that fate vpon him.

16. Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17. This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18. ¶ Now when the king had tasted the manliness of the Iewes, he went about to take the holdes by policie,

19. And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong holde of the Iewes: but he was chased away, hurt, and lost of his men.

20. For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21. But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes host disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore hee was fought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22. After this did the king commune with them that were in Beth-sura, and tooke truce with them, departed, and ioyned battell with Iudas, who ouercame him.

23. But when hee vnderstood that Phillip (whom hee had left to be ouerleer of his businesse at Antiochia) did rebell against him, he was astonished, so that hee yielded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an othe to do all things that were right, and was appeased toward them, and offered sacrifice, and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gentleness to the place.

24. And embraced Maccabens, and made him capitaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreaneas.

25. Neuerthelesse when hee came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: and because they were grieved, they would that he should breake the Covenants.

26. Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seat and excused the fact as well as hee could, and perswaded them, and pacified them, and made them well affectioned, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the Kings iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIII.

1. Demetrius moved by Alcimus, sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes. 2. Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes, 3. which hee hath broken, through the motion of the King. 4. Nicanor commanndeth Regus to be taken, who slayeth himselfe.

After three yeeres was Iudas informed that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and made by the houses of Tripolis,

2. When he had wonne the countrey, and slaine Antiochus and his Lieutenant Lysias.

3. Now Alcimus which had bene the hie Priest, and wilfully desired himselfe in the time that all things were comforted, seeing that by no means he could saue himselfe, nor haue any more countenance to the holy Altar,

4. He came to king Demetrius in the hundredth fiftie and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of gold, and a palme, &c. of the boughs which were vsed solemnly in the Temple, and that day hee held his tongue.

5. But when he had gotten opportunitie and occasion of his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what desires or counsell the Iewes heaued vnto.

6. To the which he answered, The Iewes that be called Asideans, whose capitaine is Iudas Maccabeus, maintaine warres and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7. Therefore I being deprived of my fathers honour (I meane the high Priesthood) and now come hither.

8. Partly because I was well affectioned to the Kings affaires, and secondly because I sought the profit of mine owne citizens for all our people thorow their rashnesse are not a little troubled.

9. Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the countrey, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanity that is ready to helpe all men.

10. For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11. When hee had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing ill will at Iudas, set Demetrius on fire.

12. Who immediatly called for Nicanor the ruler of the elephants, and made him capitaine ouer Iudaea,

13. And sent him forth commanding him to slay Iudas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie Priest of the great Temple.

14. Then the heathen which fled out of Iudaea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15. Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors coming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled themselves with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16. So at the commandement of the capitaine, they remoued straight wayes from thence, and came to the towne of Dossin,

17. Where Simon Iudas brother had ioyned battell with Nicanor, and was somewhat astonished through the sudden silence of the enemies.

18. Neuerthelesse, Nicanor hearing the manlines of them that were with Iudas, and the bold stomaks that they had for their countrey, durst not proue the matter with bloodshedding.

19. Wherefore he sent Posidonius, [Theodosius, and Matthias before to make peace,

20. So when they had taken long aduise ment thereon, and the capitaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and consented to the covenants.

21. And they appointed a day when they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they sent for euery man his schoole.

32 Neuerthelesse, Iudas commanded certen men of armes to waite in convenient places, lest there should suddenly arise any euel through the enemies: and so they committed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

33 Nicanor while he abode at Ierusalem, did no hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

34 Hee loved Iudas, and favoured him in his heart.

35 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so hee married, and they lived together.

36 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwene them and vnderstanding the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and ordered Iudas a traitour to the realme to be his successour.

37 Then the king was displeased, and by the reports of this wicked man he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was very angry for the covenants, commanding him that hee should send Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

38 When these things came to Nicanor, he was astonished and sore grieved, that hee should breake the things wherein they had agreed, seeing that that man had committed no wickednesse.

39 But because it was not commodious to him, to withstand the king, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

40 Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, and that hee intreated him more rudely, then hee was wont, hee perceived that such rigour came not of good, and therefore hee gathered a few of his men and with drew himselfe from Nicanor.

41 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthy pollicie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests which were offering their vsuall sacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

42 And when they sawe that they could not tell where the man was, whom he sought,

43 Hee stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this manner, If ye will not deliuer mee Iudas as a prisoner I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, & will breake downe the Altar, and will erect a notable Temple vnto Baecchus.

44 After these words hee departed: then the Priests lift vp their hands toward heauen, and besought him, that was euer the defender of their nation, saying in this maner.

45 Thou, O Lord of all things, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitation should be among vs.

46 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

47 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Razis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a loue of the city, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

48 For this man sometimes, when the Iewes were minded to keepe themselves undefiled, and pure, being accused to be of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to spend his body and life with all constancie for the Religion of the Iewes.

49 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, sent about fife hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For hee thought by taking him to doe the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this company would haue taken his castle, and would haue broken the gates by violence, and commaunded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that hee was readie to bee taken on every side, he fell on his sword,

42 Willing rather to die manfully, then to giue himselfe into the hands of wicked men and to suffer reproch vnrorthy for his noble stocke.

43 Notwithstanding, what time as hee missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwene the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the multitude,

44 Which conueyed themselves lightly away, and gave place, so that he fell vpon his belly.

45 Neuerthelesse, while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, hee rose vp, and though his blood gushed out like a fountaine, and he was very sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the mids of the people,

46 And gate him to the top of an hie rocke: so when his blood was vtterly gone, hee took out his owne bowels with both his hands and threwe them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit, that he would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he died.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day. 5 The blasphemy of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding to the Iewes the vision, encourages them. 21 The prayer of Maccabeus. 30 Maccabeus commaundeth Nicanors head and hands to bee cut off, and his tongue to be giuen to the fowles. 39 The anabour excuseth himselfe.

NOW when Nicanor knew that Iudas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, hee thought with all assurance to come vpon them vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuerthelesse, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, said, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the day that is appointed by him that seeth all things.

3 But this most wicked person demanded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they said, There is a liuing Lord which ruleth in the heauen, who commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 Then he said, And I am mightie vpon earth, and command them for to arme themselves, and to performe the kings businesse. Notwithstanding he could not accomplish his wicked enterprise.

6 For Nicanor, lifted vp with great pride, purposed to set vp a memoriall of the victory obtained of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence, and a perfect hope that the Lord would helpe him.

8 And exhorted his people not to bee afraid at the coming of the heathen, but alway to remember the hope that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust now also that they should haue the victory by the Almighty.

9 Thus hee encouraged them by the Law, and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing,

10 And stirred vp their hearts, and shewed them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, and how they they had broken their othes.

11 Thus hee armed euery one of them not with the assurance of shields and speares, but with wholesome wordes of exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worthy to be beleued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision. Hee thought that he saw Onias (which had bene the hie Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in all points of godlinesse from a childe) holding vp his hands toward heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable and of a wonderfull dignitie and excellencie about him.

14 And Onias spake and said, This is a sower of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy citie, so wil, Ie emias the Prophet of God.

15 Hee thought also that Ieremias helde out his right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sword of golde, and as he gaue it, he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, where-with thou shalt wound the aduersaries.

17 And so being comforted by the wordes of Iudas, which were very sweete and able to stirre them vp to valiantnesse, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined to pitch no campe, but courageously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to try the matter hand to hand, because the citie and the Sanctuary, and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wives and children and brethren, and kinnesfolkes, they let selfe by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Again, they that were in the citie, were careful for the armie that was abroad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the triall of the matter, and the enemies now met with them, and the holts were set in aray, and the beasts were separate into convenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

21 Maccabens considering the coming of the multitude, and the diuers preparations of weapons and the fiercenesse of the host, helde vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, and that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie commeth not by the weapons, but that hee giueth the victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer, he said after this manner, O Lord, * thou that didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iuda, who in the holte of Sennacherib slew an hundred fourescore and nine thousand,

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare and dread vnto them.

24 And let them be discomforted by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes hee made an end.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drew neere with trumpets and shoutings for ioy.

26 But Iudas and his company praying and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies.

27 So that with their hands they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then five and thirtie thousand men: for through the preience of God they were wonderously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstood that Nicanor himselfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and a cry, praising the Almighty in their owne language.

30 Therefore Iudas which was euer the chiefe defender of his citizeens both in body and minde, and which bare euer good affection toward them of his nation, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, hee called all them of his nation, and set the Priests by the altar, and sent for them of the citie.

32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemer which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almighty with proud brags.

33 He caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to bee cut in little pieces, and to bee cast vnto the foules, and that the rewards of his madnesse should be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So euery man praised toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be hee that hath kept his place vnsciled.

35 Hee hanged also Nicanors head vpon the hie citie, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they established altogether by a common decree, that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy.

37 And that the feast should bee the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Marдохus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here also will I make an end.

39 If I haue done wel, & as hee story required, it is the thing that I desire: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water, is pleasant and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that read the story. And here shall be the end.

Methelah, at the age of 187. yeeres begate Lamech.

Lamech being 187. yeeres old begate Noe. Noe at the coming of the flood, was six hundred yeeres old, as appeareth in the seventh of Genesis. The whole summe of the yeeres are 1656.

From the said Flood of Noe vnto Abraham departing from Chaldee, were 363. yeeres, and ten daies.

For the said Flood continued one whole yeere, and ten daies.

Sem (which was Noes soune) begate Arphaxat two yeeres after that.

Arphaxat begate Salah when he was 35. yeeres old.

Salah being 30. yere old, begate Heber.

Heber at the age of 34. yeeres begate Phalech.

Phalech being thirtie yeeres, begate Regu.

Regu being 31. yeeres, begate Saruch.

Saruch being 30. yeeres, begate Nahor.

Nahor being 29. yeeres, begate Thare.

Thare being 70. yeeres, begate Abraham.

And Abraham departed from Chaldee when he was 70. yeeres old.

The said yeeres accounted are 363. yeeres and ten daies.

From Abrahams departing from Vt in Cha'dee vnto the departing of the children of Israel from Egypt, are 430. yeeres gathered as followeth.

Abraham was in Charran five yeeres, and departed in the 75. yeere.

He begate Isaac when he was 103. yeeres olde, and in the 25. yeere of his departing.

Isaac begate Iacob when he was 60. yeere old. Iacob went into Egypt with all his family, when he was 130. yeeres old.

Israel was in Egypt 210. yeeres, which remaine from that time.

Then rebate 80. yeeres from this: for so olde was Moses when hee conducted the Israelites from Egypt.

So the rest of the yeeres, that is to say, 130. are diuided betwixt Amram and Chath.

Then Cath begate Amram at his age of 67. yeeres.

Amram being 65. yeeres, begate Moses, who in the 80. yeere of his age departed with the Israelites from Egypt.

So this supputation is the 430. yeeres mentioned in the twelfth of Exodus, and the third to the Galatians.

From the going of the Israelites from Egypt vnto the first building of the Temple, are 480. yeeres, after this supputation and account.

Moses remained in the desert or wilderness fortie yeeres.

Iosue and Othniel ruled 40. yeeres.

Aioch 70. yeeres.

Debora 40. yeeres.

Gedeon 40. yeeres.

Abimelech 3. yeeres.

Thola 13. yeeres.

Iair 22. yeeres.

Then were they without a captaine vnto the eightene yeere of Iaphte.

Iephthe 6. yeeres.

Abisam 7. yeeres.

Elon 10. yeeres.

Abaron 8. yeeres.

Heli Iudge and Priest 44. yeeres.

Samuel and Saul reigned 40. yeeres.

David was king 40. yeeres.

Salomon the fourth yeere of his reigne began the building of his Temple. These are the 480. yeeres mentioned in the first of the Kings, and the first Chapter.

From the first building of the Temple vnto the captiuitie of Babylon are 419. yeeres & an halfe. Salomon yet reigned 36. yeeres.

Roboam 17. yeeres.

Abia 3. yeeres.

Asa 41. yeeres.

Iosaphat 25. yeeres.

Ioram 8. yeeres.

Ochozias one yeere.

Athaliah the Queene 7. yeeres.

Iôas 40. yeeres.

Amasias 20. yeeres.

Ozias 52. yeeres.

Iothan 16. yeeres.

Ahas 16. yeeres.

Ezechias 29. yeeres.

Manasses 55. yeeres.

Amon two yeeres.

Iosias 31. yeeres.

Iochas 3. moneths.

Eliachim 12. yeeres.

Iochim, Iecouias 3. moneths.

And here beginneth the captiuitie of Babylon.

The summe of these yeeres are 419. yeeres.

Jerusalem was reedified and builded againe after the captiuitie of Babylon 143. yeeres.

The captiuitie continued 70. yeeres.

The children of Israel were deliuered and restored to their freedome in the first yeere of Cyrus.

The Temple was begun to be builded in the second yeere of the said Cyrus, and finished in the 46. yeere, which was the sixt yeere of Darius.

After that Darius had reigned 20. yeeres, Nehemias was restored to libertie, and went to build the citie, which was finished in the 32. yeere of the said Darius.

All the yeeres from building of the Temple againe, are 26. yeeres.

The whole summe of yeeres amount to 143. yeeres.

From the reedifying of the citie vnto the coming of Christ, are 483. yeeres, after this supputation or numbring.

It is mentioned in the 9. of Daniel, that Ierusalem should be built vp againe, and that from that time vnto the coming of Christ are 66. weekes, and euery weeke is reckoned for 7. yeeres.

So 69. weekes amount to 483. yeeres. For from the 32. yere of Darius vnto the 42. yeere of Augustus, in the which yere our Sauour Christ was borne, are isnt and complete so many yeeres: whereupon we reckon, that from Adam vnto Christ, are 3974. yeeres, six moneths and ten daies, and from the birth of Christ vnto this present yeere, is 1610.

Then the whole summe and number of yeeres from the beginning of the worlde vnto this present yeere of our Lord God 1610. are isnt 5584. and the said odde six moneths and ten daies.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST ACCORDING TO MATTHEW.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this history written by Matthew, Marke, Luke, and Iohn, the Spirit of God's governed their hearts, that although they were four in number, yet in effect and purpose they so conformed, as though the whole had been composed by any one of them. And albeit in style and manner of writing they be diuers, and therefore our writers more largely shew that which the other dooeth already; nevertheless in matter and argument they all tend to one end: which is, to publish to the world the favour of God toward mankind through Christ Iesus, whom the Father hath given as a pledge of his mercy and love, and for this cause they intitle their story G O S P E L; which signifies, Good tidings; forasmuch as God hath performed in deed that which the Fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof; and with most afflicted hearts embrace this incomparable treasure freely offered to us: for there is no way our consolation, no peace nor quietnesse, no felicity nor salvation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the very substance of this Gospel, and in whom all the promises are Yea, and Amen. And therefore whosoever this word is concerned the whole new Testament; but commonly we use this name for the history, which is a fine Summary of the same, containing Christ's coming in the flesh, his death and resurrection, which is the perfect summe of our salvation. Matthew, Marke, and Luke are more copious in describing his life and death: but Iohn more labourerth to set forth his doctrine, wherein both Christ's office, and also the vertue of his death and resurrection more fully appear. For without this, to know that Christ was borne, dead, and risen againe, should nothing profit vs. The which thing notwithstanding, that the three first touch partly, as he also sheweth in the first chapter of his first book; yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a most learned interpreter writeth, they describe as it were, the body, and Iohn set forth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same apostle teacheth the Gospel written by Iohn, the key, which openeth the doore to the understanding of the others: for whosoever doeth know the office, vertue, and power of Christ, shall read that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be the redeemer of the world, with most profit. Now as concerning the writers of this history, it is noted that Matthew was a Publicane or Customs gatherer, and was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue bene Peters disciple, and to haue planted the first Church at Alexandria, where he dyed the eighth yeere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Physician of Antiochia, and became Pauls disciple and fellow in all his travels: he lived fourscore and foure yeeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whom the Lord loved, the sonne of Zebedee, and brother of Iames, hee died threescore yeeres after Christ, and was buried nere to the city of Ephesus.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are foureteeen generations, and from David vntill they were caried away into Babylon, foureteeen generations: and after they were, caried away into Babylon vntill Christ foureteeen generations.

Luk. 1. 27 When as his mother Mary was * betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, shee was found with child of the holy Ghost.

Deu. 24. 1 19 Then Ioseph her husband being a iust man, and not willing to * make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But while hee thought these things, behold, the Angel of Ld appeared vnto him in a dream, saying, Ioseph the sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Mary for thy wife: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

Luk. 1. 31 21 And she shall bring forth a Sonne, and thou shalt * call his Name I E S V S: for he shall * saue his people from their sinns.

Mat. 1. 20 22 And all this was done that it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

Isa. 7. 14 23 * Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his Name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 * Then Ioseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had enioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But hee knew her not, till shee had brought forth her first borne sonne, and hee called his Name I E S V S.

CHAP. II.

1 The time and place of Christs birth. 11 The wise men offer their presents. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The young children are slaine. 23 Iosephs returne into Galilee.

Luk. 2. 6 When * Iesus then was borne at Beth-lehem in Iudea, in the daies of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the East to Ierusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Iewes, that is borne? for wee haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When king Herod heard this, he was troubled and all Ierusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, he asked of them where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Beth-lehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet.

Mat. 2. 2 6 * And thou Beth-lehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda, for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feed my people Israel.

Mat. 2. 4 7 Then Herod priuily called the wise men, and diligently enquired of them the time of the starre that appeared.

8 And sent them to Beth-lehem, saying, Go, and search diligently for the babe: and when yee haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come also and worship him.

9 * So when they had heard the king, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them: till it came and stode ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioiced with an exceeding great ioy.

Mat. 2. 11 11 And went into the house, & found the babe with Mary his mother, & fell down, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him gifts, ~~cost~~ gold, and incense, and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not goe againe to Herod, they returned into their country another way.

13 * After their departure, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I bring thee word: for Herod will seeke the babe to destroy him.

14 So hee arose and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there vnto the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the * Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

16 * Then Herod seeing that he was mocked of the Wisemen, was exceeding wroth, & sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Beth-lehem, and in all the coastes thereof, from two yere old, and vnder, according to the time which he had diligently searched out of the Wisemen.

17 Then was that fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet Ieremias, saying,

18 * In Rama was a voice heard, mourning, and weeping, and great lamentation: Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.

19 And when Herod was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth In a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the babes life.

21 Then hee arose vp and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelais did reigne in Iudea in stead of his father Herod, hee was afraid to goe thither: for yeafter hee was warned of God in a dreame, hee turned aside into the parts of Galilee.

23 And went and dwelt in a citie called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, ~~which was~~ That he should be called a Nazarite.

CHAP. III.

1 The office doctrine and life of Iohn. 7 The Pharisees are reprobated. 8 The fruits of repentance. 12 Christ is baptized in Iordan, 17 and authorized by God his father.

And * in those dayes Iohn the Baptiste came and preached in the wilderness of Iudea, for hee was at hand.

2 And I said, Repent: for the kingdom of heauen is at hand.

3 For this is he of whom it is spoken by the Prophet Eluas, saying, * The voice of him that crieth straight in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: and make his pathis straight.

4 * And this Iohn had his garment of camels haire, and a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: his meate was also locusts and wild honie.

5 * Then went out into him Ierusalem and all Iudea, and all the region round about Iordan,

6 And they were baptized of him in Iordan, confessing their sinnes.

7 Now when hee saw many of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees come to his baptism, he said vnto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruites worthy amendment of life.

9 And thinke not to say with your selues, * We haue Abraham to our Father: for I say vnto you, that

10 And now also is the axe put to the roote of the trees: * therefore euery tree which bringeth forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

13 * Then came Iesus from Galile to Iordan, vnto Iohn to be baptized of him.

14 But Iohn put him backe, saying, I haue need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 Then Iesus answering, said to him, Let be now, for thus it becometh vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. So he suffered him.

16 And Iesus whē he was baptized, came straight out of the water, and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn saw the spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting vpon him.

17 And Iohn, a voice came from heauen, saying, * This is my * beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The Angels minister vnto him. 17 Her beginning to preach. 18 He calleth Peter, Andrew, James and Iohn, and beareth all the flocke.

1 Then * was Iesus led aside of the Spirit into the wildernesse, to be tempted of the deuill.

2 And when he had fasted forty daies, and forty nights, he was afterward hangry.

3 Then came to him the tempter and said, If thou be the Sonne of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answering, said, It is written, * Man shall not liue by bread only but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into the holy Citie, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple,

6 And said vnto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thy selfe downe: for it is written, * that he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee, & with their hands they shall liſt thee vp lest at any time thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Iesus said vnto him, It is written againe, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the deuill tooke him vp vnto an exceeding high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world, and the glory of them,

9 And said to him, All these will I giue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship mee.

10 Then said Iesus vnto him, Auoid Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serue.

11 * Then the deuill left him: and beholde, the Angels came and ministered vnto him.

12 * And when Iesus had heard that Iohn was deliuered vp, he returned into Galile, 13 And leauing Nazareth, went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is neere the sea, in the borders of Zabulon, and Nephthalim.

14 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Elias the Prophet, saying,

15 * The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim by the way of the sea, beyond Iordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

16 The people which sat in darkness, saw great light, and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is risen vpon.

17 * From that time Iesus began to preach, and to say, Amend your lines: for the kingdom of heauen is at hand.

18 * And Iesus walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers)

19 And he said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway leauing the nets, followed him.

21 And when hee was gone forth from thence, hee saw other two brethren, James the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father mending their nets, and he called them.

22 And they without tarrying, leauing the ship, and their father followed him.

23 So Iesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing euery sickness and euery disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroad through all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people, that were taken with diuers diseases, and gripings, and them that were possessed with deuils, and those which were lunatique, and those that had the palsey: and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and Decapolis, and Ierusalem, and Iudea, and from beyond Iordan.

CHAP. V.

And when he saw the multitude, he went vp into a mountaine: and when he was set, his disciples came to him.

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 * Blessed are the poore in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.

4 * Blessed are they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.

5 * Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which hunger and thirst for righteousness: for they shall be filled.

10 Blessed are they * which suffer persecution for righteousness sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.

11 * Blessed are ye when men reuile you, & persecute you, and say all manner of euill against you for my sake, gladly.

12 Reioyce and be glad for great is your reward in heauen: for so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

 time, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie;

Exod. 20. 28 But I say vnto you, That whosoever looketh
 14. 10. on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adul-
 13. 9. tery alreidy with her in his heart.

1. Cor. 7. 29 * Wherefore if thy right eye cause thee to of-
 9. 47. fend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: for better
 30. 16. is it for thee, that one of thy members perish, [than
 31. 16. that thy whole body should be cast into hell.]

30 Also if thy right hand make thee to offend, cut it off and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath beene said also, * Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him giue her a testimoniall of di-uorcement.

Mat. 16. 18 32 But I say vnto you, Whosoever shall put away
 1. 1. 1. his wife (except it be for fornication) caueth her to
 1. 1. 1. commit adulterie: and whosoever shall marrie her
 1. 1. 1. that is divorced, committeth adulterie.

33 Again, ye haue heard that it was said to them of old time, * Thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe thine othes to the Lord.

Mat. 5. 11 34 But I say vnto you, Swear not at all, neither by heauen, for it is the thime of Gods:

35 Not yet by the earth: for it is his footstool:
 neither by Ierusalem: for it is the cite of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou sweare by thine head, because thou canst not make one haire white or blacke.

37 * But let your communication be Yea, yea:
 Nay, nay: For whatsoever is more than these, commeth of euill.

38 * Ye haue heard that it hath beene said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say vnto you, * Resist not euill: but whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheeke, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the lawe, and take away thy coat, let him haue thy cloake also.

41 And whosoever will compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twaine.

42 * Giue to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee, turne not away.

43 Ye haue heard that it hath beene said, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say vnto you, * Loue your enemies:
 blisse them that curse you: doe good to them that hate you, * and pray for them which [hurt] you and persecute you,

45 * That ye may be the children of your Father that is in heauen: for hee maketh his Sonne to arise on the euill, and the good: and sendeth raine on the iust, and vniust.

46 * For if ye loue them which loue you, what reward shall you haue? Doe not the Publicanes euen the same?

47 And if ye be friendly to your brethren only, what singular thing doe ye doe? euen the Publi-cans likewise?

48 Yee shall therefore be perfect, as your Father which is in heauen, is perfect.

1 Of almes. 5 Prayer. 14 Forgiving one another.
 16 Fasting. 19 Hee forbiddeth the carefull seeking of worldly things, and willes men to put their whole trust in him.

TAKE heed that you giue not your almes before men, to be seene of them: else ye shall haue no reward of your Father which is in heauen.

2 * Wherefor: when thou giuest thine almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee, as the hypocrites doe in the Synagogues and in the streets, to be praised of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest thine almes, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth,

4 That thine almes may be in secret, and thy Father which is in secret, hee will reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, bee not as the hypocrites: for they loue to stand and pray in the Synagogues, & in the corners of the streets, because they would be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber, and when thou hast shut thy doore pray vnto thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which is in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 Also when ye pray, use no vaine repetitions, as the heathen: for they thinke to be heard for their much babbling.

8 Be ye not like them therefore: for your Father knoweth whereof ye haue need before ye aske of him.

26 And he layde vnto them, Why are ye fearfull, O ye of litle faith? Then he arose, mailed, and glorified God, which had given such authority to men.

he saw a man sitting in the street of custome named Mathewe, and said to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at meate in his house, beholde, many Publicanes and sinners, that came thither, sat downe at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharises saw that, they said to his disciples, Why eateth your Master with Publicanes and sinners?

12 Now when Iesus heard it, he said vnto them, The whole neede not a physician, but they that are sicke.

Mose 6.6. chap. 12.7. 1 Tim. 1.15. 13 But goe ye and learne what this is, * I will haue mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

Mark. 2. 18. luke 5.33. 14 * Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why doe we and the Pharises fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus said vnto them, Can the children of the mariage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? But the dayes will come when the bridegrome shalbe taken from them, and then shall they fast.

Or, raine and vndrefsed. 16 Moreover no man pieceth an olde garment with a piece of newe cloth: for that that should fill it vp, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

Or, bottles of leather or skin, where wine was caried on asses, or camels. 17 Neither do they put newe wine into old vessels: for then y vessels would breake, and the wine would be spilt, and the vessels should perish: but they put newe wine into new vessels, and so are both preserved.

Marke 5.22. luke 8.41. 18 * While he thus spake vnto them, beholde, there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased, but come and lay thine hande on her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose and folowed him with his disciples.

20 And beholde, a woman which was distressed with an yssue of blood twelue yeeeres, came behinde him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she said in her selfe, If I may touch but his garment onely, I shalbe whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, did saye, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that houre.)

23 Nowe when Iesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the minstrels and the multitude making noise, 24 He said vnto them, Get you hence: for the maide is not dead, but sleepech. And they laughed him to skorne.

25 And whē the multitude were put forth, he went in and tooke her by the hande, and the maide arose.

26 And this brute went throughout all that land.

27 And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, & saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde came to him, and Iesus saide vnto them, Beleeue ye that I am able to doe this?

And they said vnto him, Yea Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Iesus charged them, saying, See ye no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroade his fame throughout all that land.

Luke 11.14. 32 * And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a demente man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the demente spake: then the multitude marvelled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

luke 11. 15. Marke 6. 6. 35 * And Iesus went about all cities and townes, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospell of the kingdom, and healing euery sickenes and euery disease among the people.

Marke 6.34. 36 But when he sawe the multitude, he had compassion vpon them, because they were dispersed, and scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepheard.

37 Then saide he to his disciples, * Surely the harvest is great, but the labourers are few.

Iohn 4.35.36 38 Wherefore pray the Lorde of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers in.

CHAP. X.

5 Christ sendeth out his Apostles to preach in Iudea. 7 Hee giueth them charge, teacheth them, and comforteth them against persecution. 20 The holy Ghost speaketh by his ministers. 28 Whome we ought to feare. 30 Our heares are counted. 32 To confesse Christ. 37 Nos to loue our parents more then Christ. 38 To take up our crosse. 39 To saue or lose the life. 40 To receiue the preachers.

Marke 3. 13. luke 9. 1. And he called his twelue disciples vnto him, & gaue them power against vnclane spirites, to cast them out, and to heale euery sickenes, and euery disease.

2 Now the names of the twelue Apostles are these. The first is Simon, called Peter, and Andrewe his brother, James the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother:

3 Phillip and Bartlemewe: Thomas, and Matthewe the Publicane: James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Lebbeus whose surname was Thaddæus:

4 Simon the Canonite, and Iudas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelue did Iesus send forth, and commanded them, saying, Goe not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the cities of the Samaritans enter ye not:

Mat. 13. 44. 6 But go rather to the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

Luke 10. 9. 7 * And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdome of heauen is at hand.

Marke 6. 8. luke 9. 3. 6. 8 Heale the sicke: cleanse the lepers: raise vp the dead: cast out the deuils. Freely ye haue receiued, freely giue.

Or, provide not for. 9 * Possesse not gold, nor siluer, nor money in your girdels,

Or, provide not for.

1. Tim. 5. 18. Non a stipendio sed de laudibus. Neither for two coates, neither shoes, nor a staffe. * And the workeman is worthy of his meat.

Luke 10. 8. 2. And * into whatsoever citie he cometh ye shall come, enquire who is worthy in it, and there abide till ye go shewes.

3. And when ye come into an house, salute the house.

4. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace returne to you.

5. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor heare your wordes, when ye depart out of that house, or that citie, * shake off the dust of your feete.

6. Truly I say vnto you, ite shall be easier for them of the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

7. Behold, I send you as sheepe in the midstes of wolues: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and as innocēt as doves.

8. But beware of men; for they will deliquet you vp to the Councils; and will scourge you in their Synagogues.

9. And ye shall be brought to the gonerones, & kings for my sake, in witnes to them, and to the Gentiles.

10. * But when they deliquet you vp, take no thought how or what ye shall speake: for ite shall be giuen you in that houre, what ye shall say.

11. For it is not ye that speake, but the spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

12. And the * brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to dye.

13. And ye shall be hated of all men for my Name: * but he that endureth to the end, he shall be saved.

14. And when they persecute you in this citie, flee into another: for verely I say vnto you, ye shall not finish all the cities of Israel, till the Sonne of man be come.

15. * The discipule is not above his master, nor the seruāt above his Lord.

16. It is enough for the discipule to be as his master is, and the seruāt as his Lord. * If they haue called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more them of his household?

17. Feare them not therefore: * for there is nothing couered, that shall not be disclosed, nor hid, that shall not be known.

18. What I tell you in darknes, that speake ye in light: and what ye heare in the eare, that preach ye on the houes.

19. And feare ye not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soule: but rather feare him, which is able to destroye both soule and body in hell.

20. Are not two sparowes sold for a farthing, and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father?

21. * Yes, and all the heares of your head are numbered.

22. Feare ye not therefore; ye are of more value then many sparowes.

23. * Whosoener therefore shall confesse me before men, him will I confesse also before my Father, which is in heauen.

24. But whosoever shall denie me before men, him will I also denie before my Father, which is in heauen.

25. * Think not that I am come to sende peace into y^e earth: I came not to sende peace, but the sword.

26. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in lawe against her nupter in lawe.

27. * And a mans enemies shall be they of his owne household.

28. * He that loueth father or mother more then me, is not worthy of me. And he that loveth sonne or daughter more then me, is not worthy of me.

29. * And he that taketh not his crosse, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

30. Hee that will save his life, shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall save it.

31. He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that hath sent me.

32. * Hee that receiveth a Prophet in the name of a Prophet, shall receive a Prophets rewarde: and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receive the rewarde of a righteous man.

33. * And whosoever shall give vnto one of these litle ones to drinke a cuppe of colde water onely, in the name of a discipule, verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his rewarde.

Or, sing mournfully. 17 And say, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced; we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not lamented.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuill.

19 The Sonne of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Beholde a glutton and a drinker of wine, a friend vnto Publicanes and sinners: but wisdom is iustified of her children.

Luke 10. 13 20 ¶ Then began he to vpbraide the cities, wherein most of his great workes were done, because they repented not.

21 Wo be to thee, Chorazin: Wo be to thee, Bethsaida: for if the great workes, which were done in you, had bene done in Tyrus and Sidon, they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

31 Christ exorciseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne. 32 He healeth the dried hande. 33 Helpeth she possessed that was blinde and dumme. 34 Blasphemie. 35 The generation of eperis. 36 Of idle wordes. 37 He rebuketh the vnfaithfull that would murder hane Iohns. 38 And sheweth who is his brother, sister and mother.

31 ¶ That time Iesus went on a Sabbath day through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne and to eate. Mark 2. 23.

32 And when the Pharises sawe it, they said vnto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawfull to do vpon the Sabbath. Luke 6. 1.

33 But he saide vnto them, * Haue ye not read what David did when hee was an hungred, and they that were with him? 1. Sam. 21.

35 Or haue ye not read in the Law howe that on the Sabbath dayes the Priests in the Temple breake the Sabbath, & are blameles? Leuit. 23. 1.

36 But I say vnto you, that here is one greater then the Temple. Nam. 28. 9

37 Wherefore if ye knewe what this is, * I woulde haue mercy, and not sacrifice, ye woulde not haue condemned the innocents. chap. 9. 13.

38 For the Sonne of man is Lorde, euen of the Sabbath.

39 * And he departed thence, and went into their Synagogue: Mark 3. 1.

40 And beholde, there was a man which had his hande dried vp. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale vpon a Sabbath day? that they might accuse him. Luke 6. 6.

41 And he said vnto them, What man shal there be among you, that shal haue a sheepe, and if it fall on a Sabbath daye into a pit, will not he take it and lift it out?

42 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? therefore, it is lawfull to doe well on a Sabbath day.

43 Then said he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth, and it was made whole as the other. Mark 3. 1.

44 Then the Pharises went out, and consulted against him, howe they might destroy him.

45 But when Iesus knewe it, he departed thence, and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

46 And charged them that they shoulde not make him knowne.

47 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

48 Behold my seruant whom I haue chosen, my beloued in whom my soule delighteth: I will put my Spirit on him, and he shal shewe iudgement to the Gentiles. Isa. 42. 1.

49 He shal not stryue, nor cry, neither shal any man heare his voyce in the streets.

35 But Iesus knew their thoughtes, and sayd to them, Euery kingdome deuied against it selfe, shalbe brought to nought; and euery citie or house, deuied against it selfe, shal not stand.

36 So if Satan cast out Satan, he is deuied against him selfe; how shal then his kingdome endure?

37 Also if I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your iudges.

38 But if I cast out deuils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdome of God come vnto you.

50 ¶ For as Ionas was three dayes & three nightes in the whales bellie; so shal the Sonne of man be three dayes and three nightes in the heart of the earth.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The flate of the kingdome of God, set forth by the parable of the seede. 24 Of the tares. 30 Of the mustards seede. 37 Of the lea. 44 Of the treasure hid in the feld. 45 Of the pearles. 47 And of the net. 57 The Prophet is condemn'd in his owne country.

¶ He same day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

2 And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, & sate down: and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sowe.

4 And as he sowed, some fel by the wayes side, and the foules came and deuoured them vp.

5 And some fel vpon stonie ground, where they had not much earth; & anon they sprong vp, because they had no depth of earth.

6 And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting withered away.

7 And some fel among thornes, and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

8 Some againe fel in good ground, and brought forth fruite, one hundred fold, and threescore fold, and fiftie fold.

Ggg iij. folde.

10. ¶ Then the disciples came, and sayd to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables? ¶ He answered and sayd vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

11. ¶ For whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but who so euer hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

12. ¶ Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

13. ¶ So in them is fulfilled the prophetic of Ezechias, which prophetic saith, *By hearing, ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, & seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.

14. ¶ For this peoples heart is waxed fatte, and their eares are dull of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, lest they should see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their hearts, and should returne, that I might heale them.

15. ¶ But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

16. ¶ For euery I say vnto you, that many Prophets, & righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

17. ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

18. ¶ Whensoever a man heareth the word of the kingdome, & vnderstandeth it not, the euill one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sowne in his heart: and this is he which hath receiued the seed by y way side.

19. ¶ And he that receiued seed in the stony ground, is he which heareth the worde, and incontinently with ioy receiueth it.

20. ¶ Yet hath he no roote in him selfe, and dureth but a season: for as soon as tribulation or persecution cometh, he causeth the word, by and by he is offended.

21. ¶ And he that receiueth the seed among thornes, is he that heareth the word: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke y word, & he is made vnfriutfull.

22. ¶ But he that receiueth the seed in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, & vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixtie fold, and some thirtie fold.

23. ¶ An other parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

24. ¶ But while men slept, there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

25. ¶ And when the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

26. ¶ Then came the seruants of the householder, and said vnto him, Master, sowdest thou thou good seede in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

27. ¶ And he sayd to them, The euill one hath done this. Then the seruants sayd vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

28. ¶ But he sayd, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheate.

29. ¶ Let both grow together, vntill the harvest, and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and binde them in sheaves to burne them: but gather the wheate into my barn.

30. ¶ Another parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field.

31. ¶ Which in deed is the least of all seed: but when it is growen, it is y greatest among herbes, & it is a tree, so that the birdes of the heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

32. ¶ Another parable spake he to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three peckes of meale, til all be leauened.

33. ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, and without parables spake he not to them.

34. ¶ That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, *I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

35. ¶ Then sent Iesus the multitude away, & went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

36. ¶ Then answered he, & sayd to them, He that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man.

37. ¶ And the field is the worlde, and the good seed, they are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of the wicked.

38. ¶ And the enemy that soweth them, is the deuill, & the harvest is the end of the world, and the reapers he the Angels.

39. ¶ As then the tares are gathered, & burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this worlde.

40. ¶ The Sonne of man shall send forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdome all things that offende, and them which doe iniquitie.

41. ¶ And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

42. ¶ Then shall the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

43. ¶ Again the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, and for ioy thereof departeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

44. ¶ Again the kingdome of heauen is like to a merchant man, that seeketh good pearls,

45. Who

45 Who having found a pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

47 ¶ Again the kingdomes of heauen is like vnto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men drawe to land, and sit downe and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be in the end of the world. The Angels shall goe forth, and seuer the bad from among the iust.

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ Iesus sayd vnto them, Vnderstande ye all these things: They sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then sayd he vnto them, Therefore every scribe which is taught vnto the kingdomes of heauen, is like vnto an houlholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both newe and olde.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, he departed thence.

54 ¶ And came into his owne countrey, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astounded, and sayd, Whence cometh this wisdom, & great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie, & his brethren

56 And are not his sisters, all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus sayd to them, ¶ A Prophet is not without honour, save in his owne countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefe sake.

¶ Herods opinion concerning Christ. To Iohn he beheaded. 19 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 23 He prayeth in the mountaine. 25 He appeareth by night vnto his disciples upon the Sea. 31 And sanctifieth Peter. 33 They confesse him to be the Sonne of God. 36 He healeth all that touched the hemme of his garment.

¶ That time Herod the Tetrarch heard of the fame of Iesus,

2 And sayd vnto his seruants, This is Iohn Baptist: he is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great workes are wrought by him.

3 ¶ For Herod had taken Iohn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For Iohn sayd vnto him, It is not lawful for thee to haue her.

5 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.

6 But when Herods birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herod.

7 Wherefore he promised with an othe, that he would giue her whatsoeuer she would aske.

8 And she being before instructed of her mother, said, Giue me here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.

9 And the King was fowle: nevertheless because of the othe, & them that sate with him at the table, he commanded it to be giuen her.

10 And seer, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and giuen to the waide, and she brought it vnto her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his body, and buried it, and went, & tolde

13 ¶ And when Iesus heard it, he departed thence by shippe into a desert place apart: And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him a foote out of the cities.

14 And Iesus went forth and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when euen was come, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the houre is alreadye past: let the multitude depart, that they may go into the townes, and bye them viuals.

16 But Iesus sayd to them, They haue no neede to go away: giue ye them to eate.

17 Then said they vnto him, We haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.

19 ¶ And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, & tooke the five loaves & the two fishes, & looked vp to heauen and blessed, & brake, and gaue the loaves to his disciples, & the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eate, & were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and little children.

22 ¶ And straightway Iesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, & to go oner before him, while he sent the multitude away.

23 And as soone as he had sent the multitude away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrarye winde.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when his disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and cryed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort. It is I: be not affrayde.

28 Then Peter answered him, & sayd, Master, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he sayd, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Iesus.

30 But when he saw a mightie winde, he was afraide: & as he began to sinke, he cryed, Ggg iiii. saying, ¶ Christ exhorteth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes, and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandment by their vaine traditions.

13 The plants that shall be rooted out;

18 What things defile a man. 22 He denieth the women of Canaanites daughters;

26 The bread of the children. 30 He healeth the sicke. 36 And feedeth foure thousand men, beside women and children.

¶ Then came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharisees, which were of Ierusalem, saying,

15 ¶ Then answered Peter, & said to him,

Defilement is in this perible. ¶ Then sayd Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding?

17 Next time ye not yet, that whatsoever entereth into the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceede out of the mouth, come from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 For out of thy heart come euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, theftes, false testimonies, slanders, 20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eate with vnclean hands, defileth not the man.

21 ¶ And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyrys and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cryed, saying vnto him, Haue mercie on me, O Lord, the sonne of Dauid; my daughter is miserably tormented with a deuil, 23 But he answered her not a word. Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for the cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and sayd, I am not sent, but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

¶ Yet she came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

25 And he answered, and sayd, It is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to whelkes.

27 But he sayd, Truth, Lord; yet in deed thou whelpest out of the crommes, which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and sayd, vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 ¶ So Iesus went away from thence, and came neere vnto the sea of Galilee, and went vp into a mountaine and sat downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them, halt, blinde, domme, maimed, and many other, and cast them downe at Iesus feet, and he healed them.

31 Inasmuch that the multitude wondered, to see the domme speake, the maimed whole, the halt to goe, and the blinde to see; and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and said, I haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me already three dayes, & haue nothing to eate; and I wil not let them depare fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples said vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in this wilderness, as should suffice so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Howe many loaves haue ye? And they sayd, Seuen, and a few little fishes.

35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground,

36 And tooke the seuen loaves, and the fishes, and gave thanks, & brake them, & gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all rate, and were full: and they took vp of the fragments that remained, seuen baskets full.

38 And they had eate, were foure thousand men, beside women and little children.

39 Then Iesus sent away the multitude, and tooke ship, and came into the partes of Magdala.

40 The Pharisees require a token, & Iesus answered his disciples of the Pharisees doctrine.

41 The childe of Peter: 19 The keys of heauen: 20 The faithful must beare the crosse: 21 To winer in the life: 22 Christs comming.

23 Then came the Pharisees and Sadducees, and did tempt him, desiring him to shewe them a signe from heauen.

24 But he answered, and said vnto them, When it is evening, ye say, Faire weather: for the skie is red.

25 And in the morning ye say, To day shall be a tempest: for the skie is red and lowering. O hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the skie, and can ye not discerne the signes of the times?

26 The wicked generation and adulterous seeketh a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen it, but the signe of the Prophet Jonas: for he left them, and departed.

27 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

28 Then Iesus said vnto them, Take heede and beware of y leauen of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

29 And they thought in themselves, saying, It is because we haue brought no bread.

30 But Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, O ye of little faith, why thinke ye thus in your selves, because ye haue brought no bread?

31 Doe ye not yet perceiue, neither remember the seuen loaves, when there were* five thousand men, and how many baskets tooke ye vp?

32 Neither the seuen loaves when there were* foure thousand men, and how many baskets tooke ye vp?

33 Why perceiue ye not, that I said not vnto you concerning bread, y ye should be aware of y leauen of y Pharisees & Sadducees?

34 Then understood they that he had not said, that they should be aware of the leauen of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and Sadducees.

35 Nowe when Iesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom doe men say that I, the sonne of man am?

36 And they said, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some, Elias: and others, Ieremias, or one of the Prophets.

37 He said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am?

38 Then Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

39 And Iesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for flesh and blood hath not reuealed it vnto thee, but my Father: which is in heauen.

40 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art* Peter, and vpon this rocke I will build my Church: and the gates of hell shall not ouercome it.

41 And I will giue vnto thee the keys of the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoever thou shalt binde vpon earth, shall be bound in heauen: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

42 Then he charged his disciples, that they should tel no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

43 From that time forth Iesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Ierusalem, & suffer many things of the Elders, & of the high Priests, and Scribes, & be slaine: and rise againe the third day.

44 Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pittie thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.

45 Then he turned backe, and said vnto Peter, Get thee behinde me, Satan: thou art an offence vnto me, because thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

46 Iesus then said to his disciples, If any man will followe me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and followe me.

47 For* whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, shall finde it.

48 For what shall it profite a man, though he should winne the whole world, if he lose his owne soule, or what shall a man gaine for recompence of his soule?

49 For the sonne of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels, & then shall he giue to euery man according to his decedes.

50 Verely I say vnto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Sonne of man come in his kingdome.

18 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

19 And he answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, & one for Moses, and one for Elias.

20 While he yet spake, beholde, a bright cloude shadowed them; and beholde, there came

6 And when the disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were for a while.

7 Then Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And whē they lifted vp their eyes, they sawe no man, save Iesus onely.

9 And as they came downe from the mountaine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shew no man this, vntill the Sonne of man rise againe from the dead.

Mark. 9. 11. * And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come? (chap. 11. 14. mathe. 4. 5.)

10 And Iesus answered, and said vnto the, Certainly Elias must first come; and restore all things.

11 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already; and they knewe him not; but haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would: Likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

12 Then the disciples perceiued that he spake vnto them of Iohn Baptist.

Mark. 9. 24. 17. Luke 9. 28.

13 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certaine man, and kneeled downe to him.

14 And saide, Master, haue pitty on my sonne: for he is lunaticke, and is sore vexed: for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, & oftentimes into the water.

15 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.

16 Then Iesus answered, and said, O generation faithles, and crooked, how long nowe shall I be with you? howe long nowe shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

17 And Iesus rebuked the deuil, and he went out of him: and the childe was healed at that houre.

18 Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

19 And Iesus saide vnto them, Because of your vnbeliefe: for verely I say vnto you, If ye haue faith as much as a graine of mustard seede, ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Removee hence to yonder place, & it shall remove: & nothing shall be vnpossible vnto you.

20 Howbeit, this kinde goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

21 * And as they abode in Galilee, Iesus said vnto them, The Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

22 And they shall kill him, but the thirds day shall he rise againe: and they were very marke. 9. 31. fory.

23 * And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued polle money, came to Peter, and said, Doeth not your master pay tribute?

24 He saide, Yes, And when he was come into the house, Iesus preuented him, saying, What thinkest thou Simon? Of whom do the Kings of the earth take tribute, or polle money? of their children, or of strangers?

25 Peter said vnto him, Of strangers. The said Iesus vnto him, Then are thy childre free, 26 Neuerthelesse, lest we should offende them, goe to the sea, and cast in an angell, and take the first fish that cometh vp; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, and giue it vnto them for mee and thee.

10 * At the same time, the disciples came vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heauen?

11 And Iesus called a little child, and set him in the middles of them.

12 And said, Verely I say vnto you, except ye be conuerted, and become as little childre, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heauen.

13 * Who soeuer therefore shall humble himselfe as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdom of heauen.

14 And who soeuer shall receiue such a little childe in My Name, receiuethe me.

15 * But who soeuer shall offend one of these little ones which beleue in mee, it were better for him, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

16 * Wo be vnto the world because of offences: for it must needs be that offences shall come, but woe be to that man, by whom the offence cometh.

17 * Wherefore if thine hand or thy foote cause thee to offend, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halte, or maymed, then hauing two hands or two feete, to be cast into euellasting fyre.

18 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fyre.

19 See that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their Angels alwaies beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

20 * For the Sonne of man is come to save that which was lost.

21 How thinke ye? If a man haue an hundred sheepe, & one of them be gone astray, doeth he not leaue ninetie and nine, and goe into the mountaines, and seeke that which is gone astray?

22 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyeth more of y sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

23 So is it not the will of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these little ones should perish.

John 20. 23.

21. Then came Peter to him, and said, Master, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I shall forgive him? vnto seven times?

22. Iesus said vnto him, I say not to thee, vnto seven times, but vnto seuentie times, seuen times.

23. Therefore is the kingdome of heaven likened vnto a certaine king, which would take account of his seruants.

24. And when he had begonne to recken, one was brought vnto him, which ought him ten thousand talents.

25. And because he had nothing to pay, his master commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and the dette to be payed.

26. The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Appease thine anger towards me, and I will pay thee all.

27. Then char seruants master had compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the dette.

28. But when the seruant was departed, he founde one of his fellowes, which ought him an hundreth pence, and he laide hands on him, and tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29. Then his fellow fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Appease thine anger towards me, and I will pay thee all.

30. Yet he woulde not, but went and cast him into prison, til he should pay the dette.

31. And when his other fellowes saw what was done, they were very fory, & came and declared vnto their master al that was done.

32. Then his master called him, and sayd to him, O thou seruant, I forgave thee all that dette, because thou prayedst me.

33. Oughtest thou also to haue had pitie on thy fellow, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34. So his master was wroth, & deliuered him to the iaylers, til he should paye all that was due to him.

35. So likewise shall mine heavenly Father doe vnto you, except ye forgive from your hearts, each one to his brother their trespasses.

36. Christ sheweth for what cause women may be divorced. 1. Canonicall law is a gift of Gods.

2. He that receiveth this shalder, is a child of the wrath of God. 3. That rich man that is afraid to be saved. 4. His promise, him which shall leave left off to follow him, life everlasting.

5. A No. 1. it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished those sayings, he departed from Galile, and came into the coastes of Iudea beyond Iordan.

6. And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

7. Then came vnto him y. Pharisies, tempting him, and saying to him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for every fantasy?

8. And he answered, and saide vnto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male & female?

9. And sayde, For this cause shall a man leave father & mother: and cleave vnto his wife, and they twaine shall be one flesh.

10. Wherefore they are no more twaine, but one flesh. Let not man therefore put asunder that which God hath coupled together.

11. They saide to him, Why doth then Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away?

12. He saide vnto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your heart, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

13. I say therefore vnto you, that whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, & marry another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marryeth her, which is divorced, doeth commit adultery.

14. Then saide his disciples to him, If this matter be so betweene man and wife, it is not good to marrie.

15. But he saide vnto them, All men cannot receive this thing, save they to whom it is given.

16. For there are some chaste, which were so borne of their mothers belly: and there be some chaste, which be made chaste by men: and there be some chaste, which haue made themselves chaste for the kingdome of heaven. He that is able to receive this, let him receive it.

17. ¶ Then were brought to him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

18. But Iesus said, Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come to me: for of such is the kingdome of heaven.

19. And when he had put his hands on them, he departed thence.

20. ¶ And beholde, one came, and saide vnto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I doe, that I may haue eternall life?

21. And he saide vnto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, euen God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keepe the commandments.

22. He saide to him, Which? And Iesus said, These, Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not commit adultery: Thou shalt not steale:

Thou shalt not bear false witness: Thou shalt honour thy father and thy mother: which is the first and greatest commandment.

23. And Iesus said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind, with all thy strength, with all thy might: and thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: these are the commandments, that if thou doest them, thou shalt abide in him, that thou mayest have eternall life.

24. Then saide he to him, Which of these?

25. Iesus said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind, with all thy strength, with all thy might: and thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: these are the commandments, that if thou doest them, thou shalt abide in him, that thou mayest have eternall life.

20 The young man said vnto him, I haue observed all these things from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus saide vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go, sell that thou hast, and giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, and follow me.

22 And when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 Then Iesus saide vnto his disciples, Verily I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

26 And Iesus behelde them, and said vnto them, With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or landes, for my names sake, he shall receiue an hundred fold more; and shall inherite euermlasting life.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christe teacheth by a similitude, that God's better vnto no man, & how he alwaye calleth men to his labour: 2 He admonisheth them of his passion: 3 He teacheth his to flee ambition: 4 Christ payeth our ransom: 5 He giueth two blisse men their fight.

6 Or the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine householder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire labourers into his vineyard.

7 And he agreed with the labourers for a penie a day, and sent them into his vineyard.

8 And he went out about the third houre, and sawe other standing idle in the market place,

9 And said vnto them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

10 Againe he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, and did likewise.

11 And he went about the eleventh houre, and founde other standing idle, and said vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

12 They saide vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receiue.

13 And when noon was come, the master of the vineyard said vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

14 And they which were hired about the eleventh houre, came and receiued every man a penie.

15 Now when the first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penie.

16 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house,

17 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, which haue borne the burden, and heate of the day.

18 And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a penie?

19 Take that which is thine owne, and go thy way: I will giue vnto this last, as much as to thee.

20 Is it not lawfull for mee to doe as I will with mine owne? Is thine eye euill because I am good?

21 So the last shall be first, & the first last: for many are called, but fewe chosen.

22 And Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, and tooke the twelve disciples aparte in the way, and said vnto them,

23 Beholde, we goe vp to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the chiefe Priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death,

24 And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles, to mocke, and to scourge, and to crucifie him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

25 Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

26 And he said vnto her, What wouldest thou? She said to him, Grant that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, & the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

27 And Iesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I shall be baptized with?

28 They said to him, We are able.

29 And he said vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deede of my cup, and shall be baptized with the baptism, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, & at my left hand, is not mine to giue: but it shall be giue to them, for whom it is prepared of my Father.

30 And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

31 Therefore Iesus called them vnto him, and saide, Ye knowe that the Lordes of the Gentiles haue domination ouer the, and they that are great, exercise authoritie ouer the,

32 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your servant,

33 And whosoever will be this so among you,

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, O Lorde, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on vs.

32 Then Iesus stood still, & called them, & said, What wilt thou that I should do to you?

33 They sayd to him, Lorde, that our eyes may be opened.

34 And Iesus moued with compassion, touched their eyes, and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, saye ye, that the Lorde hath neede of them, and straightway he will let them go.

7 And brought the asse & the colt, and put on them their clothes, and set him thereon.

8 And a great multitude spred their garments in the way, and other cut downe branches fro the trees, & strawed them in y way.

9 Moreover, the people that went before, & they also that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid: blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lorde, Hosanna vnto which art in the heift beauen.

14 Then the blinde, and the halt came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 But when the chiefe Priests & Scribes sawe the maruelles that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, & saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid, they dishained him.

16 And sayd vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Iesus saide vnto them, Yea: read ye neuer, * By the mouth of babes & sucklings thou hast made perfitt the prayser?

17 ¶ So he left them, & went out of the citie vnto Bethanias, and lodged there.

18 And * in the morning, as he returned into the citie, he was hangrie.

19 And seeing a figge tree in y way, he came to it, & found nothing thereon, but leaues only, & said to it, Neuer fruite grow on thee hence forwards. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples sawe it, they marueiled, saying, Howe soone is the fig tree withered!

21 And Iesus answered & said vnto them, * Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shall not onely do that which I haue done to the fig tree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And whatsoever ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleuee, ye shall receiue it.

23 ¶ And when hee was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests, and the Elders of y people came vnto him, as he was teaching, and said, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered & sayd vnto the, I also wil aske of you a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

25 The baptisme of Iohn whence was it? from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shal say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleuee him?

26 And if we saye, Of men, we feare the people: * for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, & sayd, We can not tel. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, & came to the elder, & sayd, Sonne, go & worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 But he answered & said, I wil not: yet afterward he repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came he to the second, and sayd likewise. And he answered, & said, I wil, sirs: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They said vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes & the harlots shall go before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteowness, & ye beleueed him not: but the Publicanes, & the harlots beleueed him, & ye, though ye sawe in, were not moued with repentance afterward, that ye might beleuee him.

34. And when the time of the fruite drawe nere, he sent his seruants to the husband men to receiue the frutes thereof.

35. And the husband men tooke his seruants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36. Againe he sent other seruants, mo then the first, and they did the like vnto them.

37. But last of all he sent vnto the his owne sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38. But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they said among themselves, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance.

39. So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and flew him.

40. When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shal come, what will he do to those husbandmen?

41. They sayd vnto him, He wil cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shal deliuer him the frutes in their seasons.

42. Iesus said vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which the baylders refused, the same is made the head of the corner? This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43. Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shal be taken from you, and shal be giuen to a nation, which shall bring forth the frutes thereof.

44. * And whosoever shal fall on this stone, he shal be broken; but on whome soeuer it shal fall, it wil grinde him to powder.

45. And when the chiefe Priests & Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

46. And they seeking to lay hands on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

1. The parable of the marriage. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 11 The marriage garment.

17 Of paying of tribute. 25 Of the resurrection. 36 The Scribes question. 43 Christes diuinitie.

Then Iesus answered, & spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The Kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

3 And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bid to y wedding, but they would not come.

4 Againe, he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are hidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my firlings are killed, and all things are readie: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, & went their wayes, one to his farme, & another about his marchandise.

6 And the seruants tooke his seruants, & intreated them sharply, and flew them.

7 But when the King heard it, he was wroth, & sent forth his warres, & destroyed those murderers, and burned vp their ciuies.

8 Then sayd he to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthe.

9 Go ye therefore out into the high wayes, & as many as ye find, bid them to y marriage.

10 So those seruants went out into the high wayes, & gathered together at that euery they founde, both good and bad: for the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 The King came in, to see the guests, & sawe there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he sayd vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, & hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speechles.

13 Then said the King to the seruants, Bind him hand and foote: take him away, and cast him into utter darkenes: * there shal be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 * For many are called, but fewe chosen.

15 ¶ Then went the Pharises, and tooke counsel how they might tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we knowe that thou art true, & teachest the way of God truly, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, how thinkest thou, is it lawful to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceiued their wickednes, & said, Why tempt ye me ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought him a penie.

20 And he sayd vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They sayd vnto him, Cessars. Then sayd he vnto them, * Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cessars, and giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ The same day the Sadduces came to him (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, * Moses sayde, If a man die, hauing no children, let his brother marrie his wife, & raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Nowe there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, & deceased: and hauing none yssue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, & the third, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shal he be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered & said vnto them, Ye are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry wives, nor wives are bestowed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

And have ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham & the God of Isaac, & the God of Iacob: God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And what the people heard, they were ashamed at his doctrine.

34 But when the Pharisee had heard, that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Law, asked him a question, tempting him and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the Law?

37 Iesus said in him, * Thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and the great commandment.

39 And the second is like vnto this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandments hangeth the whole Law, and the Prophets.

41 ¶ While the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ whose sonne is he? They said vnto him, Dauid's.

43 He saide vnto them, Howe then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying, 44 * The Lord saide to my Lorde, Sit at my right hande, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none could answere him a worde, neither durst any from that daye forth aske him any mo questions.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 Christ condemneth the ambition, comensuer, and hypocrisie of the Scribes and Pharisees.

31 Their persecutions against the seruants of God. 37 He prophesieth the destruction of Ierusalem.

Then spake Iesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

1 Saying, The * Scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses seate.

2 All therefore whatsoever they bid you obserue, that obserue and do: but after their workes do not: for they say, and do not.

3 ¶ For they binde heauie burdens, & grievous to be borne, & lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselves wil not moue them with one of their fingers.

4 All their workes they do for to be seen of men: for they make their phylacteries broad, & make long * the fringes of their garments,

5 ¶ And loue the chiefe place at feasts, and to haue the chiefe seates in the assemblies,

6 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

7 But hee that is called, Rabbi: for one is your doctor, as was Christ, & al ye are brethren.

8 ¶ And * call no man your father vpon the earth: for there is but one your Father which is in heauen.

9 Be not called doctors: for one is your doctor, as was Christ.

10 But he that is greatest among you, let him be your seruant.

11 ¶ For whosoever will exalt himselfe, shall be brought low: and whosoever will humble himselfe, shall be exalted.

12 ¶ Wo therefore be vnto you Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites, because ye shut vp the kingdome of heauen before men: for ye your selues goe not in, neither suffer ye them that would enter, to come in.

13 ¶ Wo be vnto you Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye deuoure widows houses, euen vnder a colour of long prayers: wherefore ye shall receiue the greater damnation.

14 ¶ Wo be vnto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye compass sege and lande to make one of your profession: and when he is made ye make him two fold more the child of hell, then you your selues.

15 ¶ Wo be vnto you blinde guides, which say, Whosoever sweareth by the Temple, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the gold of the Temple, he offendeth.

16 Ye fooles and blinde, whether is greater, the golde, or the Temple that sanctifieth the golde?

17 And whosoever sweareth by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the offering that is vpon it, offendeth.

18 Ye fooles and blinde, whether is greater, the offering, or the altar which sanctifieth the offering?

19 ¶ Whosoever therefore sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, & by all things thereon.

20 ¶ And whosoever sweareth by the Temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

21 ¶ And he that sweareth by heauen, sweareth by the throne of God, & by him that sitteth thereon.

22 ¶ Wo be to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye tithe mynt, and anise, and comyn, and leaue the weightier matters of the Law, of iudgement, and mercie, and fidelitic. These ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other.

23 Ye blinde guides, which strayne out a gnat, and swallow a camel.

24 ¶ Wo be to you, Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye make cleane the vtter side of the cuppe, and of the platter: but within they are full of briberie and excefse.

25 ¶ Thou blinde Pharise, cleanse first the inside of the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be cleane also.

26 ¶ Wo be to you, Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are like vnto whitened tombes, which appeare beautiful outwardly, but are within full of dead mens bones, and of all filthines.

27 So are ye also: for outwardly ye appeare righteous vnto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisie and iniquite.

28 ¶ Wo be vnto you, Scribes & Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye build the tombes of the Prophets, & garnish y sepulchres of righteous.

29 And say, If we had build y houses of our fathers,

30 And say, If we had build y houses of our fathers,

31 And say, If we had build y houses of our fathers,

32 And say, If we had build y houses of our fathers, teachers, we would not have been partners with them in the blood of the Prophets.

31 So they be witnesses unto your felicity, that ye are the children of them that murdered the Prophets.
32 Full ye also y^e measure of your fathers.
33 O ye hypocrites, the generation of vipers, how should ye escape the damnation of hell?
34 Wherefore behold, I send unto you Prophets, and wise men, and Scribes, and of them ye shall kill and crucifie; and of them shall ye scourge in your Synagogues, and persecute from citie to citie.
35 That vpon you may come all the righteous blood that was shed vpon the earth, from the blood of Abel the righteous vnto the blood of Zacharias the sonne of Barachias, whome ye slew betwene the Temple and the altar.
36 Verely I say vnto you, All these things shall come vpon this generation.
37 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them which are sent to thee, how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as the hen gathereth her chickens vnder her wings, and ye would not!
38 Beholde, your habitation shall be left vnto you desolate.
39 For I say vnto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till that yee say, Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.
C H A P. XXIIII.
40 Christ sheweth his disciples the destruction of the Temple. 5. 24 The false Christs. 13 To persevere. 14 The preaching of the Gospell. 6. 25 The signes of the end of the world. 42 He warneth them to wake. 44 The sudden coming of Christ.
41 And Iesus went out, & departed from the Temple, and his disciples came to him, to shew him the building of the Temple.
42 And Iesus said vnto them, See ye not all these things? Verely I say vnto you, there shall not be here left a stone vpon a stone, that shall not be cast downe.
43 And as he saide vpon the mount of Oliues, his disciples came vnto him apart, saying, Tell vs when these things shall be, and what signe shall be of thy coming, and of the end of the worlde.
44 And Iesus answered, & said vnto them, Take heede that no man deceiue you.
45 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue manie.
46 And ye shall heare of warres, & rumors of warres: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe: but the ende is not yet.
47 For nation shall rise against nation, and realme against realme, and there shall be pestilence, and famine, and earthquakes in diuers places.
48 All these are but the beginning of sorowes.
49 Then shall they deliuer you vp to bee afflicted, and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Names sake.
50 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

51 And many false prophets shall arise, & shall deceiue manie.
52 And because iniquitie shall be increased, the loue of many shall be colde.
53 But he that endureth to the ende, he shall be saved.
54 And this Gospell of the kingdom shall be preached through y^e whole world for a witness vnto all nations, & then shall the end come.
55 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing in the holy place, (let him that readeth consider it)
56 Then let them which be in Iudea, flee into the mountains.
57 Let him which is on the house top, not come downe to fetch any thing out of his house.
58 And he that is in the fildes, let not him returne backe to fetch his clothes.
59 And wee shall to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.
60 But praye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.
61 And wee shall to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.
62 But praye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.
63 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the worlde to this time, nor shall be.
64 And except those daies should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elects sake those dayes shall be shortened.
65 Then if any shall say vnto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there, beleeue it not.
66 For there shall arise false Christs, & false prophets, and shall shewe great signes & wonders, so that if it were possible, they should deceiue the very elect.
67 Behold, I haue tolde you before.
68 Wherefore if they shall saye vnto you, Beholde, he is in the desert, go not forth: Behold, he is in the secret places, beleeue it not.
69 For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and shineth into the West, so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.
70 For where soeuer a dead carke is, thither will the Eagles resort.
71 And immediately after the tribulations of those dayes, shall the sunne be darkened, & the moone shall not giue her light, & the starres shall fall from heauen, and the powers of heauen shall be shaken.
72 And then shall appeare the signe of the Sonne of man in heauen, and then shall all the kindreds of the earth mourne, & they shall see the Sonne of man come in the cloudes of heauen with power and great glorie.
73 And he shall sende his Angels with a great sound of a trumpet, & they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, & from the one end of the heauen vnto the other.
74 Now learne the parable of the fig tree: when her bough is yet tender, & it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that summer is neere.
75 So likewise ye, when ye see all these things, know that the kingdom of God is neere.
76 Verely I say vnto you, that he which shall be seated at the right hand of God, shall come at the doores.

34 Verely I say vnto you, this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

35 * Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my wordes shall not passe away.

36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heauen, but my Father onely.

37 But as 7 dayes of Noe were, so likewise shall the coming of the Sonne of man be.

38 * For as in the dayes before the flood, they did eate and drinke, marrie, and giue in marriage, vnto the day that Noe entred into the Arke, 39 And knewe nothing, till the flood came and tooke them all away: so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

40 * Then two men shalbe in the fieldes, the one shalbe receiued, and the other shalbe refused.

41 Two women shalbe grinding at the mill: the one shalbe receiued, and the other shalbe refused.

42 * Wake therefore: for ye knowe not what houre your master will come.

43 Of * this be sure, that if the good man of the house knewe at what watche the theefe would come, he would surely watch, and not suffer his house to be digged through.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in the houre that ye thinke not, will the Sonne of man come.

45 * Who then is a faithfull seruant and wife, whome his master hath made ruler ouer his household, to giue them meate in season?

46 Blessed is that seruant whom his master, when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

47 Verely I say vnto you, he shal make him ruler ouer all his goods.

48 But if that euill seruant shall say in his heart, My master doeth deferre his coming,

49 And begin to smite his fellowes, and to eate, and to drinke with the drunken,

50 That seruants master will come in a day, when he looketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of,

51 And will cut him off, and giue him his portion with hypocrites: * there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

CHAP. XXV.

1 By the similitude of the virgines Iesus teacheth every man to watche, 14 And by the talents to be diligent. 31 The last iudgements.

32 The sheepe and the goats. 35 The works of the faithfull.

Then the kingdom of heauen shalbe likened vnto ten virgines, which tooke their lampes, and went to meete the bridegrome.

2 And five of them were wise, and five foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taried long, all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Beholde, the bridegrome commeth: go out to meete him.

7 Then all those virgines aroose, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are low.

9 But the wise answered, saying, We feare, lest there will not be yough for vs and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and bye for your selues.

10 And while they went to bye, the bridegrome came: and they that were ready, went in with him to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwardes came also the other virgines, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I know you not.

13 * Watche therefore: for ye knowe neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

14 * For the kingdom of heauen is as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods,

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents, and to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his owne habilitie: & straightway went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and occupied with them, and gained other five talents.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, hee also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged it in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruants came, and reckened with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued five talents, & brought other five talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me five talents: behold, I haue gained wth them other five talents.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is wel done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioy.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: beholde, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master said vnto him, It is wel done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithfull in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioy.

24 Then hee which had receiued the one talent, came, and saide, Master, I knewe that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou sowedst not:

25 I was therefore afrayde, and went, and hid thy talent in the earth: beholde, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and said vnto him, Thou euill seruant, and slothfull, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I sowed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

18 Take therefore the talent from him, & give it unto him which hath ten talents.
 19 * For unto every man that hath, it shall be given, and he shall have abundance, and from him that hath not, even that hee hath, shall be taken away.

20 Cast therefore that vnprefitable servant into vtter darkenes: there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

21 ¶ And whe the Sonne of man commeth in his glorie, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

22 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and hee shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd separateth the sheepe from the goates.

23 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

24 Then shall the king say to them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my father: inherit ye the kingdome prepared for you from the foundations of the world.

25 * For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me;

26 I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

27 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

28 And when sawe we thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

29 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

30 And the king shall answer and say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

31 Then shall he say vnto them on the left hand, * Depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

32 For I was an hungred, & ye gaue me no meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke:

33 I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

34 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

35 Then shall he answer them, and saye, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

36 * And these shall goe into everlasting paine, and the righteous into life eternall.

C H A P. XXVI.

3 Conspiraunce of the Priests against Christ. 10 He exchuseth Magdalen. 26 The institution of the Lords Supper. 31 The disciples weaken. 48 The treason of Iudas. 62 The sword. 64 Because Christ calleth himselfe the Sonne of God, he is iudged worthy to die. 69 Peter denieth, and repenteth.

¶ Na^t it came to passe, when Iesus had finished all these sayings, he said vnto his disciples,

2 Ye knowe that within two dayes is the Passeouer, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered to be crucified.

3 ¶ Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the hie Priest, called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted how they might take Iesus by subtiltie, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest any vproare be among the people.

6 ¶ And when Iesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, which had a boxe of very costly oymnt, and powred it on his head, as hee sate at the table.

8 And when his disciples sawe it, they had indignatio, saying, What needed this waste?

9 For this oymnt might haue bene sold for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 * For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me shall ye not haue alwayes.

12 For in that he powred this oymnt on my body, shee did it to burie me.

13 Verely I say vnto you, Wherfoener this Gospell shall be preached throughout all the world, there shall also this that shee hath done, be spoken of for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the twelue, called Iudas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests,

15 And said, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie pices of siluer.

16 And from that time, he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 ¶ Now on the first day of the feast of vnleavened bread the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?

18 And he said, Go into the citie to such a man, and say to him, The master saith, My time is at hand: I will keepe the Passeouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And y^e disciples did as Iesus had giuen them charge, and made readie the Passeouer.

20 * So when the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorowfull, & began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered and saide, * Hee that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, hee shall betray me.

24 Surely y^e Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man by whom y^e Sonne of man is betrayed: he had bene good for y^e man, if he had neuer bene borne.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, Master? He said vnto him, Thou hast said it.

31 ¶ And when the Sonnes of man commeth in his glory, & all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and hee shall separate them one from another, as a shepheard separateth the sheepe from the goats.

33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say to them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father: inherit ye the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 ¶ For I was an hungred, & ye gaue me meat: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me:

36 I was naked, & ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsted, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answer and say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, inasmuch as yee haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, yee haue done it vnto me.

41 Then shall he say vnto them on the left hand, Depart from me yee cursed: into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and yee gaue me no meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not: I was naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shall hee answer them and say, Verely I say vnto you, inasmuch as yee did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 ¶ And these shall goe into everlasting paine, and the righteous into life eternall.

3 Conspiracie of the Priests against Christ. 10 Herod's Magdalene. 26 The institution of the Lords Supper. 31 The disciples weakeners. 48 The treason of Iudas. 62 The sword. 63 Because Christ calleth him self the Sonne of God, hee is iudged worthy to die. 63 Peter denieth, and repenteth.

¶ And it came to passe when Iesus had finished all these sayings, he said vnto his disciples,

2 Yee know that within two dayes is the Passouer, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered to be crucified.

3 ¶ Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the hie Priest, called Caiaphas.

4 And consulted how they might take Iesus by subtiltie, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest any vp-rore be among the people.

6 ¶ And when Iesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the Leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, which had a boxe of very costly oymment, and powred it on his head as he sat at the table.

8 And when his disciples saw it they had indignation, saying, What needed this waste?

9 For this oymment might haue bene sold for much, and bene giuen to the poore.

10 And Iesus knowing it, said vnto them, Why trouble yee the woman? for shee hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 ¶ For yee haue the poore alwayes with you, but me shall yee not haue alwayes.

12 For in that shee powred this oymment on my body, shee did it to bury me.

13 Verely I say vnto you, Wherefoeuer this Gospell shall be preached (I knowe) all the world, there shall also this that shee hath done, be spoken of for a memoriall of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the twelue, called Iudas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests,

15 And said, What will ye giue me, and I will deliue him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie pecies of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 ¶ Now on the first day of the feast of vnleavened bread, the disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eate the Passouer?

18 And he said, Goe into the cite to such a man, and say to him, The Master saith, My time is at hand: I will keepe the passouer at thine house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen the charge, and made ready the passouer.

20 ¶ So when the euen was come, he sat downe with the twelue.

21 And as they did eate, he said, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowfull, and began euery one of them to say vnto him, Is it I, Master?

23 And he answered, and said, ¶ He that dippereth his hand with me in the disse, he shall betray me.

24 Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way. as it is written of him: but woe be to that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: It had bene good for that man if he had neuer bene borne.

25 Then Iudas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Is it I, Master? Hee said vnto him, Thou hast said it.

26 ¶ And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread: and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: this is my body.

27 Also he tooke the cup, and when he had giuen thanks, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke yee all of it.

28 For this is my blood of the new Testament, that is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

29 I say vnto you, that I will not drinke henceforth of this fruit of the vine vntill the day when I shall drinke it new with you in my Fathers kings dome.

30 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

31 ¶ Then said Iesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shall be scattered.

32 But ¶ after I am risen againe, I will go before you into Galilee.

33 But Peter answered, & said vnto him, Though all men should be offended by thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

35 Peter said vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not denie thee. Likewise also sayd all the disciples.

Mark. 14.

36 ¶ Then went Iesus with them into a place which is called Gethsemane, and sayd vnto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I goe and pray yonder.

37 And hee tooke Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedeus, and began to waite sorrowfull, and grievously troubled.

38 Then said Iesus vnto them, My soule is very heauy, tau vnto the death: tary ye here, and watch with me.

39 So hee went a litle further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me, neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 After, he came vnto the disciples, and found them asleepe, and sayd to Peter, What? could ye not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeede is ready, but the flesh is weake.

42 Again he went away the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup cannot passe away from me, but that I must drinke it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauy.

44 So he left them, and went away againe, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then came he vnto his disciples, and said vnto them, Sleepe henceforth and take your rest: behold, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is giuen into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs go: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

59 Now * the chiefe Priests and the Elders, Mark. 14. all the whole Council sought false witness against Iesus to put him to death.

61 And sayd, This man sayd, * I can destroy the Temple of God, and build it in three dayes. Job. 3. 19

62 Then the chiefe Priests arose, and said to him, Answerest thou nothing? What is the matter that these men witness against thee?

63 But Iesus held his peace. Then the chiefe Priest answered, and sayd to him, I charge thee by the lining God, that thou tell vs, if thou bee the Christ the Sonne of God.

72 And againe he denied with an oath, saying, I know not the man.

73 So after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and sayd vnto Peter, Surely thou art also one of them: for euen thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse him selfe, & to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cocke crew.

75 Then Peter remembered the words of Iesus, which had sayd vnto him, Before the cocke crowe thou shalt denie me thrise. So he went out and wept bitterly.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Christ is delivered vnto Pilate. 2 Iudas hangeth himselfe. 24 Christ is pronounced innocens by the Iudge, and yet is condemned and crucified among thieves. 46 He prayeth vpon the crosse. 51 The vail is rent. 52 The dead bodies arise. 57 Ioseph burieth Christ. 64 Watchmen keepe the graue.

WHEN * the morning was come, all the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the people tooke counsell against Iesus to put him to death. Mar. 15. 1. Job. 18. 20

2 And led him away bound, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then when Iudas which betrayed him, saw that he was condemned, he repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie pieces of silver to the chiefe Priests and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue sinned betraying the innocent blood.

blood. But they said, What is that to vs? for thou to it.

5 And when behad cast downe the siluer pices Mark. 14
ff 35.

6 And the chiefe Priests tooke the siluer pices, and said, It is not lawfull for vs to put them into the treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsaill, & bought with them
a potters field, for the buriall of strangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, The field of blood vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke thirte siluer pices, the price of him that was valued,
whom they of the children of Israel valued,

10 And they gaue them for the potters helde, as the Lord appointed me)

11 * And Iesus stood before the Gouernour, and the Gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Iesus sayde vnto him, Thou saist it.

12 And when hee was accused of the chiefe
Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then said Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they lay against thee?

14 But hee answered him not to one word, inasmuch that the gouernour marvelled greatly.

15 Nowe at the feast, the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will yee that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

18 (For he knew well that for enuy they had de-liuered him.)

19 Also when he was set downe vpon the iudge-ment seate, his wisefolke to him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of
him)

20 * But the chiefe Priests and the Elders had perswaded the people, that they should aske Barabbas, and should destroy Iesus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine wille ye that I let loose
vnto you? And they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What shall I doe then with Iesus which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then said the gouernour, But what enill hath he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate saw that hee auailed nothing, but that mere tumult was made, hee tooke water
and washed his hands before the multitude, saying,
I am innocent of the blood of this iust man: looke
you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Thus let hee Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 * Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke
Iesus into the common hall, and gathered about him
the whole band.

28 And they stripped him, and put vpon him a scarlet robe,

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him,

saying, God saue thee king of the Iewes,

30 And spitte vpon him, and tooke a reede, and smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke
the robe from him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his Crosse.

33 * And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead thorns scallies)

34 They gaue him vineger to drinke mingled with gall: & when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 * And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, * They diuided my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lots.

36 And they sate and watched him there.

37 * They set vp also ouer his head his cause
written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 * And there were two theetes crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe:
if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the croffe.

41 Likewise also the hie Priestes mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharisees said,

42 He saued others, but he cannot saue himselfe:
if he be the king of Israel, let him now come downe from the croffe, and we will belecue him.

43 * Hee trusteth in God, let him deliuer him now: if he will haue him, for he saith, I am the Sonne of God.

44 That same also the theetes which were cri-stified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 Now from the sixth houre was there darknesse
ouer all the land vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cried with a loud voice, saying, * Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani:
that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and tooke
a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reed, and gaue him to * drinke.

49 Other saide, Let be: let vs see if Elias will come and saue him.

50 Then Iesus cried againe with a loude voice, and yielded vp the ghost.

51 And beholde, the vail of the Temple was rent in twaine from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the stones were cleauen,

52 And the graues did open the iusts, and many bodies of the Saints which slept, arose,

53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the holy Citie, and appeared vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, and they that were with him watching Iesus, saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 2 Iudas hangeth himselfe. 3 Christ is pronounced innocent by the Iudge, and yet is condemned and crucified among them. 46 He prayeth vpon the crosse. 51 The vail is rent. 52 The dead bodies arise. 57 Ioseph buryeth Christ. 64 Watchmen keepe the graue.

When * the morning was come, all the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the people tooke counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And led him away bound, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

3 ¶ Then when Iudas which betrayed him saw that he was condemned, he repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie pecies of siluer to the chiefe Priests and Elders,

4 Saying, I haue sinned betraying the innocent blood.

treasure, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they tooke counsell, & bought with them
a potters field, for the buriall of strangers.

8 Wherefore that field is called, The field of blood vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the Prophet, saying, And they tooke thirtie siluer pices, the price of him that was valued,
whom they of the children of Israel valued,

10 And they gaue them for the potters field, as
the Lord appointed me)

11 ¶ And Iesus stood before the Gouernour,
and the Gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Iesus sayde vnto him, Thou
saist it.

12 And when hee was accused of the chiefe
Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then said Pilate vnto him, Hearst thou not how many things they lay against thee?

14 But hee answered him not to one word, insomuch that the gouernour marvelled greatly.

15 Nowe at the fealt, the gouernour was wont to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 When they were thus gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether will yee that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew well that for enny they had de-liuered him.

19 Also when he was set downe vpon the indement seate, his wisefent to him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of
him)

20 ¶ But the chiefe Priests and the Elders had perswaded the people, that they should aske Barabbas, and should destroy Iesus.

21 Then the gouernour answered, and said vnto them, Whether of the twaine wil ye that I let loose
vnto you? And they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What still I doe then with Iesus which is called Christ? They all said to him, Let him be crucified.

23 Then said the gouernour, But what enill hath
he done? Then they cried the more, saying, Let him
be crucified.

24 When Pilate saw that hee auailed nothing, but that more tumult was made, hee tooke water
and washed his hands before the multitude, saying,
I am innocēt of the blood of this iust man: looke
you to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Thus let hee Barabbas loose vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ Then the souldiers of the gouernour tooke
Iesus into the common hall, and gathered about him
the whole band.

28 And they stripped him, and put vpon him a scarlet robe.

29 And platted a crowne of thornes, and put vpon his head, and a reede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him, and mocked him,

saying, God saue thee king of the Iewes,

30 And spitted vpon him, and tooke a reede, and
smote him on the head.

31 Thus when they had mocked him, they tooke
the robe from him, and put his owne taiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 ¶ And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his Crosse.

33 ¶ And when they came vnto the place called Golgotha, (that is to say, the place of dead mens scullies)

34 They gaue him vineger to drinke mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

35 ¶ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and did cast lots, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, ¶ They diuided my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lots.

36 And they sat and watched him there.

37 ¶ They set vp also ouer his head his cause
written, THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 ¶ And there were two theetes crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by, reuiled him, wag-
ging their heads,

40 And saying, ¶ Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe:
if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the croffe.

41 Likewise also the hie Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharises said,

42 He saued others, but he cannot saue himselfe:
if he be the king of Israel, let him now come downe
from the croffe, and we will beleue him.

43 ¶ Hee trusteth in God, let him deliuer him now: if he will haue him, for he said, I am the Sonne
of God.

44 That same also the theetes which were cri-cified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 Now from the sixth houre was there darknesse
ouer all the land vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cried with
a loud voice, saying, ¶ Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?
that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken
me?

47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and tooke
a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reed, and gaue him to drinke.

49 Other saide, Let be: let vs see if Elias will come and saue him.

50 Then Iesus cried againe with a loude voice, and yielded vp the ghost.

51 And beholde, the vail of the Temple was rent in twaine from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the stones were cloien,

52 And the graues did open themselves, and many bodies of the Saints which slept, arose,

53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the holy Citie, and appeared
vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, and they that were
with him watching Iesus, saw the earthquake, and
the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.

55 ¶ And many women were there, beholding
him

56 Among whome was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Iames and Iosce, and the mother of Zebedee sonnes.

Mar. 15. 57 ¶ And when the euen was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also himselfe bene Iesus disciple.

48 He went to Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 So Ioseph tooke the body, and wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth, 60 And put it in his new tombe, which hee had hewen out in a rock, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the preparation of the Sabbath, the hie Priests, and Pharisees, assembled to Pilate, 63 And said, Sir, we remember that that deceiuer said, while hee was yet aliue, Within three dayes I will rise.

64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre bee made sure vntill the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, Hee is risen from the dead: so shall the last enour be worse then the first.

65 Then Pilate said vnto them, Ye haue a watch: goe and make it sure as ye know.

66 And they went and made the sepulchre sure with the watch, and sealed the stone.

CHAP. XXVIII.

6 The resurrection of Christ. 10 The brethren of Christ. 13 The high Priests bribe the souldiers. 17 Christ appeareth to his disciples, & sendeth them forth to preach and to baptize, 20 promising to them continuall assistance.

Mar. 16. 1 Nowe * in the ende of the Sabbath, when the first day of the weeke began to dawne, Marie Magdalene, and the other Mary came to see the sepulchre.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake: for the Angel of the Lord descended from heauen, and came and rolled back the stone from the doore and sat vpon it.

3 And his countenance was like lightening, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for feare of him the keepers were astonished, and became as dead men.

5 But the Angel answered, and saide to the women, Feare yee not, for I know that ye seek: Iesus which was crucified:

6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said, Come see the place where the Lord was laid,

7 And go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee: there ye shall see him: loe, I haue told you.

8 So they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did runne to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tel his disciples, behold, Iesus also met them, saying, God saue you And they came and tooke him by the feete, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Iesus vnto them, Be not afraid, Go and tell my brethren that they goe into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were gone, behold some of the watch came into the city, and shewed vnto the hie Priests all the things that were done.

12 And they gathered them together with the Elders, and tooke counsell, and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if the gouernour heare of this, wee will periwade him, and saue you harmless.

15 So they tooke the money, & did as they were taught: and this saying is noised among the Iewes vnto this day.

16 ¶ Then the cleuen disciples went into Galilee, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saue him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Iesus came and spake vnto them, saying, *Hebr. 1. 1. * All power is giuen vnto mee in heauen, and in earth.*

19 ¶ Goe therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and the Son, and the holy Ghost, 20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoever I haue commanded you, and lo, * I am with you alway, vntill the end of the world. Amen.

¶ THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, according to Marke.

CHAP. I.

2 The office doctrine and life of Iohn the Baptiste. 9 Christ is baptized, 13 and tempted. 14 He preacheth, 17 call to the fishers. 23 Christ healeth the man with the vncleane spirit. 27 New doctrine. 29 He healeth Peters mother in law. 33 The deuels know him. 41 He cleareth the lepers, and healeth diuers others.

¶ The beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ the Sonne of God:

2 As it is written in the Prophets, Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 ¶ The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

4 ¶ Iohn did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptisme of amendment of life, for remission of finnes.

5 And all the countrey of Iudea, and they of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuier Iordan, confessing their finnes.

6 ¶ Now Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skin about his loines: and he did eat * locusts and wild hony,

7 ¶ And preached saying, A stronger than I cometh after me, whose shoes I latchet I am not worthy to stoop downe and vnloose.

8 Truth it is, I haue * baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazaret a citie of Galilee, and was baptized baptized of Iohn in Iordan.

10 And as soon as he was come out of the water, Iohn saw the heavens clowd in twaine, and the holy Ghost descending upon him like a dove.

11 Then there was a voice from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

12 And immediately the Spirit drineth him into the wilderness.

13 And hee was there in the wilderness fourtie dayes, and was tempted of Satan: hee was also with the wild beasts, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14 ¶ Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galilee preaching the Gospel of the kingdom of God.

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent and beleeue the Gospel.

16 ¶ And as he walked by the sea of Galilee he sawe Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers)

17 Then Iesus said vnto them, Follow mee, and I will make you to be fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a litle further thence, he saw Iames the sonne of Zebedeus, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the shippes, mending their nets.

20 And anon he called them: and they left their father Zebedeus in the ship with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21 ¶ So they entred into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabbath day he entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that hath authority, and not as the Scribes.

23 ¶ And there was in their Synagogue a man which had an vncleane spirit, and he cried, 24 Saying, Ah, what haue wee to doe with thee, O Iesus of Nazareth? Att thou come to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art, euill that holy One of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And the vncleane spirit tare him, and cried with a loud voice, and came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for he commaundeth the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29 ¶ And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30 And Simons wifes mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by: and she ministred vnto them.

32 And when euenn was come, and the sunne was downe, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33 And the whole city was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sick of diuers diseases: and he cast out many deuils, and suffered not the deuils to say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early, before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon and they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 Then hee said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next towne, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39 And hee preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40 ¶ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and knelled downe vnto him, and said to him, Iesus, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

41 And Iesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will, bee thou cleane.

42 And as soon as hee had spoken immediately the leprosie departed from him, and hee was made cleane.

43 And after he had giuen him a strait commandment, he sent him awy forthwith.

44 And said vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimoniall vnto them.

45 But when he was departed, he began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

CHAP. II.

3 He healeth the man of the palfie. 5 He forswearth sinners. 14 He calleth Law the custome. 16 He eateth with sinners. 18 He exhorteth his disciples as touching fasting and keeping the Sabbath day.

¶ Then a few daies he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noised that hee was in the house.

1 And anon many gathered together, insomuch that the places about the doore could not receiue any more: and he preached the word vnto them.

2 And there came vnto him that brought one sicke of the palfie borne of foure men.

3 And because they could not come nere vnto him for the multitude, they vncouered the roofof the house where he was: and when they had broken it open, they let downe the bed wherein the sicke of the palfie lay.

4 Now when Iesus saw their faith, he said to the sicke of the palfie, Some, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

5 And there were certain of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

6 Why doth this man speake such blasphemies? Who can forgive sinnes but God onely?

7 And immediately when Iesus perceiued in his spirit, that thus they thought with themselves, hee said vnto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

8 Whether it is easier to say to the sicke of the palfie, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

9 And that ye may know that the Son of man hath authoritie in earth to forgive sinnes, (he saide to the sicke of the palfie)

10 I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and get thee hence into thine owne house.

11 And by and by he arose and took vp his bed, and went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We neuer saw such a thing.

13 ¶ Then hee went againe toward the sea, and all the people resorted vnto him, and hee taught them.

Mat. 9. 9. Luke 5. 27
14 * And as Iesus passed by, hee saw Leni the son of Alphæus sit at the receite of custome, and said vnto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 ¶ And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at table in his house, many Publicanes and sinners sat at table also with Iesus and his disciples: for there were many that followed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharises saw him eat with the Publicanes and sinners, they said vnto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 Now when Iesus heard it, he said vnto them, The whole haue no neede of the Physician, but the sicke. I came not to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn and the Pharises did fast, and came and said vnto him, Why doe the disciples of Iohn and of the Pharises fast, and thy disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus said vnto them, Can ye children of the mariage chamber fast, whiles the bridegrome is with them? as long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the dayes will come when ye bridegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 Also no man seweth a piece of new cloth in an old garment: for els the new piece taketh away the filling vp from the olde, and the breach is worse.

22 Likewise, no man putteth new wine into olde vessels: for else the new wine breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost: but new wine must be put into new vessels.

23 ¶ And it came to passe as hee went thorow the corne on the Sabbath day, that his disciples as they went on their way, began to pluck the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharises saide vnto him, Beholde, why do they on the Sabbath day that which is not lawfull?

25 And hee said vnto them, Hauye neuer read what * Dauid did, when he had neede, and was an hungred, both he and they that were with him?

26 How hee went into the house of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high Priest, and did eate the Shewbread, which were not lawfull to eate, but for the * Priests, and gaue also to them which were with him?

27 And he said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.

28 Wherefore the Sonne of man is Lord, euen of the Sabbath.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee healeth the man with the dried hand. 2 I Christ is thought of the worldings to be beside himselfe. 22 He casteth out the vnclane spirit, which the Pharises ascribe vnto the deuill. 29 Blasphemy against the holy Ghost. 35 The brother, sister and mother of Christ.

Mat. 13. 9. 10. Luke 6. 5.
And hee entred againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether hee would heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

3 Then he said vnto the man which had the withered hand, Arise. Stand forth in the mids.

4 And he said to them, Is it lawfull to do a good deed on the Sabbath day, or to do euil? to save the life, or to kill? but they held their peace.

5 Then hee looked round about vpon them angrily, mourning also for the hardness of their hearts, and said to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored as whole as the other.

6 ¶ And the Pharises departed, and straightway gathered a counsell with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Iesus auoided with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Iudea,

8 And from Ierusalem, and from Idumea, and beyond Iordan: and they that dwelled about Tyne and Sidon, when they had heard what great things he did, came vnto him in great number.

9 And hee commanded his disciples, that a ship should wait for him because of the multitude, least they should throwg him.

10 For he had healed many, insomuch that they pressed vpon him to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And when the vnclane spirits saw him, they fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And he sharply rebuked them, to the end they should not vtter him.

13 ¶ Then hee went vp into a mountaine, and called vnto him whom hee would, and they came vnto him.

14 And hee appointed twelue, that they should bee with him, and that hee might send them to preach,

15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.

16 And the first was Simon, and hee named Simon, Peter,

17 Then Iames the sonne of Zebedeus and Iohn Iames brother (and named them Boanerges, which is, the Sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartlemew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and Iames the sonne of Alphens, and ¶ Thaddens, and Simon the ¶ Canaanite, 19 And Iudas Iscariot, who also betrayed him, and they came home.

20 And the multitude assembled againe, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when ¶ his kinsfolkes heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they thought hee had bin beside himselfe.

22 ¶ And the Scribes which came from Ierusalem, said, He hath Beelzebub, & through the prince of deuils, he casteth out deuils.

23 But hee called them vnto him, and said vnto them in parables, How can Satan driue out Satan? 24 For if a kingdome be diuided against it selfe, that kingdome cannot stand.

25 Or, if an house be diuided against it selfe, that house cannot continue.

26 So if Satan make insurrection against himselfe, and be diuided, he cannot endure, but is at an ende.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goods, except he first binde that strong man, and then spoile his house.

28 ¶ Verely I say vnto you, all finnes shall be forgiven vnto the children of men, and blasphemica, wherewith they blasphem.

29 But hee that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost,

¶ By the parables of the seed, and the mustard corne Christ forth the state of the kingdom of God. 11 A speciall gift of God to knowe the mysteries of his kingdom. 37 He stilleth the tempest of the sea which obeyed him.

Math. 13.

¶ And he began againe to teach by the Sea side, and there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the land.

1. Luke 8. 4.

¶ And he taught them many things in parables, and he said vnto them in his doctrine,

10. 1. Cor. 15. 1.

3 Hearken: behold, there went out a Sower to sowe.

1. Luke 8. 4.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the fowles of the heauen came and deuoured it vp.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

6 But as soone as the Sunne was vp, it caught heat, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grew vp and choked it, so that it gaue no fruit.

8 Some againe fell in good ground, and did yeeld fruit that sprang vp, and grew, and brought forth some thirtie fold, some sixtie fold, and some an hundred fold.

9 Then he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve, asked him of the parable.

11 And he said vnto them, To you it is ginen to know the myserie of the kingdom of God: but vnto them that are without, all things bee done in parables.

12 ¶ That they seeing, may see and not discerne: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstand, lest at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiven them.

13 Again he said vnto them, Perceiue yee not this parable? how then should yee vnderstand all other parables?

14 The Sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they that receiue the seede by the wayes side, in whom the word is sown: but when they haue heard it, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue the seede in stony ground, are they which when they haue heard the word, straightwaies receiue it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselves, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediately they be offended.

18 Also they that receiue the seede among the thornes, are such as beare the word.

19 But the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull.

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receiue it, and bring forth fruit, one some thirtie, another sixtie, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ And hee saide vnto them, ¶ Is the candle lighted to bee put vnder a bushel, or vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlestick?

22 ¶ For there is nothing hid that shall not bee opened: neither is there a secret but that it shall come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare, Mat. 13.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what yee heare, ¶ With what measure yee mete, it shall bee measured vnto you, and vnto you that heare shall more be ginen, Luke 8. 17.

25 ¶ For vnto him that hath shall it be ginen, and from him that hath not shall bee taken away, euen that he hath, Luke 8. 18.

26 ¶ Also he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seede in the ground, Luke 8. 18.

27 And should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the seede should spring and grow vp, hee not knowing how, Luke 8. 18.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that full cometh in the eares.

29 And as soone as the fruit sheweth it selfe, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ He said moreover, Whereunto shall wee liken the kingdom of God, or with what comparison shall we compare it? Mat. 13.

31 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which when it is sown in the earth, is the least of all seeds that be in the earth: 13. 19.

32 But after that it is sown it groweth vp, & is greater than all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of heauen may build vnder the shadowe of it.

33 ¶ And with many such parables he preached the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it, Mat. 13.

34 And without parables spake he nothing vnto them, but he expounded all things to his disciples apart.

35 ¶ Now the same day when enen was come, he said vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side.

36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as he was in the ship: and there were also with him other ships.

37 And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow: and they awoke him, and said vnto him, Master, care thou not that we perish?

39 And he rose vp, and rebuked the winde, and said vnto the Sea, Peace, and be still. So the winde ceased, and it was a great calme.

40 Then he said vnto them, Why are ye so fearefull? how is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, Who is this, that both the winde and the Sea obey him?

with them to enter into the house. 25 He healeth a woman from the bloodie issue, & raiseth her extraneous daughter.

Mar. 8. 28 And they came over to the other side of the sea into the country of the Gardarene.

29 And when he was come out of the ship, there met him incontinently out of the graves a man which had an unclean spirit:

30 Who had his abiding among the graves, and no man could bind him, no nor with chains,

31 Because that when hee was often bound with fetters and chains, he plucked the chains asunder and brake the fetters in pieces, neither could any man tame him.

32 And alwaies both night and day hee cryed in the mountaines and in the graves, & strooke himselfe with stones.

33 And when he saw Iesus a farre off, hee ranne and worshipped him,

34 And cryed with a loud voyce, and said, What haue I to do with thee, Iesus the sonne of the most high God? I charge thee by God that thou torment me not.

35 (For hee said vnto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)

36 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

37 And he prayed him instantly that hee would putt send them away out of the countrey.

38 Now there was there in the mountaine a great heere of swine feeding.

39 And all the devils be sought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.

40 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leave.
Then the unclean spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the heere ranne headlong from the high banke into the sea (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were drowned in the sea.

41 And the swine heards fled, and tolde it in the cite, and in the countrey, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

42 And they came to Iesus, & saw him that had bene possided with the deuill and had the Legion, sit both clothed and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

43 And they that saw it, tolde them what was done to him that was possided with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

44 Then they began to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts.

45 And when he was come into the ship, he that had bene possided with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

46 Howbeit, Iesus would not suffer him, but said vnto him, Go thy way home to thy friends, and shew them what great things the Lord hath done vnto thee, and how hee hath had compassion on thee.

47 So he departed, and began to publish in De-capolis what great things Iesus had done vnto him:
and all men did maruaile.

48 ¶ And when Iesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, a great multitude gathered to him, and he was nere vnto the sea.

49 ¶ And behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Jairus: & when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete.

50 And he besought him instantly, saying, My little daughter lieth at point of death: I pray thee that thou wouldest come and lay thine handes on her,

hath she may be healed and liue.

51 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and thronged him

52 (And there was a certaine woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres,

53 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and it auailed her nothing, but she became much worse.

54 When she had heard of Iesus, she came in the presse behind, and touched his garment.

55 For she said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shalbe whole.

56 And straightway the course of her blood was dried vp, and she felt in her bodie that she was healed of that plague.

57 And immediately, when Iesus did know in himselfe the vertue that went out of him, he turned him round about in the presse, and said, Who hath touched my clothes?

58 And his disciples said vnto him, Thou seest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

59 And he looked round about, to see her that had done that.

60 And the woman feared, and trembled: for she knew what was done in her, and she came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole truth.

61 And he said to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace, and bee whole of thy plague.

62 While he yet spake, there came from the same ruler of the Synagogues house certaine, which said, Thy daughter is dead: why distearest thou the Master any further?

63 Assoone as Iesus heard that word spoken, hee said vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid:
onely beleue.

64 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter and Iames, and Iohn the brother of Iames.

65 So he came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, and saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

66 And he went in, and said vnto them, Why make ye this trouble and weep? the child is not dead, but slleeper.

67 And they laughed him to scorne: but he put them all out, and tooke the father and the mother of the child, and them that were with him, and entered in where the child lay.

68 And he tooke the child by the hand, and saide vnto her, Talitha-cumi, which is by interpretation, Maiden, I say vnto thee, arise.

69 And straightway the maiden arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: and they were astonished out of measure.

70 And hee charged them straitly that no man should know of it, and commanded to giue her meate.

things? and what wildecme is this that is giuen vnto him, that such such great workes are done by this hand;

Is not this the Carpenter, Mariesonne, the brother of Iames and Ioseph, and of Iuda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? and they were offended in him.

Then Iesus said vnto them, *A Prophet is not without honour but in his owne country, and among his owne kinned, and in his owne house.

And he could there do no great workes, save that he laid his hands vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them.

And he marvelled at their vnbeliefe, *and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

* And he called the twelue, and began to send them two and two, and gaue them power ouer vnpleane spirits,

And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey save a staffe onely: neither scrip, neither bread, neither money in their girdles,

But that they should be shod with * sandales, and that they should not put on two coats.

And hee said vnto them, Where soeuer yee shall enter into an house, there abide till ye depart thence.

And whoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when you depart thence, * shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, it shall bee easier for Sodom or Gomorrah at the day of iudgement, then for that citie.

And they went out, and preached that many should amend their liues.

And they cast out many deuils: and they appointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

Then king Herod heard of him (for his name was spread abroad) and said, John Baptist is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great workes are wrought by him.

Other said, It is Elias: and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophets.

So when Herod heard it, he said, It is Iohn whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

For Iohn said vnto Herod, * It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not:

For Herod feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birth day made a banquet to his prynces, and capitaines, and chiefe estates of Galilee:

And the daughter of * same Herodias came in and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat at table together, the king Gid vnto the maid, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

And hee swaue vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of mee, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdom.

So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shall I aske? And shee said, Iohn Baptists head.

Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I would that thou shoulddest giue mee euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

Then the king was very sorowful for his oaths sake, and for their sakes which sat at table with him, he would not refuse her.

And immediately the king sent the hangman and gaue charge that his head should bee brought. So he went and beheaded him in the prison,

And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, and the maide gaue it to her mother.

And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke vp his body, and put it in a tombe.

* And the Apostles gathered themselves together to Iesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

And he said vnto them, Come yee apart into the wilderness, and rest a while: for there were many commers and goers, that they had not leisure to eate.

* So they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.

But the people saw them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran afoote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

Then Iesus went out, and saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe which had no shepheard: and he began to teach them many things.

* And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is farre passed.

Let them depart, that they may goe into the villages and townes about, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

But he answered and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they said vnto him, Shall wee goe and buy two hundred penyworth of bread, and giue them to eate?

Then he said vnto them, How many loaves haue ye? goe and looke. And when they knew it, they said, Five, and two fishes.

So he commanded them to make them al sit downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

Then they laye downe by twos, by hundreds, and by fifties.

And he tooke the five loaves and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and gaue thanks, and brake the loaves, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them, and the two fishes he deuised among them all.

So they did all eat and were satisfied.

And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

And they that had eaten were about five thousand men.

* And straightway hee caused his disciples to go into the ship, and to go before into the other side vnto Bethsaida while he sent away the people.

Then assoone as he had sent them away, he departed into a mountaine to pray.

* And when euen was come, the ship was in the mids of the sea, and he alone on the land.

And he saw them troubled in rowing (for the winde was contrary vnto them) & about the fourth watch of the night he came vnto them walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

And when they saw him walking on the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cried out.

For they all saw him, and were sore afraid: but anon he talked with them, and said vnto them, 31 Then he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the wind ceased, & they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and marvelled.

32 For they had not considered the master of the loanes, because their hearts were hardened.

33 ¶ And they came once ouer and went into the land of Genezareth, and arrived.

34 So when they were come out of the shippe, straightway they knew him, 35 And ranne about thorowout all that region round about, and began to carie hither and thither in beds all that were sicke, where they heard that he was.

36 And whither soeuer he entred into townes, or cities, or villages, they laid their sicke in the streets, and prayed him that they might touch at the least the edge of his garment. And as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAP. VII.

3 The disciples ate with vnwasht hands. 8 The commandments of God is transgressed by mans traditions. 21 What defileth man. 24 Of the woman of Syrophenissa. 32 The healing of the dumbe. 37 The people praise Christ.

11 Then ¶ gathered vnto him the Pharises and certaine of the Scribes which came from Ierusalem.

12 And when they saw some of his disciples ate meat with common hands (that is to say, vnwasht) they complained.

13 (For the Pharises and all the Iewes, except they wash their hands oft, cate not, holding the tradition of the Elders, 14 And when they come from the market, except they wash they cate not: and many other things there be which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups, and pots, and of brasse vessels and of tables.)

15 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the traditions of the Elders, but eat ¶ meat with vnwasht hands?

16 Then he answered and said vnto them, Surely ¶ Esai hath prophesied well of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth mee with their lips, but their heart is farre away from mee.

17 But they worship me in vaine, teaching for doctrines the commandements of men.

18 For ye lay the commandment of God apart, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and of cups, and many other such like things ye doe.

19 And he said vnto them, Well, yee reiect the commandment of God, that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

20 For Moses said, ¶ Honour thy father and thy mother: and, ¶ Whosoever shall curse father or mother, let him die the death.

21 But yee say, it a man say to father or mother Exod. 20. 12. deat. 5. 16. Corban, that is, By the gilt that is offered by mee, thou mayest haue profit, he shall be free.

22 So ye suffer him no more to doe any thing for his father, or his mother, 23 Making the word of God of none authority, by your tradition which ye haue ordained: and yee doe many such like things.

24 ¶ Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Hearken you all vnto mee, and vnderstand.

25 There is nothing without a man ¶ that can defile him when it cometh into him: but the things which proceed out of him; are they which defile the man. 16 If any haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he came into an house away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said vnto them, What? are ye without vnderstanding also? Do ye not know that whatsoever thing cometh out of a man, cannot defile him, 19 Because it entred not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, which is the purging of all meats?

20 Then hee said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

21 ¶ For from within, even out of the heart of ¶ men, proceed euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 Thefts, concutiousnesse, wickednesse, deceite, ¶ vnclannesse, ¶ a wicked eye, backbiting, pride, loolishnesse.

23 All these euill things come from within, and defile a man.

24 ¶ And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyrus and Sidon, and entred into an house, & would that no man should haue knowen: but he could not be hid.

25 For a certaine woman whose little daughter had an vncleane spirit, heard of him, and came, and tell at his feet.

26 (And the woman was a Greeke, a Syrophenissa by nation) and she besought him that he would cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

27 But Iesus said vnto her, Let the children first bee fed: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto whelpes.

28 Then she answered & said vnto him, Truth, Lord: yet indeed the welps cate vnder the table of the childrens crumbe.

29 Then he said vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she found the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 ¶ And he departed againe from the coasts of Tyrus and Sidon, and came vnto the Sea of Galile thorow the mids of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, and stammered in his speech, and prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

33 Then he tooke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking vp to heauen, he sighed, and said vnto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and hee spake plaine.

36 And he commanded them that they should tel no man: but how much soeuer he forbade them, the more a great deale they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, ¶ He hath done all things well, he maketh both deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

1 The miracle of the seuen loanes. 11 The Pharisees aske a signe. 13 The Iannes of the Pharisees. 22 The blind receiueth his sight. 29 Hee was knowne of his disciples. 33 He reprooueth Peter. 34 and sheweth how nuncery persecution is.

IN those dayes, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eate, Iesus called his disciples to him, and said vnto them,

¶ I haue

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now continued with me three daies, and have nothing to eat.

3 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, that would faint by the way: for some of them came from farre.

4 Then his disciples answered him, How can a man satysfie these with bread here in this wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen.

6 Then hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaves, and gaue thanks, brake them, and gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

7 They had also a few small fishes: and when he had giuen thanks, he commanded them also to be set before them.

8 So they did eate and were sufficed, and theyooke vp of the broken meate that was left seuen baskets full.

9 And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand: so he sent them away.

10 ¶ And anon he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 ¶ And the Pharisees came forth, and began to dispute with him, asking of him a signe from heaven, and tempting him.

12 Then he sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, Why doeth this generation seekke a signe? Verely I say vnto you, [a signe shall not be giuen vnto this generation.

13 ¶ So he left them, and went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

14 ¶ And they had forgotten to take breade, neither had they in the shippe with them but one loafe.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed and beware of the leaue of the Pharisees, and of the leaue of Herod.

16 And they thought among themselves, saying, It is because we haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knew it, hee said vnto them, Why reason ye thus, because ye haue no bread? perceiue ye not yett, neither vnderstand? haue yee your hearts yett hardened?

18 Haue ye eyes and see not? and haue yee eares and heare not? and doe ye not remember?

19 ¶ When I brake the fiue loaves among fiue thousand, how many baskets full of broken meate tooke ye vp? They said vnto him, Twelke.

20 And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets of the leauings of broken meate tooke ye vp? And they said, Seuen.

21 Then he said vnto them, How is it, that ye vnderstand not?

22 ¶ And hee came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blind man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

23 Then he tooke the blind by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spate in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, & asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

25 After that he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, & made him look againe. And he was restored to his sight, and saw euery man a farre off clerely.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe iato the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

27 ¶ And Iesus went out, and his disciples into the townes of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way hee asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Some say, Iohn Baptiste: and some, Elias: and some, One of the Prophets.

29 And he said vnto them, But whom say yee that I am? Then Peter answered and said vnto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he sharply charged them, that concerning him they should tell no man.

31 Then he began to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and should bee reprooned of the Elders, and of the hie Priests, and of the Scribes, and be slaine, and within three dayes rise againe.

32 And he spake that thing plainly. Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 Then he turned backe, and looked on his disciples, and rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

34 ¶ And hee called the people vnto him, with his disciples, and said vnto them, ¶ Who soeuer will follow me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

35 For who soeuer will save his life, shall lose it: but who soeuer shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospels, he shall save it.

36 For what shall it profit a man, though hee should win the whole world, if he lose his soule?

37 Or what shall a man giue for recompense of his soule?

38 ¶ For who soeuer shall be ashamed of mee, and of my words among this adulterous and sinful generation, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed also when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy Angels.

CHAP. IX.

2 The transfiguration. 7 Christ to be heard. 28 The dumb sp. vnto cast out. 29 The force of prayer and fasting. 31 Of the death and resurrection of Christ. 33 The dispensation who should be the greatest. 38 Not to hinder the course of the Gospel. 42 Offences are forbidden.

¶ And he said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power.

3 And sixe daies after, Iesus tooke Peter, and James, and Iohn, and brought them vp into an high mountaine out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before them.

4 And his raiment did shine, & was as very white as snow, so white as no fuller can make vpon the earth.

5 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses, and they were talking with Iesus.

6 Then Peter answered, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here, let vs make also three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

7 Yet he knew not what he said: for they were afraid.

8 And there was a cloud that shadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, ¶ This is my beloved Sonne: heare him.

9 And suddenly they looked rounde about, and sawe no more any man, save Iesus onely with them.

10 ¶ And as they came downe from the mountaine he charged them that they should tell no man what they had seene, save when the Sonne of man weretitten from the dead againe.

10 So they kept that matter to themselves, and demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead againe should meane?

del. 4.5. 11 Also they asked him, saying, Why say the Scribes, that ¹ Elias must first come?

12 And he answered and said vnto them, Elias verely shall first come, and restore all things, and ² as it is written of the Son of man, hee must suffer many things and be set at nought.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, (and they haue done vnto him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him.

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people when they beheld him, were amazed, and ran to him, and saluted him.

16 Then he asked the Scribes, What dispute you among yourselves?

17 And one of the company answered and saide, Master, I haue brought my sonne vnto thee, which hath a dumbe spirit:

18 And wheresoeuer he taketh him, hee teareth him, and hee someth and gaspeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out and they could not.

19 Then he answered him and said, O faithlesse generation, how long now shall I be with you! how long now shall I suffer you! Bring him vnto me.

20 So they brought him vnto him: and assoone as the spirit saw him, he tare him, and he fell downe on the ground, wallowing and foaming.

21 Then he asked his father, How long time is it since he hath bene thus? And he said, Of a child.

22 And oft times hee casteth him into the fire, and into water to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, helpe vs, and haue compassion vpon vs.

23 And Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt beleue it, all things are possible to him that beleueth.

24 And straightway the father of the child, crying with teares, said, Lord, I beleue, helpe my vnbeliefe.

25 When Iesus sawe that the people came running together, hee rebuked the vncleane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 Then the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out, and he was as one dead, insomuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Iesus tooke his hand and lift him vp, and herofe.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not wee cast him out?

29 And he said vnto them, This kind can by no other meanes come forth, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and went through Galilee, and hee would not that any should haue knowne it.

31 For he taught his disciples and said vnto them, The Son of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, but after that hee is killed he shall rise againe the third day.

32 But they vnderstood not that saying, and were afraid to aske him.

33 ¶ After, he came to Capernaum: and when hee was in the house, hee asked them, What was it that ye disputed among you by the way?

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they reasoned among themselves, who should be the chiefest.

35 And he sat down and called the twelve, and said to them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And he tooke a little child, and set him in the mids of them, and tooke him in his armes, and said vnto them,

37 Whosoener shall receiue one of such little children in my Name, receiue me: and whosoener receiue me, receiue me, not mee, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ Then Iohn answered him, saying, Master, Luke 9.49 we saw one casting out devils by thy Name, which followed not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

39 ¶ But Iesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can doe a miracle by my Name, that ¹ can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoener is not against vs, is on our part.

41 ¶ And whosoener shall giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because yee belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, hee shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoener shall offend one of these little ones that beleue in me, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea.

43 ¶ Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed, then hauing two hands to go into hell into the fire that neuer shall be quenched.

44 ¶ Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

45 Likewise, if thy foot cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to goe halt into life, then hauing two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched.

46 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, it is better for thee to go into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

48 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

49 For euery man shall be salted with fire: and euery sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 ¶ Salt is good: but if the salt bee vnswet, wherewith shall it be seasoned? Naue salt in your selues, and haue peace one with another.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the sacrament. 17 The rich men that trust in their riches. 30 Their reward that are persecuted. 35 Of the summe of Zabedus. 45 Bartimeus hath his eyes opened.

AND ¹ he arose from thence, and went into the Acoasts of Iudea by the same side of Iorden, and the people resorted vnto him againe, and as he was wont, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharisee came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempered him.

3 And he answered and said vnto them, What did ² Moses command you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardness of your heart, hee wrote this precepte vnto you,

Gen. 1. 27. 6 But at the beginning of the creation, * God made them male and female.

Gen. 2. 24 7 * For this cause shall man leave his father and mother, and cleave vnto his wife.

16. 8 And they twaine shall be one flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

10. 9 * Therefore what God hath coupled together, let no man separate.

1. Cor. 7. 10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

Mat. 5. 32 11 And he said vnto them, * Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

1. Cor. 16. 12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another he committeth adultery.

Mat. 19. 13 * Then they brought little children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

13. 15 14 But when Iesus saw it, he was displeased, and said to them, Suffer the little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little childe, hee shall not enter therein.

16 And he tooke them vp in his armes, and put his hands vpon them, and blessed them.

17 * And when hee was gone out on the way, there came one * running and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shall I do that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus said vnto him, Why callest thou mee good: there is none good but one, even God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, * Then shalt thou not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witness. Thou shalt hurt no man. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered and said to him, Master, all these things have I observed from my youth.

21 And Iesus beheld him, and loved him, and said vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Come and sell all that thou hast, & give to the poore, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come follow me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But hee was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowfull, for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and said vnto his disciples, How hardly do they that have riches, enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And his disciples were astonished at his words, But Iesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were much more astonished, saying with themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 * Then Peter began to say to him, Lord, we have forsaken all, and have followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shall receive an hundred fold now at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers and children, and lands with persecutions, and in the world to come, eternall life.

31 * But many that are first shall be last, and the last first.

32 * And they were in the way going vnto Jerusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, & as they followed, they were afraid, and Iesus tooke the twelve againe, and began to tel them what things should come vnto him,

33 saying, Behold, we goe vp to Jerusalem, and the Sonne of man shall bee delivered vnto the high Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shall mocke him, and scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35 * Then Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedee came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst doe for vs what thou desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What would ye I should doe for you?

37 And they saide to him, Grant vnto vs that we may sit one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye know not what ye aske. Can ye drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptism that I shall be baptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shall drinke indeede of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptism wherewith I shall be baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand, and at my left, is not mine to give, but it shall bee giuen to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaigne at Iames and Iohn.

42 But Iesus called them vnto him, and saide to them, Ye * know that they which desire to beare rule among the Gentiles, have domination ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie ouer them.

43 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your服侍.

44 And whosoever will be chiefe of you, shall be the servant of all.

45 For even the Sonne of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for the redemption of many.

46 * Then they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blind man, sat by the waies side begging.

47 And when hee heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry and to say, Iesus the Sonne of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, because hee should hold his peace: but he cried much more, O Sonne of David, have mercy on me.

49 Then Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, arise, he calleth thee.

50 So hee threw away his cloake, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, & said vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, that I may receive sight.

52 Then Iesus said vnto him, Goe thy way: thy faith hath saved thee. And he and they receaved his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

Mat. 21. 1. And when they came neere to Ierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethania vnto the mount of Oliues, he sent forth two of his disciples,

2 And said vnto them, Go your wayes into that town that is ouer against you, and as soon as ye shall enter into it, ye shall finde a colt bound, wherupon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why do ye this? Say that the Lord hath need of him, and straightway he will send him thither.

4 And they went their way, and found a colt tied by the dore without, in a place where two waies met, and they loosed him.

5 Then certaine of them that stood there, saide vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?

6 And they said vnto them, as Iesus had commanded them. So they let them goe.

John 12. 1. 7 And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sat vpon him.

Mat. 21 20. Iuke 19.45. 11 So Iesus entred into Ierusalem, and into the Temple: and when hee had looked about on all things, and now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelue.

Mat. 21. 29. 12 And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethania, he was hungry.

13 And seeing a figge afaire off that had leaues, hee went to see if he might finde any thing thereon: but when hee came vnto it, he found nothing but leaues: for the time of figs was not yet.

14 Then Iesus answered, and saide to it, Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 And they came to Ierusalem, & Iesus went into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves.

16 Neither would he suffer that any man should carie a vessel thorow the Temple.

11a. 56.7. Iere. 7.11 17 And hee taught, saying vnto them, Is it not written, Mine house shall bee called the house of prayer vnto all nations? but ye haue made it a den of theecues.

18 And the Scribes and hie Priests heard it, and sought how to destroy him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the citie.

Mat. 21. 19.20. 20 And in the morning as they passed by, they saw the figge dried vp from the roots.

21 Then Peter remembered, and said vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Haue faith in God,

23 For verely I say vnto you, that whosoever shal say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, and shall not waiver in his heare, but shall beleuee that those things which hee saith shall come to passe, whatsoever he saith, shall be done to him.

24 Therefore I say vnto you, whatsoever ye desire when ye pray, beleuee that ye shall haue it, and it shall be done vnto you.

25 But when ye shall stand and pray, forgive, if ye haue any thing against any man, that your Father also which is in heauen, may forgive you your trespasses.

26 For if ye will not forgive, your Father which is in heauen, will not pardon you your trespasses.

27 Then they came againe to Ierusalem: and as he walked in the Temple, there came to him the high Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders, 28 And said vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie, that thou shouldest doe thesethings?

29 Then Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, I will also aske of you a certaine thing, and answere ye mee, and I will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

30 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? answere me.

31 And they thought with themselves, saying, If we shal say, From heauen, he will say, Why then did ye not beleuee him?

32 But if we say, Of men, we feare the people: for all men counted Iohn, that hee had becne a very Prophet.

33 Then they answered, and saide vnto Iesus, We cannot tell. And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Neither will I tell you by what authoritie I doe thesethings.

And he began to speake vnto them in parables, A certaine man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a tower in it, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And at a time, hee sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that hee might recceiue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away emptye.

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe hee sent another, and him they slewe, and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his deare beloved: him also he sent last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 So they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall then the Lorde of the vineyard doe? He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

13 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.

14 And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharises, & of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talke.

15 And when they came they said vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly: Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

16 Should wee giue it, or should we not giue it? But he knew their hypocrisie, and saide vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring mee a pemie, that I may see it.

17 So they brought it, and hee said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said vnto him, Cessars.

18 Then Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that are Cessars, and to God those that are Gods: and they marvelled at him.

19 * Then came the Sadduces vnto him (which say there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,

20 Master, * Moyses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, & raise vp seede vnto his brother.

21 There were seuen brethren, & the first tooke a wife, and when he died left no issue.

22 Then the second tooke her, and he died, neither did he yet leaue issue: and the third likewise.

23 So seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.

24 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.

25 Then Iesus answered and said vnto them, Are ye not therefore decieued, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

26 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marrie, nor wiues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

27 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue yee not read in the booke of Moyses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

28 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly decieued.

29 * Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiuing that he had answered them well, he asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?

30 Iesus answered him, The first of all the Commandements is, * Heare Israel, the Lord our God is the onely Lord.

31 Thou shalt therefore loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, & with all thy iij mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first Commandement.

32 And the second is like that is, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. There is none other Commandement greater than these.

33 Then the Scribe said vnto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he.

34 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue his neighbour as himselfe, is more then all burnt offerings, and sacrifices.

35 Then when Iesus saw that hee answered discreetly, he said vnto him: Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

36 * And Iesus answered and said, teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the Sonne of Dauid?

37 For Dauid himselfe said by the holy Ghost, * The Lord sayd to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

38 Then Dauid himselfe called him Lord: by what meanes he then his sonne? and much people heard him gladly.

39 * Moreover, he said vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes which loue to goe in long robes, and loose salutations in the markets, 40 And the chiefe seats in the Synagogues, and the first rooms at feasts.

41 Which * denoue widowes houses: as when vnder a colour of long prayers. These shall receive the greater damnation.

42 * And as Iesus faste ouer against the treasury, he beheld how the people cast money into the treasury, and many rich men cast in much.

43 And there came a certaine poore widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a quadria.

44 Then he called vnto him his disciples, & said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasury.

45 For they all did cast in of their superfluities: but shee of her psonitie did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of Ierusalem. 10 The Gospel shall be preached to all. 22 The persecution and false prophets which shall bee before the coming of Christ, whose hours is vncertaine. 33 He exhorteth every one to watch.

And * as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, see what stones Luke 21. 5 and what buildings are here.

2 * Then Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Lule 19. Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be thrown downe.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olives, one against the Temple, Peter, and James, and Iohn, and Andrew asked him secretly,

4 Tell vs, when shall these things be? and what shall bee the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Iesus answered them, and began to say, * Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7 Furthermore, when yee shall heare of warres, and rumors of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters, and there shall be famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take yee heed to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

12 Yea, and the brother shall delinere the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their fathers, and shall cause them to die.
13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoever shall endure vnto the end, hee shall be saved.
14 * Moreover, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by * Daniel the Prophet) standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth consider it) * then let them that lecin Iudea flee into the mountaines.
15 And let him that is vpon the house, not come down into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.
16 And let him that is in the fildes, not turne backe againe vnto the things which he left behind him, to take his clothes.
17 Then you shall be to them which are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.
18 Pray therefore that your flight bee not in the winter.
19 For there shall bee in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation, which God created, vnto this time, neither shall be.
20 And except that the Lorde had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saved: but for the elects sake which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.
21 Then * if any man say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or Lo, he is there, beleene it not.
22 For false Christes shall arise, and false prophets, and shall shew signes and wonders to decieve if it possible the very elect.
23 But take ye heed: Behold, I haue shewed you all things before.
24 * Moreover, * in those dayes, after that tribulation, the Sonne shall waxe darke, and the Moone shall not giue her light.
25 And the starres of heauen shall fall: and the powers which are in heauen shall shake.
26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man coming in the cloudes, with great power and glory.
27 * And he shall then send his Angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure winds, and from the vtmost part of the earth to the vtmost part of heauen.
28 Now learne a parable of the figtree. When hee bough is yre tender, & it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that Summer is nere.
29 So in like manner, when yee see these things cometo passe, know that the kingdom of God is nere, such as the doores.
30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe till all these things be done.
31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my wordes shall not passe away.
32 But of that day and howe knoweth no man, no, not the Angels which are in heauen, neither the Sonne himselfe, save the Father.
33 * Take heed: watch and pray: for yee know not when the time is.
34 For the Sonne of man is as a man going into a strange country, and leaueh his house, and giueth authoritie to his seruants, and to euery man his workes, and commandeth the porter to watch.

35 Watch therefore (for ye know not when the Master of the house will come, at enen, or at midnight, at the cocke crowing, or in the dawning)
36 Left if he come suddenly, he should find you sleeping.
37 And those things that I say vnto you, I say vnto all men, Watch.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Priests conspire against Christ. 2 Mary Magdalene anoints Christ. 3 The Passouer is eaten. 18 He is betwixt before of the synagoge of Iudas. 22 The Lords supper is instituted. 46 Christ is taken. 67 Peter denieth him.

AND two daies after followed the feast of the Passouer, and of vneleauened bread: & the hie Priests and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft and put him to death.

1 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.

2 * And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as hee sat at table there came a woman hauing a boxe of ointment of I Spikenard, of very costly, and shee brake the boxe, and poured it on his head.

3 Therefore some disdayned among themselves, and said, To what ende is this waste of ointment?

4 For it might haue bene solde for more then three hundred pence, and bene giuen to the poore, and they grudged against her.

5 But Iesus said, Let her alone: why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.

6 For yee haue the poore with you alwaies, and when ye will ye may do them good, but me ye shall not haue alwaies.

7 She hath done that she could: she came aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

8 Verely I say vnto you, where soeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.

9 * * Then Iudas Iscariot one of the twelue, went away vnto the hie Priests to betray him vnto them.

10 And when they heard it they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how hee might conueniently betray him.

11 * * Now the first day of vneleauened bread, when they sacrificed the Passouer, his disciples said vnto him. Where wilt thou that wee goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Passouer?

12 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, and said vnto them. Goe ye into the citie, and there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

13 And whithersoever he goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house. The Master saith. Where is the lodging, where I shall eat the Passouer with my disciples?

14 And hee will shewe you an vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for vs.

15 So his disciples went forth, and came to the citie and found as he had said vnto them, and made ready the Passouer.

16 * And at enen he came with the twelue.

17 * And as they sat at table and did eate, Iesus sayd. Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

18 Then they began to be sorrowfull, and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?

20 And hee answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that * dippech with mee in the platter.

21 * Truly the Son of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but wo be to that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man if he had neuer bene borne.

22 * And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread, and when he had giuen thanks, hee brake it, and gaue it to them, and sayd, Take, eate, this is my bodie.

23 Also hee tooke the cuppe, and when he had giuen thanks, gaue it to them, and they all dranke of it.

24 And hee said vnto them, This is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalm, they went out to the mount of oliues.

27 * Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shall bee offended by me this night: for it is written, * I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall bee scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go into * Galilee before you.

29 And Peter said vnto him, Although all men should be offended, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrise.

31 But hee sayd more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee: likewise also sayd they all.

32 * After, they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples, Sit ye here till I haue prayed.

33 And he tooke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he began to be afraid, and in great heavinesse.

34 And said vnto them, My soule is very heauy, euen vnto the death: tary here and watch.

35 So he went forward a litle, and fell down on the ground, and prayed that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cup from mee, neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou wilt bee done.

37 Then he came and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst not thou watch one houre?

38 * Watch ye, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And he returned & found them asleep againe: for their eyes were heauy: neither knew they what they should answer him.

41 And hee came the third time, and said vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: it is enough: the houre is come: behold, the Son of man is deliuered into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp: let vs goe: loe, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 * And immediately while he yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves from the hie Priests, and Scribes, and Elders, 44 And hee that betrayed him had giuen them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, hee it is: take him, and leade him away safely.

45 And as soone as he was come, he went straight way to him, and sayde, Master, Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they laid their hands on him, and tooke him.

47 And one of them that stood by, drew out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut off his eare.

48 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Yee be come out as vnto a thiefe with swords and with staves to take me.

49 I was dailly with you teaching in the Temple, and yetooke me none: but this is done that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 Then they all forsooke him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certaine yong man clothed in linnen vpon his bare body, and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnen cloth, & fled from them naked.

53 * So they led Iesus away to the hie Priest, and to him came all the hie Priests, and the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a farre off, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, and sate with the seruants, and warmed him himselfe at the fire.

55 And the * high Priestesse, and all the Councill sought for witness against Iesus to put him to death, but found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 Then there arose certaine, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, * I will destroy this Temple made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another made without hands.

59 But their witness yee agreed not together.

60 Then the hie Priest stood vp among them, & asked Iesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is the matter that these beare witness against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Againe the hie Priest asked him, and said vnto him, Art thou Christ the Sonne of the Blessed?

62 And Iesus said, I am hee. * and yee shall see the Sonne of man sit at the right hand of the power of God, and come in the clouds of heauen.

63 Then the hie Priest rent his clothes, and said, What haue we any more need of witnesses?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke ye? and they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some began to spit at him, and to couet his face, and to beat him with sitles, and to say vnto him, Prophecie. And the sergeants smote him with their rods.

66 * And as Peter was beneath in the hall, there came one of the maids of the hie Priest.

67 And when shee saw Peter warming himselfe, she looked on him, and said, Thou wast also with Iesus of Nazaret.

68 But hee denied it, saying, I know him not, neither wote I what thou sayest. Then he went out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 * Then a maid saw him againe, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 But he denied it againe: and anon after, they that stood by, said againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galilee, and thy speech is like.

CHAP. XV.

1 Iesus led to Pilate, 15 He is condemned, reuiled, and put to death, 45 And is buried by Ioseph.

Mat. 27.1 And anon in the dawning, the hie Priestes held a council with the Elders, and the Scribes, and the whole Council, and bound Iesus, and led him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

2 Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And hee answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high Priestes accused him of many things.

4 * Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witnesse against thee.

5 But Iesus answered no more at all, so that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them whomsoever they would desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, which was bound with his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cried aloude, and began to desire that hee would doe as hee had euer done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and sayd, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the hie Priestes had deliuered him of yeuey.

11 But the high Priestes had moued the people so desire that hee would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and saide againe vnto them, What will ye then that I doe with him, whom ye call the king of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate sayde vnto them, But what euill hath hee done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when hee had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hal, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band,

17 And clad him with purple, & plated a crown of thornes, and put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile king of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and spat vpon him, and bowed their knees, and did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the countrey, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 * And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation the place of dead mens sculles.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrrhe; but he receiued it not,

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for them what euery man should haue.

25 And it was the third houre when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written aboue, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him two theennes, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, * Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, and buildest it in three dayes, 30 Save thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the high Priestes mocking, said among themselves with the Scribes, He saved other men, himselfe he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel now come down from the Crosse, that wee may see and beleue. They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 * Now when the sixth houre was come, darkness arose ouer all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the ninth houre, Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, 37 saying, Let him alone: let vs see if Elias will come and take him downe.

38 And Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

39 And the vail of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottoome.

40 Now when the Centurion which stood ouer against him, sawe that hee thus crying, gaue vp the ghost, hee said, Truly this man was the Sonne of God.

41 * There were also women, which behelde a farre off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary (the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses) and Salome, 42 Which also when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Ierusalem.

43 * And now when night was come (because it was the day of the preparation, that is before the Sabbath)

44 Ioseph of Arimathea, an honorable counsellor, which also looked for the kingdome of God, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

45 And Pilate marvelled, if hee were already dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him, whether he had bene any while dead.

46 And when he knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph.

47 Who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layd him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre.

48 And Mary Magdalene, and Mary Ioses mother beheld where he should be laid.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The women come to the grave. 9 Christ being risen againe, appeareth to Magdalene. 14 Alo to the eldren, and reprooeth their unbeliefe. 16 He com-done, because thou beleuedest not my words, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and maruelled that he tarried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: then they perceined that he had seen a vision in y^e Temple: for he made signes vnto them, and remained dumbe.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that hee departed to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid her selfe nine moneths, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with mee, in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixth moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God vnto a citie of Galile, named Nazaret, 27 To a virgine affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgines name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and sayd, Hallelouia thou art freely bequeued, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was troubled at his saying, and thought what manner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angel said vnto her, Feare not Marie: for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 ¶ For loe, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and beare a Sonne, and shalt call his Name Iehoua.

32 He shall be great, and the Lord shall be called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

33 ¶ And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be no end.

34 Then said Marie vnto the Angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall bee borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth she hath also conceived a sonne in her old age, and this is her fixt moneth which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing be impossible.

38 Then Marie sayd, Behold the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word. So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill country with haste to a citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, as Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe sprang in her belly, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And shee cried with a loud voice, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruit of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, assoone as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

45 And blessed is shee that beleued: for those things shall bee performed, which were tolde her from the Lord.

46 Then Marie said, My soule magnifieth the Lord,

47 And my spirit reioyceth in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath looked on the poore degree of his seruant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercie is from generation to generation on them that feare him.

51 ¶ Hee hath shewed strength with his arme: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 He hath put downe the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 ¶ He hath filled the hungry with good things, and sent away the rich empty.

54 ¶ He hath vpholden Israel his seruant, being full of his mercie, 55 ¶ As he hath spoken to our fathers, to wit, to Abraham and his seede for euer.

56 ¶ And Marie abode with her about three moneths: after she returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ Now Elizabeths time was fulfilled that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbors and cousins heard tell how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that on the eight day, they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Not so, but he shall be called Iohn.

61 And they said vnto her, There is none of thy kindred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how hee would haue him called.

63 So he asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying His name is Iohn: and they maruelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, and he spake and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt nere vnto them, and all these words were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Iudea.

66 And all they that heard them, laid them vp in their hearts, saying, What manner child shall this be and the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 Then his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, because he hath visited * and redeemed his people,

69 ¶ And hath raised vp the borne of saluation vnto vs in the house of his seruant Dauid,

70 ¶ As he spake by the mouth of his holy Prophets, which were since the world began, saying,

71 That he would send vs deliuerance from our enemies, and from the hands of all that hate vs,

72 That he would shewe mercie towards our fathers, and remember his holy covenant,

73 ¶ And the oath which he sware to our father Abraham:

74 Which was that he would grant vnto vs, that we being deliuered out of the hands of our enemies should serue him without feare.

75 All the dayes of our life, in * holines and righteousness before him.

76 And thou babe shalt be called the Prophet of the most High: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his wayes,

77 And to giue knowledge of saluation vnto his people by the remission of their finnes,

78 Through the tender mercie of our God, whereby * the day spring from on high hath visited vs,

79 To giue light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death.

CHAP. I. I.

7 The birth and circumcision of Christ. 22 He was received into the Temple. 28 Simeon and Anna prophesie of him. 46 He was found among the Doctors. 51 His obedience to father and mother.

AND it came to passe in those dayes, that there came a comendement from Augustus Cesar, that all the world should be taxed.

1 (This first taxing was made when Cyrenius was gouernour of Syria)

2 Therefore went all to be taxed, every man to his owne citie.

4 And Ioseph also went vp from Galile, out of a citie called Nazaret, into Iudea, vnto the citie of John 7.4. * David, which is called Beth-lehem (because hee was of the house and lineage of David)

5 To be taxed with Mary, that was giuen him to wife, which was with child.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be deliuered.

7 And she brought forth her first begotten Son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a cratch, because there was no roome for them in the inne.

8 ¶ And there were in the same country, shepherds abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night, because of their stocke.

9 And loe, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and the glory of the Lord shone about them, and they were sore afraid

10 Then the Angel said vnto them, Be not afraid: for beholde, I bring you tidings of great ioy, that shalbe to all the people:

11 For this day vnto you is borne this day in the citie of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shalbe a signe to you, Yee shall finde the child swaddled, and laid in a cratch.

13 And straightway therewas with the Angel a multitude of heauenly soldiars praising God, and saying,

14 Glory be to God in the hie heauens, and peace in earth, and towards men good will,

15 And it came to passe when the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, the shepherds said one to another, Let vs go then vnto Bethlehem, and see this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 So they came with haste, and found both Mary and Ioseph, and the babe laid in the cratch.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroad the thing, which was tolde them of that child.

18 And all that heard it, wondered at the things which were tolde them of the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all that they had heard and seene, as it was spoken vnto them.

21 ¶ And when the eight dayes were accomplished, that they should circumcise the child, his name was then called IESVS, which was named of the Angel before hee was conceived in the chape. 1. 31. vnto me.

22 ¶ And when the dayes of her purification brought him to Ierusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, * Euer 17 man child that at first openeth the wombe, shalbe called ho 7 to the Lord :

24 And to giue an oblation, * as it is commanded in the Lawe of the Lord, a paire of turtle doves, or two yong pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon : this man was iust, & feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, that hee should not see death, before he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by the motion of the spirit into the Temple, and when the parents brought in the child Iesus, to doe for him after the custome of the Law,

28 Then he tooke him in his armes, and praised God, and said, 29 Lord, now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy word.

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people.

32 A light to beerrecruiled to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Ioseph & his mother maruelled at those things which were spoken touching him,

34 And Simeon blessed them and said vnto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is appointed for the fall and raising againe of many in Israel, and for a signe which shall be spoken against,

35 (Yea, and a sword shall pearce through thy soule) that the thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had liued with a husband seuen yeeres from her virginitie.

37 And shee was widowe about fourescore and foure yeeres, and went not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 She then comming at the same instant vpon them, confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Ierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee to their owne citie Nazaret.

40 And the child grew, & waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

41 ¶ Nowe his parents went to Ierusalem enery yere * at the feast of the Passouer.

42 And when hee was twelue yere old, and they were come vp to Ierusalem, after the custome of the feast,

43 And had finished the daies thereof, as they returned, the child Iesus remained in Ierusalem, and Ioseph knew not, nor his mother, 44 But they supposing that he had bene in the companie, went a dayes journey, and sought him among their kinsfolke and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe to Ierusalem, and sought him.

46 And it came to passe three dayes after, that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking 48 So when they saw him, they were amazed, and his mother said vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? beholde, thy father and I haue sought thee with heauie hearts.

49 Then said hee vnto them, How is it that yee sought me? knew yee not that I must goe about my fathers businesse?

50 But they vnderstood not the word that hee spake to them.

51 Then he went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subiect to them, and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Iesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in fauour with God and men.

CHAP. III.

3 The preaching, baptisme, and imprisonment of Iohn. 15 He is thought to be Christ. 21 Christ is baptized. 23 His age and genealogie.

NOW in the fifteenth yere of the reigne of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour of Iudea, and Herod being Tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Itrura, and of the countrey of Trachonitis, and Lyfania the Tetrarch of Abilene, 4 * When Annas and Caiaphas were the high Priests the word of God came vnto Iohn the sonne of Zacharias in the wildernesse.

5 * And he came into all the coastes about Iordan, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

6 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Elias the Prophet, which saith, * The voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernesse is Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

7 Euery valley shall be filled, and euery mountaine and hill shall be brought lowe, and crooked things shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth.

8 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

9 Then said hee to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, * O ye generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

10 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy amendment of life: and begin not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

11 Now also is the axe laide to the root of the trees: therefore euery tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

12 * Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

13 And he answered, and said vnto them, * He that hath tve coates let him part with him that hath none: and hee that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

14 Then came there Publicanes also to be baptized, and said vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

15 And hee said vnto them, Require no more than that which is appointed vnto you.

16 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And hee said vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

17 As the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, if he were not the Christ,

18 Iohn answered and said vnto them all, * I indeed baptize you with water, but one stronger then I cometh, whose shoes Iatchet I am not worthy to vnloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

19 * Whose lamie is in his hand, & he will make cleane his floore, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaffe will be burne vp with fire that neuer shall be quenched.

20 Thus then exhorting with many other things he preached vnto the people.

21 * But when Herod the Tetrarch was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herod had done.

22 He added yet this about all, that hee shut vp Iohn in prison.

23 * Now it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and that Iesus was baptized and did pray, that the heauens was opened:

24 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a doue vpon him, and there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in thee I am well pleased.

25 * And Iesus himselfe began to be about thirtie yeres of age, being as men supposed, the sonne of Ioseph, which was the sonne of Eli,

26 The sonne of Marthas, the sonne of Leui, the son of Melchi, the sonne of Ianna, the sonne of Ioseph,

27 The sonne of Matthias, the son of Amos, the sonne of Naum, the sonne of Eli, the sonne of Nagge,

28 The sonne of Maath, the sonne of Mattathias, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Iuda,

29 The sonne of Ioanna, the sonne of Rhela, the sonne of Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Neri,

30 The sonne of Melchi, the sonne of Addi, the son of Cosam, the sonne of Elmodam, the sonne of El,

31 The sonne of Iosef, the sonne of Eliezer, the sonne of Iorim, the sonne of Matthat, the sonne of Leui,

32 The son of Simeon, the son of Iuda, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Ionan, the sonne of Eliacim,

33 The sonne of Melea, the sonne of Maidan, the sonne of Mattatha, the sonne of Nathan, the sonne of David,

34 The sonne of Iesse, the son of Obed, the sonne of Booz, the sonne of Salmon, the sonne of Naasson,

35 The son of Aminadab, the son of Aram, the son of Eliom, the sonne of Pharez, the sonne of Iuda,

36 The sonne of Iacob, the son of Isaac, the sonne of Abraham, the sonne of Thara, the sonne of Nachor, 37 The sonne of Saruch, the son of Ragau, the son of Phalec, the sonne of Eber, the sonne of Sala,

38 The sonne of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the sonne of Sem, the sonne of Noe, the sonne of Lamech,

39 The sonne of Mathusala, the sonne of Enoch, the sonne of Jared, the sonne of Maleleel, the sonne of Cainan, 40 The sonne of Enos, the sonne of Seth, the son of Adam, the sonne of God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iesus is led into the wildernes to be tempted, 12 He overcometh the deuill. 13 He goeth into Galilee 14 Preacheth at Nazareth, and Capernaum. 21 The Jews despise him. 38 He cometh into Peters house & healeth his mother in law. 41 The deuils acknowledge Christ. 43 He preacht through the cities.

AND Iesus full of the holy Ghost returned from Iordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wildernesse,

2 * And was there fourtie daies tempted of the deuill, and in those daies hee did eate nothing: but was tempted of the deuill, and in those daies hee did eate nothing: but was Christ tempted of the deuil.

when they were ended he afterward was hungry.

3 Then the deuill said vnto him, If thou bee the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 But Iesus answered him, saying, It is written, Deut. 8. 3. * That man shall not live by bread onely, but by mat. 4. 4. every word of God.

5 Then the deuill tooke him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed him all the kingdomes of the world † Greek: in a moment of time. 19r, full downe before me. 20r, full downe before me. 21r, full downe before me. 22r, full downe before me. 23r, full downe before me. 24r, full downe before me. 25r, full downe before me. 26r, full downe before me. 27r, full downe before me. 28r, full downe before me. 29r, full downe before me. 30r, full downe before me. 31r, full downe before me. 32r, full downe before me. 33r, full downe before me. 34r, full downe before me. 35r, full downe before me. 36r, full downe before me. 37r, full downe before me. 38r, full downe before me. 39r, full downe before me. 40r, full downe before me. 41r, full downe before me. 42r, full downe before me. 43r, full downe before me. 44r, full downe before me. 45r, full downe before me. 46r, full downe before me. 47r, full downe before me. 48r, full downe before me. 49r, full downe before me. 50r, full downe before me. 51r, full downe before me. 52r, full downe before me. 53r, full downe before me. 54r, full downe before me. 55r, full downe before me. 56r, full downe before me. 57r, full downe before me. 58r, full downe before me. 59r, full downe before me. 60r, full downe before me. 61r, full downe before me. 62r, full downe before me. 63r, full downe before me. 64r, full downe before me. 65r, full downe before me. 66r, full downe before me. 67r, full downe before me. 68r, full downe before me. 69r, full downe before me. 70r, full downe before me. 71r, full downe before me. 72r, full downe before me. 73r, full downe before me. 74r, full downe before me. 75r, full downe before me. 76r, full downe before me. 77r, full downe before me. 78r, full downe before me. 79r, full downe before me. 80r, full downe before me. 81r, full downe before me. 82r, full downe before me. 83r, full downe before me. 84r, full downe before me. 85r, full downe before me. 86r, full downe before me. 87r, full downe before me. 88r, full downe before me. 89r, full downe before me. 90r, full downe before me. 91r, full downe before me. 92r, full downe before me. 93r, full downe before me. 94r, full downe before me. 95r, full downe before me. 96r, full downe before me. 97r, full downe before me. 98r, full downe before me. 99r, full downe before me. 100r, full downe before me.

6 And the deuill said vnto him, All this power will I giue thee, and the glory of these kingdomes, for that is deliuered to mee: and to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, they shall be all thine.

8 But Iesus answered him, A said, † Greek: for heinde me. Hence from me Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him alone thou shalt serue.

9 Then hee brought him to Ierusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou bee the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence.

10 For it is written, * That he will giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee:

11 And with their hands they shall lift thee vp, lest at any time thou shouldest dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him, It is said, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuill had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 ¶ And Iesus returned by the power of the Spirit into Galile: and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about:

15 For hee taught in their Synagogues, and was honoured of all men.

16 ¶ And he came to Nazaret where he had been brought vp, and (as his custome was) went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood vp to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when hee had opened the booke, he found the place where it was written,

18 * The Spirit of the Lord is vpon mee, because he hath anointed me, that I should preach the Gospel to the poore, he hath sent mee that I should heale the broken hearted, that I should preach deliuerance to the captiues, and recovering of sight to the blinde, that I should set at libertie them that are bruised, 19 And that I should preach the acceptable yere of the Lord.

20 And he closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the Minister and sat downe: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 Then he began to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondred at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 Then hee said vnto them, Yee will surely say vnto me this prouerbe, Philician, heale thy selfe: whatsoever we haue heard done in Capernaum, doe it here likewise in thine owne country.

24 And he said, Verely I say vnto you, * No Prophet is accepted in his owne country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, many widowes were in Israel in the dayes of * Elias, when heauen was shut three yeres and sixe moneths, when great famine was throughout all the land.

26 But vnto none of them was Elias sent, save into Sarepta a gipsie of Sidon vnto a certaine widow.

27 Also many lepers were in Israel in the time of * Eliseus the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cite was built, to cast him downe headlong.

30 But he passed thorow the mids of them, and went his way, 31 ¶ And came downe into Capernaum, a city of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

32 ¶ And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with authoritie.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an vnclane deuill, which cryed with a loud voyce, 34 Saying, Oh, what haue we to doe with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, scilicet the Holy one of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace and come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the mids of them, came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselves, saying, What thing is this? for with authoritie and power hee commandeth the fowle spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him spread a broad thorough out all the places of the country round about.

38 ¶ And he rose vp and came out of the Synagogue, and entred into Simons house. And Simons mar. 1. wifes mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

39 Then hee floored ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediately shee arose, and ministered vnto them.

40 Now, when the Sonne was downe, all they that had sicke filles of diuers diseases, brought them vnto him, and hee laide his hands on euery one of them, and healed them.

41 ¶ And deuils also came out of many, crying, Marke and saying, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of God: 34. but he rebuked them, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be the Christ.

42 And when it was day hee departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that he should not depart from them.

43 But hee said vnto them, Surely I must also preach the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the Synagogues of Galile.

C H A P. V.

1 Christ preacheth out of the shippe. 6 The great draught of fish. 10 Certaine disciples are called. 12 He cleanseth the Leper. 18 He healeth the man of the palse. 27 Hee calleth Matthew the Customier. 30 He catcheth with sinners. 34 And excuseth his, as touching fasting.

¶ Then * it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the word of God, that hee stood by the lake of Gennesaret,

2 And saw two ships stand by the lakers side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And hee entred into one of the ships, which was Simons, and required him that he would thrust off a little from the land: and hee sat downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ¶ Now when hee had left speaking, hee said vnto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let downe your nets to make a draught.

5 Then Simon answered, and said vnto him, Master, we haue travailed all night, and haue taken nothing, neare theefle, at thy word I will let downe the net.

6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their partners which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpe them, who came then, & filled both the ships tost they did make.

8 Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, goe from me: for I am a sinfull man.

9 For hee was vtterly astonied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.

10 And so was also James and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedee, which were companions of Simon. Then Iesus said vnto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought the ships to land, they forsooke all and followed him.

12 ¶ Now it came to passe, as hee was in a certaine citie, beheld, ~~there~~ was a man full of leprosie, and when he saw Iesus, hee fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So hee stretched forth his hand, and touched him saying, I will be thou cleane. And immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he commanded him that hee should tell it no man, but go, ~~saith he~~, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as Moyses hath commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much more went there a fame abroad of him, & great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But he kept himselfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

17 ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day as hee was teaching, that the Pharises and doctours of the Law came by, which were come out of euery towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Ierusalem, and the power of the Lord was in him to heale them.

18 ¶ Then behold, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palsey, & they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the prease, they went vp on the house, and let him downe thorow the tiling, bed and all, in the mids before Iesus.

20 And when hee saw their faith, hee said vnto him, Man, thy finnes are forgiven thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to thinke, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies? who can forgive finnes but God onely?

22 But when Iesus perceined their thoughts, hee answered and said vnto them, What thinke yee in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy finnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise and walke?

24 But that yee may know that the sonne of man hath authoritie to forgive finnes in earth, (hee said vnto the sicke of the palsey) I say to thee, Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe to thine house.

25 And immediately he rose vp before them, and booke vp his bed whereon hee lay, and departed to his owne house, praying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and praised God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse wee haue seene strange things to day.

27 ¶ And after that, hee went forth, and saw a Publikean, named J Leui, sitting at the recett of Customes, and said vnto him, Follow me.

28 And hee left all, rose vp, and followed him.

29 Then Leui made him a great feast in his own house, where there was a great company of Publicanes, canes, and other that sat at table with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharises among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why eate yee and drinke yee with Publicanes and sinners?

31 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, They that are whole, neede not the Physician, but they that are sicke.

32 ¶ I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ Then they said vnto him, Why doothe disciples of Iohn fast often and pray, and the disciples of the Pharises also, butt thou eate and drinke?

34 And hee said vnto them, Can yee make the children of the wedding chamber to fast as long as I praye.

35 But the daies will come, when the bridegrome shall be taken away from them: then shall they fast in those daies.

36 Again he spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an olde vesture: for then the new renteth it, and the piece taken out of the new agreeth not with the old.

37 Also no man powreth new wine into olde vessels: for then the new wine will breake the vessels, and it will runne out, and the vessels will perish.

38 But new wine must be powred into new vessels: for both are preserved.

39 Also no man that drinketh old wine, straightway desireth new: for hee saith, The old is better.

C H A P. VI.

3 Christ standeth in his disciples defense and his owne, as touching the breach of the Sabbath. 12 After watching and prayer hee electeth his Apostles. 18 He healeth and teacheth the people. 20 He sheweth who are blessed. 27 To loue our enemies. 37 Not to iudge rashly, 41 and to auoid hypocrisie.

And * it came to passe on the second Sabbath, after the first, that hee went thorow the corn fields, and his disciples plucked the eares of corne, and did eate, and rub them in their hands.

2 And certaine of the Pharises said vnto them, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabbath dayes?

3 Then Iesus answered them, and said, * Haue ye not read this, that Dauid did when hee himselfe was an hungred, and they which were with him.

4 How he went into the house of God, & tooke, and ate the Shewbread, & gaue also to them which were with him, which was not lawfull to eate, but for the Priests onely?

5 And he said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught, and there was a man whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether hee would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, & said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise and stand vp in the mids. And he rose, and stood vp.

9 Then saide Iesus to them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath daies to doe good, or to doe euill: to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And he beheld them all in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And hee did so: and his hand was restored againe as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madnesse, and communed one with another, what they might doe to Iesus.

12 ¶ And it came to passe in those dayes that he went into a mountaine to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

13 ¶ And when it was day, he called his disciples, and of them hee chose twelue, which also hee called Apostles.

14 (Simon, whom he named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, James, and Iohn, Philip, and Bartlemew.

15 Matthew, and Thomas, Iames the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zealous:

16 Iudas Iames brother, and Iudas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.)

17 Then he came downe with them, and stood in a plaine place, with the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And he liued vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be yee poore: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 ¶ Blessed are yee that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied: blessed are yee that weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 ¶ Blessed are yee when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce yee in that day and bee glad: for be- hold, your reward is great in heauen: for after this manner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 ¶ But woe be to you that are full: for yee haue received your consolation.

25 ¶ Woe be to you that are full: for yee shall hunger. Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall waille and weepe.

26 Woe be to you when all men speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 ¶ But I say vnto you which heare, loue your enemies: doe well to them which hate you.

28 Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 ¶ And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer also the other: and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 ¶ And as yee would that men should doe to you, so doe ye to them likewise.

32 ¶ For if yee loue them which loue you, what thanke shall ye haue? for euen the sinners loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye doe good for them which doe good for you, what thanke shall yee haue? for euen the sinners doe the same.

34 ¶ And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receiue, what thanke shall ye haue? for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore, loue yee your enemies, and doe good, and lend, looking for nothing againe, and your reward shall be great, and yee shall be the children of the most High: for hee is kinde vnto the vkinde, and to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

37 ¶ Iudge not, and ye shall not be iudged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

38 Giue, and it shall be giuen vnto you: a good measure, pressed downe, shaken together and running ouer shall men giue iaro your bosome: for with what measure ye mete, with the same shall men mete to you againe.

39 And he spake a parable vnto them, ¶ Can the blinde lead the blinde? shall not they both fall into the ditch?

40 ¶ The discipple is not above his master: but whosoever will be a perfect discipple, shall beas his master.

41 ¶ And why seest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let mee pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine owne eye first, and then shalt thou see perfectly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 ¶ For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruit: neither an euill tree that bringeth forth good fruit.

44 ¶ For euery tree is known by his owne fruit: for neither of thornes gather men figges, nor of bushes gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good, and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart bringeth forth euill: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ But why call yee me Master, Master, and doe not the things that I speake?

47 Whosoever commeth to me, and heareth my words, and doeth the same, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 Hee is like a man which buildeth a house, and digged deepe, and layd the foundation on a rocke: and when the waters arose, the flood beat vpon that house, and could not shake it: for it was grounded vpon a rocke.

49 But hee that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that buildeth a house vpon earth without foundation, against which the flood did beat, and it fell by and by: and the fall of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

2 Hee healeth the captiues seruants. 11 Heraseth vp the widowes from death to life. 19 Hee answereth the disciples whom Iohn Baptist sent vnto him. 24 Hee commendeth Iosias, 31 and reproveth the Iewes for their unfaithfulness. 36 Hee raiseth with the Pharisee. 37 The woman washeth her feete with her teares and hee forgiveth her sinnes.

¶ Then he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum:

2 And a certaine centurions seruant was sicke and readie to die, which was deare vnto him.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that hee would come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besought him instantly, saying, that hee was worthy that hee should doe this for him.

5 For hee loueth, said they, our nation and hee hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them, but when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldst ouervnder my roide.

7 Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say the word, and my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder authoritie, and haue vnder me fouldiers: and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and hee cometh: and to my seruant, Doe this, and hee doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him, and said to the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And when they that were sent turned backe to the house, they found the seruant that was sicke, whole.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that hee went into a citie called Nain, and many of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Nowe when hee came neere to the gate of the citie, behold, there was a dead man caried out, who was the onely begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widow, and much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, hee had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And he went and touched the coffin (and they that bare him stood still) and hee said, Young man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And hee that was dead sat vp, and began to speake, and hee deliuered him to his mother.

16 Then there came a feare on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raised vp among vs, and God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth thorowout all Iudea, and thorowout all the region round about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

20 And when the men were come vnto him, they sayd, Iohn Baptiste hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

21 And, at that time he cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many blinde men he gaue sight.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Goe your wayes, and shew Iohn what things yee haue seene and heard: that the blind see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, and the poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is hee that shall not bee offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people, of Iohn, What went yee out into the wilde desert to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went yee out to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in kings courts.

26 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say to you, and greater then a Prophet.

27 This is he, of whom it is written, * Behold, I Mal. 3.1 send my messenger before thy face, which shall Or. Angel prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, There is no greater Prophet then Iohn among them that are begotten of Or. borne women: neuertheless, hee that is the least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes iustified God, being baptized with the Baptisme of Iohn.

30 But the Pharisees and the expounders of the Law, despised the counsell of God against themselves, and were not baptized of him.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Wherunto shall I liken Mat. 11 the men of this generation? and what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not dauced: wee haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptiste came, neither eating bread nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath the deuill.

34 The sonne of man is come, and eatech and drinketh: and ye say, Beholde, a man which is a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisdome is iustified of all her children.

36 ¶ And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him: and he went into the Pharisees house and sat downe at table. Mar. 14.3

37 And behold, a woman in the citie, which was a sinner, when shee knew that Iesus sat at table in the Pharisees house, she brought a boxe of ointment:

38 ¶ And she stood at his feete behind him weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, & did wipe them with the haire of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. Mar. 14.3

39 Now when the Pharisees which bade him, saw it, he spake within himselfe, saying, If this man were a Prophet, hee would surely haue knownen, who, and what maner of woman this is which toucheth him, for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answered, & said vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he said, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two debtors: the one ought five hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, hee forgane them both. Which of them therefore, tell me, will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgane most. And hee said vnto him, Thou hast truly iudged.

44 Then he turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feet, but she hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the haire of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but shee since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoynt, but she hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say vnto thee, Many finnes are forgiven

For the Gospel is preached to the poore, forgiven her: for she loved much. To whom a little is forgiven, he doth love a little.

48 And hee said vnto her, Thy finnes are forgiven thee.

49 And they that sat at table with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that euert forgiveth finnes?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee, goe in peace.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Christ with his Apostles goe from towne to towne and preach. 3 The women minister vnto them of their goods. 5 He sheweth the parable of the seed. 21 Hee telleth who is his mother & his brother. 24 He filleth the ragging of the lake. 27 He deliveth the possessed. 33 The devils enter into the herds of swine. 41 Hee healeth the sicke woman, and sayes daughter.

And it came to passe afterwards, that he himselfe went thorow euery citie and towne, preaching and publishing the kingdome of God, & the twelve were with him.

2 And certaine women which were healed of euill spirits and iustifies as * Mary which was called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils.

3 And Ioanna the wife of Chuza Herods steward, and Susanna, & many other which ministered vnto him of their substance.

4 * Now when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of all cities, hee spake by a parable,

5 A sower went out to sowe his seede, and as hee sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was troden vnder feet, and the fowles of heauen deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on the stones, & when it was sprung vp, it withered away, because it lacked moysture.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good ground, and sprang vp, and bare fruit an hundred fold. And as hee saide these things, he cryed, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 Then his disciples asked him, demanding what parable that was.

10 And he said, Vnto you it is giuen to knowe the secrets of the kingdome of God, but to other in parables; that when * they see, they should notice, and when they heare, they should not vnderstand.

11 * The parable is this, The seede is the word of God.

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that heare: afterward commeth the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, least they should beleue and be saved.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the word with ioy: but they haue no roots, which for a while beleue, but in the time of tentation goe away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they which haue heard, and after their departure are choked with cares & with riches, and voluptuous liuing and bring forth no fruit.

15 But that which fell in good ground, are they which with an honest and good heart heare the Chap. ii. word and keepe it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 * No man when he lighteth a candle, concealeth it vnder a vessell, neither putteth it vnder the table, but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that enterin, may see the light.

17 * For nothing is secret that shall not bee euident: neither any thing hid that shall not be known, and come to light.

18 Take heede therefore how yee heare: * for whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen, and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken euent that which it seemeth that he hath.

19 * Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come neere to him for the presse.

20 And it was told him by certaine which sayde, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and would see thee.

21 But he answered and said vnto them, My mother and my brethren are these which heare the word of God, and doe it.

22 * And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and hee said vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they lunched forth.

23 And as they sailed he fell asleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in icopardy.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he said vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, and wondered among themselves, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him?

26 * So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarens, which is ouer against Galile.

27 And as he went out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the citie, which had a deuill long time, and he ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he saw Iesus, he cryed out, and fell downe before him, & with a loud voice said, What haue I to doe with thee, Iesus the sonne of God the most High? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for oftentimes he had caught him, therefore he was bound with chains, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bands, and was carryed of the deuill into wildernesses)

30 Then Iesus asked him saying, What is thy name? And hee said Legion, because many devils were cattered into him.

31 And they besought him that hee would not command them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was hereby an heard of many swine feeding on a hill, and the devils besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. So hee suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd was carryed with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the herdmen saw what was done they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie, and in the countrey.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarens, besought him that hee would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship and returned.

38 Then the man out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that hee might bee with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shewe what great things God hath done to thee. So hee went his way, and preached throughout all the city, what great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe when Iesus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Iairus, and he was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fell downe at Iesus feet, and besought him that hee would come into his house.

42 For he had but a daughter only about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay a dying, (and as hee went the people thronged him, 43 And a woman hauing an issue of blood twelue yeeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon Physicians, and could not be healed of any)

44 When she came behind him, she touched the hemme of his garment, and immediatly her issue of blood stanchd.

45 Then Iesus said, Who is it that hath touched mee? When euery man denied, Peter said, and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Iesus said, Some one hath touched mee: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that she was not hid, shee came trembling, and fell downe before him and told him before all the people, for what cause shee had touched him, and how shee was healed immediatly.

48 And he said vnto her, Daughter, bee of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole: goe in peace)

49 While he yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the Synagogues house, which sayd to him Thy daughter is dead, disceale not the Master.

50 When Iesus heard it, hee answered him, saying, Feare not: beleeue onely, and she shalbe made whole.

51 And when he went into the house, hee suffred no man to go in with him, saue Peter, & Iames, and Iohn, and the father and mother of the maid.

52 And all wept and sorrowed for her: but hee said, Weepe not: for she is not dead, but she sleepeth

53 And they laughd him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he thrust them all out, and tooke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and shee rose straightway: and he commanded to giue her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonied: but he commanded them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAP. IX.

2 Hefenleth out the twelue Apostles to preach, 7 Herod heareth tell of him. 12 Hee feedeth fise thousand men with fise loaves and two fishes. 19 Diuers opinions of Christ. 28 He transfigureth himselfe vpon the mount. 42 Hee do surress the possessed, 47 and teacheth his disciples to be lowly. 54 They desire vengeance, but hee promoueth them.

¶ Then he called her twelue disciples together, and gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuils, and to heale diseases.

2 ¶ And he sent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to cure the sicke.

3 And hee said to them, Take nothing to your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, nor filner, neither haue two coats.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye goe out of that cite, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimonie against them.

6 And they went out, and went through euery towne preaching the Gospel, and healing euery where.

7 ¶ Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and hee doubted, because that he was said of some, that Iohn was risen againe from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the olde Prophets was risen againe.

9 Then Herod said, Iohn haue I beheaded: who then is this of whom I heare such things? and hee desired to see him.

10 ¶ And when the Apostles returned, they told him what great things they had done. ¶ Then hee tooke them, and went aside into a solitary place, to the cite called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knew it, they followed him: and he receiued them; and spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed.

12 ¶ And when the day began to wexe away, the twelue came, and said vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the townes and villages round about, and lodge, and get meate: for wee are here in a desert place.

13 But hee said vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they said, We haue no meate but fise loaves and two fishes, except wee should goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 For they were about fise thousand men. Then he said to his disciples, Canst thou to sit downe by fities in a company.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

16 Then hee tooke the fise loaves, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.

17 So they did all eate and were satisfied: and there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 ¶ And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him, and hee asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answered and said, Iohn Baptist: and others say, Elias, and some say, that one of the olde Prophets is risen againe.

20 And hee said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said, The Christ of God.

21 And hee warned and commanded them, that they should tell that to no man, 22 Saying, The Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reprobred of the Elders and of the chief Priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and the third day rise againe.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himselfe, and take vp his crosse daily, and follow me.

24 ¶ For whosoever will saue his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall saue it.

25 For what aduantage it a man if hee winne the whole world, and destroy himselfe, or lose himselfe?

26 * For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, of him shall the Sonne of man bee ashamed, when he shall come in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy Angels.

27 * And I tell you of a surety, there bee some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God.

28 * And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those words, that he tooke Peter, and Iohn, and Mar. y. 2. James, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment was white and glistered.

30 And behold, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias,

31 Which appeared in glory, and tolde of his departing, which hee should accomplish at Ierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him were heauie with sleepe, and when they awoke, they saw his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs so be here: let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloude and overshadowed them, and they feared when they were entred into the cloude.

35 * And there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of those things which they had seene.

37 ¶ And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

38 * And behold, a man of the company cryed out, saying, Master, beseech thee, behold my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

39 And loe, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he crieth, and he teareth him, that hee cometh, and with much paine departeth from him, when hee hath braised him.

40 Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

41 Then Iesus answered, and said, O generation faithlesse and crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you: bring thy sonne hither.

42 And whiles hee was yet comming, the deuill rent him and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vn. cleane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: and while they all wondred at all things which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples, 44 ¶ Marke these words diligently: for it shall come to passe, that the Sonne of man shall be deli. uered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not that worde: for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that worde.

46 ¶ Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.

47 When Iesus saw the thoughts of their hearts, he tooke a little child, and set him by him,

48 And said vnto them, Whosoever receiue this little child in my Name, receiue me: and whosoever shall receiue me, receiueth him that sent mee: for hee that is least among you, he shall be great.

49 ¶ And Iohn answered, and said Master, wee saw one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbade him, because he followeth thee not with vs.

50 Then Iesus said vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

51 ¶ And it came to passe, when the dayes were accomplished, that he should be receiued vp, he se. lected himselfe fully to Ierusalem.

52 And sent messengers before him: and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritanes, to prepare him lodging.

53 But they would not receiue him, because his behauiour was, as though hee would goe to Ierusa. lem.

54 And when his disciples Iames and Iohn sawe it, they sayd, Lord, wilt thou that we command, that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as * Elias did?

55 But Iesus turned about, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what spirit ye are.

56 For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to sanethem. Then they went to another towne.

57 ¶ And it came to passe, that as they went in the way, * a certaine man sayd vnto him, I will follow thee Lord, whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Iesus sayd vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birds of the heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head.

59 But he sayd vnto another, Follow mee: And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to goe and bury my father.

60 And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdome of God.

61 Then another said, I will follow thee, Lord: but let me first goe bid them farewell which are at mine house.

62 And Iesus said vnto him, No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

CHAP. X.

1 He sendeth the seventy before him to preach, and giueth them a charge how to behaue themselves. 13 He threatneth the obstinate. 21 He giueth thanks to his brauely faile. 25 He answereth the Scribe that tempted him, 33 and by the example of the Samaritan sheweth who is a mans neighbour. 38 Martha receiveth the Lord into her house. 40 Mary is feruent in hearing his word.

After these things the Lord appointed other fe. Mat. 10. 1 uentuallo, and sent them two and two before him into every citie and place whither hee him selfe should come.

2 And hee sayd vnto them, * The harvest is great, but the labourers are fewe: pray therefore 37. the Lord of the harvest to send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Goe your wayes: behold, I * send you forth as Mat. 10. 16 lambs among wolves.

4 Beare no bag, neither scrip, nor shooes, * and sa. 3. 1. lute no man by the way.

5 * And into whosoever house ye enter, first say, Mat. 10. 13 Peace be to this house.

obstinate threatened.

S. Luke,

Who is our neighbour.

14. * For the labourer is worthy of his wages, Goe not from house to house.

15. 8 But into whatsoever citie yee shall enter, if they receiue you, cate such things as are set before you,

9 And heale the sicke that are there, and say vnto them, The kingdome of God is come neere vnto you.

10 But into whatsoever citie yee shall enter, if they will not receiue you, goe your wayes out into the streetes of the same, and say,

11 Euen the very * dust which cleaueth on vs of your city, we wipe off against you: notwithstanding knowe this, that the kingdome of God was come neere vnto you

12 For I say vnto you, that it shalbe easier in that day for them of Sodom, then for that citie.

13 * Woe be to thee Chorazin: Woe be to thee Bethsaida: for if the miracles had beene done in Tyrus and Zidon, which haue beene done in you, they had a great while agoone repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 Therefore it shalbe easier for Tyrus and Zidon at the iudgement, then for you.

15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heauen, shalt be thrust downe to hell.

16 ¶ He that heareth you heareth me: and hee that despiseth you, despiseth me: and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ And the seueuty returned againe with ioy, saying, Lord euen the deuils are subdued to vs through thy Name, 18 And he said vnto them, If saw Satan like ligh- tening, fall downe from heauen.

19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on serpents, and scorpions, & ouer all the power of the enemye, and nothing shall hurt you.

20 Neuerthelesse in this reioyce not, that the spi- rits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce be- cause your names are written in heauen.

21 ¶ That same houre reioyced Iesus jn the spi- rit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast hid these things fro the wise and learned, and hast reuealed them to babes: euen so Father, because it so pleased thee.

22 Then he returned to his disciples, and said, All things are giuen me of my Father, & no man know- eth who the Sonne is but the Father: neither who the Father is, saue the Sonne, and hee to whom the Sonne will reueale him.

23 ¶ And he returned to his disciples, and said secretly, * Blessed are the eyes which see thee yee see.

24 For I tell you, that many Prophets and kings haue desired to see those things which yee see, and haue not seene them, & to heare those things which yee heare, and haue not heard them.

25 ¶ Then behold, a certaine expounder of the law stood vp and tempted him saying, Master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life?

26 And he said vnto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou?

27 And he answered and said, * Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, * and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

28 Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But he willing to jn iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answered and said, A certaine man went downe from Ierusalem to Iericho, and fell among thecues, & they robbed him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And by chance there came downe a certaine Priest that same way, and when he saw him, he pas- sed by on the other side.

32 And likewise also a Leuite, when hee was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 Then a certaine Samaritan, as he journeyed, came neere vnto him, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle, and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an Inne, and made provision for him.

35 And on the morrow when hee departed, hee tooke out two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and sayd vnto him, Take care of him, and whatoe- uer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theemes?

37 And hee sayd, He that shewed mercie on him. Then Iesys said vnto him, Goe, and doe thou like- wise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe as they went, that hee entred into a certaine towne, and a certaine wo- man named Martha receiued him into her house.

39 And shee had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Iesus seete, and heard his preaching.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much ser- uing, and came to him, and said, Master, dost thou not care that my sister hath left mee to serue alone? bid her therfore that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered and said vnto her, Mar- tha, Martha, thou carest, and art troubled about ma- ny things?

42 But one thing is needfull, Mary hath chos- en the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAP. XI.

2 He teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 He driueth out a deuill, 15 and rebueth the blasphemous Pha- rises. 28 Hee preserueth the spiritual custome. 29 They require signes and tokens. 37 Hee teacheth with the Pharise, and reprooueth the hypocricie of the Pha- rises, Scribes and hypocrites.

¶ And so it was that as hee was praying, in a cer- taine place when he ceased, one of his disciples sayd vnto him, Master, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 * And he said vnto them, When yee pray, say, Our Father which art in heauen, hallowed be thy Name: thy kingdome come: Let thy will be done, euen in earth as it is in heauen,

3 Our daily bread giue vs for the day:

4 And jf forgive vs our sinnes: for euen we for- giue euery man that is indebted to vs: and leade vs not into temptation: but deliuer vs from euill.

5 ¶ Moreover he said vnto them, Which of you shal haue a friend, and shall goe to him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend me three loaves?

6 For a friend of mine is come j out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him:

7 And he within should answer, and say, Trou- ble mee not: the doore is now shut, and my chil- dren are with mee in bed: I cannot rise and giue thee to thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though he would not arise and giue him, because he is his friend, yet doubt- less because of his importunitie, hee would rise and giue him as many as he needed.

Mat. 7. 7 9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shalbe giuen vnto you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knock, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

Job. 14 10 For euery one that asketh, receiueith: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

Mat. 7. 9 11 * If a sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, will hee giue him a stone? or if hee aske a fish, will hee for a fish giue him a serpent?

12 Or, if hee aske an egge, will hee giue him a scorpion?

13 If ye then which are euill, can giue good gifts vnto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father giue the holy Ghost to them that desire him?

14 ¶ Then hee cast out a deuill which was dumbe: and when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake, and the people wondred.

15 But some of them said, He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.

16 And other tempted him, seeking of him a signe from heauen.

Mat. 12. 17 But hee knew their thoughts, and said vnto them, * Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, shall bee desolate, and an house diuided against an house, falleth.

18 So if Satan also bee diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome stand, because ye say, that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

19 If I thorowe Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom doe your children cast them out? Therefore shall they be your iudges.

20 But if I by the finger of God cast out deuils, doubtles the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

For safety 21 When a strong man armed kepeth his place, the things that he possedeth are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then hee cometh vpon him, and ouercometh him: hee taketh from him all his armour wherein hee trusted, and diuideth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

Mat. 12. 24 * When the vnclene spirit is gone out of a man, hee walketh thorow dry places, seeking rest, and when hee findeth none, hee saith, I will returne vnto mine house whence I came out.

25 And when hee cometh, hee findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirits, worse then himselfe: and they enter in, and dwell there: * so the last state of that man is worse then the first.

Hebr. 6. 27 ¶ And it came to passe as hee said these things, a certaine woman of sy company lifted vp her voice, and sayd vnto him, Blessed art thou wombe that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast suckled.

28 But hee sayd, Yea, rather blessed are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

Mat. 12. 29 ¶ * And when the people were gathered thicke together, hee began to say, This is a wicked generation: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe bee giuen them, but the signe of Ionas the prophet.

30 For as Ionas was a signe to the Nineuites, so shall also the Sonne of man bee to this generation.

1. Pet. 1. 31 ¶ * The Queene of the South shal rise in iudgement with the men of this generation, and shal condemn them: for she came from the vttermost parts of the earth to heare the wisdom of Salomon, and behold, a greater then Salomon is here.

32 The men of Nineue shal rise in iudgement with this generation, and shal condemne it: for they

* repented at the preaching of Ionas, and behold, a Ionas is greater then Ionas is here.

33 ¶ * No man lighteth a candle, and putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a busshell: but on a candlestick, that they which come in, may see the light.

34 ¶ * The light of the body is the eye, therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole bodie light: but if thine eye bee euill, then thy body is darke.

35 Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee, be not darknesse.

36 If therefore thy whole body shall be light, having no part darke, then shall all be light, euen as when a candle doth light thee with the brightness.

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certaine Pharise besought him to dine with him: and he went in, & sat downe at table.

38 And when the Pharise saw it, hee maroeiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 ¶ And the Lord sayd to him, Iudged ye Pharisees make cleane the outside of the cup and of the platter: but the inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 Therefore giue almes of those things which are within, and behold, all things shalbe cleane to you.

42 But woe bee to you Pharisees: for ye tithe the mint and the rue, and all manner herbes, and passe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: these ought ye to haue done, and not to haue left the other vndone.

43 ¶ Woe bee to you Pharisees: for ye loue the uppermost seats in the Synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe bee to you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the men which walke ouer them, perceiue not.

45 ¶ Then answered one of the expounders of the law, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying, thou putteth vs to rebulke also.

46 And hee sayd, Woe bee to you also, ye interpreters of the law: for ye lade men with burdens grieuous to bee borne, and ye your selues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe bee to you: for ye build the sepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye beare witnes, and allow the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and yee build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore said the wisdom of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and of them they shall slay and persecute.

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation.

51 From the blood of * Abel vnto the blood of Zacharias, which was slaine betwene the Altar and the Temple: verely I say vnto you, it shalbe required of this generation.

52 Woe bee to you interpreters of the Law: for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in your selues, and them that came in, yee forbade.

53 And as hee sayd these things vnto them, the Scribes and Pharisees began to vrghe him fore, and to prouoke him to speake of many things, 54 Laying wait for him, & seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, wherby they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ commeth to avoid hypocrites. 4 That we should not swear men, but God. 5 To cast off his name. 10. Blessings against the Pharisees. 14 Not to passe our vocation. 15 Not to give our selves to common care of this life. 22. But to righteousness, almes, watching, patience, wisdom and concord.

Matth. 16. 1 IN the meane time, there gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, so that they trode one another: and he began to say vnto his disciples first, Take heede to your selues of the leauen of the Pharisees, which is hypocricie.

Matth. 16. 2 * For there is nothing covered, which shall not be reuealed, neither hid, that shall not be knownen.

3 Wherefore whatsoever ye haue spoken in darkness, it shall be heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the care in secret places, shall be preached on the houses.

Matth. 16. 4 * And I say vnto you my friends, be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that are not able to doe any more.

5 But I will forewarne you whom ye shal feare: feare him which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell: yea, I say vnto you, him feare.

6 Are not fise sparowes bought for two farthings, and yet not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 Yea, and all the haire of your head are numbered: feare not therefore, ye are of more value then many sparowes.

Matth. 16. 8 * Also I say vnto you, Whosoener shall confesse me before men, him shall the Sonne of man confesse also before the Angels of God.

Matth. 16. 9 But he that shall denie me before men, shal be denied before the Angels of God.

Matth. 16. 10 And whosoever shall speake a word against the Sonne of man, it shall be forgiven him: but vnto him that shall blasfeme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

Matth. 16. 11 * And when they shall bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers and princes, take no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall speake.

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 And one of the company said vnto him, Master, Bid my brother diuide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said vnto him, Man, who made mee a iudge, or a diuider among you?

15 Wherefore he said vnto them, Take heed, and beware of couetousnesse: for though a man haue abundance, yet his life standeth not in his riches.

16 And he put forth a parable vnto them, saying, The ground of a certaine rich man brought forth fruits plentifully.

17 Therefore hee thought with himselfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no room where I may lay vp my fruits.

18 And he said, This will I do, I will pull downe my barnes, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits and my goods, Eccles. 12. 19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laid vp for many yerres: lue at ease, eat, drinke, and take thy pastime.

20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night will they fetch away thy soule from thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth riches to himselfe, and is not rich in God.

Mat. 8. 25 22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eate: neither for your body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more then meate: and the bodie more then the raiment.

24 Consider the rauen: for they neither sow nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barn, and yet God feedeth them: how much are yet better then foules?

25 And which of you with taking thought, can add to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then bee not able to doe the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consider the lillies how they grow: they labour not, neither spin they: yet I say vnto you, that Salomon himselfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grasse which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the oven, how much more will hee clothe you, O yet of little faith?

29 Therefore aske not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drinke, neither stand in doubt.

30 For all such things the people of the world seeke for: and your Father knoweth that ye haue need of these things.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these things shall be ministred vnto you.

32 Feare not, little focke, for it is your Fathers pleasure to giue you the kingdome.

33 * Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bags which wax not old, a treasure that can neuer faile in heauen, where no thiefe commeth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 * Let your loines be girded about, and your lights burning.

36 And yee your selues like vnto men that waite for their master, when he will returne from the wedding, that when he commeth and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those seruants, whome the Lord when he commeth shall find waking: verily I say vnto you, he will gird himselfe about, and make them to sit downe at table, and will come forth and serue them.

38 And if he come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and shall finde them so, blessed are those seruants.

39 * Now vnderstand this, that if the goodman of the house had knownen at what houre the thiefe would haue come, hee would haue watched, and would not haue suffered his house to be digged thorough.

40 Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Son of man will come at an houre when ye thinke not.

41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or enen to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull steward and wife, whom the Master shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their portion of meat in season?

43 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a truth, I say vnto you, that he will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My master doth deferre his comming, and shall begin to finite the seruants and maidens, and to eat and drinke, and to be drunken,

46 The master of that seruant will come in a day which he thinketh not to be an hour when he is 27 ¶ And thus saith that knew his masters will,

and prepared not himselfe neither did he according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

28 And he that knoweth not, and yet did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes: for unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required, and to whom men much commit the more of him will they aske.

29 ¶ I am come to put fire on the earth, and what is my desire if it be already kindled?

30 Now will I kindle it, I must be baptized with a baptisme: and how am I grieved till it be ended?

Mat. 10. 34. ¶ Think ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you nay, but rather debate.

35 For from henceforth there shall be fire in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

36 The father shall be divided against the sonne, and the son against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother:
the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

Mat. 16. 37. ¶ Then said he to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the West, straightway ye say, A showre cometh: and so it is.

38 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say that it will be hot, and it cometh to passe.

39 Hypocrites, yee can discern the face of the earth, and of the skie: but why discern ye not this time?

40 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is right?

Mat. 5. 3. ¶ While thou goest with thine adversary to tharke, as thou art in the way, give diligence in the way, that thou mayest bee deliuered from him, lest he bring thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the gaoler, and the gaoler cast thee into prison.

41 I tell thee thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast payed the very last mite.

1 The country of Pilate. 2 ¶ How ought we to condemne all to wicked men which suffer. 3 Christ exhorteth to repentance. 4 He beateth the crooked woman. 5 Answere to the master of the Synagogue.

6 By diuine skill he declares what the kingdome of God is. 7 ¶ Also that the number of them which shall be saved, is small. 8 Finally, he sheweth that no worldly policy or force can let the works and counsel of God.

¶ There were certaine men present at the same season, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose bloode Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Suppose yee that these Galileans were greater sinners, then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your lives, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or, thinke you that those eighteen, vpon whom the tower in Siloam fel, and slew them, were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Ierusalem?

10r, de- 5. I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your lives, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable, A certaine man had a figtree planted in his vineyard: and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, I haue three yeeres hane I come, and sought fruit of this figtree, and found none: cut it downe: why keepeth it still the ground barren?

8 ¶ And he answered, and said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, till I dig round about it, and dung it.

9 ¶ And if it beare fruit, well: if not, then after that shall it be downe.

10 ¶ And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 ¶ And beholde, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen yeeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.

12 When Iesus saw her, hee called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

day.

13 And he layd his hands on her, and immediately shee was made straight againe, and glorified
God.

14 And the Ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, and said vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to worke: in these therefore come and bee healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doeth not each one of you on the Sabbath day loose his ox, or his asse, from the stall, and lead him away to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, loe, eighteen yeeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?

17 And when hee saw these things, all his aduer-saries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things that were done by him.

18 ¶ Then said he, What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shall I compare it?

Mat. 13. 31 mar.

19 It is like a graue of mustard seede, which a man took and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree, and the fowles of the heauen made nests in the branches thereof.

20 And againe he said, Whereunto shall I liken
the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman took, and hid in threes pecks of flour, till all was leauened.

22 ¶ And he went thorow all cities & townes, teaching, and iourneying toward Ierusalem.

Mat. 9. 35 mar. 6. 6.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there fewe that shall be saved? And he said vnto them,

24 ¶ Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say vnto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Mat. 7. 13

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and yee begin to stand without, and to knocke at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open vnto vs, and he shall answer, and say vnto you, I know you not whence ye are.

26 Then shall ye begin to say, Wee haue eaten and drunken in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 But hee shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquitie.

Lk. 15. 41.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Iakob, and all the Prophets in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out at dores.

29 Then shall come they from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit at table in the kingdome of God.

19. 20 * And behold, there are left which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

21 The same day there came certaine Pharisees, and said vnto him, Depart, and goe hence: for Herod will kill thee.

22 Then said he vnto them, Go ye and tell that foxe, Behold, I cast out devils, and will heale all ye Or make day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

23 Nevertheless, I must walke to day and to morrow and the day following: for I cannot heare that a Prophet be perished out of Ierusalem.

24 * O Ierusalem, Ierusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them which are sent to thee: how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as the henne gathereth her brood vnder her wings, and ye would not.

25 Behold, your house is left vnto you desolate, and verely I tell you, ye shall not see mee, vntill the time come, that ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iesus teacheth with the Pharisee. 2 He healeth the dropsie vpon the Sabbath. 3 teacheth to be lowly, and to feed the poore to our table. 4 He rebuketh of the great Supper. 5 He warneth them that will follow him, to lay their accounts before what is will cost them. 6 The sale of the carthe.

And it came to passe, that when hee was entred into the house of one of the chiefe Pharisees on the Sabbath day, to eate bread, they watched him. 2 And behold, there was a certaine man before him, which had the dropsie.

3 Then Iesus answering, spake to the expounders of the Law and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heale on the Sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. Then he tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe.

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall bene an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?

6 And they could not answer him againe to those things.

7 * He spake also a parable to the pharisees, when hee marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes, and said vnto them,

8 When thou shalt be bidden of any man to a wedding, set not thy selfe downe in the chiefe place, lest a more honorable man then thou be bidden of him,

9 And he that bade both him and thee, come and say to thee, Giue this man roomne, and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest roomne.

10 * But when thou art bidden, go and sit downe in the lowest roomne, that when hee that bade thee, commeth, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sit vp higher: then shalt thou haue worship in the presence of them that sit at table with thee.

11 * For whosoever exalteth himselfe shall be brought low, and hee that humbleth himselfe shall be exalted.

12 * Then said hee also to him that had bidden him, * When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen nor thier rich neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maimed, the lame, and the blind.

14 And thou shalt be blessed, because they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the iust.

15 * Now when one of them that sat at table, heard these things, he said vnto him, Blessed is hee that eateth bread in the kingdom of God.

16 Then said he to him, * A certaine man made a great supper, and bade many.

17 And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 But they all with one mind began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a farme, and I must needs goe: out and see it. I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I haue bought five yoke of oxen, and I goe to prove them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another said, I haue married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the good man of the house angry, and said to his seruant, Go out quickly into the places and streets of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is roomne.

23 Then the master said to the seruant, Goe out into the hie wayes and hedges, and compell them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, That none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there were great multitudes with him, and he turned and said vnto them,

26 * If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my discipule.

27 * And whosoever beareth not his crosse, and cometh after me, cannot be my discipule.

28 For which of you mindeth to build a towre, sitteth not downe before, and counteth the cost, whether he haue sufficient to performe it,

29 Let that after hee hath laid the foundation, and is not able to performe it, all that behold it, begin to mocke him.

30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to make an end?

31 Or what King going to make warre against another King, sitteth not downe first, and taketh counsell, whether hee be able with his thousand to meete him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

32 Or els whiles he is yet a great way off he sendeth an ambassage, & desireth conditions of peace, 33 So likewise, whosoever hee bee of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my discipule.

34 * Salt is good, but if salt haue lost his savor, wherewith shall it be salted?

35 It is neither meet for the land, nor yet for the dunghill, but men cast it out. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

CHAP. XV.

2 The Pharisees murmure because Christ receiueb sinners. 4 The lawing mercie of God is openly set forth in the parable of the hundred sheepe. 7 Joy in heauen for one sinner. 12 Of the prodigall sonne.

Then resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

2 Therefore the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, Hee receiueb sinners, and eateth with them.

Mat. 11. 16 * The Lawe and the Prophets endured vntill Iohn: and since that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man presseth into it.

Mat. 5. 33 18 * Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and who soeuer marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

Luc. 19. 9. 19 * There was a certaine rich man which was clothed in purple, and fine linnen, and fared wel and delicately euery day.

Luc. 11. 20. Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, 21 And desired to be refreshed with the crumbs that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it was so, that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into Abrahams bosome. The rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And being in hell in torments, hee lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham as farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then hee cried, and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that hee may dippe the tippe of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuest thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus paines: now therefore he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betweene you and vs there is a great gulfe set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, cannot: neither can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then hee said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house.

28 (For I haue fise brethren) that hee may testify vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham said vnto him, They haue Moses and the Prophets: let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay father Abraham, but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will amend their liues.

31 Then hee said vnto him, If they beare not Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be perswaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

CHAP. XVII.

Mat. 18. 7. 1 Christ teacheth his disciples to auoid occasions of offence. 3 One to forgive another. 5 Wee ought to pray for the increas of faith. 6 Hee magnifieth the vertue of faith, 10 and sheweth the vniuersality of Maies health ten lepers, 20 speaketh of the latter dayes, and of the end of the world.

Mat. 18. 7. 1 Then said hee to the disciples, * It cannot be auoided but that offences will come, but wee be to him by whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea, then that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 * Take heede to your selues: if thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him: and if he repent, forgive him.

Matth. 18. 4 * And though hee sinne against thee seuen times in a day, and seuen times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, It repenteth me, thou shalt forgive him.

5 * And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord said, * If ye had faith as small as a graine of mustard seed, and should say vnto this mulberry tree, Placke thy selfe vp by the roote, and plant thy selfe in the sea, it should obey you.

7 * Who is faine of you, that having a servant plowing or feeding cattell, would say vnto him by and by, when he were come from the field, Go, and sit downe at table?

8 And would not rather say to him, Dresse wherewith I may sup, and gird thy selfe and serue me, till I haue eaten and drunken, and afterward eate thou, and drinke thou?

9 Doeth he thinke that servant, because hee did that which was commanded vnto him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when yee haue done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruants: wee haue done that which was our duty to doe.

11 * And so it was when he went to Ierusalem, that he passed thorow the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entered into a certaine towne, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afarre off.

13 And they lift vp their voyces, and said, Iesus Master, haue mercie on vs.

14 And when he saw them, hee said vnto them, * Go shew your selues vnto the Priest. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 Then one of them, when hee saw that he was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voice praised God.

16 And fell downe on his face at his feet, and gaue him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Iesus answered, and said, Are there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are none found: that returned to giue God praise, saue this stranger.

19 And he said vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 * And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdome of God should come, hee answered them, and sayd, The kingdome of God cometh not with observation.

21 Neither shall men say, Loe here, or loe there: for behold, the kingdome of God is within you.

22 And he said vnto the disciples, The dayes will come, when yee shall desire to see one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 * Then they shall say to you, Behold here, or Mat. 24 behold there: but goe not thither, neither followe 23. 31.

24 For as the lightningeth that lighteneth out of the one part vnder heauen, shineth vnto the other part vnder heauen, so shall the Sonne of man bee in his day.

25 But first must hee suffer many things, and bee reprooued of this generation.

26 * And as it was in the dayes of Noe, so shall Gen. 9. 5. it be in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

27 They ate, they dranke, they married wives, and gaue in marriage, vnto the day that Noe went into the Arke: and the flood came & destroyed them all.

28 * Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot: Gen. 19. che ate, they dranke, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built.

29 But in the day that Lot went out of Sodome, it rained fire and brimstone from heauen, and destroyed them all.

30 After these examples shall it be in the dayes when the Sonne of man shall be reuealed.

31 At that day, he that is vpon the house, and his

2 Of Zachæus. 12 Ten pieces of money. 28 Christ rideth to Ierusalem and weepeth for it. 45 He chaiceth out the merchants. 47 And his enemies seek to destroy him.

NOW when Iesus entred, and passed thorow Iericho,

3 Behold, there was a man named Zachæus, which was the chiefe receiuer of the tribute, and he was rich.

4 And he sought to see Iesus, who he should be, and could not for the prease, because hee was of a low stature.

5 Wherefore he ran before, and climed vp into a wilde figtree, that hee might see him: for he should come that way.

6 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp and saw him, and said vnto him, Zachæus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

7 Then hee came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

8 And when all they sawe it, they murmured, saying, That he was gone in to lodge with a sinful man.

9 And Zachæus stood forth, and said vnto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken from any man by forged caualition, I restore him fourefold.

10 Then Iesus said to him, This day is saluation come vnto this house, forasmuch as hee is also become the sonne of Abraham.

11 * For the Sonne of man is come to seeke and to save that which was lost.

12 And whiles they heard these things, hee continued, and spake a parable, because hee was neere to Ierusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdom of God should shortly appeare.

13 Hee said therefore, * A certaine noble man went into a farre country, to receiue for himselfe a kingdom, and so to come againe.

14 And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, and said vnto them, Occupy till I come.

15 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, Wee will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

16 And it came to passe when hee was come againe, and had receiued his kingdom, that he commanded the seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that he might know what euery man had gained.

17 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased ten pieces.

18 And he said vnto him, Well, good seruant: because thou hast bin faithful in a very litle thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

19 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased fiew pieces.

20 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fiew cities.

21 So the other came, and said, Lord, behold thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin:

22 For I feared thee, because thou art a strait man: thou takest vp, that thou laidst not downe, and receipest that thou diddest not sowe.

23 Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knewest that I am a strait man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

24 Wherefore then gaucst not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might haue required it with vantage?

25 And he said vnto them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

26 (And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

27 * For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shall be giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath shall be taken from him.

28 Moreover, those mine enemies which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

29 And when hee had thus spoken, hee went forth before, ascending vp to Ierusalem.

30 And it came to passe, when hee was come neere to Bethphage and Bethania, besides the mount which was called the mount of Oliues, he sent two of his disciples, 31 Saying, Goe ye to the towne which is before you, wherein as soone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

32 And if any man aske you, why ye loose him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath neede of him.

33 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had said vnto them.

34 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said vnto them, Why loose ye the colt?

35 And they said, The Lord hath neede of him.

36 * So they brought him to Iesus, and they cast their garments on the colt, and set Iesus thereon.

37 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

38 And when he was now come neere to the going downe of the mount of Oliues, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce and to praise God with a loude voice, for all the great workes that they had seene.

39 Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the Name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glory in the highest places.

40 Then some of the Pharisees of the companie said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

41 But he answered and said vnto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would cry.

42 * And when he was come neere hee beheld the citie, and wept for it, 43 Saying, O if thou hadst euen knownen at the least in this thy day those things which belong vnto thy peace! but now are they hid from thine eyes.

44 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side, 45 And shall make thee euen with the ground, and thy children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

46 * He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought,

47 Saying vnto them, It is written, * Mine house shall be called the house of prayer, but yee haue made it a den of theeues.

48 And he taught daily in the Temple. And the high Priests and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him.

49 But they could not finde what they might doe to him : for all the people hanged vpon him when they heard him.

CHAP. XX.

4. Christe stoppeth his aduersaries mouths by another question, 5. sheweth their destruction by a parable. 21. The authoritie of Princes. 27. The resurrection, and his diuine power. 46. He reuolunt the ambition of Ihsu Scribes.

Mat. 21. 33. Marke 11. 27. 28. And it came to passe, that on one of those daies, as hee taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the hie Priests and the Scribes came vpon him with the Elders;

3. And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what authoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hath giuen thee this authoritie?

3. And hee answered and said vnto them, I also will aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

4. The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5. And they reasoned within themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6. But if we shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they bee perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7. Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8. Then Iesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

9. ¶ Then began hee to speake to the people this parable. ¶ A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a strange country for a great season.

10. And at a time hee sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen did beathim, and sent him away emptye.

11. Again he sent yet another seruant: and they did beathim, and foule intreated him, and sent him away emptye.

12. Moreover, hee sent the thirde, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13. Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloued Sonne: it may bee that they will doe reuerence when they see him.

14. But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselves, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may bee ours.

15. So theye cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore doe vnto them?

16. Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they say, God forbid.

17. ¶ And he beheld them, and said, What meaneth this then, that is written, ¶ The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner?

18. Whosoever shall fall vpon that stone, shall be broken, and on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19. Then the hie Priests and the Scribes & same house went about to lay hands on him: (but they feared the people) for they perceived that hee had spoken this parable against them.

20. ¶ And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should fauie the same iust men, to take him in his talk, and to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the gouernour.

21. And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest right, neither doest thou accept mans person, but teachest the way of God truly.

22. Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cēsars tribute, or no?

23. But hee perceived their craftynesse, and saide vnto them, Why tempe ye me?

24. Shew mee a peny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered, and said, Cēsars.

25. Then hee said vnto them, ¶ Giuethen vnto Cēsars the things which are Cēsars, and to God those which are Gods.

26. And they could not reprove his saying, before the people: but they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27. ¶ Then came to him certaine of the Sadducees (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him

28. Saying, Master, ¶ Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die leauing a wife, and hee die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

29. Now there were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and he died without children.

30. And the second tooke the wife, and hee died childlesse.

31. Then the third tooke her: and so likewise the seuen died, and left no children.

32. And last of all the woman died also.

33. Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she bee? for seuen had her to wife.

34. Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, The children of this world marrie wiues, and are married.

35. But they which shall bee counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marrie wiues, neither are married.

36. For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, since they are the children of the resurrection.

37. And that the dead shall rise againe, euen ¶ Moses shewed it besides the bush, when hee said, The Lord is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob.

38. For hee is not the God of the dead, but of them which liue: for all liue vnto him.

39. Then certaine of the Pharisees answered and said, Master, thou hast well said.

40. And after that durst they not aske him any thing at all.

41. ¶ Then said hee vnto them, How say they that Christ is Dauids sonne?

42. And Dauid, himselfe saith in the booke of the Psalmes, ¶ The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit at my right hand,

43. Till I shall make thine enemies thy footstool.

44. Seeing Dauid calleth him Lord, how is hee then his sonne?

45. ¶ Then in the audience of all the people hee said vnto his disciples,

46. ¶ Beware of the Scribes which desire to goe in long robes, and loose salutations in the markets, and the highest seats in the Synagogues, and the chiefe rooms at feasts:

47. Which denoure widows houses euen vnder a colour of long praying: These shall receive greater damnation.

the end of the world, 27. And of his dayes will.

12. A Nd * as he beheld, hee saw the rich men which cast their gifts into the treasure,

2 And hee saw also a certaine poore widow, which cast in thither two mites:

3 And hee said, Of a truch I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast in more then they all.

4 For they all haue of their superfluous cast into the offerings of God: but she of her penny hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

19. 5 * Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones, and with ioun-

14.1 seate things, he said,

13.1 6 Are these things that yee looke vpon? the gifts. dayes will come wherein a stone shall not bee left vpon a stone, that shall not be throwen downe.

7 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what signe shall there bee

when these things shall come to passe?

5.6. 8 * And he said, Take heed that yee be not de-ceiued: for many will come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: follow yee not them therefore.

9 And when yee heare of warres and seditions be not afraid: for these things must first come, but the end followeth not by and by.

10 Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome,

11 * And great earthquakes shall bee in diuers places, and hunger, and pestilence, and fearefull things, and great signes shall there be from heauen.

12 But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagogues and into prisons, and bring you before kings and rulers for my Names sake.

13 And this shall turne to you for a testimoniall,

14 * Lay it vp therefore in your hearts, that yee premeditate not what ye shall answer.

15 For I will giue you a mouth and wisdom, where-against all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake, nor resist.

16 Yea, ye shall be betrayed also of your parents, and of your brethren, and kinsmen, and friends, and some of you shall they put to death.

17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake.

18 * Yet there shall not one haire of your heads perish.

19 By your patience possesse your soules.

20 * And when ye see Ierusalem besieged with souldiers, then vnderstand that the desolation ther-of is neere.

21 Then let them which are in Iudea flecto the mountaines: and let them which are in the mids thereof depart out: and let not them that are in the countrie enter therein.

22 For these be the dayes of vengeance to in-fill all things that are written.

23 But woe be to them that be with childe, and to them that gine sucke in those dayes: for there shall be great distresse in this land, and wrath ouer

this people.

24 And they shall fall on the edge of the sword, and shall bee led captiue into all nations, and Ieru-salem shall be troden vnder foot of the Gentiles, vntil the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 * Then there shall be signes in the Sonne, and in the Moone, and in the Starres, & vpon the earth, there shall be trouble among the nations with perplexi-tie: the markes sea and the waters shall roare.

26 And mens hearts shall faile them for feare, and for looking after those things, which shall come on the world: for the powers of the heauen shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Sonne of man come in a cloud, with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, and lift vp your heads: * for Rom. 8.

your redemption draweth nere.

29 And he spake to them a parable, Behold the figtree, and all trees,

30 When they now shoot forth, ye seeing them, know of your owne felues that Summer is then neere.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to passe, know ye that the kingdom of God is neere.

32 Verely I say vnto you, This age shall not passe till all these things be done.

33 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

34 Take heed to your selues, lest at any time your hearts be oppressed with surfeiting and drukennes, and cares of this life, and lest that day come on you as vnawares.

35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch therefore and pray continually, that ye may be counted worthy to escape all these things, that shall come to passe, and that yee may stand before the Sonne of man.

37 * Now in the day time he taught in the temple, and at night hee went out and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Oliues.

38 And all the people came in the morning to him, to heare him in the Temple.

2 And the hie Priests and Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

3 Then entred Satan into Iudas who was called

Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

4 And he went his way and communed with the hie Priests and capitaines how he might betray him to them.

5 So they were glad and agreed to gine him money.

6 And he consented and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

7 * Then came the day of vnleavened bread, Mat. 26.

when the Passouer must be sacrificed.

8 And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Goe, and prepare vs the Passouer, that we may eate it.

9 And they said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare it?

10 Then he said vnto them, Behold, when yee be entred into the citie, there shall a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house that he entreteth in,

11 And say vnto the good man of the house, The Master saith vnto thee, Where is lodging where

I shall eate my Passouer with my disciples?

Mat. 26. 14. * And when the houre was come, hee sate

17. 18 * Then he said vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eate this Passouer with you before I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not eat of it any more vntill it bee fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he tooke the cup and gaue thanks, and said, Take this and diuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I will not drinke of the fruite of the vine vntill the kingdom of God bee come.

Mat. 26. 19. * And he tooke bread, & when he had giuen
20. marks thanks, he brake it, and gaue to them, saying, This
21. 22. is my body, which is giuen for you: doe this in the
23. 24. remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after supper, hee tooke the cup,
21 saying, This cup is the new Testament in my blood,
22 which is shed for you.

21 * Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth
22 me, is with me at the table.

22 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it is 23 appointed: but woe be to that man by whom he is 24 betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among themselves,
24 which of them it should bee that should doe 25 that.

Mat. 26. 24. * And there arose also a strife among them,
25. marks which of them should seeme to be the greatest.

25 But he said vnto them, The kings of the
26. 27. Gentiles reigne ouer them, and they that beare rule
28. ouer them, are called Gracious lords.

26 But ye shall not be so: but let the greatest 27 among you be as the least: and the chiefeest as hee
28 that serueth.

27 For who is greater, he that sitteth at table, or 28 he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at table? And 29 I am among you as he that serueth:

28 And yee are they which haue continued with 29 me in my tentations.

29 Therefore I appoint vnto you a kingdom,
30 as my Father hath appointed vnto me,

30 * That yee may eate and drinke at my table 31 in my kingdom, and sit on seates, and iudge the 32 twelue tribes of Israel.

31 * And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, beholde,
32 * Saran hath desired you, to winow you as wheat.

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith faile 33 not: therefore when thou art comered, strengthen 34 thy brethren.

Mat. 26. 33. * And hee said vnto him, Lord, I am ready to 34. 35. goe with thee into prison, and to death.

34 But he said, I tell thee Peter, the cock shall not 35 crow this day before thou hast thrise denied that
36. 37. thou knowest me.

35 * And hee said vnto them, * When I sent you 36 without bagge, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any 37 thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then he said to them, But now hee that hath 37 a bagge, let him take it, and likewise a scrip: and 38 he that hath none, let him sell his coate, and buy a 39 sword.

37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which 38 is written, must be performed in mee. * Euen with 39 the wicked was hee numbered: for doubtlesse those 40 things which are written of me, haue an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two 39 swords. And he said vnto them, It is enough.

39 * And hee came out, and went (as hee was 40 wont) to the mount of Olives: and his disciples al-
41. 42. so followed him.

40 * And when he came to the place, he said to Mat. 26.

cup from me: neuertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heaven, comforting him.

44 But being in an agony, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweate was like drops of blood, trickling downe to the ground.

45 And he rose vp from prayer, and came to his disciples, and found them sleeping for heaviness.

46 And he said vnto them, Why sleepe ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 * And while hee yet spake, behold, a com- Mat. 26.

went before them, and came neere vnto Iesus to kisse him. 14. 13.

48 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Iudas, betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?

49 Now when they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said vnto him, Lord, shall we smite with sword?

50 And one of them smote a servant of the high Priest, and stroke off his right eare.

51 Then Iesus answered, and said, Suffer them thus farre: and hee touched his eare, and healed
him.

52 Then Iesus said vnto the high Priests and captaines of the Temple, and the Elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out as vnto a thiefe, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the Temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is your very houre, and the power of darkenesse.

54 * Then tooke they him and ledde him, and brought him to the high Priests house. And Peter followed a farre off.

55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the Mat. 26.

56 And a certaine maide beheld him as hee satte by 106. 18. 35 the fire, and hauing well looked on him, sayd,
This man was also with him.

57 But he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while, another man sawe him, and sayd, Thou art also of them. But Peter sayd, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of an houre after, a certaine other affirmed, saying, Verely, euen this man was with him: for he is also a Galilean.

60 And Peter sayd, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately while hee yet spake, the cocke crew.

61 Then the Lord turned backe, and looked vp-on Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had sayd vnto him, * Before the cocke crow, thou shalt denie me thrise.

62 And Peter went out and wept bitterly. Mat. 26.

63 * And the men that held Iesus, mocked him, and stroke him. 34. 106. 13

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesie who it is that smote thee.

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him. Mat. 27. 1

66 * And assoone as it was day, the Elders of the people, and the high Priests, and the Scribes came together, and led him into their Councill. 106. 18. 38

67 Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell vs. And he said vnto them, If I tell you, you will not beleue it.

68 And if also I aske you, ye will not answere me nor let me goe.

69 Hereafter (saith the Sonne of man) sit at the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he said to them, Ye say that I am.

71 Then said they, What need wee any further witnesse? for wee our selues haue heard it of his owne mouth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iesus brought before Pilate and Herod. 18 Of Barabbas. 26 Of Simon the Cyrenian. 27 The woman make lamentation. 33 Christ is crucified. 34 Her prayeth for his enemies. 40 His conuerteth the thief and many others at his death. 53 and buried.

Then * the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, Wee haue found this man peruertering the people, and forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the high Priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, He mooueth the people, teaching throughout all Iudea, beginning at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 Now when Pilate heard of Galilee, hee asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when hee knew that hee was of Herods iurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, which was also at Ierusalem in those dayes.

8 And when Herod saw Iesus, hee was exceedingly glad: for he was desirous to see him of long season, because hee had heard many things of him, and trusted to haue seene some signe done by him.

9 Then questioned he with him of many things; but he answered him nothing.

10 The hie Priests also and Scribes stood forth and accused him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his men of warre despised him and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 And the same day Pilate & Herod were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 ¶ Then Pilate called together the hie Priests and the rulers, and the people,

14 * And said vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto mee, as one that peruertert the people: and behold, I haue examined him before you, and * haue found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I haue sent you to him: and loe, nothing worthy of death is done [to him].

16 I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

17 (For of necessity hee must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast)

18 Then all the multitude cryed at once, saying, Away with him and deliuer to vs Barabbas:

19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the cite, and murder, was cast in prison.

20 Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose.

21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie crucifie him.

22 And he said to them the third time, But what euill hath he done? I find no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him and let him loose.

23 But they were instant with loud voyces; and required that he might be crucified, and the voices of them and of the high Priests prevailed.

24 So Pilate gaue sentence that it should bee as they required.

25 And he let loose vnto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to doe with him what they would.

26 ¶ And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene coming out of the field, and on him they laid the crosse to beare it after Iesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them and said, Daughters of Ierusalem, weep not for mee, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, & the wombes that neuer bare, and the paps which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountaynes, * Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.

31 ¶ For if they doe these things to a greene tree, what shall be done to the drie?

32 * And there were two others which were euill doers, led with him to be slaue.

33 And when they were come to the place, which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one on the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 Then said Iesus, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they doe. And they parted his raiment and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, and beheld, and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, Hee saued others: let him saue himselfe, if he be the Christ, the Chosen of God.

36 The fouldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him vineger, 37 And said, If thou bee the King of the Iewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latine, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ And one of the euill doers which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be the Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 We are indeed righteously here: for wee receiue things worthy of that we haue done: but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdome.

43 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradie.

44 ¶ And it was about the sixth houre: and there was a darknesse ouer all the land, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the sunne was darkened, and the vails of the Temple rent thorow the mids.

46 And Iesus cryed with a loud voyce, and sayd, * Father, into thine hands I commend my spirit.

And when he thus had said, he gaue vp the ghost.

47 ¶ Now when the Centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a surety this man saint, was iust.

48 And all the people that came together to that fight, beholding the things that were done, smote their breasts and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance stood aſtate off, and the women that followed him from Galilee, beholding theſe things.

50 ¶ And behold, there was a man named Ioseph, which was a counſeller, a good man & a iuſt.

51 He did not conſult to the counſell and deed of them, which was of Aſimatha a city of the Iewes: Who alſo himſelf waited for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Ieſus.

53 And tooke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and laid it in a tombe heuen out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

54 And that day was the Preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.

55 And the women alſo that followed after, which came with him from Galilee, beheld the ſepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and prepared odours, and equipments, and reſted the Sabbath day according to the commandement

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The women come to the grave. 2 Christ appeareth vnto the two diſciples that goe toward Emmaus.

36 He ſheweth in the middes of his diſciples, and openeth their vnderſtanding in the Scriptures. 47 Ieſus giueth them a charge. 51 He aſcendeth up to heauen.

52 His diſciples worſhip him. 53 And of their daily exerciſe.

Now the * firſt day of the weeke early in the morning, they came vnto the ſepulchre, and brought the odours which they had prepared, and certaine women with them.

2 And they found the ſtone rolled away from the ſepulchre,

3 And went in, but found not the body of the Lord Ieſus.

4 And it came to paſſe, that as they were amazed therat, behold, two men ſuddenly ſtood by them in ſhining veſtures.

5 And aſthey were afraid, and bowed downe their faces to the earth, they ſayd to them, Why ſeeke yee him that lieth, among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is riſen: remember * how he ſpake vnto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, that the Sonne of man muſt be deliuered into the hands of ſinfull men, and be crucified, and the third day riſe againe.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the ſepulchre, and tolde all theſe things vnto the eleven, and to all the remnant.

10 Now it was Mary Magdalene, and Ioanna, and Mary the mother of Iames, and other women with them, which tolde theſe things vnto the Apoſtles.

11 But their words ſeemed vnto them as a ſained thing, neither beleueed they them.

12 Then aroſe Peter and ran vnto the ſepulchre, and looked in, and ſaw the linnen clothes laide by themſelues, and departed wondering in himſelfe at that which was come to paſſe.

13 ¶ And behold, two of them went that ſame day to a towne which was from Ierusalem about threſcore furlongs, called Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all theſe things that were done.

15 And it came to paſſe as they commisted together, and reaſoned, that Ieſus himſelfe drew neere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they could not know him.

17 And he ſaid vnto them, What manner of communications are theſe that yee haue one to another as yee walke, and are ſad?

18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered, and ſaid vnto him, Art thou only a ſtranger in Ieruſalem, and haſt not known the things which are come to paſſe therein in theſe dayes?

19 And he ſaid vnto them, What things? And they ſaid vnto him, Of Ieſus of Nazaret, which was a Prophet, mightie in deed & in word before God, and all the people,

20 And how the hie Priests and our Rulers deliuered him to be condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we truſted that it had bin hee that ſhould haue deliuered Iſrael, and as touching all theſe things, to day is the third day that they were done.

22 Yea, and certaine women among vs, made vs aſtonied, which came early vnto the ſepulchre.

23 And when they found not his body, they came, ſaying, that they had alſo ſeene a viſion of Angels, which ſaid that he was aliue.

24 Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the ſepulchre, and found it euen ſo as the women had ſaid, but him they ſaw not.

25 Then he ſaid vnto them, O fooles, and ſlow of heart to beleue all that the Prophets haue ſpoken, 26 Ought not Chriſt to haue ſuffered theſe things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he beganne at Moſes and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

28 And they drew neere vnto the towne, which they went to, but he made as though he would haue gone further.

29 But they conſtrained him, ſaying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the day is farre paſt. So he went in to tary with them.

30 And it came to paſſe as hee ſate at table with them, hee tooke the bread and gaue thanks, and brake it, and gaue it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, and they knew him: but he was taken out of their ſight.

32 And they ſaid betwene themſelues, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and when he opened vnto the Scriptures?

33 And they roſe vp the ſame houre, and returned to Ieruſalem and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them.

34 Which ſaid, The Lord is riſen indeede, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they told what things were done in the way, and how he was knowne of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And aſthey ſpake theſe things, Ieſus himſelfe ſtood in the midſt of them, and ſaid vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were aſhamed and afraid, ſuppoſing that they had ſeene a ſpirit.

38 Then he ſaid vnto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore doe doubts ariſe in your hearts?

39 Behold mine hands and my ſeete: for it is I my ſelfe: handle mee, and ſee: for a ſpirit hath not fleſh and bones, as yee ſee me haue.

40 And when he had thus ſpoken, hee ſhewed them his hands and ſeete.

41 And while they yet beleened not for ioy, and wondered, he said vnto them, Haue yee heere any meate?

42 And they gaue him a piece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe.

43 And he tooke it and did eate before them.

44 And he said vnto them, These are the words, which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, That all must be fulfilled which are written of mee in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened hee their vnderstanding, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, This is it written, and thus it becometh Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the third day, 47 And that repentance and remission of finnes should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Ierusalem.

48 Now yee are witnesses of these things.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to I. 9. Ierusalem with great ioy, 53 And were continually in the Temple praising and lauding God, Amen.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST according to Iohn.

CHAP. I.

1. 14. 17. The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Ie-su Christ. 15 The testimony of Iohn. 30. The calling of Andrew Peter, &c.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and that Word was God.

3 The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without it was made nothing that was made.

4 In it was life & the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse comprehended it not.

6 * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 The same came for a witness, to beare witness of the light, that all men through him might beleeue.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witness of the light.

9 That was the true light, which lighteth euery man that cometh into the world.

10 Hee was in the world, and the world was * made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came vnto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receined him, to them he gaue power to be the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeue in his Name, 13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 * And the word was made flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we * saw the glory thereof, as the glory of the onely begotten Sonne of the Father) * full of grace and truth.

15 * Iohn bare witness of him, & cryed, saying, This was he of whom I said, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his falseesse haue all we receined, and grace for grace.

17 For the Law was giuen by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ.

18 * No man hath seene God at anytime: the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the bosome of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 * Then this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Ierusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And hee confessed and denied not, and said plainly, I * am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou 25. Elias? And hee said, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou, that we may giue an answer to him that cometh vs? what sayest thou of thy selfe?

23 He said, I * am the voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not the Christ, neither Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there is one among you, whom ye know not.

27 * He it is that cometh after mee, which is Mat. 3. 11 preferred before me, whose shoole latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 * The next day Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and saith, Behold the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After mee cometh a man, which is preferred before mee: for hee was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but because hee should be declared to Israel, therefore I came baptizing with water.

32 So Iohn bare record, saying, I saw the * Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, he said vnto mee, Vpon whom thou shalt see the Spirit come downe, and tary still on him, that is hee which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare record that this is the Sonne of God.

35 * The next day Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples.

36 And he beheld Iesus walking by, and sayd, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and followed Iesus.

Water turned into wine.

Chap. ij. iij.

Christ converteth many.

199

38 Then Iesus turned about, and saw them follow, and said vnto them, What seek ye? And they said vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say by interpretation, Master,) where dwellest thou?

39 He said vnto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth houre.

40 And Andrew, Simon Peters brother, was one of the two which had heard it of Iohn, and that followed him.

41 The same found his brother Simon first, and said vnto him, We have found the Messias, which is by interpretation, The Christ.

42 And he brought him to Iesus. And Iesus beheld him, and said, Thou art Simon the sonne of Ionas: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 ¶ The day following, Iesus would goe into Galilee, and found Philip, and said vnto him, Follow mee.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the citie of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip found Nathanael, and said vnto him, We haue found him of whom * Moses wrote in the Law, and the * Prophets, Iesus of Nazareth the sonne of Ioseph.

46 Then Nathanael said vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip said to him, Come and see.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and said of him, Behold indeede an Israelite in whom is no guile.

48 Nathanael said vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast vnder the figgetree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and said vnto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God: thou art the King of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Because I said vnto thee, I saw thee vnder the figtree, I beleue thee: thou shalt see greater things then these.

51 And he said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the Angels of God * ascending, and descending vpon the Sonne of man.

C H A P. II.

8 Christ turneth the water into wine. 11 He driueth the buyers and sellers out of the Temple. 19 Hee forewarneth his death and resurrection. 23 Hee converteth many, and discipulizeth man.

And the third day was there a marriage in Cana, a towne of Galilee, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the marriage.

3 Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus said vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother said vnto the seruants, Whatsoeuer he saith vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there fixe water pots of stone, containing two or threel sirkins a peece.

7 And Iesus said vnto them, Fill the water pots with water. Then they filled them vp to the brim.

8 Then he said vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. So they bare it.

9 Now when the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (for hee knew not whence it was: but the seruants, which drew the water, knew) the gouernour of the feast called the bridegrome.

10 And said vnto him, All men at the beginning set forth good wine, and when men haue well drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Iesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed forth his glory: and his disciples beleued on him.

12 After that hee went downe into Capernaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not many dayes there.

13 For the lewes passouer was at hand. Therefore Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

14 * And hee found in the Temple those that sold oxen and sheepe, and doves, and changers of money sitting there.

15 Then he made a scourge of small cords, and drane them all out of the Temple with the sheepe, and oxen, and poured out the changers mooney, and oerthrew the tables,

16 And said vnto them that sold doves, Take these things thence: make not my Fathers house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered, that it was written, * The zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, What scripture shewest thou vnto vs, that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, * Doe Mat. 26. 19 I say this Temple, and in three dayes I will raise it vp againe.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fortie and sixe yeeres was this Temple a building, and wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the Temple of his body.

22 Alsoone therefore as hee was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that hee thus said vnto them: and they beleued the Scripture, and the word which Iesus had said.

23 Now when he was at Ierusalem at the Passouer in the feast, many beleued in his Name, when they saw his miracles which he did.

24 But Iesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew them all.

25 And had no neede that any should testifie of man: for he knew what was in man.

C H A P. III.

3 Christ instructeth Nicodemus in the regeneration. 15 Offsaith. 16 Of the loue of God towards the world. 21 The doctrine and baptism of Iohn, 28 and the witness that beareth of Christ.

There was now a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes.

1 He came to Iesus by night, and said vnto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man could doe these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

3 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne againe, he cannot see the kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can hee enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of water, and of the Spirit, hee cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh is flesh: and that which is borne of the Spirit is Spirit.

7 Marmelet not that I said to thee, Ye must be borne againe.

8 The winde bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every man that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iohn answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that we knowe, and testifie that we haue seene: but yee receiue not our witnesse.

12 If when I tell you earthly things, yee beleene not, how should ye beleene if I shall tell you of heauenly things?

13 For no man ascended vp to heauen, but hee that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

14 * And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp.

15 That whosoener beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.

16 * For God so loued the world, that hee hath giuen his only begotten Sonne, that whosoener beleueth in him, should not perish, but haue euertlasting life.

17 * For God sent not his sonne into the world, that hee should condemne the world, but that the world through him might be saved.

18 Hee that beleueth in him shall not be condemned: but he that beleueth not, is condemned already, because hee beleueth not in the Name of the only begotten Sonne of God.

19 * And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loued darkenesse rather then light, because their deeds were euill.

20 For euery man that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither cometh to light, lest his deedes should be reproofed.

21 But hee that doeth trueth, cometh to the light, that his deedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought according to God.

22 * After these things came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there taried with them, and * baptized.

23 And Iohn also baptized in Enon beside Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question between Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, hee that was with thee beyond Iordan, to whom * thou barest witnesse, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 Iohn answered, and said, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are my witnesses, that * I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegrome which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly because of the bridegromes voyce. This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that is come from on high, is aboue all: he that is of the earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth: hee that is come from heauen, is aboue all.

32 And what he hath seen and heard, that hee testifieth: but no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath receiued his testimony, hath sealed that * God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God, for God giueth him not the spirit by measure.

35 The Father looeth the Sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.

36 * He that beleueth in the Sonne, hath euertlasting life, and he that obeyeth not the Sonne, shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

C H A P. II. I. I.

1 The communication of Christ with the woman of Samaria. 24 His zeale toward his Father, and his seruants. 30 The conuersion of the Samaritanes, 45 and Galileans. 47 How he healed the rulers sonne.

NOW when the Lord knew, how the Pharisees had heard, that Iesus made and baptized mee disciples then Iohn,

2 (Though Iesus himselfe baptized not: but his disciples)

3 He left Iudea, and departed againe into Galilee, And he must needs goe thorow Samaria,

4 Then came hee to a cite of Samaria, called Sychar, nere vnto the possession that * Iacob gave to his sonne Ioseph.

6 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus then wearied in the iourney, fate thus on the well: it was about the sixth houre.

7 There came a woman of Samaria to drawe water. Iesus said vnto her, Giue me drinke.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the citie, to buy meate.

9 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it that thou being a Jew, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes,

10 Iesus answered & said vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who is that saith to thee, Giue me drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he would haue giuen thee water of life.

11 The woman said vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?

12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he himselfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattell?

13 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more athirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall be in him a well of water, springing vp into euertlasting life.

15 The woman said vnto him, Sir, giue me of that water, that I may not thirst, neither come hither to drawe.

16 Iesus said vnto her, Go call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said, I haue no husband. Iesus sayd to her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husband.

18 For thou hast had fise husbands, & he whom thou now hast, is not thine husband: that saydest thou truly.

19 The woman said vnto him, Sir, I see that thou art a Prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and yee say, that in * Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, beleene me, the houre cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountaine, nor at Ierusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship that which yee * know not: wee worship worship that which we know: for saluation is of the Iewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in Spirit and truth: for the Father requirerth euen such to worship him.

24 * God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in Spirit and truth.

25 The woman said vnto him, I know well that Messiah shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus said vnto her, I am he that speake vnto thee.

27 ¶ And vpon that came his disciples, and marvelled that hee talked with a woman: yet no man said vnto him, What askest thou? or why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpote, and went her way into the cite, and said vnto the men, 29 Come see a man which hath tolde mee all things that euer I did, is not he the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came vnto him.

31 ¶ In the meane while the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.

32 But he said vnto them, I haue meat to eat, that ye know not of.

33 Then said the disciples between themselves, Hath any man brought him meat?

34 Iesus said vnto them, My meat is, that I may doe the will of him that sent mee, and finish his worke.

35 Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths, and then cometh harvest? Behold, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: * for they are white already vnto harvest.

36 And he that reapech, receiuerth wages, and gathereth fruit vnto life eternal, that both he & sowerch, and he that reapech, might reioyce together.

37 For herein is the I saying true, That one sowerch, and another reapech.

38 I sent you to reape that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 Now many of the Samaritanes of that cite beleued in him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, He hath tolde me all things that euer I did.

40 Then when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that hee would tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many more beleued, because of his owne word.

42 And they said vnto the woman, Now we beleue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our Iesus, and know that this is indeed the Christ the Sauour of the world.

43 ¶ So two dayes after he departed thence, and went into Galile.

44 For Iesus himselfe had * testified that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne country.

45 Then when he was come into Galile, the Galileans receiued him, which had seene all the things that he did at Ierusalem at the feast: for they went also vnto the feast.

46 And Iesus came againe into * Cana a towne of Galile, where he had made of water wine. And there was a certaineruler whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When hee heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, he went vnto him, and besought him that he would go downe, and heale his sonne, for he was euen ready to die.

48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will not beleue.

49 The ruler said vnto him, Sir, go downe before my sonne die.

50 Iesus said to him, Go thy way, thy sonne lieth: and the man beleued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and went his way.

51 And as he was now going downe, his seruants met him, saying, Thy sonne lieth.

52 Then inquired he of them the houre when he began to amend. And they said vnto him, Yesterday the seventh houre the seuer left him.

53 Then the father knewe, that it was the same houre in the which Iesus had sayde vnto him, Thy sonne lieth. And hee beleued, and all his house-hold.

54 This second miracle did Iesus againe, after he was come out of Iudea into Galile.

CHAP. V.

8 He healeth she man that was sicke eight and thirtie yeres. 10 The Iewes accuse him. 19 Christ answereth for himselfe, and reprehendeth them. 32 shewing by the testimony of his Father, 37 of Iohn, 38 of his works, 39 and of the Scriptures, who he is.

A Peter * that, there was a feast of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

2 And there is at Ierusalem by the place of the sheepe, a poole called in Hebrew, Bethesda, having five porches,

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blinde, halt, and withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever distaste hee had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had bin diseased eight and thirty yeres.

6 When Iesus saw him lie, and knew that hee now long time had been diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am comming, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise, take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed and walked: and the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Iewes therefore sayde to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: * it is not lawfull for thee to cary thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, he said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed knew not who it was: for Iesus had conueied himselfe away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus found him in the Temple, & said vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and told the Iewes, that it was Iesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, and sought to slay him, because hee had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18. Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him; not only because he had broken the Sabbath, but also that God was his Father, and made himself equal with God.

19. Then answered Iesus and said vnto them, Verely, Verely I say vnto you, The Sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, vntill hee see the Father doe; for whatsoever things hee doth, the same things doth the Sonne also.

20. For the Father leaueth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things; whatsoever he himselfe doeth, and he will shew him greater workes then these, that ye should maruile.

21. For likewise as the Father raiseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them; so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22. For the Father iudgeth no man, but hath committed all iudgement vnto the Sonne.

23. Because that all men should honour the Sonne, as they honour the Father: Hee that honoureth not the Sonne, the same honoureth not the Father, which hath sent him.

24. Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that heareth my word, and beleeueth in him that sent me, hath euerslasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but hath passed from death vnto life.

25. Verely, verely I say vnto you, the hour shall come, and now is, when the dead shall heare the voice of the Sonne of God, and they that heare it, shall liue.

26. For as the Father hath life in himselfe, so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe.

27. And hath giuen him power also to execute iudgement; in that he is the Sonne of man.

28. Maruile not at this; for the hour shall come, in the which all that are in the granes shall heare his voice.

CHAP. VI.

1. Iesus feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 2. He deposeth away that they should make him king. 3. He reprehendeth the phylisians of his word. 4. The carnall are offended at him. 5. The phylisians protest.

AFTER these things Iesus went his way out of the Isea of Galilee, or of Tiberias.

2. And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which hee did on them that were diseased.

3. Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.

4. Now the Passouer, a * feast of the Iewes, was neere.

5. * Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these might cate?

6. (And this he said to proue him: for he himselfe knew what he would doe)

7. Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them that eury one of them may take a little.

8. Then said vnto him one of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother,

9. There is a little boy here which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10. And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Now there was much grasse in that place) then the men sate downe in number about fiftethousand.

11. And Iesus tooke the bread and gaue thanks, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe: and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12. And when they were satisfied, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meat which remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13. Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the five barley loaves, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

14. Then the men when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a truth the Prophet that should come into the world.

15. When Iesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him to make him a King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

16. * When euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,

17. * And entered into a ship, and went ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and now it was dark, and Iesus was not come to them.

18. And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

29 And when they had rowed about six and twenty or thirty furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing neere vnto the ship: so they were afraid.

30 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraid.

31 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land whither they wold.

32 ¶ The day following the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other ship there, save that one, whereinto his disciples were coted, and that Iesus was not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone.

33 And that there came other ships from Tiberias neere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thanks.

34 Now when the people saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

35 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

36 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, ye seek me not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled.

37 Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that which endureth vnto euermore life, which the Son of man shall giue vnto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

38 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe, that we might worke the works of God?

39 Iesus answered and said vnto them, ¶ This is the works of God, that ye beleue in him whom he hath sent.

40 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see it, and beleue thee? What dost thou worke?

41 ¶ Our Fathers did eat Manna in the desert, as it is written, He gaue them bread from heauen to cate.

42 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

43 For the bread of God is he which cometh downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

44 Then they said vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

45 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shall neuer hunger, and he that beleueth in me, shall neuer thirst.

46 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue scene me, and beleue not.

47 All that the Father giueth mee, shall come to me: and him that cometh to me, I cast not away.

48 For I came downe from heauen, not to do mine owne will, but his will which hath sent me.

49 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which hee hath giuen mee, I should lose nothing, but should raise it vp againe at the last day.

50 And this is the will of him that sent me, that euery man which seeth the Sonne, and beleueth in him, should haue euermore life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

51 The Jewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

52 And they said, ¶ Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we knowe? how then sayth he, I came downe from heauen?

53 Iesus then answered and said vnto them, Murmure not among yowr selues.

54 No man can come to mee, excepte the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God: Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh vnto me:

56 ¶ Not that any man hath scene the Father, save he which is of God, he hath scene the Father.

57 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Hee that beleueth in me, hath euermore life.

58 I am the bread of life.

59 ¶ Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

60 This is the bread which cometh downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it, should not die.

61 I am the liuing bread, which came downe from heauen: if any man eat of this bread, he shall liue for euer: & the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

62 ¶ Then the Jewes among themselues began saying, How can this man giue vs his flesh to cate?

63 Then Iesus saide vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, yee cannot liue in you.

64 Whosoever eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

65 For my flesh is meate in deed, and my blood is drinke in deed.

66 Hee that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

67 As the liuing Father hath sent me, so likewise the Father, and he that eateth me, alio he shall liue by me.

68 This is the bread which came downe from heauen: not as yowr fathers haue eaten Manna, and are dead. Hee that eateth of this bread, shall liue for euer.

69 These things spake he in the Synagoge, as he taught in Capernaum.

70 Many therefore of his disciples (when they heard this) said, This is an hard saying: who can heare it?

71 But Iesus knowing in himselfe, that his disciples murmured at this, said vnto them, Doth this offend you?

72 ¶ What then if ye should see the Sonne of man ascend vp? whither he was before?

73 It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speake vnto you, are spirit and life.

74 But there are some of you that beleue not: for Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleued not, and who should betray him.

75 And hee said, Therefore said I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, excepte it be giuen vnto him of my Father.

76 ¶ From that time, many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

77 ¶ Then Iesus said to the twelve, Will ye also go away?

78 ¶ Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall we goe? thou hast the words of eternall life:

Mat. 16. 7. And we beleue and know that thou art the Mat. 26. 70. Iesus answered them, Haue not I *chose you

 71. Now he saies it of Iudas Iscariot: the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelue.

C H A P. VII.

1. Iesus representeth the ambition of Ierusalem: 12
 There are diuers opinions of him among the people: 17
 Hee sheweth to us to know the truth: 20. The Iewes they do vnto him. 27. The Pharisees rebuke the officers because they haue not taken him: 32. and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

After these things, Iesus walked in Galilee, and would not walk in Iudea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

Now the Iewes feast of the Tabernacles was at hand.

His brethren therefore said vnto him, Depart hence, and go into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy works that thou doest.

For there is no man that doeth any thing se-cretely, he himselfe seeketh to be famous. If thou doest these things, shew thy selfe to the world.

For as yet his brethren beleued not in him.

Then Iesus said vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the works thereof are euill.

Go ye vp vnto this feast: I will not go vp yet vnto this feast for my time is not yet fulfilled.

These things he said vnto them, and abode still in Galilee.

But as soon as his brethren were gone vp, when he was also vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were privately.

Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

And much murmuring was there of him among the people. Some said, He is a good man: other said, Nay: but he deceiue the people.

Howbeit no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Iewes.

Now when halfe the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple, and taught.

And the Iewes maruailed, saying, How knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that hee neuer learned?

Iesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

If any man will doe his will, hee shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his glory: but hee that seeketh his glory that sent him,
 the same is true, and no vnghteousnes is in him.

Did not Moses giue you a law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? *Why go ye about to kill me?

The people answered and said, Thou hast a deuill, who goeth about to kill thee?

Iesus answered, and said to them, I haue done one worke, and ye all maruaile.

Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the *fathers) and ye on the Sabbath day circumsise a man.

If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Law of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with me, because I haue made a man euer whole on the Sabbath day?

*Iudge not according to the appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

Then said some of them of Ierusalem, Is not this he whom they go about to kill?

And he holdeth he speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

Howbeit we know this man whence hee is:
 but when the Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is.

Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know mee, and know whence I am:
 yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

But I know him: for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands vpon him, because his houre was not yet come.

Now many of the people beleued in him, and said, When the Christ cometh, will hee do more miracles then this man hath done?

The Pharisees heard that the people murmured these things of him, and the Pharisees and high Priests sent officers to take him.

Then said Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then I goe vnto him that sent me.

*Ye shall seeke me, and shall not find me, and where I am, can ye not come.

Then said the Iewes among themselves, Whither will he go that we shall not find him? Will hee go vnto them that are dispersed among the Greecians, and teach the Grecians?

Who saying is this, that he said, Ye shall seeke me, and shall not find me: I And where I am can ye not come?

Now in the last and *great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

He that beleueth in me, *as saith the Scripture, out of his belly shall flowe riuers of water of life.

(*This spake he of the Spirit which they that beleued in him, should receiue: for the holy Ghost was not yet giuen, because that Iesus was not yet glorified.)

So many of the people, when they heard this saying, sayd, Of a truth, this is the Prophet.

Other said, This is the Christ: and some said,
 But shall Christ come out of Galilee?

*Such not the Scripture that the Christ shall come of the seed of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where Dauid was?

So was there dissention among the people for
 him.

And some of them would haue taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

Then came the officers to the high Priests and Pharisees, and they said vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also decciued?

Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees be-lieue in him?

But this people which know not the Law are cursed.

Nicodemus said vnto them, (He that came

And Iesus went vnto the mount of Olives, And early in the morning came againe into the Temple, and all the people came vnto him, and hee satte downe, and taught them.

3. Then the Scribes and the Pharises brought vnto him a woman taken in adulterie, and set her in the midst,

4. And said vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, in the very act.

Leuit. 24. 10. 5. * Now Moses in the Law commaunded vs, that such should be stoned: what sayest thou therefore?

6. And this they sayd to tempt him, that they might haue whereto to accuse him. But Iesus stooped downe, and with his finger wrote on the ground.

Deut. 17. 6. 7. 7. And while they continued asking him, hee lift himselfe vp, and sayd vnto them, * Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.

8. And againe hee stooped downe and wrote on the ground.

9. And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10. When Iesus had lift vp himselfe againe, and saw no man but the woman, he sayd vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11. She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus sayd, Neither doe I condemne thee: go and sinne no more.

Chap. 1. 5. 12. Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, * I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life.

13. The Pharises therefore said vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe: thy record is not true.

Chap. 5. 31. 14. * Iesus answered and said vnto them, Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15. Ye iudge after the flesh: I iudge no man.

16. And if I also iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I am the Father that sent me.

Deut. 17. 6 and 19. 17. And it is also written in your Law, * That the testimony of two men is true.

18. I am one that beare witness of my selfe, and the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19. This said they vnto him, * Where is thy Father? Iesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father. If ye had known me, ye should haue known my Father also.

20. These words spake Iesus in the treasury, as he taught in the Temple; and no man laid hands on him: for his hour was not yet come.

21. Then said Iesus againe vnto them, I go: my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your sinne. Whither I goe can ye not come.

22. Then said the Iewes, Will he kill himselfe, because he saith, Whither I goe can ye not come?

23. And he said vnto them, Ye are from beneath I am from above: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24. I said therefore vnto you, that ye shall die in your sinnes: for except ye beleue that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25. Then said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus said vnto them, I Euen the same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

26. I haue many things to say and to iudge of you: nym en but he that sent me is true, & the things that I haue said I heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27. They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28. Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am hee, and that I doe nothing of my selfe: but as my Father hath taught mee, so I speake these things.

29. For he that sent me, is with mee: the Father hath not left me alone, because I doe alwayes those things that please him.

30. * As he spake these things, many beleued in him.

31. Then sayd Iesus to the Iewes that beleued in him, If ye continue in my word, ye are verely my disciples.

32. And shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33. They answered him, We be Abrahams seed, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then, Ye shall be made free?

34. Iesus answered them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that whosoever committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35. And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer, but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36. If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free in deed.

37. I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38. I speake that which I haue scene with my Father: and ye do that which ye haue scene with your father.

39. They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto him, If yee were Abrahams children, ye would doe the workes of Abraham.

40. But now ye goe about to kill me, a man that haue told you the truth: which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41. Ye doe the workes of your father. Then sayd they to him, We are not borne of fornication: we haue one Father which is God.

42. Therefore Iesus sayd vnto them, If God were your Father, then would ye loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43. Why doe yee not vnderstand my talke? because ye cannot heare my word.

44. * Ye are of your fathers the deuil, and the lusts of your fathers ye will do: he hath been a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh he of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye beleue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the truth, why do you not beleue me?

106.4.8

47 * He that is of God heareth Gods wordes: ye therefore heare them not, because yee are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say wee not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill, but I honour my Father and ye haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praisse: but there is one that seeketh it, and iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, if a man keepe my word, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Now know we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets, and thou sayest, if a man keepe my word, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Arrethow greater then our Father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth me, whom ye say that he is your God.

55 Yet yee haue not known him: but I knowe him, and if I should say, I know him not, I should be a lyar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his word.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 As soone as he had thus spoken, he spate on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blinde with the clay.

7 And sayd vnto him, Goe wash in the pool of Silohn (which is by interpretation, Sene) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Now the neighbours, and they that had seene him before when he was blind, sayd, Is not this he that was and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: and others said, He is like him: but he himselfe said, I am he.

10 Therefore they said vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, The man that is called Iesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and sayd vnto me, Goe to the pool of Silohn, and wash. So I went, and washed, and received sight.

12 Then they said vnto him, Where is he? He said I cannot tell.

13 * They brought to the Pharisees him that was once blind.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him, how he had received sight. And he said vnto them, He sayd clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Then said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath.

17 Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? and there was a dissention among them.

18 Then spake they vnto the blind againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a Prophet.

19 Then the Iewes did not beleue him (that he had been blind and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

20 And they asked him, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doeth he now see thee?

21 His parents answered them, and said, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde.

22 But by what meanes he now seeth, we knowe not: or who hath opened his eyes can we not tell: he is old enough: aske him: hee shall answer for himselfe.

23 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordaind already, that if any man did confesse that he was the Christ, he should be excommunicated out of the Synagogue.

24 Therefore said his parents, he is old enough: aske him.

25 Then againe called they the man that had him blind, and said vnto him, Give glory vnto God: we know that this man is a sinner.

26 Then he answered and said, Whether he bee a sinner or no, I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blind, and now I see.

27 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

28 He answered them, I haue told you already, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? will ye also be his disciples?

29 Then checked they him, and said, Be thou his disciple, we be Moses disciples.

30 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

31 The man answered and said vnto them, Doubtlesse, this is a maruillous thing that ye know not whence he is, and yet hee hath opened mine eyes.

32 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will him heareth he.

33 Since the world began was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blind.

34 If this man were not of God, he could haue done nothing.

35 They answered and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, and dost thou teach vs? for they cast him out.

36 Iesus heard that they had cast him out: and him.

when he had found him, he sayd vnto him, Dost thou beleue in the Sonne of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleue in him?

37 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Both thou hast seene him, and he it is that talketh with thee.

38 Then he said, Lord, I beleue, and worshipped him.

39 And Iesus sayd, I am come vnto Iudgement into this world, that they which see not, might see: and that they which see might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these things, and said vnto him, Are wee blinde also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If yee were blinde, yee should not haue sin, but now yee say, We see: therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAP. X.

11 Christ is the true shepheard, and the doore. 19 Diminution of Christ. 24 He is a shepheard bee bee Christ. 32 His workes declare that he is God. 34 The Princes called gods.

Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that entereth not in by the doore into the shepfold, but climeth vp another way, he is a thiefe and a robber.

2 But he that goeth in by the doore, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, & the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath sent forth his own sheepe, hee goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voyce.

5 And they will not follow a stranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

6 This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All that euer came before me: are thieues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by me if any man enter in, he shalbe saved, and shall goe in, and goe out, and find pasture.

10 The thiefe cometh not, but for to steale and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

11 I am the good Shepheard: the good Shepheard giueth his life for his sheepe.

12 But an hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and hee leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 So the hireling fleeth, because hee is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good Shepheard, and knowe mine, and am knowne of mine.

15 As the Father knoweth me, so know I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my sheepe.

16 Other sheepe I haue also, which are not of this fold: them also must I bring, and they shall heare my voyce: and there shall be one shepfold, and one shepheard.

17 Therefore doth my Father loue me, because I lay downe my life, that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it downe of my selfe: I haue power to lay it downe, and haue power to take it againe: this I Commendement haue I receiued of my Father, 19 ¶ Then there was a dissension againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, He hath a deuill, and is mad: why heare ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill: can the deuill open the eyes of the blinde?

22 And it was at Ierusalem the feast of the Dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Iesus walked in the Temple in Salomons porch.

24 Then came the Iewes round about him, & said vnto him, How long dost thou make vs doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly.

25 Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and yee beleue not: the workes that I do in my fathers Name, they beare witness of me.

26 But yee beleue not: for yee are not of my sheepe, as I said vnto you.

27 My sheepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they follow me.

28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perishe, neither shall any plucke them out of mine hand.

29 My father which gaue them mee, is greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my fathers hand.

30 I and my father are one.

31 ¶ Then the Iewes againe tooke vp stones to stone him.

32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my Father: for which of these workes doe ye stone me?

33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For the good workes wee stone thee not, but for blasphemie, and that thou bringest a man, makest thy selfe God.

34 Iesus answered them, Is it not written in your Law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If hee called them gods, vnto whom the word of God was giuen, and the Scripture cannot be broken.

36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Sonne of God?

37 If I doe not the workes of my Father, beleue me not.

38 But if I doe, then though ye beleue not mee, yet beleue the workes: that yee may know and beleue, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 Againe they went about to take him: but hee escaped out of their hands.

40 And went againe beyond Iordan into the place where Iohn first baptized, and there abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and sayd, Iohn did so miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.

42 And many beleued in him there.

2 And it was that Marie which annointed the Lord with oymment, and wiped his feet with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.

3 Therefore she sister sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou hast said, This sicke is sicke.

not vnto death, but for the glorie of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

31 ¶ Now Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

32 And after hee had heard that he was sick, yet abode he two dayes still in the same place where he was.

33 Then after that sayd he to his disciples, Let vs Chap 7 30 goe into Iudea againe.

34 The disciples said vnto him, Master the Iewes & 8. 59. lately sought to stone thee, and dost thou goe thither againe? & 10. 31.

35 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? if a man walke in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

36 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

37 These things spake hee, and after he sayd vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepech: but I goe to wake him vp.

38 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he slepe, he shall be safe.

39 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the naturall sleepe.

40 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

41 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that yee may beleeue: but let vs goe vnto him.

42 Then sayd Thomas (which is called Didymus) vnto his fellowdisciples, Let vs also goe, that we may die with him.

43 ¶ Then came Iesus, and found that he had lien in the granehouse daies already.

44 (Now Bethania was nere vnto Ierusalem; about fifteene furlongs off.)

45 And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Marie, to comfort them for their brother.

46 Then Martha when he heard that Iesus was comming, went to meete him: but Marie sate still in the house.

47 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

48 But now I know also, that whatsoever thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.

49 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.

50 Martha said vnto him, I know that he shall rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

51 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that beleeueth in me, though hee were dead yet shall he liue.

52 And whosoener liueth, and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?

53 She said vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which should come into the world.

54 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

55 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

56 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

57 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, & comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she arose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the grane to weepe there.

58 ¶ Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and saw him, she fell downe at his feet, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

59 ¶ When Iesus therefore saw her weepe, and the Iewes also weeping which came with her, hee groined in the Spirit, and was troubled in himselfe.

60 And said, Where haue yee laid him? They sayd vnto him, Lord, come and see.

61 ¶ And Iesus wept.

62 ¶ Then said the Iewes, Behold how hee loued him.

63 And some of them sayd, Could not he which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also that this man should not haue died?

64 Iesus therefore againe groined in himselfe and came to the grane. And it was a caue, and a stone was layd vpon it.

65 Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Mari is the sister of him that was dead, said vnto him, Lord, he stinketh already, for he hath bene dead foure daies.

66 Iesus said vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou diddest beleeue, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

67 ¶ Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

68 I know that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by, I said it, that they may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

69 As he had spoken these things, he criod with a loud voice, Lazarus come forth.

70 ¶ Then hee that was dead came forth; bound hand and foot with bands, and his face was bound with a napkin. Iesus said vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

71 ¶ Then many of the Iewes which came to bury, and had seene the things which Iesus did, beleeued in him.

72 But some of them went their way to the Pharisees, and told them what things Iesus had done.

73 ¶ Then gathered the hie Priestes and the Pharisees a counsell, and said, What shall we do? For this man doeth many miracles.

74 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleeue in him, and the Romaues will come and take away both our place and the nation.

75 ¶ Then one of them, named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yere, said vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

76 Nor yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

77 This spake he not of himselfe: but being hie Priest that same yere, hee prophesied that Iesus should die for the nation:

78 And not for the nation onely, but that hee should gather together in obedience the children of God which were scattered.

79 ¶ Then from that day forth they consulted together to put him to death.

80 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence into a country neere to the wilderness, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

81 ¶ And the Iewes Passouer was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Ierusalem before the Passouer to purifie themselves.

82 ¶ Then sought they for Iesus, and spake among themselves as they stood in the Temple, What thinke ye that he cometh not to the feast?

83 ¶ Now both the hie Priestes and the Pharisees had giuen a commandement, That if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

Then Iesus six dayes before the Passouer came to Bethania, where Lazarus was which was dead, whom he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Mary a pound of oymnt of spikenard very colly, and anointed Iesus feet, and wiped his fettes with her haire, and the house was filled with the sauour of the oymnt.

6 Now hee said this, not that hee cared for the poore, but because hee was a theefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then said Iesus. Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

9 Then much people of the Iewes knew that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom hee had raised from the dead.

10 The high Priestes therefore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

27 Now is my soule troubled: and what shall I say, Father, saue me from this houre: but therefore can I vnto this houre.

28 Father glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then said the people that stood by and heard, that it was thunder: others sayd, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 ¶ And I, if I were lift vp from the earth, will draw all men vnto mee.

33 Now this said hee, signifying what death hee should die.

34 The people answered him, Wee haue heard out of the Law, that the Christ bideth for euer: and how sayest thou that the sone of man must be lift vp? who is that sone of man?

35 Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a litle while is the light with you: walke while ye haue light, lest the darkenesse come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye haue light, beleue in the light, that yee may bee the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, and hid himselfe from them.

37 ¶ And though he had done so many miracles before them, yet beleued they not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that hee said, ¶ Lord, who beleued our report? and to whom is the arme of the Lord reucaled?

39 Therefore could they not beleue, because that Esaias saith againe, 40 ¶ He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

 Iesus knew that his houre was come that hee should depart out of this world vnto the Father, for as much as hee loued his owne which were in the world, vnto the end hee loued them.

1 And when supper was done, (and that the deuill had now put in the heart of Judas Iscariot, Si-mones sonne to Ieray him)

2 Iesus knowing that the Father had giuen all things into his hands, and that hee was come from God, and went to God,

3 Hee riseth from supper, and layeth aside his upper garments, and tooke a towell, and girded himselfe.

4 After that hee powred water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feete and to wipe them with the towell wherewith he was girded.

5 Thus came he to Simon Peter, who saide to him, Lord, dost thou wash my feete?

6 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What I doe, thou knowest not how: but thou shalt know it hereafter.

7 Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue no part wth me.

8 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my feet
 onely, but also the hands and the head.

9 Iesus said vnto him, Hee that is washed, needeth not haue to wash his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are cleane, but not all.

10 For hee knew who should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

11 So after he had washed their feete, and had taken his garments, and was set downe againe, hee said vnto them, Know ye what I haue done to you?

12 Ye call me master, and Lord, and yee say well:
 for so am I.

13 If I then your Lord and Master, haue washed your feete, you ought also to wash one anothers feete.

14 For I haue giuen you an example, that yee should doe euen as I haue done to you.

15 Verily, verily, I say vnto you, The seruant is not greater then his Master, neither the ambassa-

16 If ye know these things, blessed are ye if yee doe them.

17 I speake not of you all: I know whome I haue chosen: but it is that the Scripture might bee fulfilled, * He that eateth bread wth me, hath lift vp his heele against me.

18 From henceforth tell I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleuee that I am he.

19 * Verily, verily I say vnto you, if I send any,
 he that receiueth him receiueth me: and he that receiveth me receiueth him that sent me.

20 When Iesus had said these things, he was troubled in the spirit, and testified & said, Verily, verily
 I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

21 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whome he spake.

22 Now there was one of his disciples which leaned on Iesus before, whome Iesus loued.

23 To him therefore beckned Simon Peter, that he should aske whot it was of whome he spake.

24 He then as he leaned on Iesus breast, said vnto him, Lord, who is it?

25 Iesus answered, He is to whom I shall giue a sop when I haue dipped it: and he tooke a sop, and gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

26 And after the soppe Satan entred into him.
 Then said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest doe

 what cause he spake it vnto him.

28 For some of them thought, because Iudas had the bag, that Iesus had said vnto him, Buy those things that we haue need of against the Feast: or,
 that he should giue some thing to the poore.

29 As soone then as he had receiued the sop, hee went immediately out, and it was night.

30 When he was gone out, Iesus said, Now is the Sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

31 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, and shall straightway glorifie
 him.

32 Little children, yet a little while am I wth you:

35 Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, Whither I goe, goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I goe thou canst not follow mee now: but thou shalt follow me afterwards. Chap. 15.

36 Peter said vnto him, Lord, Why can I not follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake. 12. 1. Iohn

37 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou lay downe thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say vnto thee, The cock shall not crow till thou haue denied me thrise. Mat. 26.

that both seeme me hush some my Father: how then sayest thou, Shew vs thy Father?

10 Belieuest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me: the words that I spake vnto you I speake not of my selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Belieue mee, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me: at the last, belieue mee for the very works sake.

12 Verily, verily I say vnto you, hee that belieueth in me, the works that I doe, he shall doe also, and greater then these shall hee doe: for I goe vnto my Father.

13 * And whatsoever ye aske in my Name, that will I doe, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If ye shall aske any thing in my Name, I will doe it.

15 If ye loue me, keepe my Commandements.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall giue you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever.

17 Euen the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receiue, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but yee know him: for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leaue you comfortlesse: for I will come to you.

19 Yet a litle while, and the world shall see mee no more, but yee shall see me: because I liue, yee shall liue also.

20 At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandements, and keepeth them, is he that loneth me: and he that loneth me shall be loued of my Father: and I will loue him, and will send him: owne selfe to him.

22 Iudas said vnto him (not scariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shew thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the world?

23 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, If any man loue me, hee will keepe my word, and my Father will loue him, and we will come vnto him, and will dwell with him.

24 He that loneth me not, keepeth not my words, and the word which ye heare, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my Name, hee shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance which I haue told you.

27 Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you: not as the world giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

28 Ye haue heard how I said vnto you, I goe away, and will come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye would verily reioyce because I said, I goe vnto the Father: for my Father is greater then I.

29 And now I haue spoken vnto you before it come, that when it is come to passe, yee might beleeue.

30 Hereafter will I not speake many things vnto you: for the prince of this world commeth, and hath ought in me.

31 But it is, that the world may know that I loue my Father: and as the Father hath commanded me, so I doe. Arise, let vs goe hence.

CHAP. XV.

¶ The twelfth consolation and mutual loue between Christ & his members: vnder the parable of the vine.

18 Of their communion a Plente and pe. Jerusalem. 26 The offe of the ho y Ghost, and it is Apostles. I Am the true Vine, and my Father is an husbandman.

19 Every branch that beareth not fruit in mee, Mat. 15. he taketh away, and euerie one that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

20 Now as ye came through the word, which I haue spoken vnto you.

21 Abide in me and I in you: as the branch cannot beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

22 I am the Vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, & I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me can ye doe nothing.

23 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

24 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you: aske what ye will, and it shall be done to you.

25 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye beare much fruit and be made my disciples.

26 As the Father hath loved me, so haue I loued you: continue in my loue.

27 If ye shall keepe my Commandements, ye shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers Commandements, and abide in his loue.

28 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my joy might remaine in you, and that your joy might be full.

29 This is my Commandement, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.

30 Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his liue for his friends.

31 Yee are my friends, if yee doe whatsoeuer I command you.

32 Henceforth call I you not seruants: for the seruant knoweth not what his master doth: but I haue called you friends: for all things that I haue heard of my Father haue I made known vnto you.

33 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordained you, * that yee goe and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit remaine, that whatsoever ye shall aske of the Father in my Name hee may giue it you.

34 These things command I you, that yee loue one another.

35 If the world hate you, yee know that it hated me before you.

36 If ye were of the world, the world would loue his owne: but because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

37 Remember the word that I said vnto you. * The seruant is not greater then his master. * If they haue persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they haue kept my word, they will also keep yours.

38 But all these things will they doe vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not known him that sent me.

39 If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloake for their sinne.

40 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

41 If I had not done works among them, which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both sene, and haue hated both me and my Father.

42 But it is, that the word might be fulfilled, that is written in their Law, * They hated me without cause.

7 He putteth them in remembrance of the Crosse, and of their owne infirmities to come, 7 and therefore doth comfort them with the promise of the holy Ghost. 23 To aske in the Name of Christ. 33 Peace in Christ: and in the worlds affliction.

1 These things haue I said vnto you, that ye should not be offended.

4 Crosse put you out of the Synagogue.

2 They shall excommunicate you: yea, the time shall come, that whosoever killeth you, will thinke that he doth God seruice.

3 And these things will they doe vnto you, because they haue not knowen the Father, nor mee,

4 But these things haue I tolde you, that when the houre shall come, yee might remember that I tolde you them: And these things said I not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now I goe my way to him that sent mee, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I haue said these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.

7 Yet I tell you the truth, It is expedient for you that I goe away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove y world of sinne, and of righteousness, and of iudgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleue not in me.

10 Of righteousness, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot beare them now.

13 Howbeit when he is come, which is the Spirit of truth, he will lead you into all truth: for he shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoever hee shall heare shall he speake, and he will shew you the things to come.

14 He shall glorifie mee: for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

16 A little while, and ye shall not see mee: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me: for I goe to my Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that hee saith vnto vs, A little while, and yee shall not see mee, and againe, A little while, and yee shall see mee, and, For I goe to my Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this, that hee saith, A little while? we know not what he saith.

19 Now Iesus knew that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe yee enquire among your selues of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and againe, A little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verely, verely I say vnto you, that yee shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce, and ye shall sorrow, but your sorrow shall be turned to ioy.

21 A woman when she travaileth hath sorrow, because her houre is come: but as soone as shee is delivered of the child, shee remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

22 And ye now therefore are in sorrow: but I will see you againe, and your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy shall no man take from you.

23 And in that day shall yee aske mee nothing.

* Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoever ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

24 Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske and yee shall receiue, that your ioy may be full.

25 These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shewe you plainly of the Father.

26 At that day shall ye aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you.

27 For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, * and haue beleueed that I came out from God.

28 I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: Againe, I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.

29 His disciples said vnto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

30 Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this we beleuee that thou art come out from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doe ye beleue now?

32 Behold, the houre cometh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: but I am not alone, for the Father is with me.

33 These things haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace: in the world yee shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The prayer of Christ vnto his Father, both for himselfe and his Apostles, and also for all such as receive the truth.

These things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and said, Father, the houre is come, glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Son also may glorifie thee.

* As thou hast giuen him power ouer all flesh, that hee should giue eternall life to all them that thou hast giuen him.

3 And this is life eternall, that they know thee to be the onely very God; and whom thou hast sent Iesus Christ.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

5 And now glorifie me, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glorie which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy word.

7 Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

8 For I haue giuen vnto them words which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, * and haue knowne surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleueed that thou hast sent me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast giuen mee: for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keepe keepe them in thy Name, save them whom thou hast giuen me, that they may be one as we are.

11 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name: those that thou gapest me, haue I kept; and none of them is lost, but the childe of perdition, that the * Scripture might be fulfilled.

12 And now come I to thee, and these things I haue spoken in the world, that they might haue my joy fulfilled in themselves.

13 I haue giuen them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

14 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou keepest them from euill.

15 They are not of the world, as I am not of the world.

16 Sanctifie them with thy truth: thy word is truth.

17 As thou didst send me into the world, so haue I sent them into the world.

18 And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also may be sanctified through the truth.

19 I pray not for these alone, but for them also which shall beleue in me through their word.

20 That they all may be one, as thou, O Father, art in me, and in thee, even that they may be also one in vs, that the world may beleue that thou hast sent me.

21 And the glory that thou gapest me, I haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one.

22 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know, that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

23 And the glory that thou gapest me, I haue giuen them, that they may be one, as we are one.

24 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know, that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me.

25 * Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, beewith me euen where I am, that they may behold my glory, which thou hast giuen me: for thou lovedst mee before the foundation of the world.

26 O righteous Father, the world also hath not known thee, but I haue known thee, and thine haue known that thou hast sent me.

27 And I haue declared vnto them thy Name, and will declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Christ is betrayed. 2 The words of his mouth finish the officers to the ground. 3 Peter smiteth off Malchus eare. 4 Iesus is brought before Annas and Caiaphas, 5 where Peter denieth him. 6 Iesus telleth Pilate what his kingdom is.

When Iesus had spoken these things, he went forth with his disciples out the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered and his disciples.

2 And Iudas which betrayed him knew also the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Iudas then after he had receiued a band of men and officers of the hie Priests, and of the Pharisees, came thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 Then Iesus knowing all things that should come vnto him, went forth, and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus said vnto them, I am he. Now Iudas also which betrayed him stood with them.

6 Assoone then as he had said vnto them, I am hee, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then hee asked them againe, Whom seeke ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answered, I said vnto you that I am hee: therefore if yee seeke me, let these goe their way.

9 This was that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, * Of them which thou gapest mee I haue I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter having a sword, drew it, and smote the hie Priests seruant, & cut off his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Iesus vnto Peter, Putt up thy sword into the sheath: shall I not drinke of the cup which my Father hath giuen me?

12 Then the band and the captaine, and the officers of the Iewes tooke Iesus and bound him.

13 And led him away to Annas first (for he was Father in law to Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest the same yere).

14 * And Caiaphas was he that gave counsel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 * Now Simon Peter followed Iesus, and another disciple, and that disciple was knowne of the hie Priest: therefore he went in with Iesus into the hall of the hie Priest.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out the other disciple, which was knowne vnto the hie Priest, & spake to her that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then said the maid that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He said, I am not.

18 And the seruants and officers stood there, which had made a fire of coles: for it was cold, and they warmed themselves. And Peter also stood among them and warmed himselfe.

19 * (The hie Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world: I neuer taught in the Synagoge, and in the Temple, whither the Iewes resort continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me aske them which heare me what I said vnto them, behold, they know what I said.

22 When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stood by smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the hie Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, heare witness of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why finishest thou me?

24 * Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the hie Priest.)

25 * And Simon Peter stood and warmed himselfe, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? he denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the seruants of the hie Priest, his cousin whose care Peter smote off, said, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediately the cocke crew.

28 * Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselves went not into the common hall, lest they should be * defiled, but that they might eate the Pasche.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, & said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Lawe. Then the Iewes said sayd unto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32. *It was that the word of Jesus * might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.*

33 * So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Iesus, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

14 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy self, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered him, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the high Priests have delivered thee unto me, What hast thou done?

36 Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world; if my kingdom were of this world, my servants would surely fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

27 Pilate then sayd vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king:
for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witnesse vnto
the truth: every one that is of the truth, beareth my voyce.

¶ Pilate sayd vnto him, What is truch? And when he had said that, he went out againe vnto the Jewes, and sayd vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

39 * But you haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loofe at the Passouer: will ye then that I deliuer vnto you the king of the Iewes?

40^a Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murderer

CHAP. XIX.

When Pilate could not find fault with him, he was about to release him; but they all cried out saying, "Not this man, but Barabbas." Now Barabbas was a robber.

Then * Pilate tooke Iesus and scourged him.

17 And the Soldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment.

3 And sayd, Haile king of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rods.

4 Then Pilate went forth againe, and sayd vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that you may know that I finde no fault in him at all.

5 Then came Iesus forth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate sayd vnto them, Behold the man.

¶ Then when the hie Priests and officers saw him, they cryed, saying, Crucife, crucife him. Pilat said vnto them, Take ye him and crucife him: for finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, Wee haue a lawe and by our law he ought to die, because hee mad himselfe the Sonne of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraid.

9 And went againe into the common hall, and sayd vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answer.

29 Then said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou so vnto mee? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11. Iesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered mee unto thee, hath the greater sinne.

13 From thenceforth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Jews cried, saying, If thou deliver him, thou art not Cæsars friend: for whosoever maketh himself a king, speaketh against Cæsar.

13. ¶ When Pilate heard that word, he brought Jesus forth, and set downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the pavement, and in Hebrews Gabbatha.

14 And it was the preparation of the Passcourt, and about the sixt houre: and hee fande vpon the lruer. Behold your king.

15 But they cried, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate said unto them, Shall I crucify your king? The high Priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar.

16 Then delivered he him unto them to be crucified. * And they took Jesus and led him away.

17 And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens skilles, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha:

18. Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the cross; and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARET THE KING OF THE JEWES.

20. This title then read many of the Jews : for the place where Jesus was crucified, was near to the city : and it was written in Hebrew, Greek, and Latine.

21: Then said he his Priests of the Jewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jewes, but that he sayd, I am King of the Jewes.

23 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23 Then the *soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made foure parts; to every soldier a part, and his coate: and the coate was without seame, woven from the toppe the-rowour.

24. Therefore they sayd one to another, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall bee.
This was that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, *They parted my garments among them, and on my coat they cast lots. So the soldiers did these things in deed.

25 ¶ Then stood by the crosse of Iesus his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie the wife of Cleopas, and Marie Magdalene.

36 And when Iesus saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loued, hee said vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne.

37 Then said he to the disciple, Behold thy mother: and from that houre, the disciple tooke her home vnto him.

28 ¶ After when Iesus knewe that all things were performed, that the * Scripture might be fulfilled, he said, I thirst.

39 And there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it about an hyssope Calte, and put it to his mouth.

30 Now when Iesus had receiued of the vinger, he said, It is finished, and bowed his head, and gaue vp the ghost.

31 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remain vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day, for that Sabbath was an hie day) befought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

31 Then came the soldiers and brake the legs of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Jesus.

But when they came to Iesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he sayeth true, that ye might believe it.

For these things were done that the Scripture should be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shall be broken.

And againe another Scripture saith, They shall thrust him whom they haue thrust through.

And after these things Ioseph of Arimathea (who was a discipule of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that he might take down the body of Iesus: And Pilate gaue him licence, He came then, and tooke Iesus body.

And there came also Nicodemus, (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together about an hundred pound.

Then tooke they the body of Iesus, & wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the manner of the Iewes is to bury.

And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

Then there layd they Iesus, because of the Iewes preparation day, for the sepulchre was neere.

CHAP. XX.

Mary Magdalen cometh to the sepulchre. 3 The three Angels appeare.

Christ appeareth to Mary Magdalen. 19 And to all his disciples. 25 The incredulity of Thomas. 28 His confessions.

Now the first day of the weeke came Mary Magdalen early, when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and saw the stone taken away from the tombe.

Then she ran, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other discipule whom Iesus loued, and sayd vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they haue layd him.

Peter therefore went forth, and the other discipule, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

So they ran both together, but the other discipule did ouertake Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

And he stooped downe, and saw the linnen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saw the linnen clothes lie.

And the kerchiefe that was vpon his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

Then went in also the other discipule which came first to the sepulchre, and hee saw it and believed.

For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he must rise againe from the dead.

And the disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre.

And saw two Angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the fete, where the body of Iesus had lain.

And they said vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She sayd vnto them, They haue taken away my Lord, and I know not where they haue laid him.

When she had thus sayd, she turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposing that he had bin the gardener, said vnto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast layd him; and I will take him away.

Iesus sayth vnto her, Mary. Shee turned her selfe and said vnto him, Rabbouni, which is to say, Master.

Iesus saith vnto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascended vnto my Father, and to your Father, and to my God, and to your God.

Mary Magdalen came and told the disciples, what she had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

The first day then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus and stood in the midst, and said to them, Peace be vnto you.

And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they had seene the Lord.

Then said Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent me, so send I you.

And when he had said that, hee breathed on them, and sayd vnto them, Receive the holy Ghost.

Whosoever finnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them: and whosoever finnes ye retaine, they are retained.

But Thomas one of the twelue called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord: but hee sayd vnto them, Except I see in his hands the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, and put my hand into his side, I will not beleue it.

And eight dayes after, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Iesus when the doores were shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be vnto you.

After said he to Thomas, Put thy finger here and see my hands, and put forth thine hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithlesse, but faithfull.

Then Thomas answered, and said vnto him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

Iesus said vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou believest: blessed are they that haue not seene, and haue beleued.

And many other signes also did Iesus in Chap. 21. the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this booke.

But these things are written that ye might beleue that IESVS is the Christ the Sonne of God, and that in beleueing ye might haue life throu his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 19 He commaundeth Peter: namely to feed his sheepe. 28 He sheweth him of his death. 29 Of Christ's manifold miracles.

After.

He appeared to his disciples again. 1. John.

A fourth thing I did showed himselfe againe to his disciples at the place of Tiberias: and thus showed he himselfe

3. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the son of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

Simon Peter said vnto them, I goe a fishing.
They said vnto him, Wee also will goe with thee:
They went their way, & entered into a ship straightway, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Tobias stood on the shore, and the twelve disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Iesus then said vnto thm, | Sirs, haue ye any meate? They answered him No.

Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to draw it, for the multitude of fishes.

7. Therefore said the disciple, whom Jesus found, unto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded himself to go with him (for he was naked) and cast himself into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by ship (for they were not far from land, but about two hundred cubits) and they drew the net with fishes.

019 Affonic then as they were come to lande, they saw hore coales, and fish layd thereon, and bread.

4166 Iesus said vnto them, Bring of the fishes which ye haue now caught.

¶ Simon Peter stepped forth, and drew the net to lande, full of great fishes, an hundredth fiftie and three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

14 Jesus said unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, fearing that they knew that he was the Lord.

13 Jesus then came, and tooke bread, and gave them, and fish likewise.

14. This is now the third time that Iesus shewed himselfe to his disciples, after that hee was risen against from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Iesus said to Simon Peter, Simon the son of Iona, lovest thou mee more than these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feed my

16. He said unto him againe the second time, Shew me the forme of Iona. Iouest thou me? He said unto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. Her he said unto him, Feed my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon ~~the~~ son of Iona, lovest thou me? Peter was ioy because he said vnto him the third time, Lovest thou me? & said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things:
thou knowest that I loue thee. Iohn said vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

18 Verily, verily I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thy self, and walkedst whither thou wouldest; but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thine hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldest not.

19. And thus spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God, And when he had said this, he said vnto him Follow me.

50 Then Peter turned about, and saw the disciple whom Jesus loved, following, which had also * leaned on his breast, at supper, and had said, Lord, (6 which is he that betrayeth thee? 3

23 Iesus said vnto him, Wtill I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23. Then went this word abroad among the brethren that this disciple should not die. Yet Jesus said unto him, He shall not die: but, if I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

34 This is that disciple which testifieth of these things and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

THE ACTES OF THE HOLY APO.

stles, written by Luke the Evangelist.

THE ARGUMENT.

Chrisť after his ascension performed his promise to his Apostles, and sent them the holy Ghost, declaring thereby that hee was not only now faithful Church, but would be the hea'l and maine stay thereof for ever. Whereunto it is mightie power appeareth, notwithstanding that Sathan for the world's profit neuer stood against this noble work, yet by a few simple men of no reputation, replenish'd all the world with the sound of his Gospel. And here in the beginning of the Church, and in the increase thereof, wee may plainly perceive the practise and policy which Sathan continually useth to suppress and overthrow the Gospel, hee reacheth to confound, to vex, to trouble, to persecute, to slander, and all kind of unquietnesse. I praye, we shall here behold the providence of God, who overcometh his many enterprises, delivereth his Church from the rage of Sathan's strength, and encourageth his most valiantly and constantly to followe their Canaanie Christ: leaving us to see by this historie, a perpetuall necessary to the Church, that the Crosse is to be joined with the Gospel, when they are follow'd inseparably, and that the end of our afflictions is but the beginning of another. The severall life, God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings, and tentations of him to a good issue, giving them as it were in turnes joy: in bonds, freedom: in prison, deliverance: in trouble, quietnesse: in death, life. Finally, this booke containeth many excellent Sermons of the Apostles and disciples, touching the death, life, resurrection, and conquest of Christ. The exercise of God. Of the grace and remission of sinne through Iesus Christ. Of the blessed immortality. An exhortation to the ministers of Christ, to keepe themselves out of the fear of God, with necessary and pious points of our faith, together with other history, in a manner may be sufficient to instruct us in all true doctrine and Religion.

CHAP. II.

The words of Christ and his Angels to the Apostles. His ascension. 1. Wherin the Apostles are occupied till the day of Pentecost. 2. And of the vision of Matthias.

1. Have made the former Treatise. O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began to doe and teach,

2. Until the day that hee was taken vp, after that hee through the holy Ghost had giue commandements vnto the Apostles whom hee had chosen.

3. To whom also hee presented himselfe alioe after that he had suffered, by many infallible tokens, being some of them by the space of fourey dayes, and speaking of those things which appertaine to the kingdome of God.

4. And when hee had gathered them together, hee commanded them that they should not depart from Ierusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father,

5. which hee had said by the mouth of his holie Prophets, For Iohn indeed baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost within these few dayes.

6. When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdome to Israel?

7. And hee said vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power,

8. But ye shall receiue power of the holy Ghost, when hee shall come vpon you: and ye shall bee witnesses vnto me both in Ierusalem, and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

9. And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, hee was taken vp: for a cloud tooke him vp out of their sight.

10. And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as hee went, behold, two men stood by them in white apparell,

11. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall so come, as ye haue seene him goe into heauen.

12. ¶ Then returned they vnto Ierusalem from the mount that is called, the mount of olives, which is neere to Ierusalem, containing a Sabbath dayes iourney.

13. And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode both Peter and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartolomeu, and Matthew, Iames the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

14. These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women, and Mary the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

15. ¶ And in those dayes Peter stood vp in the midst of the disciples, and said, (now the number of names that were in one place, were about an hundred and twenty)

16. Ye men and brethren, this Scripture must needs haue bin fulfilled, which the holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was guide to them that tooke Iesus,

17. For he was numbered with vs, and had obtained fellowship in this ministration.

18. Hee therefore hath purchased a field with the reward of iniquitie: and when hee had thrown downe him selfe headlong, hee brake asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19. And it is known vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, inasmuch that that field is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, the field of blood.

20. For it is written in the booke of Psalms, Let his habitation be void, and let no man dwell therein.

21. ¶ Wherefore, of these men which haue continued with vs all the time that the Lord Iesus was living,

22. Beginning from the baptism of Iohn vnto the day that hee was taken vp from vs, must one of them be made a witness with vs of his resurrection.

23. And they presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias,

24. And they prayed, Gying, Thou Lord which knowest the hearts of all men, shewe whether of these two thou hast chosen.

25. That he may take the room of this ministration and Apostleship, from which Iudas hath gone astray to goe to his owne place.

26. Then they gaue forth their lots: and the lot fell on Matthias, and hee was by a common consents counted with the cleues Apostles.

CHAP. II.

3. The Apostles having received the holy Ghost, make their houses prayer. 1. Whom Peter had stopped the mouths of the mockers, for the visible graces of the holy Spirit that Christ wrought in him. He baptized a great number that were converted, as the holy scriptures, charites, and diuine vertues of the faithful.

And when the day of Pentecost was come, they were all with one accord in one place.

4. And suddenly there came a sound from heauen, as of a rushing and mighty winde: and it filled all the house where they sate.

5. And there appeared vnto them cleauen tongues, like fire, and it sate vpon each of them.

6. And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirit gaue them verbaunce.

7. And there were dwelling at Ierusalem Iewes, men that feared God, of euery nation vnder heauen.

8. Now when this was noised, multitudes came together, and were astonished, because that euery man heard them speake in his owne language.

9. And they wondered all, and maruailed, saying among themselves, Behold, are not all these which speake, of Galilee?

10. How then heare we euery man our owne language wherein we were borne?

11. Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the inhabitants of Mesopotamia, and of Iudea, and of Cappadocia, of Pontus, and Asia.

12. And of Phrygia, and Pamphylia, of Egypt, and of the parts of Libya, which is beside Cyrene; and strangers of Rome, and Iewes, and Procelites, 13. Cretes, and Arabians: we heard them speake in our owne tongues the wonderful workes of God.

14. They were all then amazed, and doubted, saying one to another, What may this be?

15. And others mocked, and said, They are full of new wine.

16. ¶ But Peter standing with the eleuen, lift vp his voice, and said vnto them, Ye men of Iudea, and ye all that inhabit Ierusalem, be thus knowen vnto you, and hearken vnto my words.

17. For these are not drunken as ye suppose, since it is but the third houre of the day.

18. But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Iosiah.

17 And it shall bee in his last dayes faith shall will purre out of my spirit upon all flesh, & your young men and your daughters shall prophesie, & your young men shall be visited, and your old men shall 18 And on my seruants, and on mine handmaides
I will poure out of my spirit in thine dayes, & they shall prophesie, and your old men shall 19 And I will show wonders in heauen above, and tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.
20 The Sonne shall be turned into darkness, and the Moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.
21 And it shall be, that whosoever shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saved.
22 Ye men of Israel, heare these words, IESVS of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you with great works and wonders, and signes which God did by him in the middes of you, as yee your selves acknowledge.
23 Him, say, haue ye taken by the hands of the wicked, being deliuered by the determinate counsell, and foreknowledge of God, and haue crucified and slain.
24 Whom God hath raised vp, and loosed the fetters of death, because it was impossible that he should be holden of it.
25 For Dauid saith concerning him, * I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand, that I should not be shaken.
26 Therefore did mine heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad, and moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope.
27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in grauē, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.
28 Thou hast shewed mee the wayes of life, and shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.
29 Men and brethren, I may boldly speake vnto you of the Patriarch Dauid, that hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remaineth with vs vnto this day.
30 Therefore seeing he was a Prophet, and knew that God had * sowne with an oath vnto him, that of the fruit of his ioyne hee would raise vp Christ concerning the flesh, to set him vpon his throne.
31 Hee knowing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his flesh should not bee left in graue, neither his flesh should see corruption.
32 This Iesus God hath raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.
33 Since then that he by the right hand of God hath bin exalted, and hath received of his Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this which ye now see and heare.
34 For Dauid is not ascended into heauen, but he saith, * The Lord saide to my Lord, Sit at my right
hand,
35 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.
36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a surety, that God hath made him both Lord and Christ, this Iesus, for whom ye haue crucified.
37 Now when they heard it, they were picked in their hearts, and said vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we doe?
38 Then Peter said vnto them, Amend your liues, and be baptized every one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ for the remission of sinnes: and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.
39 For the promise is made vnto you, & to your children, and to all that are far off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words hee besought and exhorted them saying, Save your selues from this froward generation.
41 Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added to the Church about three thousand soules.
42 And they continued in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and breaking of bread, and prayer, 43 And eate came vpon euery house: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.
44 And all that believed were in one place, and had all things in common.
45 And they sold their possessions & goods, and passed them to all men, as euery one had need.
46 And they continued daily with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread at home, did eat their meat together with gladness and singleness of heart.
47 Praising God, and had fauour with all the people: and the Lord added to the Church from day to day such as should be saved.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The leprose is referred to by first. 13 Peter preach-eth Christ vnto the people.
Now Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple at the ninth houre of prayer.
3 And a certaine man which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the Temple called Beautifull, to ask almes of them that entered into the Temple.
4 Who seeing Peter and Iohn, that they would enter into the Temple, desired to receiue an alme.
5 And Peter earnestly beholding him with Iohn said, Looke on vs.
6 And he gaue heed vnto them, trafficking to receiue something of them.
7 Then said Peter, Silver and gold haue I none, but such as I haue that giue I thee: in the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth rise vp and walke.
8 And he tooke him by the right hand, and life him vp, and immediately his feet and ankle bones re-ceiued strength.
9 And he leaped vp, stood, and walked: and entered with them into the Temple walking, and leaping and praising God.
10 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God.
11 And they knew him, that it was he which sat for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the Temple:
and they were amazed, and sore astonished at that which was come vnto him.
12 And as the creeple which was healed, held Peter and Iohn, all the people ranne amazed vnto them in the porch which is called Salomons.
13 So when Peter saw it, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why maruaile yee at this?
or why looke ye so fastidiously on vs, as though by our owne power or godlinesse wee had made this man goe?

Iesus, whom yee betrayed and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be delinquered.

whome yee see and know, through faith in * his Name, and the faith which is by him, hath given to him this disposition of his whole body, in the presence of you all.

17 And now brethren, I know that through ignorance ye did it, as did also our gouernours.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your liues therefore, & turne, that your sinnes may be put away, when the time of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shall send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you, 21 Whome the heauen must containe vntill the time that all things be restored, which God had spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets since the world began.

23 Forasmuch as that every person which shall not heare that Prophet, shall bee destroyed out of the people.

24 All of the Prophets from Samuel, & thenceforth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the Prophets, and of the covenant which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, * Euen in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 First vnto you hath God raised vp his Sonne Iesus, and him he hath sent to bleesse you, in turning euery one of you from your iniquities.

CHAP. II.

3 Peter and Iohn delivered out of prison, preach the Gospel boldly. 10 They confesse plainly the Name of Christ. 16 They are commended to preach no more in this Name. 24 They pray for the good successe of the Gospel. 33 The increase, unity and charitie of the Church.

And as they spake vnto the people, the Priests and the Captaine of the Temple, and the Sadducees came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuously that they taught the people, and preached in Iesus Name the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in holde vntill the next day: for it was now euentide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, beleued, and the number of the men was about fise thousand.

5 And it came to passe on the morrowe, that their rulers and Elders, and Scribes were gathered together at Ierusalem.

6 And Annas the chiefe Priest, and Caiphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the hie Priests.

7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghost, said vnto them, Yee Rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel,

9 Forasmuch as we this day are examined of the good dedde done to y impotent man, so it, by what meane he is made whole,

10 Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye haue crucified, whom God raised againe from the dead, euem by him doeth this man stand here before you whole.

11 This is the flosse cast aside of your builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there saluation in any other, for among men there is giuen none other name vnder heauen, whereby we must be saved.

13 Now when they saw the boldnes of Peter, and Iohn, and understood that they were valiant men, and without knowledge, they marvelled, and knew them that they had bene with Iesus:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15 Then they commaunded them to goe aside out of the Councill, and confessed among themselves.

16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for surely a manifest signe is done by them, and is openly known to all them that dwell in Ierusalem: and we cannot denie it.

17 But that it bee no wayd no further among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, and commaunded them, that in no wise they should speake or teach in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter and Iohn answered vnto them, and said, Whether it be right in the sight of God to obey you rather then God, Iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake the things which we haue seene and heard.

21 So they threatened them, and let them goe, and found nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was about fouentie yeere olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then as soone as they were let go, they came to their fellowes, and shewed all that the hie Priests and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And When they heard it, they lift vp their voices to God with one accord, and said, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen and the earth, the sea, and all things that are in them, 25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant David hast said, * Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

Psal. 2.3.

26 The kings of the earth assembled, and the rulers came together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For doubtlesse, against thine holy Sonne Iesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, gathered themselves together, 28 To do whatsoeuer thine hand and thy counsell had determined before to be done.

29 And now, O Lord, behold their threatenings, and graunt vnto thy seruants with all boldnesse to speake thy word, 30 So that thou stretch forth thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders may bee done by the Name of thy holy Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleued were of one heart, and of one soule: neither any of them said, that any thing of that which he possessed was his owne, but they had all things in common.

33 And with great power came the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, soldethem, and brought the price of the things that were sold.

35 And laid it downe at the Apostles feet, and it was distributed vnto every man according as he had neede.

36 Also Ioseph which was called of the Apostles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation, the sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the country of Cyprus,

37 Whereas he had land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it downe at the Apostles feet,

CHAP. V.

5 The hypocrite of Ananias & Sapphira is punished. 12 All rables are done by the Apostles. 17 They are taken, but the Angel of God bringeth them out of prison. 29 Their bold confession before the Council. 34 The council of Gamaliel. 40 The Apostles are beaten, and reioyce in tribulation.

BUT certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

1 And kept away part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought the certaine part, and laid it downe at the Apostles feete.

2 Then said Peter, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart that thou shouldest lye vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of the possession?

3 Whiles it remained, appertained it not vnto thee? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? howe is it that thou hast concerned this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

4 Now when Ananias heard these words, he fell downe & gaue vp the ghost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

5 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and caried him out, and buried him.

6 And it came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in ignorant of that which was done.

7 And Peter saide vnto her, Tell mee, sold yee the land for so much? And she sayd, Yea, for so much.

8 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the doore, and shall cary thee out.

9 Then she fell downe straightway at his feet, and yeelded vp the ghost: and the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

10 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

11 Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes and wonderes shewed among the people, (and they were all with one accord in Salomons porch.

12 And of the other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheles the people magnified them.

13 Also the number of them that beleued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more.

14 Insomuch that they brought the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least way the shadow of Peter when hee came by, might shadow some of them.

15 There came also a multitude out of the cities found about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him, (which was the sect of the Sadducees) and were full of indignation, 18 And laid hands on the Apostles, & put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth and said, 20 Goe your way, and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the words of this life.

21 So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, and taught. And the chiefe Priest came, & they that were with him, and called the Council together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, & sent to the prison to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told it.

23 Saying, Certainly wee found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without before the doores: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest and the captain of the Temple, and the high Priest heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one, and shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that yee put in prison are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Council, and the chiefe Priest asked them, 28 Saying, Did not wee straitly command you, that ye should not teach in this Name? and behold, ye haue filled Ierusalem with your doctrine, and yee would bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and said, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 The ¶ God of our fathers hath raised vp Iesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of finnes.

32 And wee are his witnesses concerning these things which we say: yea, & the holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 Now when they heard it, they brast for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp in the Council, a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a little space,

35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye intend to do touching these men:

36 For before these times rose vp Theudas boasting himselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, about a foure hundred, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose vp Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of the tribute, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this woulde bee of men, it will come to nought.

33 But if it be of God, ye cannot destroy it, lest ye be found our fighters against God.

40 And unto him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them; they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 So they departed from the Conncill, crying that they were counted worthy, to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And daily in the Temple, and from house to house they ceased not to teach, and preach Iesus Christ.

CHAP. VI.

Some Disciples are ordained in the Church, 8 The graces and miracles of Steven, whom they accused falsely.

ANd in those dayes as the number of the disciples grew, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians towards the Hebrewes, because their widowes were neglected in the daily ministring.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples together, and said, It is not meete that wee should leaue the worde of God to serue the tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you seven men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisdom, which wee may appoint to this businesse.

4 And wee will give our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministracion of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude, and they chose Steven, a man full of faith, and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a Proselyte of Antiochia.

6 Which they set before the Apostles; and they prayed, and layd their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased, & the number of the disciples was multiplied in Ierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the truth.

8 ¶ Now Steven full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steven.

10 But they were not able to resist the wisdom, and the Spirit by the which he spake.

11 Then they suborned men which said, We haue heard him speake blasphemous words against Moses and God.

12 Thus they moued the people, and the Elders, & the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him and brought him to the Council.

13 And hee forth false witnesses, which sayd, This man ceaseeth not to speake blasphemous words against this holy place and the Law.

14 For we haue heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinances which Moses gaue vs.

15 And as all that sate in the Council looked stedfastly on him, they saw his face as it had bene the face of an Angel.

CHAP. VII.

2 Steven maketh answer by the Scriptures to his accusers. 51 Hee rebuketh the hardnecked Iewes, 57 and sheweth death. 58 Sam keepeth the sorrelliers clothes.

Then said the chief Priest, Are these things so?

2 And hee said, Yee men, brethren and fathers, hearken. The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3. * And said vnto him, Come out of thy country, and from thy kinned, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came hee out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And because hee had no inheritance in it, no, not the breadth of a foote, yet he promised, that hee would giue it to him for a possession, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 But God spake thus, that his seede should be a sojourner in a strange land, & that they should keepe it in bondage, and intreat it euill foure hundred yeeeres.

7 But the nation to whome they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, saith God: and after that, they shall come forth, and serue me in this place.

14 Then sent Ioseph, and caused his father to be brought, and all his kined, euen three score and fiftene soules.

21 And when he was calt out, Pharaohs daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne sonne.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in wordes and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full forty yeeeres old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 * And when he saw one of them suffer wrong, Exo. 2. 11.

he defended him, and sued his quarrell that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptians.

25 For hee supposed his brethren would have vnderstood, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 And the next day he shewed himselfe vnto them as they strowe, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren: why doe ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a Prince and a Iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where hee begate two sonnes.

30 And when fortie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the * wilderness of mount Sina an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire, in a bush.

31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew nere to consider it, the voyce of the Lord came vnto him, saying, 32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, & the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord said to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I haue seene I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whome they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a Prince and a Iudge? the same God sent for a Prince, and a deliuerer by the hand of the Angel, which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, doing wonders and miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wilderness * fortie yeeres.

37 This is that Moses, which said vnto the children of Israel, * A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you, euens of your brethren, like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 * This is hee that was in the Congregation, in the wilderness with the Angel, which spake to him in mount Sina, and with our fathers, who received the liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt.

40 Saying vnto Aaron, * Make vs gods that may goe before vs: for wee know not what is become of this Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyed in the workes of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned himselfe away, and * gaue them vp to serue the hoste of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, * O house of Israel, haue ye offered to me flaine beasts, and sacrifices by the space of fortie yeeres in the wilderness?

43 And yetooke vp the tabernacle of * Moloch, and the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I will cary you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as hee had appointed, speaking vnto

45 Moyses, that hee should make it according to the fashion that hee had seene.

45 Which tabernacle also our fathers retained, and brought in with * Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, which God drane out before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

46 * Who found fauour before God, and desired that he might * make a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 * But Salomon built him an house.

48 Howbeit the most High * dwelleth not in Temples made with hands, as saith the * Prophet, 49 * Heauen is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build for mee, saith the Lord? or what place is it that I should rest in?

50 Hath not mine hand made all these things?

51 * Ye stiffnecked, and of vncircumcised hearts and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so doe you.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? and they haue slaine them, which shewed before of the coming of that Iust, of whom ye are now the betrayers and murderers.

53 * Which haue receiued the Lawe by the ordinance of Angels, and haue not kept it.

54 But when they heard these sayings, their hearts braut for anger, and they pushed at him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked stedfastly into heauen, and saw the glory of God, and Iesus standing at the right hand of God.

56 And said, Behold, I see the heauen open, and the Sonne of man standing at the right hand of God.

57 Then they gaue a shout with a loud voice, and stopped their eares, and ran vpon him all at once.

58 And cast him out of the cite, and stoned him: and the * witnesses laid downe their clothes at a young mans feete, named Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on God, and said, Lord Iesus receiue my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cryed with a loud voice, * Lord lay not this sinne to their charge, and when hee had thus spoken, he slept.

AND Saul consented to his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Ierusalem, and they were all scattered abroad thorow the regions of Iudaea and of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, caried Steuen among them to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hauocke of the Church, and entred into euery house, and drew out both men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 ¶ Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accord, hearing, and seeing the miracles which hee did.

7 For certaine spirits crying with a loud voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with policies, and that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that cite.

9 And there was before in the cite a certain man called Simon, which vied withcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, that hee himselfe was some great man.

10 To whom they gave heede from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And they gave heede vnto him, because that of long time he had bewitched them with forceries.

12 But as soone as they beleued Philip, which preached the things that concerned the kingdom of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe beleued also, and was baptized, and continued with Philip, and wondered when he sawe the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ Now when the Apostles which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe prayed for things that they might receiue the holy Ghost.

16 (For as yet he was come downe on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus)

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles there was the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay the hands, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this businesse: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repente therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, that if it be possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and sayd, Pray yee to the Lord from mee, that none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they when they had testified & preached the word of the Lord, returned to Ierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritanes.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Ierusalem vnto Gaza, which is waste.

27 And he arose and went on: and behold, a certaine Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians chiefe gouernour, who had the rule of all her treasure, and came to Ierusalem to worshippes.

28 And as he returned sitting in his charet, hee read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Goe neere and loyne thy selfe to yonder charet.

30 And Philip ranne thither, and heard him read the Prophet Esaias, and said, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except I had a guide? And he desired Philip, that he would come vp and sit with him.

32 Now the place of the Scripture which hee read, was this, Hee was ledde as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumbe before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 In his humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 Then the Eunuch answered Philip, and sayd, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the Prophet this of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuch said, See, here is water: what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 And Philip sayd vnto him, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered and said, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 Then he commanded the charer to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip and the Eunuch, and he baptized him.

39 And as soone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: so hee went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus, and hee walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till hee came to Cesarea.

CHAP. IX.

1 The conversion of Saul. 15 His vocation to the Apostleship. 20 His scale to execute the same. 25 How he escapeth the Iewes conspiracies. 26 His accession to the Apostles. 31 The prosperitie of the Church. 34 Peter healeth Aeneas. 40 Raithen Tabitha. 42 He converteth many to Christ. 43 and lodgeth in a Tanners house.

AND Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie Priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if he found any that were of that way (either men or women) hee might bring them bound vnto Ierusalem.

3 Now as he journeyed, it came to passe, that as he was come neere Damascus, suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And hee fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

6 He then both trembling and astonished, sayd, Lord, what wilt thou that I doe? and the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the cite, and it shall be told thee what thou shalt doe.

7 The men also which journeyed with him, stood amazed, hearing his voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but saw no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 Where hee was three dayes without sight, and neither ate nor dranke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And hee said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 Then the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the street which is called Straight, & seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus for behold he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias coming in to him, and putting his hands on him, that he might receive his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy Saints at Jerusalem.

14 Mercies, here he hath authority of the high Priests, to bind all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for hee is a chosen vessel vnto mee, to beare my Name before the Gentiles and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (as I said) that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou comest) that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And receiued meate, and was strengthened, So was Saul certaine daies with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

21 So that all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he, that destroyed them which called on this Name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent that hee should bring them bound vnto the high Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming that this was the Christ.

23 And after that many daies were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But their laying await was knowne of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him thorow the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, hee assayed to ioyne himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and beleueed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them how hee had seene the Lord in the way, and that hee had spoken vnto him, and how hee had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And he was conuersant with them at Jerusalem.

29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed with the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knew it, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iudea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked thorowout all quarters, hee came also to the Saint which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there hee found a certaine man, named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palseie.

34 Then saide Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ make thee whole: arise, and make vp thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron sawe him, and turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) (shee was full of good workes and almes which shee did).

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that shee was sicke and died: and when they had walshed her, they layd her in an upper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that hee would not delay to come vnto them.

39 Then Peter arose and came with them: and when he was come they brought him into the upper chamber, where all the widowes stood, by him weeping, and shewing the coates and garments, which Dorcas made while shee was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayd, and turned him to the body, and sayd, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she vp.

41 Then he gaue her the hand, and lifter her vp, and called the Saints and widowes, and restored her alieue.

42 And it was knowne thorowout all Ioppa, and many beleueed in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe that hee taried many dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

3 Cornelius admonished by the Angel, 7 Hee sendeth to Ioppa, 11 The vision that Peter saw, 17 How hee was sent to Cornelius. 42 The Gentiles also receive the Spirit, and are baptized.

Furthermore, there was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captain of the band, called the Italian band.

2 A devout man, & one that feared God, with all his household, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

3 Hee saw in a vision evidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when he looked on him, hee was afraide, and said, What is it Lord? And he sayd vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 Now therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 Hee lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius was departed, hee called two of his servants, and a fouldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him.

8 And told them all things, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morrow as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto hecicie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray about the sixth houre.

10 Then waxed hee hungry, and would haue eaten: but while they made something ready, hee fell into a trance.

11 And hee saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great sheet knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

10 And this was done threetimes, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then heholde, immediately there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cefaraveste me.

12 And the Spirit faid vnto me, that I should go with them, without doubting: moreover, these six brethren came with mee, and wee entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs how he had seene an Angel in his house which stood and said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon whose surname is Peter.

14 Hee shall speake words vnto thee, whereby both thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them: * euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembered the word of the Lord, how hee said, * Iohn baptized with water, but yee shall be baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gaue them, a like gift, as hee also vnto vs, when we beleued in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God [P. 1.8]

18 When they heard these things, they helde their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance vnto life.

19 ¶ And they which were * scattered abroad because of the I affliction that rose about Stephen, walked thorowout till they came vnto Phenice and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus, and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number beleued, and turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Ierusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas, that hee should goe vnto Antiochia.

23 Who when hee was come, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For hee was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, and much people ioyned themselves vnto the Lord.

25 ¶ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe that a whole yeere they were conuersant with the Church, and taught much people, insomuch that the disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

27 In those dayes also came Prophets from Ierusalem vnto Antiochia.

28 And there stood vp one of them named Agabus, and signified by the spirit, that there should be great famine thorowout all the world, which also came to passe vnder Claudius Cefar.

29 Then the disciples euery man according to his abilitie purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

C H A P. XII.

1 Herod persecuteth the Christians. 2 He killeth James. 3 And putteth Peter in prison, whome the Lord deliuereth by an Angel. 13 The horrible death of Herod. 24 The Gospel flourisheth. 25 Barnabas and Saul, returning to Antiochia, take Iohn, Marke with them.

NOW about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the Church.

2 And hee killed James the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 And when he saw that it pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleashed bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, hee put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quarters of souldiers to bee kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

7 ¶ And beholde, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and hee smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy selfe and binde on thy sandals. And so hee did. Then he said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 So Peter came out, and followed him, and knew not that it was true which was done by the Angel, but thought hee had seene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by its owne accord, and they went out, and passed thorow one streete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to himselfe, hee said, Now I know for a truth, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered mee out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the Mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entry doore, a maid came forth to hearken, named Rhode.

14 But when she knew Peters voice, shee opened not the entry doore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and told how Peter stood before the entry.

15 But they said vnto her, Thou art mad. Yet hee affirmed it constantly that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened it, & saw him, they were astonished.

17 And hee beckened vnto them with the hand, to hold their peace, and told them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And hee said, Goe shew these things vnto Iames, and to the brethren: and he departed and went into another place.

18 ¶ Now aspoue as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, hee examined the keepers, and commanded them to bee led to be punished. And hee went downe from Iudea to Cefarea, & there abode.

20 Then Herod intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, and perswaded Blaesus the King Kings chaire, & they desired peace, because their country was nourished by the Kings land.

12 And upon a day appointed, Herod arrayed himselfe in royall apparell, and sat on the iudgement seate, and made an oration vnto them.

13 And the people gaue a shout, saying, The voyce of God, and not of man.

14 But immediatly an Angel of the Lord smote him, because hee gaue not glory vnto God, so that he was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

15 And the word of God grew and multiplied.

16 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Ierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and tooke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

C. H. A. P. XIII.

17 Paul and Barnabas were called to preach among the Gentiles. 17 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elymas the sorcerer. 17 The departure of Marke. 18 Paul preaches at Antiochia. 19 The faith of the Gentiles.

20 The Jews resist. 21 They that regarded him to his blood. 22 The first of faith.

Here were also in the Church that was at Antiochia certaine Prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manabes (which had bene brought vp with Herod the Tetrarch) and Saul.

23 Now as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas & Saul, for the worke wherunto I haue called them.

24 Then fasted they and prayed, and laide their hands on them, and let them goe.

Chap. 14. 25 And they after they were * sent forth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto Seleucia, and from thence they failed to Cyprus.

26 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes; and they had also Iohn to their Minister.

27 So when they had gone thoroughout the yle vnto Paphos, they found a certaine foreracer a false prophet, being a Iew, named Barisus, 28 Which was with the Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. Hee called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the word of God.

29 But Elymas the foreracer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, and sought to turne away the Deputie from the faith.

30 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him, 31 And said, O full of all subtiltie, and all mischief, the childe of the deuill, and enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the straight wayes of the Lord?

32 Now therefore behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt bee blinde, and not see the Sunne for a season. And immediatly there fell on him a mist and a darkenesse, and hee went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

33 Then the Deputie when hee saw what was done, beleaued, and was astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

34 Now when Paul and they that were with him, were departed by shippe from Paphos, they came to Perga a citie of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

35 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia a citie of Pisidia, and went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat downe.

36 And after the Lecture of the Law and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Yee men and brethren, if ye haue any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

37 Then Paul stood vp and backed with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and yee that feare God, hearken.

38 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of * Egypt, & with an high * arme brought them out thereof.

39 And about the time * of fourtie yeeres since, I see hee their manners in the wilderness.

40 And hee destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, & * diuided their land to them by 70. 14. 1 lot.

41 Then afterward hee came vnto them * Iudges Iudg. 3. 9. about foure hundred and fiftie yeeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

42 So after that they desired a * King, and God * gave vnto them * Saul the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin by the space of fourtie yeeres.

43 And after hee had taken him away, hee raised vp * David to be their king, of whom hee witnessed, saying, I haue found David the sonne of Iesse, a man * after mine owne heart, which will doe all things that I will.

44 Of this mans seede, hath God * according to the promise raised vp to Israel the Sauour Iesus: * Ista. 11. 1. 2.

45 When * Iohn had first preached before his coming the Baptisme of repentance to all the people of Israel.

46 And when Iohn had fulfilled his course, hee said, * Whom ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoe of his feet I am not worthy to looke.

47 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and who follow among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

48 For the inhabitants of Ierusalem and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet * words of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

49 And though they found no cause of death in him, * yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

50 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

51 But God * raised him vp from the dead.

52 And hee was seene many dayes of them which came vp with him from Galilee to Ierusalem, which are his witnesses vnto the people.

53 And wee declare vnto you, that touching the promise made vnto the fathers, 54 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that hee raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the second Psalm, * Thou art my Sonne: this day * haue I begotten thee.

55 Now as concerning that hee raised him vp and 5. 3. from the dead, no more to returne to the grane, hee hath said thus, * I will giue you the holy things of David, which are faithfull.

56 Wherefore hee saith also in another place, * Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

57 Howbeit David after hee had serued his time at the counsell of God, hee * slept, and was laid with his fathers, and saw corruption.

58 But hee whom God raised vp, saw no corruption.

59 Be it knowne vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of sinnes.

60 And from all things from which ye could not be justified by the Law of Moyses, by him euery one that beleeueth is justified.

40 Beware therefore lest that come vpon you which is spoken of in the Prophets.

Mat. 23. 41 Behold ye despisers, and wonder, and vanish away: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye shall not beleue, if a man would declare it you.

42 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought that they would preach these words to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Now when the Congregation was dissolved, many of the Iewes and Profelytes that feared God followed Paul and Barnabas, which spake to them, & exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole cite together to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes sawe the people, they were full of enuie, and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul, contrarying them, and railing on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and said, * It was necessary that the word of God should first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing yee put it from you, and iudge your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

47 Forso hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, 1/a. 18. 6. * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst bee the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord, and as many as were ordained vnto eternall life, beleued.

49 Thus the word of the Lord was published thorowout the whole countrey.

50 But the Iewes stirred certaine deuout and honourable women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

Mat. 10. 51 But they * shooke off the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

6. 11. Luke 52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

18. 6. C H A P. XIII.

3 God giueth successe to his word. 6 Paul and Barnabas preach at Iconium and are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they would doe sacrifice to Barnabas and Paul, which refuse it, and exhort the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul stoned. 22 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience, 23 appoint Ministers, 26 and passing thorow many places, make report of their diligence at Antiochia.

And it came to passe in Iconium, that they went aboth together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleued.

1 But the vnbelleueing Iewes stirred vp and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

2 So therefore they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony vnto the word of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

3 But the people of the city were diuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

4 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and of the Iewes; with their rulers to doe them violence, and to stone them;

5 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region round about.

6 And there were preaching the Gospel.

8 ¶ Now there sat a certaine man at Lystra impotent in his feete, which was a creeple from his mothers wombe, who had neuer walked.

9 He heard Paul speake: who beholding him and perceiving that he hath faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loude voice, ¶ Stand vp right on thy feete. And he leaped vp, and walked.

11 Then when the people sawe what Paul had done, they lift vp their voyces, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Iupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Iupiters Priest, which was before their cite, brought bulles with garlands vnto the gates, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying,

15 And saying, O men, why do ye these things? Wee are euery man subiect to the like passions that ye be, and preach vnto you, that yee should turne from these vaine idols vnto the living God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are.

16 Who in times past * suffered all the Gentiles to walke in their owne wayes.

17 Neuertheless, hee left not himselfe without witnesse, in that he did good, and gaue vs raine from heauen, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladnesse.

18 And speaking these things, scarce refrained they the people, that they had not sacrificed vnto them.

19 Then there came certaine Iewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perwaded the people, * stoned Paul, and drew him out of the cite, supposing he had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose vp and came into the cite, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And after they had preached to that city, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antiochia.

22 Confirming the disciples hearts, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that we must thorow many afflictions enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ordained them Elders by election in euery Church, and prayed & fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whom they beleued.

24 Thus they went thorowout Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the worde in Perga, they came downe to Attalia, 26 And thence filled vnto Antiochia, * from whence they had bene commended vnto the grace of God to the worke which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God had done by them, and how hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

after the manner of Moles, ye cannot be hard.
 2 And when there was great disention, & diputation by Paul and Barnabas against them, they obtained that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them should goe vp to Ierusalem, vnto the Appolles and Elders about this question.
 3 Thus being sent forth by the Church, they passed thorow Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conseruacion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.
 4 And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Appolles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.
 5 But and they, certaine of the sect of the Phari-ses which did beleue, rose vp, saying, that it was needfull to circumcise them, and to command them to keepe the Law of Moles.
 6 Then the Appolles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.
 7 And when there had bene great disputation, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, * Yee men and brethren, yee know that a good while agoe, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospell and beleue.
 8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, in giuing vnto them the holy Ghost
 euens as he did vnto vs.
 9 And he put no difference betwene vs & them,
 10 after that by faith he had * purified their hearts.
 11 Now therefore why tempt yee God, to * lay a yoke on the disciples neckes, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?
 12 But we beleue through the grace of the Lord
 Iesus Chr. Ito be saved, euens as they doe.
 13 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.
 14 And when they held their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.
 15 * Simeon hath declared how God first did visit the Gentiles to take of them a people vnto his Name.
 16 And to this agree the words of the Prophetes, as it is written,
 17 * After that I will returne, and will build againe the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will fix it vp.
 18 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, (saith the Lord, which doeth all these things).
 19 From the beginning of the world God knoweth all his workes.
 20 Wherefore my sentence is that wee trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God, 21 But that we write vnto them, that they ab-staine themselves from filtiness: of idoles, and fornication: and that that is strangled, and from blood.
 22 For Moles of olde time hath in every citie them that preach him, (seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day).
 23 Then it seemed good to the Appolles and Elders with the whole Church, to send chosen men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to witte Iudas whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren.
 24 And wrote letters by them after this maner,
 THE APOSTLES AND the Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, sending greeting.

 25 Forasmuch as wee have heard that certaine which departed from vs, have troubled you with wordes, and cumbered your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the Law, to whom wee gave no such commandement.
 26 It seemed therefore good to vs, when we were came together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, 27 Men that haue giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.
 28 We haue therefore sent Iudas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.
 29 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to vs, to lay no more burden vpon you then these neces-sarie things,
 30 That is, that ye abstaine from things offered to idoles, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: from which if yee keepe your selues, ye shall doe well. Fare ye well.
 31 Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, and after that they had assembled the multitude, they delivered the Epistle.
 32 And when they had read it, they reioiced for the consolation.
 33 And Iudas and Silas being Prophets, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthened them.
 34 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Appolles.
 35 Notwithstanding Silas thought good to abide there still.
 36 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antio-chia, teaching and preaching with many other, the word of the Lord.
 37 But after certaine dayes, Paul saide vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne and visi our brethren in euery citie, where we haue preached the word of the Lord, and see how they doe.
 38 And Barnabas counselled to take with them
 John called Marke.
 39 But Paul thought it not meet to take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.
 40 Then were they so flured, that they departed asunder one from the other, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.
 41 And Paul chose Silas & departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.
 42 And he went thorow Syria and Cilicia, sta-blishing the Churches.

which were at Ierusalem.

These Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number daily.

Now when they had gone thorowout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden to preach the word in Asia.

Then came they to Myſia, and sought to goe into Bithynia: but the ſpirits ſuffered them not.

Therefore they paſſed through Myſia, and came downe to Troas.

And there a viſion appeared to Paul in the night. There ſtood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him ſaying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

And after he had ſeene the viſion, immediately we purpoſed to goe into Macedonia, being aſſured that the Lord had called vs to preach the Goſpell vnto them.

Then went we forth from Troas, and with a ſtraight courſe came to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis.

And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in the parts of Macedonia, and whoſe inhabitants came from Rome to dwell there, and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

And on the Sabbath day we went out of the citie, beſides a riuer where they were wont to pray: and we ſate downe, and ſpake vnto the women which were come together.

And a certaine woman named Lydia, a ſeller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worſhipped God, heard vs: whoſe heart the Lord opened, that ſhe attended vnto the things which Paul ſpoke.

And when ſhe was baptized and her houſehold ſhe beſought vs, ſaying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into mine houſe, and abide here: and ſhe conſtrained vs.

And it came to paſſe, that as we went to prayer, a certaine maid hauing a ſpirit of diſſimulation met vs, which gate her maſter much vantage with diuining.

She followed Paul and vs, and cryed, ſaying, Theſe men are the ſeruants of the moſt high God, which ſhew vnto vs the way of ſaluation.

And this did ſhe many dayes: but Paul being grieved, turned about and ſaid to the ſpirit, I command thee in the Name of Ieſus Chriſt, that thou come out of her. And he came out the ſame houre.

Now when her maſters ſawe that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place, vnto the magiſtrates.

And brought them to the gouernours, ſaying, Theſe men which are Iewes trouble our citie,

And preach ordinances which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obſerue, ſeeing wee are Romanes.

The people alſo roſe vp together againſt them, and the gouernours rent their clothes, and commanded them to be beaten with rods.

And when they had beaten them ſore, they caſt them into priſon, commanding the Iayler to keepe them ſurely.

Who hauing receiued ſuch commandements caſt them into the inner priſon, and made their feete faſt in the ſtockes.

Now at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed, and ſung a Pſalme vnto God: and the priſoners heard them.

And ſuddenly there was a great earthquake, ſo that the foundation of the priſon was ſhaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and every ones bands were looſed.

Then the keeper of the priſon waked out of his ſleepe: and when he ſaw the priſon doores open, he drew out his ſword, and would haue killed himſelfe, ſuppoſing the priſoners had bene fledde.

But Paul cryed with a lowde voyce, ſaying, Deth thy ſelfe no harme: for we are all here.

Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas.

And brought them out, and ſaid, Sirs, what muſt I doe to be ſaued?

And they ſayd, Beleeue in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaued, and thine houſehold.

And they preached vnto him the wordes of the Lord, and to all that were in his houſe.

Afterward heooke them the ſame houre of the night, and waſhed their ſtripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him, ſtraightway.

And when hee had brought them into his houſe, he ſet meſt before them, and reioyced that he with all his houſehold beleeued in God.

And when it was day, the gouernours ſent the ſeruant, ſaying, Let thoſe men goe.

Then the keeper of the priſon tolde theſe wordes vnto Paul ſaying, The gouernours haue ſent to looſe you: now therefore get you hence, and goe in peace.

Then ſaid Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, which are Romanes, they haue caſt vs into priſon, and now will they would they put vs out priuily: nay verely: but let them come and bring vs out.

And the ſeruant told theſe wordes vnto the gouernours, who feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

Then came they & prayed them, and brought them out, and deſired them to depart out of the citie.

And they went out of the priſon, and entred into the houſe of Lydia: and when they had ſeene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

Paul cometh to Theſſalonica, 4 Where ſome receiue him, and others perſecute him. 11 To ſearch the Scriptures. 17 He diſputeth at Athens, and ſheweth fruit of his doctrine.

Now as they paſſed thorow Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Theſſalonica, where was a Synagoge of the Iewes.

And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes diſputed with them by the Scriptures.

Opening and alledging that Chriſt muſt haue ſuffered, and riſen againe from the dead: and this is Ieſus Chriſt, whom I preach to you.

And ſome of them beleeued, and ioyned in company with Paul and Silas: alſo of the Grecians that feared God, a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabonds, and wicked fellowes, and when they had aſſembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the citie, and made aſſault againſt the houſe of Iſon, and ſought to bring them out to the people.

But when they found them not, they drew Iſon and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, Theſe are they which haue ſubverted the ſtate of the world, and heere they are,

Which Iustituch received, and these all doe aspire the officers of Cesar, saying, that there is another King, one Iesus.

Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the cite, when they heard these things.

Notwithstanding, when they had received sufficient assurance of Iuston, and of the other, they let them goe.

And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

These were also more noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which received the word with allreadinesse, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

Therefore many of them beleeued, and of sensible women, which were Grecians, and men not few.

But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knew that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, & moued the people.

But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to goe, as was the Sea: but Silas and Timo-theus abode there still.

And when they did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had received a commandement vnto Silas and Timotheus, that they should come to him at once, they departed.

Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the cite filled with idollatry.

Therefore he disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market day with whomsoever he met.

Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicurea and of the Stoicks, disputed with him, and some said, What will this babler say? others said, Hee seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods, (because hee preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection)

And they tooke him, and brought him into Mars streete. Gying, May wee not know what this new doctrine whereof thou speakest is?

For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: we would know therefore what these things meane.

For all the Athenians, and strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselves to nothing else, but eicher to tell or to heare some newes.

Then Paul stood in the mids of Mars streete, and said, Yee men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

For as I passed by, and beheld your deuotions, I found an altar wherein was written, VNTO
THE VNKNOVEN GOD. Whom yee
then ignorantly worship, him shew I vnto you.

God that made the world and all things that are therein, seeing that hee is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

Neither is worshipped with mens hauds, as though hee needed any thing, seeing hee giueth to all life, and breath, and all things,

And hath made of one blood all mankind:
to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath asigned the times which were ordained before, and the bounds of their habitation.

That they should seeke the Lord, if so be they might haue groped after him, & found him, though doubtlesse he be not farre from euery one of vs.

For in him we liue and mooue, and haue our being, as also certaine of your owne Poets haue said, For we are also his generation.

Forasmuch then as we are the generation of God, wee ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold or silver, or steepe, graued by Art, and the Invention of man.

And the time of this ignorance God repended not: but now hee admoonesth all men that they where to repent.

Because he hath appointed a day, in the which hee will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man, whom he hath appointed, whom he hath gi-uen an assurance to all men, in that hee hath raised him from the dead.

Nowe when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other said, Wee will heare thee againe of this thing.

And so Paul departed from among them.

Howbeit certaine men claued vnto Paul, and beleeued: among whom was also Denys, an Arcepita, and a woman named Damaris, and other men
them.

CHAP. XVII.

Paul laboureth with his bonds, and preacheth at Corinthus. He is despised of the Iewes. He receiued of many, 9 and comforted of the Lord. 14 Gallio refuset to meddle with Religion. 18 Pauls weene, as his faith in the providence of God, and care for the brethren. 24 The praife of Apollus.

After these things Paul departed from Athens,
and came to Corinth.

And found a certaine Iewe named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italy, & his wife Priscilla, because that Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome, and hee came vnto them.

And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought for their craft, as he made tents.

And hee disputed in the Synagogue every Sabbath day, and exhorted the Iewes and the Gre-cians.

Now when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul burned in spirit, testifying to the Iewes, that Iesus was the Christ.

And when they resisted, and blasphemed, hee hook his raiment, & said vnto them, Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

So he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

And Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued in the Lord with all his house hold, and many of the Corinthians hearing of it, were baptized.

Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, & hold fast thy peace.

For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this cite.

So he continued there a yeece and sixe mo-neths, and taught the word of God among them.

Now when Gallio was deputy of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the Iudgement seat.

Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deed, O ye Iewes, I would according to reason maintaine you.

But if it be a question of wordes, & names,

16. And he draue them from the iudgement seat.
17. Then tooke alle the Grecians Softenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the iudgement seate: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 But when Paul had tarried there yet a good while, he took leave of the brethren, and sailed into Syria (and with him Pappus and Aquila) after that he had shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 Then he came to Ephesus, & left them there: but he entered into the Synagogue, and disputed with the Jews.

20 Who desired him to tarry a longer time with them : but he would not consent.

31 But hee theſe ſayes well ſaying, I muſt needs keepe this feaſt that cometh in Ieruſalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, * if God will. So hee failed from Ephesus.

23 ¶ And when he came downe to Cefarea, hee went up to Ierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when he had taried there a while, he departed, & went thorow the countrey of Galatia, & Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Jew named ^a Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures.

25. The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, and he spake fervently in the spirit, & taught diligently the things of the Lord, and knew but the baptisms of John only.

26 And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whome when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was minded to go vnto Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after he was come thither, he holpe them much which had beleued through grace.

29 For mightily he confuted publikey the Iewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

fessors and the fruit that came thereof. 24 Demetrius

AND he came to passe while Apollo's was at Corinthus; that Paul when he passed thorow the upper coasts, came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples.

2 And said vnto them, Haue yee receiued the holy Ghost since ye beleued? And they said vnto him, We haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 And he said vnto them, Vnto what were yee then baptized? And they said, Vnto Iohns baptysme.

4 Then sayd Paul, * Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people that they should beleene in him which should come after him, that is in Christ Iesus.

5 So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus.

8 And Paul layd his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the word of the Lord, and wrought strange and wonderfull signes and prodiges.

7 And all the men were about two hundred.

Moreover, he went into the Synagogue, and spoke boldly for the space of three months, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9. But when certain were hardened, and dis-
 10. cussed, speaking evil of the way of God before the
 11. multitude, he departed from them, and separated
 12. the disciples, and disputed daily in the schools of
 13. the Pharisees.

10. And this was done by the space of two yeres, that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word
the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Grecians.

17. And God wrought no small miracle, by the hands of Paul.

12. So that from his bodie were brought waite a sicke kerchiefs or handkerchiefs, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13. Then certaine of the vagabond Jewes, exalts, tooke in hand to name ouer them that had con-

15 And the euill spirit answered and said, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, ran them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked, and wounded.

7 And this was known to all the Iewes and ecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare ne on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus is magnified.

8 And many that beleueed, came and confessed, and shewed their works.

to. Many also of them which were curious artefacts, bought their bookes, and burned them before all eyes, and they counted the price of them, and found fifty thousand pieces of silver.

So the word of God grew mightily, and prelled

Now when these things were accomplished, he purposed by the Spirit to passe thorough Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Ierusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia, two of them that ministered vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but hee remained in Asia for a season.

3 And the same time there arose no small trouabout that way.

a. For a certaine man named Demetrius, a sil-smith, which made silver temples of Diana, ought great gaires vnto the craftsmen:

Whom he called together with the workers of like things, and said, Sirs, yee know that by craft we haue our goods.

Moreover ye see and heare, that not alone at Iherusalem, but almost thorowout all Asia this Paul perswaded and turned away much people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with hands:

7. So that not only this thing is dangerous vns that the state should be reprooued, but also the temple of the great goddesse Diana should nothing esteemed, and that it would come to e that her magnificence, which all Asia and the eld worshipping should be destroyed.

8 Now when they heard it, they were full of th, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the effians.

39 And the whole cite was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one accord, and caught * Gaius, and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companions of his journey.

40 And when Paul would have entered in vnto the people, the disciples insisted him not.

41 Certaine also of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not presert himselfe in the common place.

42 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was out of order, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

43 And some of the company drew forth Alexander, the Jewes thraking him forwards. Alexander then beckoned with the hand, and would haue excused the matter to the people.

44 But when they knew that he was a Jew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

45 Then the Towne Clerke, when he had stayed the people, sayd, Yee men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the cite of the Ephesians is worshipp of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image which came downe from Iupiter?

46 Seeing then that no man can speake against those things, yee ought to be appeased, and to doe nothing rashly.

47 For ye haue brought hither these men which haue neither committed sacrilege, neither do blaspheme your goddesse.

48 Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen which are with him haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies. let them accuse one another.

49 But if yee enquire any thing concerning other matters, it may be determined in a lawfull assembly.

50 For we are euen in jeopardy to be accused of this dayes sedition, soasmuch as there is no cause whereby wee may giue a reason of this concourse of people.

51 And when he had thus spoken, hee let the assembly depart.

C H A P. XX.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and into Grecia. 7 Hee celebrateth the Lords Supper, & preacheth. 9 At Troas he raiseth up Euychus. 17 At Ephesus he calleth the Elders of the Church together, committeth the keeping of Gods flocke vnto them, warneth them of false teachers, maketh his prayer with them, and departs by ship toward Ierusalem.

NOW after the tumult was ceased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and imbraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone thorow those parts, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Grecia.

3 And hauing tarried there three monthes, because the Iewes laid wait for him, as hee was about to saile into Syria, hee purposed to returne thorowe Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothyus, and of them of Asia Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and tarried vs at Troas.

6 And we sailed forth from Philippi, after the dayes of vnloauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in five dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And the first day of the week, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued the preaching vntill midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certaine young man, named Euychus, fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, hee ouercome with sleepe, fel downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, & laid himselfe vpon him, and imbraced him, saying, Trouble not your selfes: for his life is in him.

11 So when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, & eaten, hee commended a long while till the dawning of the day, and so he departed.

12 And they brought the boy aliue, and they were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ Then wee went forth to ship, and sailed vnto the cite Alos, that we might receiue Paul there for so he had appointed, and would himselfe goe a foot.

14 Now when he was come vnto vnto Alos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mylenes.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day wee arriued at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllum: the next day we came to Miletum, 16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for hee hasted to be, if hee could possibly, at Ierusalem at the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ Wherefore from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 Who when they were come to him, hee said vnto them, Yee know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I haue bene with you at all seasons, 19 Seruing the Lord with all modesty, and with many teares and temptation, which came vnto me by the layings awaite of the Iewes.

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, and taught you openly, and throughout entrie house, 21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, & to the Grecians the repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I go bound in the spirit vnto Ierusalem, and know not what things shall come vnto me there,

23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery cite, saying, that bandes and afflictions shalide mee.]

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfild my course with joy, and the ministratiō which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that henceforth ye all, thorow whom I haue gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing back, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heed therefore vnto your selves, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you ouerscers to feed the Church of God, which he hath purchased with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall griuous

prisoners wolues enter in among you, nor sparing the flocks.

10 Moreouer, of your owne felnes shall men aske speaking peruerse things, to draw disciples after them.

11 Therefore watch and remember that by the space of threeyeres, I ceased not to warne euery one both night and day with teares.

12 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

13 I haue courted no mans siluer, nor golde, nor apparell.

14 Yea, yee knowe that these handes haue ministered vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

15 I haue shewed you all things, how that labouring, yee ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Iesus, how that hee said, It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receive.

16 And when hee had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

17 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him.

18 Being chiefly sorry for the wordes which hee spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

CHAP. XXI.

5 The common prayers of the faithful. 9 Philips four daughters Prophets. 13 Pauls constancy to leave the crosse, as Agabus and others foresaw, although hee was otherwise counselled by the brethren. 28 The great danger that bet wain, and how hee escaped.

AND as wee laughed forth, and were departed from them, wee came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

1 And wee found a shippe that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboard, and set forth.

2 And when wee had discovered Cyprus, wee left it on the left hand, and sailed toward Syria, and arrived at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

3 And when we had found disciples, wee taried there seuen dayes. And they told Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go vp to Ierusalem.

4 But when the daies were ended, we departed and went our way, & they all accompanied vs with their wives and children euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

5 Then when we had embraced one another, we tooke ship, and they remained home.

6 And when we had ended the course from Tyrus, we arrived at Ptolemis, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

7 And the next day Paul, and they that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen Diacons, and abode with him.

8 Now hee had foure daughters virgins, which did prophesie.

9 And as wee taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

10 And when hee was come vnto vs, hee tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feete, and saide, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Ierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

11 And when we had heard these things, both we and other of the same place besought him that he would not goe vp to Ierusalem.

12 Then Paul answered and said, What doe yee weeping and breacking mine heart? for I am ready, not to be bound twely, but also to die at Ierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

13 So when he would not be perswade, I was cessed, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

14 And after those dayes wee trusted vp our baggage, and went vp to Ierusalem.

15 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, & brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

16 And when wee were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

17 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

18 And when he had embraced them, he told by order all things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

19 So when they heard it they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou test, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleene, and they are all zealous of the Law.

20 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and sayest that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to lye after the customes.

21 What is then to be done? the multitude must needs come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

22 Do therefore this that we say to thee. We haue four men which haue made a vow:

23 Them take and purifie thy selfe with them, and contribute with them, that they may haue their heads: and all shall knowe that those things whereof they haue bene informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepst the Law.

24 For as touching the Gentiles which beleene wee haue written and determined, that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from that that is strangled, and from fornication.

25 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entered into the Temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for enery one of them.

26 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they sawe him in the Temple) moued all the people, and laide hands on him,

27 Crying, Men of Israel helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law and this place: moreover, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

28 For they had seene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the citie, whome they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

29 Then all the citie was moued, and the people rannetogether: and they tooke Paul and drew him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were shut.

30 But as they went about to kill him, tidings came came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Ierusalem was on an uproare.

32 Who immediately took souldiers and Centurions, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe Captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere, and tooke him, and commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cried this, another that, among the people. So when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to bee led into the castle.

35 And when he came vnto the grices, it was so, that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene led into the castle, hee sayd vnto the chiefe Captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who sayde, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 As that thou the Egyptian, who before these daies raised a sedition, and led out into the wilderness foure thousand men that were murderers?

39 Then Paul said, Doubtlesse I am a man which am a Iewe, and citizeen of Tarsus, a famous citie in Cilicia, and I beseech thee suffer mee to speake vnto the people.

40 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the grices, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAP. XXII.

3 Paul vndersteth an account of his life and doctrine. 21 He escapeth the whip, by reason he was a citizeen of Rome.

Y^E men, brethren, and fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 (And when they heard that hee spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said)

3 I am verely a man, which am a Iewe, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this city at the foote of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 *And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding, and deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priest dooth beare me witnesse, and all the state of the Elders: * of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound vnto Ierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as I journeyed and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voice saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he sayd vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazaret, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreover they that were with me, saw indeed a light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voice of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I said, What shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord sayd vnto mee, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall be told thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a godly man, as pertaining to the Lawe, hauing good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there,

13 Came vnto me, and stood, and said vnto mee Brother Saul, receiue thy sight: & what time heere I looked vpon him,

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee that thou shouldst know his will, and shouldst see that just one, and shouldst heare the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men of the things, which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tariest thou? Arise and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance, 18 And saw him saying vnto me, Make haste and get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receive thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I sayd, Lord, they knowe that I * persecuted, and beat in ouery Synagogue them that beloeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy Martyr Stephen was shed, I also * stood by and consented vnto his death, and kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he sayd vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ And they heard him vnto this word: for then they lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not meet that hee should liue.

23 And as they cried and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire,

24 The chiefe captaine commaunded him to be led into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged and examined, that hee might know wherefore they cried so on him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul sayd vnto the Centurion that stood by, It is lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, hee went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe Captaine came, and saide to him, Tell me, Art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe Captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this? Burgeffship. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid after he knew that he was a Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 On the next day, because hee would haue known the certaintie, wherefore hee was accused of the Iewes, hee loosed him from his bonds, and commaunded the high Priests and all their Councill to come together: and he brought Paul, and set him before them.

conscience stured God vntil this day.

2 Then the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul to him, God will smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and commandest thou mee to be smitten contrary to the Law?

4 And they that stood by, saide, Reuilest thou God high Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I knew not, brethren, that hee was the high Priest: for it is written, *Thou shalt not speake euill of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were of the Sadduces, & the other of the Pharises, he cried in the Council, Men and brethren, * I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And when he had said this, there was a dissension between the Pharises and the Sadduces, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 * For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor Spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 Then there was a great cry: and the Scribes of the Pharises parted off, and stroue, saying, We finde no euill in this man: but if a Spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great dissension, the chiefe captaine fearing lest Paul should have bene pulled in peeces of them, commanded the souldiers to go down, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 ¶ Now the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Bee of good courage Paul: for as thou hast testified of mee in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assembly, & bound themselves with an oath, saying, That they would neither eate, nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourty, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a solemne oath, that we will eat nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the Council signifie to the chiefe captaine, that he bring him forth vnto you to morrow, as though yee would know some thing more perfectly of him, and we, or euer he come neer, will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying aual, he went and entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, and said, Bring this young man vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath certaine thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe Captaine, and saide, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed mee to bring this young man vnto thee, which hath some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shew me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morrow into the Council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in wait for him of them, more then forty men, which haue bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eate, nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now they are ready, and wait for thy promise.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the young man depart and charged him to speake it to no man, that he had shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certain Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers that they may goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night.

24 And let them make ready an horse, that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the gouernour.

25 And he wrote an Epistle in this manner: 26 Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble Gouernour Felix, sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued him, perceiving that he was a Roman.

28 And when I would haue knowne the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Council.

29 There I perceived that he was accused of questions of their law, but had no crime worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed mee, how that the Iewes laid wait for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Farwell.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Now when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the gouernour had read it, he asked of what province he was: and when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, and commanded him to bee kept in Herods iudgement hall.

C H A P. XXIIII.

10 Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine against his accusers. 25 Felix propeth him, thinking to haue a bribe, 28 And after leaueth him in prison.

NOW after five dayes, Ananias the high Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine Oratour, which appeared before the Gouernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnesse through thee, and that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy providence,

3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest heare vs of thy countreis a fewe words.

5 Certainly we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, & a mouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the worlde, and a chiefe maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple, therefore wee tooke him, and would haue iudged

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee:
of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt enquire) knowe
all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying, that it was so.

10 Then Paul after that the Gouernour had become vnto him that he should speake, answered, I doe the more gladly answer for my selfe, forasmuch as I knowe that thou hast bene of many yeeres a 11 Seeing that thou mayest know, that there are but twelue dayes since I came vp to worship in Je-

12 And they neither found mee in the Temple contending with any man, neither making vproare

13 Neither can they proue the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way, which they call heresie, so worship I the God of my Fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towards God, that therefur-rection of the dead, which they themselves looke for also, shall be both of iust and vniust.

16 And herein I tender vnto my selfe to haue almen.

dead am I accused of you this day.

23 Now when Felix heard these things, hee deferred them, and said, When I shall more perfectly knowe the things which concerne this way, by the comming of Tyllas the chiefe captaine, I will decide your matter.

24 Then he commaunded a Centurion to keepe Paul, and that he should haue ease, & that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 ¶ And after certaine dayes came Felix with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, and he called foorth Paul, and heard him of the faith in Christ.

26 And as he disputed of righteousness & temperance, and of the iudgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Goethy way for this time, and when I haue convenient time, I will call for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue been giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore hee sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

28 When two yeeres were expired, Porcius Fellus came into Felix house: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bound.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 Hee an-swereth for himselfe. 11 And appealeth vnto the Emperour. 24 His matter is rehearsed before Agrippa. 25 And he is brought forth.

W Hen Festus was then come into the province, after three dayes he went vp from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then the High Priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would send for him to Ierusalem: and they said waite to kill him by the way.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that hee himselfe would shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be any wickednes in the man, let them accuse him.

6 ¶ Now when hee had tarried among them no more then ten dayes, he went down to Cesarea, and the next day sat in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when hee was come, the Iewes which were come from Ierusalem stood about him, and laid many and grieuous complaints against Paul,
which they could not proue,

8 Forasmuch as he answered, that he had neither offended any thing against the Lawe of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

9 Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou goe vp to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cessars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged: to Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I haue done wrong, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

12 Then when Festus had spoken with the Councill, hee answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar?
vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 ¶ And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had remained there many dayes, Festus proposed Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix.

15 Of whom when I came to Ierusalem, the hie Priests and Elders of the Iewes enforced mee, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romanes for fauour to deliuer any man to death, before that hee which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend himselfe concerning the crime.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I sat on the iudge-ment seate, and commanded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood vp,
they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him, of their owne superstition, and of one Ietus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of question I asked him whether he would goe to Ieru-salem and there be iudged of these things.

21 But because hee appealed to be referred to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, said hee, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the Common hall, with the chiefe Captaines, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, yee see this man about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon mee both at Ierusalem and here, crying, that he ought not to lye any longer.

25 Yet haue I found nothing worthy of death, that hee hath committed: neither the selfe, seeing that hee hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth vnto you, and specially vnto thee King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For mee, thinke it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, and not to shew the causes which are layd against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The innocencie of Paul is approued by releasing his condemnation. 25 His modest answere against the iudges of Festus.

Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happy, King Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee, of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes.

3 Chiefly because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are amongst the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare mee patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childhood, and what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which know mee heretofore (if they would testifie) that after the most strait sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.

6 And now I stand & am accused for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Whereunto our twelve tribes instantly serving God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verily thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Ierusalem: *for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authority of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue my sentence.

11 And I punished them thorowout all the Synagogues, and compelled them to blaspheme, and being more mad against them, I persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to *Damascus, with authority, and commission from the high Priests, 13 At midday. O King, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnesse of the Sunne, shine round about mee, and them which went with mee.

14 So when wee were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto me, & saying in the Hebrew tongue, *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? Chap. 9.4.

It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks. 15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feet: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witnesse, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee.

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee.

18 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiveness of finnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heavenly vision.

20 * But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, Chap. 9.11. and at Ierusalem, and throughout all the coastes of Iudea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe works worthy of amendment of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught mee in the Temple, and went about to kill me. Chap. 11.30.

22 Neuertheless, I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets, and Moses did say should come.

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, and that hee should bee the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art besides thy selfe: much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of truth and sobernesse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that none of these things are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 O King Agrippa, beleeneest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleeneest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul said, I would to God, that not onely thou but also all that heare me to day, were both almost and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when hee had thus spoken, the King rose vp, and the gouernour, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betwene themselves, saying, This man doth nothing worthy of death, nor of bonds.

32 Then saide Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue been loosed, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Pauls dangerous voyage and his company toward Rome. 44 How and where they arise.

Now when it was concluded, that wee should saile into Italy, they deliuered both Paul and certaine others, prisoners vnto a Centurion named Iulius, of the band of Augustus.

2 And * we entred into a ship of Adramyttium, 2. Cor. 13.1. purposing to saile by the coastes of Asia, and lanchd forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, with vs.

And the next day we arrived at Sydon, and Julius compassionately entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go, unto his friends that they might refresh him.

And from thence we lanchd, and sailed hard by Cyrras, because the winds were contrary.

The saild we were the sea by, Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a citie in Lycia.

And there the Centurion found a ship of Alexandria, sailing into Italy, and put vs therein.

7 And when we had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the for, Cyrras winde suffered vs not, wee sailed hard by Candy, neere vnto Salmone.

8 And with much ado sayled beyond it, and came vnto a certaine place called the faire hauens, neere vnto the which was the citie Laſea.

9 So when much time was spent, and sailing was now leopardous, because also the fait was now past, Paul exhorted them.

10 And said vnto them, Sirs, I see that this voiage will be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 Nevertheless the Centurion beleened rather the gouernor and the master of the ship, then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to depart thence, if by any means they might attaine vnto Phenice, there to winter which is an haven of Candy, and lieth toward the Southweſt and by West, & Northweſt and by West.

13 And when the Southerne winde blew softly, they supposing to obtaine their purpose, loosed neerer and sayled by Candy.

14 But anon after, there arose by it a stormie winde called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the winde, wee let her goe, and were caried away.

16 And wee ran vnder a litle yle, named Clauda, and had much ado to get the boat.

17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed all helpe, vndergirding the ship, fearing lest they should haue fallen into Syrras, and they let downe the vessel, and so were caried.

18 The next day when wee were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the ship.

19 And the third day we cast out with our owne hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither Sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, yee should haue hearkned to me, and haue not loosed from Candy, so should ye haue gained this hurt and losse.

22 But now I exhort you to be of good courage: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, ſaue of the ship onely.

23 For there stood by mee this night the Angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul: for thou must bee brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath giuen vnto thee all that faile with thee.

25 Wherefore Sirs, bee of good courage: for I beleue God, that it shall bee so as it hath bene told me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certaine Island.

27 And when the thirtieth night was come, as we were caried to and fro in the Adriaticall Sea, about midnight the shipmen deemed that some countrey approached vnto them.

28 And founde, and found it twentie fathoms, and when they had gone a litle further, they founde againe, and found fiftene fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should haue fallen into some rough places, they cast foure anchors out of the stern, and wished that the day were come.

30 Now as the Mariners were about to flee out of the ship, and had let downe the boat into the sea vnder a colour, as though they would haue cast akers out of the fore ship, 31 Paul said vnto the Centurion & the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saued.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

33 And when it began to be day, Paul exhorted them all to take meat, saying, This is the fourteenth day that yee haue taried and continued sailing, seeing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhort you to take meate: for this is for your safeguard: for there shall not an haire fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke breake, and gaue thanks to God in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then they were all of good courage, and they also tooke meate.

37 Now we were in the ship in all, two hundred threecore and sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the Sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the countrey, but they spied a certaine creeke with a bank, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust in the ship.

40 So when they had taken vp the anchors, they committed the shippe vnto the Sea, and loosed the rudder bonds, and hoisted vp the maine saile to the wind, and drew to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place where two Seas met, they thrust in the ship: and the forepart sticke fast, and could not be moued, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 Then the soldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swonne, yet should flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul, staied them from this counsell, and commanded that they that could swim, should cast themselves first into the sea, and goe out to land.

44 And the other, some on boards, and some on certaine pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to land.

C H A P. XXVIII.

1 Paul with his company are cruelly entreated of the barbarous people. 5 The vpper hutch lieth in it. 8 He healeth Publius father and others, and being furnished by them of things necessarie, he saued toward Rome, 15 where being received of the brethren, he declares his businesse. 30 and there preacheth two yerres.

And when they were come safe, then they knew that

And the Barbarians shewed vs no little kinde- nesse: for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs every one, because of the present showre, and because of the cold.

And when Paul had gathered a number of sickes, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the bear, and leapt on his hand.

4 Now when the Barbarians saw the wor-me hang on his hand, they said among themselves, This man surely is a murderer, whom though hee hath escaped the sea, yet Vengeance hath not suffered to live.

5 But he shooke off the worne into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when hee should have swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no inconuenience come to him, they changed their minds and said, That he was a God.

7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the yle (whose name was Publius) had possessions: the same receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes continually.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sick of the feuer, and of a bloody fluxe: to whom Paul entred in, and when he prayed, hee laide his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the yle, which had diseases, came to him and were healed.

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when we departed, they laden vs with things necessarie.

11 ¶ Now after three monthes wee departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the yle, whose badge was Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we arrived at Syracuse, wee taryed aboue three dayes.

13 And from thence we fee a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the South winde blew, and we came the second day to Puteoli.

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven dayes, and so wee went toward Rome.

15 ¶ And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meet vs at the market of Appins, and at the three Taverners, whome when Paul saw,
he thanked God, and waxed bold.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion delivered the prisoners to the generall captaine: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together: and when they were come, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or Lawes or the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ieru-salem, into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined mee, would haue let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you, to see you, and to speake with you: for the hope of Israels sake I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they said vnto him, Wee neither recei-ued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any guilt of thee.

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkest for as concerning this sect, wee know that eury where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, and preached vnto them concerning Iesus, both out of the Law of Moyses and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded with the things which were spoken, and some beleecud not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themselves, they departed after that Paul had spoken one word, as was, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esayas
the Prophet vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, ¶ Goe vnto this people, and say, By 7/a. 69.
hearing ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and seeing yee shall see, and not perceiue. mat. 13.

heale them. rom. 11. 1

28 But it is knowne therefore vnto you, that this Saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had said these things, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul remained two yeres full in an house hired for himselfe, and receined all that came in vnto
him,

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, & teaching those things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all boldnesse of speech, without let.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAUL to the Romanes.

THE ARGVMENT.

The great mercie of God is declared toward man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousness is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption could not fulfill the Law, yea, committed most abo-minably, both against the Law of God and nature, the infinite bonitie of God, mindful of his promise made to Abraham, the father of all beleeuers, ordered that mans saluation should onely stand in the perfect obediencie of his Sonne Iesus Christ: so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles should be saved by faith in him: euen as Abraham before hee was circumcised was counted iust onely through faith, and yet afterward receiued Circumcision as a seale or badge of the same righteousness by faith.
And to the intent that none should thinke that the Couenant which God made to him & his posterity was not performed, either because the Iewes receiued not Christ, which was the blessed seed of his beloued son that he was the true Red eorne, because he did not onely, or at least more notably by us in the Iewes, the examples of Ismael and Elau declare that all are not Abrahams posterity which come of Abraham according to the flesh:
but also the very strangers and Gentiles grafted in by faith, are made heires of the promise: the cause whereof

whereof is the only will of God, forasmuch as of his free mercie hee electeth some to be saved, & of his iust iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testimony of the Scriptures. For to the intent that the Jewes should not be too much braven against the Gentiles too much puffed up by the example of Abraham, which hee God hath yet his clefF euen of the naturall posteritie of Abraham, though it appereth not so to many eyes: and for that purpose that the Gentiles haue, it procedeth of the liberall mercie of God, which hee at length will stretch toward the Jewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is the Church) of them both. This graunt worke of faith and doctrine layed, instructions of Christian manners follow, teaching euery man to walke in righteousness of conscience in his uocation, with all patience and lowliness, resurmring and obeying the Magistrate, exercising charitie, putting off the old man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weakes, & louing one another, according to Christs example. Finally, S. Paul after his commendations to the bretheren, exhorteth them to unite, and to flee false teachers and flatterers, and so concludeth. the prayer.

17 For by it the righteousnesse of God is reueiled from faith to faith: as it is written, * The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against all vngodlinesse and vniuersities of men, which withhold the truth in vniuersity of conscience.

19 Forasmuch as that which may bee knowne of God, is manifest in them: for God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For the inuisible things of him, that is, his eternall power and Godhead are seene by the creation of the world, being considered in his workes, to the intent that they should be without excuse:

21 * Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was full of darknesse.

22 When they professed themselves to be wise, they became fooles.

23 For they turned the glory of the incorruptible God to the similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of birds, and foure footed beasts, and of creeping things.

24 Wherefore also God gaue them vp to their hearts lusts, vnto vncleannesse, to defile their owne bodies betweene themselves.

25 Which turned the truth of God vnto a lie, and worshipped and serued the creature, forsaking the Creator, which is blessed for euer, Amen.

26 For this cause God gaue them vp vnto vile affections: for euen the women did change the naturall viciet into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men left the naturall use of the woman, and burned in their lust one toward another, and man with man wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselves such recompense of their error, as was meete.

28 For as they regarded not to know God, so God deliued them vp vnto a reprobate minde, to do those things which are not convenient.

29 Being full of all vniuersity of sinnes, of wickednesse, conuentionnelle, maliciousnesse, full of enuie, of murder, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in euill part, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, doers of wrong, proude, boasters, inuenters of euill things, disobedient to parents, without vnderstanding, couenaunt breakers, without naturall affection, such as can neuer be appeased, mercilesse.

31 Which men, though they knew the Law of God, how that they which commit such things are worthy of death: yet not onely doe the same, but also fauour them that doe them.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth the hypocrites with Gods iudgements, and conuinceth the faithfull. 12 To what purpose all vniuersity of sinnes, of wickednesse, of debate, of deceit, taking all things in euill part, whisperers, 13 The Jewes by their conscience, 17 the Iewes by the Law written.

Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, who art iudged: for in that thou art iudged another, thou condemnest thy selfe: for thou art iudged by the same things.

But wee know that the iudgement of God is 4. 5.

according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinke thou this, O thou man, that suggest them which do such things, & doest the same, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Or despisest thou the riches of his bountifullnesse, and *patience and long sufferance, not knowing that the bountifullnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou after thine hardnesse, and heart that James 5, cannot repent, *heapest vnto thy selfe wrath against the day of wrath, and of the declaration of the iust iudgement of God,

Psal. 62. 6 * Who will reward every man according to his works:

16. 27. 7 That is, to them which by continuance in well doing seeke glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:

8 But vnto them that are contentions, and disobey the truth, and obey vnrighteousnesse, shall be indignation and wrath:

9 Tribulation and anguish shall be vpon the soule of every man that doeth euill, of the Jew first, and also of the Grecian.

10 But to every man that doth good, shall be glory, and honour, and peace, to the Jew first, and also to the Grecian, Deut. 10. 11 * For there is no respect of persons with God: 27. 2. ebr. 12 For as many as haue sinned without the Law, shall perish also without the Law: and as many as haue sinned in the Lawe, shall be iudged by the Lawe.

34. 13 (* For the hearers of the Law are not righteous before God: but the doers of the Law shall be iustified.

22. 14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the Law, doe by nature the things comen in the Law, they haue not the Lawe, are a Lawe vnto themselves.

15 Which shew the effect of the Law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witnesse, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing)

16 At the day, when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ according to my Gospel.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and reuelst in the Law, and *gloriest in God,

18 And knowest his will, & allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Law:

19 And perswadest thy selfe that thou art a guide to the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20 An instructor of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge and of the truth in the Law,

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? thou that preachest, A man should not feare, doest thou feare?

22 Thou that sayest, A man should not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacrifice?

23 Thou that gloriest in the Law, through breaking the Law, dishonourest thou God?

24 For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, *as it is written.

15. 2. 25 For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Law: but if thou bee a transgressor of the Law, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therefore if the vncircumcision keepe the ordinance of the Law, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it keepe the Law) iudge thee, which by the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the Law?

28 For hee is not a Jew which is one outward: neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:

29 But hee is a Jew which is one within, and the circumcision is of the heart, in the Spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. XII.

3 Having granted some prerogative to the Jewes, because of Gods free and stable promise, to bee promysed by the Scriptures both Jewes and Gentiles to bee sinners, 21. 24. and to be iustified by grace, through faith, and not by works, 31. and so the Law to bee established.

What is then the preferment of the Jew? or what is the profit of Circumcision?

2 Much every manner of way: for chiefly, because vnto them were committed the Oracles of God,

3 For what though some did not beleue? shall their vnbeliefe make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, and *every man a liar, as it is written, *That thou mightest be iustified in thy words, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 Now if our vnrighteousnesse commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? is God vnrighteous, which punisheth? (I speake as man)

6 God forbid: else how shall God iudge the world?

7 For if the veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

8 And (as we are blamed, and as some asserme that wee say) why doe we not euill that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise. for we haue already proved, that all, both Jewes and Gentiles, are *vnder sinne,

10 As it is written, *There is none righteous, no one

11 There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

12 They all are gone out of the way, they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doth good, no one.

13 * Their throate is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their tongues to deceipt: * the poyson of Aspes vnder their lips.

14 * Whose mouth is full of cursing, & bitterness

15 * Their feet are swift to shed blood,

16 Destruction and calamitie are in their wayes.

17 And the way of peace they haue not knowne.

18 * The feare of God is not before their eyes.

19 Now we know that whatsoever the Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world bee culpable before God.

20 * Therefore by the workes of the Law shall no flesh be iustified in his sight, for by the Law cometh the knowledge of sinne.

21 But now is the *righteousnesse of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witnesse of the Law and of the Prophets, 22 To wit, the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleene.

23 For there is no difference: for all haue sinned and are deuiant of the glory of God,

24 And are iustified freely by his grace, through

Abraham justified by faith.

Chapter 17.

the redemption that is in Christ Jesus.

25 Whom God hath refoorth so be a reconciliation through faith in his blood, to declare his righte-ousnesse, by the forgiveness of the finnes that are passed, shewing the patience of God.

26 To shew at this time his righteousness, that he might be just, and a justifier of him, which is of the faith of Jesus.

27 Where is then the rejoycing? it is excluded:
by what Law? of workes? Nay: but by the Lawe of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is justified by faith without the workes of the Law.

29 God, he is the God of the Jewes only, and not of the Gentiles also? Yes, even of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God who shall iustifie circumcision of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

31 Doe wee then make the Lawe of none effect through faith? God forbid: yea, wee establish the Law.

CHAP. IIII.

17 He declareth that iustification is a free gift granted by them themselves, of whom the Jewes most boasteth as of Abraham and of David, 15 and also by the Office of the Law and faith.

What shall wee say then, that Abraham our father hath found concerning the faith?

3 For if Abraham were justified by workes, hee hath wherein to reioyce, but not with God.

3 For what faith the Scripture? * Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for righte-ousnesse.

4 Now to him that worketh, the wages is not counted by favour, but by debt:

5 But to him that worketh not, but beleeveth in him that iustificeth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David declareth the blessednesse of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without workes, saying,

7 * Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose finnes are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord im-puteth not sinne.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision only, or vpon the vncircumcision also? for wee say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 How was it then imputed? when hee was circumcised, or vncircumcised: not when hee was circumcised, but when hee was vncircumcised.

11 * After hee received the signe of circumcision, as the scale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when hee was vncircumcised, that hee should be the father of all them that beleevue, not being circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also.

12 And the father of circumcision, not vnto them only which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steps of the faith of our father Abraham, which hee had when hee was vncircumcised.

13 For the promise that hee should be the heire of the world, was not given to Abraham, or to his seed through the Law, but through the righteous-nesse of faith.

14 For if they which are of the Law be heires, faith is made voyde, & the promise is made of none effect.

15 For the Law causeth wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression,

16 Therefore is it by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the Law, but also so that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all.

17 (As it is written, * I have made thee a father of many nations) even before God whom hee beleved, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

18 Which Abraham about hope, beleevued vander hope, that he should be the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken so long,
* So shall thy seed be.

19 And hee not weake in the faith, considered not his owne body, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yeere old, neither the deadnesse of Saras wombe.

20 Neither did he doubt of the promise of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue glory to God,

21 Being fully assured, that he which had promised was able to doe it.

22 And therefore it was imputed vnto him for righteousnesse.

23 Now it is not written for him only, that it was imputed to him for righteousness,

24 But also for vs, to whom it shall be imputed for righteousness, which beleevue in him that raised vs Iesus our Lord from the dead,

25 Who was delivered to death for our finnes, and is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

1 Hee declareth the fruits of faith, 7 and by comparison setteth forth the love of God, and obedience of Christ, which is the foundation and ground of the same.

Then being iustified by faith, we have peace toward God through our Lord Iesus Christ.

2 * By whom also we have access through faith vnto this grace; wherein we stand, and reioyce vnder
the hope of the glory of God.

3 Neither doe we so only, but also we * reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience,

4 And patience experience, and experience hope,

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is given vnto vs.

6 For Christ when wee were yet of no strength, at his time died for the * vngodly.

7 Doubtlesse one will feare die for a righteous man: but yet for a good man it may be that one dare die.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners Christ died for vs.

9 Much more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when wee were enemies wee were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne much more being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not onely so, but we also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whome wee have now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne, and so death went touer all men, forasmuch as all men haue sinned.

13 For vnto the time of the Law was sinne in the world, but sinne is not imputed while there is no Law.

14 But death reigned from Adam to Moses, even ouer them also that sinned not after the like manner of

of the transgression of Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.

15 But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence: for if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

16 Neither is the gift so, as that which entered in by one that sinned: for the fault came of one offence vnto condemnation: but the gift is of many offences to iustificatiō.

17 For if by the offence of one, death reigned through one, much more shall they which receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness, reigne in life through one, that is, Iesus Christ.

18 Likewise then, as by the offence of one, the fault came on all men to condemnation, so by the iustificatiō of one the benefit is abounded toward all men to the iustificatiō of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one shall many also be made righteous.

20 Moreover, the Law entered thereupon, that the offence should abound: neuertheless where sin abounded, there grace abounded much more:

21 That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so might grace also reigne by righteousness vnto eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man should glorie in the flesh, but rather seek to subdue it to the spirit, 3 he sheweth by the verbee and end of Baptisme, 5 that regeneration is joyued with iustificatiō, and therefore exhorteth to godly life, 22 setting before mens eyes the reward of sinne and righteousness.

What shall we say then? Shall we continue still in sinne that grace may abound? God forbid.

2 How shall wee that are dead to sinne, liue yet therein?

Gal. 3. 27 3 Know yee not, that * all we which haue beene baptized in Iesus Christ haue bin baptized into his death?

Colo. 2. 12 4 * We are buried then with him by Baptisme into his death, that like as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glory of his Father, so we also should walke in newnesse of life.

Ep. 4. 23, 24. eul. 3. 8. hebr. 12. 1. 5 * For if we be grafted with him to the similitude of his death, euen so shall wee be to the similitude of his resurrection,

1. pet. 2. 1. 6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the body of sinne might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.

1. Cor. 6. 14. 2. pet. 2. 1. 7 For he that is dead is freed from sinne.

3. 11. 8 Wherefore if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shall liue also with him,

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

10 For in that hee died, hee died once to sinne: but he that liueth, he lieth to God.

11 Likewise thinke yee also, that yee are dead to sinne, but are aliuē to God in Iesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither giue yee your members as weapons of righteousness vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliuē from the dead, and giue your members, as weapons of righteousness vnto God.

14 For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you:

for ye are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace.

15 What then? shall wee sinne because wee are not vnder the Law, but vnder grace? God forbid.

16 * Know ye not that to whomsoever yee giue y^ou selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are 3. 1. 2. pet. 2. 19. to whom yee obey, whether it bee of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye haue beene the seruants of sinne, but yee haue obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine wherunto yee were deliuered.

18 Euen then made free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousness.

19 I speake after the manner of man, because of the infirmities of your flesh: for as yee haue giuen your members seruants to vncleanness, and to iniquitie, to commit iniquitie, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteousness in holinesse.

20 For when yee were the seruants of sinne, yee were freed from righteousness.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof yee are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, and made seruants vnto God, yee haue your fruit in holinesse, and the end euertlasting life.

23 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

1. 7. 2 The use of the Law. 6. 24. And how Christ hath deliuered vs from it 16 The infirmities of the flesh fall. 23 The dangerous fight betwixt the flesh and the spirit.

Now yee not brethren, (for I speake to them that know the Law) that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

2 * For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bound by the Law to the man while hee liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the Law of the man.

3 So then, if while the man liueth she take another man, shee shall bee called an * adulteresse: Matth. 5. but if the man be dead, she is free from the Law, so 32. that she is not an adulteresse, though shee take another man.

4 So yee, my brethren, are dead also to the Law by the body of Christ, that yee should be vnto another, euen vnto him that is raised vp from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sinnes which were by the Law, had force in our members to bring forth fruit vnto death.

6 But now we are deliuered from the Law, being dead vnto it, wherein we were holden, that wee should serue in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knew not sinne, but by the Law: for I had not known lust, except the Law had said, * Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne tooke an occasion by the Commandement, and wrought in mee all manner of concupiscence, for without the Law sinne is dead. Exod. 20. 17. 1. Cor. 7. 2. 1. Tim. 2. 14.

9 For I once was aliuē without the Law: but when the Commandement came, sinne reuiued, 10 But I died: and the same Commandement which was ordained vnto life, was found to bee vnto me vnto death.

11 For sinne tooke occasion by the Commandement, and deceived me, and thereby slew me.

12 Wherefore the Law is holy, and the commandment is holy and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which is good made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, that it might appeare sinne, wrought death in mee by that which is good, that sinne might bee our of measure sinfull by the Commandement.

14 For we know that the Law is spirituall, but I am carnall sold vnder sinne.

15 For I allow not that which I doe: for what I would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I doe then that which I would not, I consent to the Law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that doe it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that in mee, that is, in my selfe dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with mee: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For I doe not the good thing which I would, but the euill which I would not, that doe I.

20 Now if I doe that I would not, it is no more I that doe it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Law, that when I would doe good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delight in the Law of God, concerning the inner man:

23 But I see another law in my members, rebelling against the law of my minde, and leading me captive vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliuer me from the body of this death?

25 I thank God though Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I my selfe in my mind serueth the lawe of God; but in my flesh the Law of sinne.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The assurance of the faithfull and of the fruits of the holy Ghost in them. 2 The weakenesse of the Law, and what accomplished it, 4 and therefore. 5 Of what sort the faithfull ought to be. 6 The fruit of the Spirit in them. 17 Of hope. 18 Of patience vnder the crosse. 18 Of the usual lussu of sinners: God and his children. 29 Of his foreknowledge.

Now then there is no condemnation to them which are in Iesus Christ, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Law of the Spirit of life which is in Christ Iesus, hath freed mee from the law of sinne and of death.

3 For (that that was impossible to the Lawe, inasmuch as it was weak, because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne in the similitude of sinfull flesh, and for sinne condemned sinne in the flesh,

4 That the righteousnesse of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, sauer the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the Spirit is life and peace.

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is enmitie against God: for it is not subiect to the Lawe of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, can not please God.

9 Now ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man haue not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead, because of sinne: but the Spirit is life for righteousness sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you, hee that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies, because that his spirit dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, wee are debtors not to the flesh to liue after the flesh:

13 For if ye liue after the flesh ye shall die: but if ye mortifie the deedes of the bodie by the Spirit, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the Sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receiued the spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receiued the Spirit of adoption, whereby wee cry, Abba, Father. Gal. 4. 5, 6 ther.

16 The same Spirit beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

17 If we be children, we are also heires, euen the heires of God, and heires annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer with him, that wee may also be glorified with him.

18 For I account that the afflictions of this present time, are not worthy of the glory which shall be shewed vnto vs.

19 For the seruile desire of the creature waiteth, when the sonnes of God shall be reuealed.

20 Because the creature is subiect to vanitie, not of it owne will, but by reason of him which hath subdued it vnder hope, 21 Because the creature also shall be deliuered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For wee know that euery creature groweth with vs also, and travaileth in paine together vnto this present.

23 And not onely the creature, but we also which haue the first fruits of the Spirit, euen we do sigh in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seene is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

25 But if wee hope for that wee see not, wee doe with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what to pray as wee ought: but the Spirit it self maketh request for vs with sighes, which cannot be exprest.

27 But hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for hee maketh request for the Saints, according to the will of God.

28 Also we know that all things worke together for the best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of his purpose.

29 For those which hee knew before hee also predestinate to be made like to the image of his Son, that he might be the first borne among many brethren.

30 Moreover whom hee predestinate, them also hee called, and whom hee called, them also hee iustified, and whome hee iustified, them hee also glorified.

31 What shall wee then say to these things? if God be on our side, who can be against vs?

32 Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gave him for vs all to death, how shall hee not with him giue vs all things also?

33. Who shall say anything to the charge of Gods choise? *It is God that * iustifieth.*

34. Who shall condemne Jesus Christ, which is dead, yea, or rather which is risen againe, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

35. Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ Qualification, or anguish, or persecution; or famine, or nakednesse, or perill, or sword?

36. As it is written, * For they sake we are killed all day long, wee are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.

37. Nevertheless, in all these things wee are more then conquerors through him that loued vs.

38. For I am persecuted that, neither death, nor life, nor Angels, nor principallities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39. Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall bee able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

Having testified his great loue toward his nation, and the figures thereof, 1. He enuinceth of the election and Reprobation. 2. Of the vocation of the Gentiles. 3. and retraction of the Iewes.

6. * Neither are they all children, because they are the seed of Abraham: * but in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

7. That this, they which are the children of the flesh, are not the children of God: but the * children of the promise are counted for the seed:

8. For this is a word of promise, * In this same time will come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

9. Neither he onely felt this, but also * Rebecca, when she had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac.

10. For yet the children were borne, and when they had neither done good nor euill (that the purpose of God might remaine according to Election, nor by workes, but by him that calleth)

11. It was said vnto her, * The elder shall serue the younger.

12. As it is written, * I haue loued Iacob, and haue hated Esau.

13. What shall we say then? is there vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.

14. For hee saith to Moses, * I will haue mercie on him, to whom I will shewe mercie: and will haue compassion on him, on whom I will haue compassion.

15. So then it is not in him that will, nor in him that runneth, but in God that sheweth mercie.

16. For the Scripture saith vnto Pharaoh, * For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my Name might be declared throughout all the earth.

17. Therefore he hath mercie on whom hee will, and whom hee will hee hardeneth.

18. Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why doeth hee yet complaine? for who hath resisted his will?

19. But O man, who art thou which I pleadeist against God? shall the thing * formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

20. Hath not the potter power of the clay, to make of the same lump one vessel to honour, and another vnto dishonour?

21. What said if God would, to shew his wrath, and to make his power knownen, suffer with long patience the vessels of wrath prepared to destruction?

22. And that he might declare the riches of his glory vpon the vessels of mercie, which he hath prepared vnto glory?

23. Euen vs, whom hee hath called, not onely Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.

24. As he saith also in Olee, * I will call them, My people, which were not my people: and her, Belo ued, which was not beloued.

25. And it shall be in the place where it was said vnto them, * Yee are not my people, that there they shall be called, The children of the liuing God.

26. Also Esaias cryeth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel were as the sand of the sea, yet shall but a remnant be saved.

27. For he will make his accompt and gather it into a short summe with righteousness: for Lord will make a short account in the earth.

28. * And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of hostes had left vs a seede, we had bene made as Sodom, and had bene like to Gomorrah.

29. What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not righteousness, haue attained vnto righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.

30. But Israel which followed the Law of righteousness, could not attaine vnto the Law of righteousness.

31. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as is written by the workes of the Law: for they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone.

32. As it is written, * Beholde, I lay in Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke to make men fall: and eery one that beleueth in him, shall not bee ashamed.

CHAP. X.

After that he had declared his zeale toward them, 2. he sheweth the cause of the ruine of the Iewes. 4. The end of the Law. 5. The difference between the iustice of the Law and of faith. 17. Whereof faith commeth, and to whom it belongeth. 19. The reiection of the Iewes, and calling of the Gentiles.

1. Brethren, mine hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2. For I beare them record, that they haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3. For they being ignorant of the righteousness of God, and going about to stablish their owne righteousness, haue not submitted themselves to the righteousness of God.

4. * For Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness vnto eery one that beleueth.

5. For Moses thus describeth the righteousness which is of the Law, * That the man which doeth these things shall liue thereby.

6. But the righteousness which is of faith, speaketh

9 For if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, & shalt beleuee in thine heart that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man beleueth vnto righteousness, and with the mouth man confesseth to salvation.

11 For the Scripture saith, * Whosoever beleueth in him, shall not be ashamed.

20 * And Esaias is bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not, and haue bin made manifest to them that asked neuer after me.

21 And vnto Israel hee saith, * All the day long haue I stretched forth mine hand vnto a people disobedient and gainsaying people.

C H A P. XI.

4 God hath his Church, although it bee not freme to man's eye. 5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7 The iudgement of the reprobate. 8 God hath blinded the Iewes for a time, & reucaled himselfe to the Gentiles, 18 Whom he woueth to humble himselfe. 29 The gifts of God without repentance. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

I Demand then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid: for I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people, which he knew before. Know ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how he maketh request vnto God against Israel, saying,

1. King. 19. 10. 3 * Lord, they haue killed the Prophets, and digged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seeke my life?

1. King. 19. 18. 4 But what saith the answere of God to him? * I haue reserved vnto my selfe seuen thousand men which haue not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Euen so then at this present time is there a remnant through the election of grace.

6 And if it be of grace, it is no more of works, or else grace were no more grace: but if it be of works, it is no more grace: or else were works no more works.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that he sought: but the election hath obtained it, and the rest haue bene hardened.

8 According as it is written, * God hath given them the spirit of slumber: eyes that they should not see, and eares that they should not heare vnto this day.

9 And Dauid saith, * Let their table be made a snare, and a net, and a stumbling block, euen for a recompense vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and bow downe their backe alwayes.

11 I demend then, Haue they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation cometh vnto the Gentiles, to prouoke them to follow them.

12 Wherefore if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles, how much more shall their abundance be?

13 For in this I speak to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 To try if by any meanes I might prouoke them of my flesh to follow them, and might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the reconciling be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruits be holy, so is the whole lump: and if the roote be holy, so are the branches.

17 And though some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde olive tree, wast grafted in for them, and made partaker of the roote, and fatnesse of the olive tree, 18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: through vnbeliefe they are broken off, and then standest by faith: be not high minded, but care.

21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, take heed, lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the bountifullnesse, and severity of God: toward them which haue fallen, severity: but toward thee, bountifullnesse, if thou continue in his bountifullnesse: or else thou shalt also be cut off.

23 And they also if they abide not still in vnbeliefe shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wast cut out of the olive tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast grafted contrary to nature in a right olive tree, howe much more shall they that are by nature, be grafted in their owne olive tree?

25 For I would not brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this secret (lest ye should be arrogant in your selues) that partly obstinacy is cometo Israel, vntill the fullnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written * The deliuerer shall come out of Sion, and shall turne away the vngodlinesse from Iacob.

27 And this is my couenant to them, * When I shall take away their finnes,

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies and thou for my sakes: but as touching the election, thou tech not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4. Who art thou that condemnest another mans dinner? he standeth or falleth to his owne master: yea, he shall be established: for God is able to make him stand.

5. This man esteemeth one day above another day: and another man counteth every day alike: let every man be fully perswaded in his mind.

6. He that observeth the day, observeth it to the Lord: and he that observeth not the day, observeth it not to the Lord. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giueth God thanks: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thanks.

7. For none of vs liueth to himselfe, neither doth any detrahe himselfe.

8. For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord, or whether we die, we die vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9. For Christ therefore died, and rose againe, and reuiued, that he might bee Lord both of the dead, and the quicke.

10. *But why dost thou iudge thy brother? or why dost thou despise thy brother? * for wee shall all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ.*

11. *For it is written, * I liue, saith the Lord, and euery knee shall bow to mee, and all tongues shall confesse vnto God.*

12. So then euery one of vs shal giue accounts of himselfe to God.

13. Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but vse your iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion of fall, or a stumbling block before his brother.

14. I know, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vncleane, to him it is vncleane.

15. *But if thy brother be priued for the meat, now walkest thou not charitably: * destroy nothim with thy meat, for whom Christ died.*

16. Cause not your commodity to bee euill spoken of.

17. For the kingdome of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousness, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18. For whosoever in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approved of men.

19. Let vs then follow those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

20. *Destroy not the work of God for meats sake: * all things in deede are pure: but it is euill for the man which eateth with offence.*

21.  It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weake.*

22. Hast thou said? hane it with thy selfe before God: blessed is he that condemneth not himselfe in that which he alloweth.

23. For he that doubteth, is condemned if he eate, because he eateth not of faith: and what soeuer is not of faith, is sinne.

CHAP XV.

1 Paul exhorteth them to support and loue one another by the example of Christ. 9 And by the only mercy of God which is the cause of saluation both the one and the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale toward them and the Church. 30 And requesteth the same of them.

WE which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weake, and not to please our selves.

2 Therefore let every man please his neighbour in that that is good to edification.

3 For Christ also would not please himselfe, but as it is written, * The rebukes of them, which rebuke thee, sell on mee.

4 For whatsoever things are written aforetime, are written for our learning, that we through patience, and comfort of the Scriptures, might haue hope.

5 Now the God of patience and consolation, giue you that you be like minded one towards another, according to Christ Iesus,

6 That ye with one minde, & with one mouth, may praise God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue yee one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the glory of God.

8 Now I say that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

9 And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercie, as it is written, * For this cause I will confesse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he saith, * Reioyce yee Gentiles with his people.

11 And againe, * Praise the Lord all ye Gentiles, and laud ye him all people together.

12 And againe, Elias saith, * There shall be a root of Iesse, & he that shall rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all ioy, and peace in belecting, that yee may abound in hope through the power of the holy Ghost.

14. And I myselfe also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

15. Nevertheless, brethren, I haue somewhat boldly altered that which was written vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, thorow the grace that is giuen me of God,

16. That I should be the minister of Iesus Christ toward the Gentiles, ministering the Gospel of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

17. I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God,

18. For I dare not speake of any thing which Christ hath set wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient in word and deed,

19. With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abound the Gospel of Christ.

20. Yea so I enforced myselfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built on another mans foundation.

21. *But as it is written, * To whom hee was not spoken of, they shall see him, and they that heard not, shall vnderstand him.*

22. *Therefore also I haue bene * oft let to come vnto you.*

23. *But now seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue * bene desirous many yeeres agoe to come vnto you,*

24. When I shall take my journey into Spaine, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to bee brought on my way thitherward by you, you, after that I have bene somewhat filled with your company.

25 But now goe I to Ierusalem, to minister vnto the Saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine distribution vnto the poore Saints which are at Ierusalem.

27 For it hath pleased them, and their debtors are they: * for if the Gentiles bee made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue therefore performed this, and haue sealed them this fruit, I will passe by you into Spaine.

29 * And I know when I come, that I shall come to you with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

30 Also brethren, I beseech you for our Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the Spirit, that yee * would strine with mee by prayers to God for mee.

31 That I may bee deliuered from them which are disobedient in Iudea, and that my seruice which I haue to doe at Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Saints, ¶ Written to the Romanes from Corinthus, and sent by Phoebe, seruant of the Church which is at Cenchrea.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Saint Paul had preached at Corinthus a yere and an halfe, he was compelled by the wickedness of the Iewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed up with vaine glory, and excessive eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospel. By whose ambition such factions and schismes sprang up in the Church, that from opinions in policies and ceremonies, they fell to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doubt the resurrection from the dead, one of the chiefe points of Christian religion. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth preparing the Corinthians hearts and eares with gentle salutations: but some after he reproveth their contentions conscience and desires, their arrangements and plans, and exhorteth them to courage and heroism, setting before their eyes the spiritual warfare and heavenly battles of the Gospel, which cannot be performed by worldly wit, and eloquent reason, but is revealed by God's Spirit, and is fought in men's hearts. Therefore the illumination may not be attributed to the ministers, but only to God, who forgives they are, and have received charges to edify his Church; whereas Saint Paul bestowed himself, skillfully, bravely, according to the foundation (which is Christ), and exhorteth others to make the same proportionally to his learning, satisfied declaring that they had not preached with vain doctrine, seeing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which dwelt at his house, he forewarns them that he depended not on man's commendation; albeit he had desired he might fight that he might conquer him some glory, which yet he might lose, but only the glory of Christ, which, as his conscience he would declare more simply, in the flames of those dangerous heresies, who blasphemeth themselves only, and therefore suffered such horrible wiles contemned, and imprisoned, severely constrained, plagues before him, persecution, and back bite, to the great slander of the Gospel. This done, he did return to certain points of the Corinthians' letter, as touching single life, duties of marriage, of affliction and affliction among the married, of virginity and second marriage. And because some thought it unbecomely to be perfect as whole persons, seeing in their hearts they worshipped the true God, he exhorts them to hold fast to their weaker brethren, while faith in their discipline was kindled, and their consciences wounded, which thing rather, then he would do, he would never wish his liberty which God had given him. Notwithstanding as pride and selfishness was the cause of this great evil, he admonisheth them by the example of those Jews, not to glory in their outward gifts, which becometh punishment for the abuse of God's creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to follow Christ properly, without all pollution and affect of others. Then he correcteth those abuses in their Church, as touching the behaviour of men and women in the assemblies of the Lord's Supper, the abuse of the spiritual gift, which God hath given to maintain love, and edifies the Church, as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel perish to us up. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians as relate the poor brethren at Jerusalem, to persevere in the love of Christ and men, lending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

2. He praiseth the great grace of God shewed toward them, 10 exhorting them to concord and humility, 19 He beateth downe all pride and wisdom which is not grounded on God, 26 shewing whom God hath chosen to confound the wisdoms of the world.

• *God is faithful, by whom ye are called vnto the fellowship of his Sonne Iesus Christ our Lord.

16. Now I beseech you, brethren, by the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, * that yee all speake one thing, and that there be no dissensions among you : but bee you knit together in one minde, and in one Iudgement.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren of you by them that are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

15. Now thus I say, that every one of you saith, I am Paul's, and I am * Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized into the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus and Gains.

15 Left any should say, that I had baptized into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the householde of Stephanus:
furthermore know I not, whether I baptized any other.

17. For Christ sent mee not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with * wisdom of wordes, Inall the Crosse of Christ should bee made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saved, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, *I will destroy the wisdom of the wife, and will call a way the understanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made the wisdom of this world foolishness?

21 For seeing the world by wisdom, knew not God in the wisdom of God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 Seeing also that the Iewes require a * signe, and the Grecians seeke after wisdome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes euen a stumbling block, and vnto the Grecians fool-lishnesse:

24 But vnto them which are called both of the Iewes and Grecians, we preach Christ, the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 For the foolishnes of God is wiser then men, and the weaknesse of God is stronger then men.

26 For brethren, you see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

27. But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise, and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the mighty things.

28 And vile things of the world, & things which are despised, hath God chosen, and things which are not to bring to nought things that are.

29 That no flesh should reioyce in his presence.

30 But ye are of him in Christ Iesus, who of God is made unto vs a wife, one, and righteousness.

and sanctification, and redemption,

Ier. 9. 24. 1. That according as it is written, * He that rejoiceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1. Hee putteth for example his manner of preaching, which was according to the tenour of the Gospel. 2. Which Gospel was countenanced and bid to the carnal, 3. And againe commendeth and manifest to the spiritual.

Cha. i. 17. AND I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with *excellency of words, or of wisdom, shew-ing vnto you the testimony of God.

Ier. my. 8. 2. For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, save Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

I. Or, 1. thought nothing worthy to be known. 3. * And I was among you in weaknesse, and in fear, and in much trembling.

Al. 18. 1. 4. Neither flood my word & my preaching in the *enticing speech of mans wisdom, but in plaine evidence of the Spirit and of power,

Cha. i. 17. 5. That your faith should not be in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

2. pet. 1. 26. 6. And wee speake wisdom among them that are perfect: not the wisdom of this world, neither of the Princes of this world, which come to nought.

I. Or, be- newly or diuine. 7. But we speake the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hid wisdom, which God hath determined before the world, vnto our glory.

8. Which none of the princes of this world hath known: for had they known it, they would not haue crucified the Lord of glory.

I. Or, 4. 9. But as it is written, * The things which eye hath not seen, neither eare hath heard, neither came into mans heart, nor, which God hath prepared for them that loue him.

10. 10. But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

11. For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the spirit of a man which is in him? euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12. Now wee haue receiued not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that wee might know the things that are giuen to vs of God.

Cha. i. 17. 13. Which things also we speak, not in the *words which mans wisdom teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth, comparing spirituall things with spirituall things.

14. But the naturall man perceiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishnesse vnto him: neither can he know them, because they are spirituall discerned.

Prum. 27. 15. But he that is *spirituall, discerneth all things:
yet he himselfe is iudged of no man.

I. 19. 16. *For who hath known the mind of the Lord that he might instruct him? but we haue the mind of Christ.

CHAP. III.

1. 3. Paul rebuketh the sects and authorities thereof. 7.
No man ought to ascribe his salvation to the Ministers, but to God. 16. That they beware erroneous doctrines. 11. Christ is the foundation of his Church. 16.
The dignity and office both of the ministers, and also of all the Church.

AND I could not speak vnto you, brethren, as vnto spiritual men, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto babes in Christ.

2. I gaue you milke to drinke and not meate:
for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

3. For ye are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you enuying and strife, and diuisions, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?

4. For when one saith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnall?

5. Who is Paul then, and who is Apollos, but the ministers by whom ye beleueed, and as the Lord gaue to every man?

6. I haue plantred, Apollos watered, but God gaue the increase.

7. So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth, but God that giueth the increase.

8. And he that planteth, and he that watereth are one, * and every man shall receiue his wages according to his labour.

9. For we together are Gods labourers: ye are Gods husbandry, and Gods building.

10. According to the grace of God giuen to mee, as a skilful master builder, I haue laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon: but let every man take heed how he buildeth vpon it.

11. For other foundation can no man lay, then that which is laid, which is Iesus Christ:

12. And if any man build on this foundation gold, silver, precious stones; timber, hay, or stubble,

13. Every mans work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be reuealed by the fire: and the fire shall trie every mans worke of what sort it is.

14. If any mans worke, that he hath built vpon abide, he shall receiue wages.

15. If any mans worke burne, he shall lose it: but he shall be saue himselfe: neuenthelesse yet as it were by the fire.

16. * Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, Cha. 6. 19 and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? 2. cor. 6.

17. If any man destroy the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which ye are.

18. Let no man deceiue himselfe. If any man among you seeme to be wise in this world, let him be a foole that he may be wise.

19. For the wisdom of this world is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * Hee catcheth the wise Iob 5. 13.
in their owne craftinesse.

20. And againe, * The Lord knoweth that the Psal. 94.
thoughts of the wise be vaine. 11.

21. Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.

22. Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death: whether they be things present, or things to come, euen all are yours,

23. And ye Christs, and Christs Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

1. After that he had deseried the office of a true Apostle. 3. Seeing they did not acknowledge him such one. 4. Hee appealeth to Gods iudgement. 7. Beating downe their glory, which hindered them to praise that, which they dispraised in him. 19. He sheweth what he requirith on their part, and what they ought to looke for of him as his returne.

LET A man so thinke of vs, as of the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2. And as for the rest, it is required of the dispo-sers, that euery man be found faithful.

3. * As touching me, I passe very little to be iudg-ed of you, or of of mans iudgement: no, I iudge not mine owne selfe.

4. For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustificed: but he that iudgeth mee, is the Lord.

Mat. 7. 1. Therefore I judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will lighten things that are hid in darkness, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: & then shall every man have praise of God.

8 Now the things brethren, I have figuratively applied unto mine owne self, and Apollos, for your sake, that ye might learne by vs, that no man presume above that which is written, that one will not against another for any mans cause.

9 For who separateth thee? and what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou hadst not receiued it?

10 Now ye are full: now ye are made rich: ye reioyce as kings without vs: and would to God ye did reioyce that we also might reioyce with you.

11 For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the last Apostles, as men appointed to death: for we are made a gazing stocke vnto the world, and to the Angels, and to men.

12 We are fooles for Christs sake, and ye are wise in Christ, wee are weak, and ye strong, ye are honorable, and we are despised.

13 Vnto this houre wee both hunger, and thirst, and wee weake, and are buffeted, and haue no certain dwelling place.

14 And labour, working with our own hands: we are reuelled, and yet we blisful: we are persecuted and suffer it.

15 We are euill spoken of, and we pray: we are made as the filth of the world, and the offscouring of all things vnto this time.

16 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved children I admonish you.

17 For though ye haue ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus haue I begotten you, through the Gospel.

18 Wherefore I pray you bee yee followers of mee.

19 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloved sonne, and faithful in the Lord, which shall put you in remembrance of my waies in Christ, as I teach euery where in euery Church.

20 Some are puffed vp, as though I would not come to you.

21 But I will come to you shortly, * if the Lord will, and will knowe, not the speech of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

22 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

23 What will ye? shall I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

CHAP. V.

1 He reproveth sharply the negligence in punishing him that had committed sinne, 3 will require to excommunicate him, 7 to punish publicly, 9 exspect wicked laste.

1 It is heard certainly, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not once named among the Gentiles, * that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather followed that he which hath done this deed, might be put from among you.

3 For I verely as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue determined already, as though I were present, that he that thus hath done this thing,

4 When ye are gathered together and my spirit, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that such one, 1 (a), by the power of our Lord Iesus Christ,

5 Be delivered vnto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that his spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Iesus.

6 Your reioicing is not good: * know ye not Gal. 3. 9 that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye now valeuantedly the Christ our Passouer is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not with old leuen, neither in the leauen of malitiousnes, and wickednesse: but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and smelt.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye should not companie together with fornicators.

10 And not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the enuicous, or with enuicous, or with idolaters: for then ye must goe out of the world.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, that ye companie not together: if any there is called a brother, be a fornicator, or enuicous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eat not.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them also which are without? doe ye not iudge them that are within?

13 But God iudgeth them which are without: Put away therefore from among you felues that wicked man.

CHAP. VI.

1 He rebuketh them for going to law together before the heathen, 7 Christians ought rather to suffer.

2 He reproveth the abusing of Christians liberty, 13 and strengtheth that we ought to suffer God partly, both in body and soule.

D Are any of you hauing businesse against another, bee iudged vnder the vniuersall, and not vnder the Saints?

2 * Doe ye not know that the Saints shall iudge the world? If the world then shall bee iudged by you, are yee unworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall iudge the Angels? how much more things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, set vp them which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to you thusme, Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that can iudge between his brethren?

6 But a brother goeth to lawe with a brother, and that vnder the infidels.

7 Now therefore where is utterly a fault among you, because ye goe to law one with another? * why potencie rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather sustaine ye of wrong, not hate?

8 * Nay, ye your felues doe wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vniuertuous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: * neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantous nor buggers,

10 Nor theenes, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor raijlers, nor extortioners shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such * were some of you: but yee are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the spirit of our God.

12 * All things are lawfull vnto me: but all things are not profitable. I may do all things, but I will not be brought vnder the power of any thing.

I. Corinthians. Of virginity and second marriage,

12. Masters are debtors for the belly, and the belly for the master: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

13. And God hath also called up the Lord, and shall raise up by his power.

14. Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

15. Ye know not know, that he which completh himself with an harlot, is one body? for two, shall be one flesh.

16. But he that is joined vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

17. flee fornication: every time that a man doth, his whole body is built up the members of fornication, thus he gaineth his owne body.

18. Know ye not that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God? and ye are not your owne.

19. For ye are bought for a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit: for they are Gods.

CHAP. VII.

1. The Apostle answereth to certain questions which the Corinthians desired to knowe. 2. Of single life. 3. Of the duty of marriage. 4. Of discord and a session in marriage. 5. Of marriage betwixt the faithful and unfaithfull. 6. Of vncircumcising the circumcised. 7. Of fornication. 8. Of virginity. 9. And second marriage.

Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote vs, it were good for a man not to touch a woman.

2. Neuerthelesse to avoid fornication, let every man haue his wife, and let every woman haue her owne husband.

3. Let he husband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4. The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5. Be subject not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that yee may giue your selues to fasting and prayer, and againe come together, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6. But I speake this by permission, not by commandement.

7. For I would that all men were euen as I myselfe am: but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8. Therefore I say vnto the vnmarried, and vnto the widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I doe.

9. But if they cannot abstaine, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10. And vnto the married I command, not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband.

11. But and if she depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or be reconciled vnto her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12. But to the remnant I speake, and not the Lord, if any brother haue a wife that beleueth not, if she bee content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13. And the woman which hath an husband that beleueth not, if he be content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

14. For the vnbeleuening husband is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleuening wife is sanctified by the husband, else were your children vnclene: but now are they holy.

15. But if the vnbeleuening depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16. For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17. But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walke: and so ordaine I in all Churches.

18. Is any man called being circumcised? let him not gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.

19. Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing: but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20. Let every man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21. Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if y^e thou mayest be free, vse it rather.

22. For he that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords freeman: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23. Yee are bought with a price: be not the seruants of men.

24. Brethren, let every man wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25. Now concerning [virginity, I haue no commandment of the Lord: but I giue mine aduice, as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lord to be faithful.

26. I suppose then this to bee good for the present necessity: I mean, that it is good for a man so to be.

27. Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not so to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28. But if thou take a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgin marrie, she sinneth not: neuerthelesse, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29. And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, [hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30. And they that we-p as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy as though they possessed not:

31. And they that vse this world, as though they vied it not: for the fashion of of this world goeth away.

32. And I would haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how hee may please the Lord:

33. But he that is married, careth for the things of the world, how he may please his wife.

34. There is a difference also betwena virgin & a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord that shee may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35. And this I speake for your owne commodity, not to rangle you in a snare, but that yee follow that which is honest, and that yee may cleane fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36. But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin, if she passe the flower of her age, and need require, let him doe what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37. Neuerthelesse, bee that standeth firme in his heart, heart, that hee hath no neede, but hath power over his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virginity, he doeth well.

38. Sothen he that is nith her to marriage, doeth well, but hee that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

39. The wife is bound by the Law, as long as her husband * liueth, but if her husband be dead, shee is at liberty to marrie with whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

40. But shee is more blessed, if shee so abide, in my iudgement, * and I thinke that I haue also the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

He releaseth them that vsf their liberty to the stander of faith, in going to the iudicious sacrifices, & And sheweth how men ought to behaue them toward such as be weak.

And as touching things sacrificed vnto idoles, we know that we all haue knowledge: knowledge puffeth vp, but loue edifieth.

41. Now, if any man thinke that hee knoweth anything, hee knoweth nothing yet as hee ought to know.

42. But if any man loue God, the same is knowne of him.

43. Concerning therefore meate sacrificed vnto idoles, we know that an idoll is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

44. For though there bee that are called gods, whether in heauen, or in earth, (as there bee many gods and many lords.)

45. Yet vnto vther is but one God, which is the Father, of whom are all things, and wee in him, and * our Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

46. But euery man hath not knowledge, for some haue knowledge of the idoll, vntill this houre, eate as a thing sacrificed vnto the idoll, and so their conscience being weak, is defiled.

47. But meate maketh not vs acceptable to God: for neither if we eate, haue wee the more: neither if we cate not, haue wee the lesse.

48. But take heed lest by any meanes this power of yours bee an occasion of falling to them that are weak.

49. For if any man see thee which hath knowledge, sit at table in the idoles temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak, bee * boldned to eate those things which are sacrificed to idoles?

50. And through thy knowledge shall the * weak brother perish, for whom Christ died.

51. Now when ye sinne against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, yee sinne against Christ.

52. * Wherefore if incate offend my brother, I will cate no flesh while the world standeth, that I may not offend my brother.

CHAP. IX.

He exhorteth them by his example to vsf their liberty in the edification of other. 24. To runne au fourth in the course that they haue begun.

Am I not an Apostle? am not I free? haue I not scene Iesus Christ our Lord? are yee not my workmen in the Lord?

53. If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse I am vnto you: for ye are the scale of mine Apostleship in the Lord.

54. My defence to them that examine me, is this,

55. Haue we not power to eate and to drinke?

56. Or haue we not power to lead about a wife being a sister, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the forthten of the Lord, and Cephus?

57. Or Tooley and Barnabas, haue we not power to worke?

58. Who goeth waite any time at his house? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? or who leaseth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

59. Say I these things according to man? faith not the Law the same also?

60. For it is written in the Law of Moses, * Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the one that treadeth out the come: doth God take care for euen?

61. Either faith heit not altogether for our sake? For our sakes no doubt it is written, that hee which eareth, should eare in hope, and that hee that thresheth in hope, should bee partaker of his hope.

62. * If we haue sown vnto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we reape your carnal things?

63. If others with you be partakers of this power, are not we rather? nevertheless we haue not vsed this power, but I suffer all things, that wee should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.

64. Doe ye not know, that they which minister about the * holy things, cate of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the Altar, are partakers with the Altar.

65. So also hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.

66. But I haue vsed none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should bee so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my reioyng vaine.

67. For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessity is laid vpon mee, and wee is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.

68. For if I doe it willingly, I haue a reward: but if I doe it against my will, not wishstanding the dispensation is committed vnto me.

69. What is my reward then? Verely that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I abuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

70. For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the more.

71. * And vnto the Iewes I become as a Iew, that I may winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Law, as though I were vnder the Law, that I may winne them that are vnder the Law:

72. To them that are without Law, as though I were without Law, (when I am not without Law as pertaining to God, but am in the Lawe through Christ,) that I may win them that are without Law.

73. To the weak I become as weak, that I may win the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

74. And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

75. Know ye not, that they which run in a race, rune all, yet one receiue the price? so runne that ye may obtaine.

76. And euery man that preoneth masterlesse, abstaineth from all things, and they do it to obtaine a corruptible crowne, but we for an vncorruptible.

77. I therefore forrunne, not as vncertainly: so fight I, not as one that beatech the aire.

78. But I beate downe my body and bring it into subiection, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I myselfe should be reprobated.

CHAP. X.

He sheweth them with the example of the Iewes,

Gal. 2.

that they put not their trust carnally in the power of God, 14 receiving the signs for all idollatry. 25 and offence of their neighbours.

Moreover, brethren, I would not that yee should be ignorant that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the Red Sea, and all were baptized into Moses in the cloud, and in the Sea,

26 * And did all eat the same spiritual meat, 27 * And did all drinke the same spiritual drink: (for they drabke of the spiritual Rock that followed them: and the Rock was Christ)

28 But with many of them, God was not pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.

29 These are examples to vs., to the intent that we should not lust after carnall things, * as they also lust.

30 Neither be ye idolaters: as were some of them, as it is written, The people sate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vnto play.

31 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fell in one day three and twentie thousand.

32 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted him; and were destroyed of serpents.

33 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

34 Now all these things came vnto them for examples, and were written to admonish vs., vpon whom the ends of the world are come.

35 Wherefore, let him that thinketh hee standeth, take heed lest he fall.

36 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as appertaineth to man: and God is faithful, which will not suffer you to be tempted above that you are able: but will euen giue the issue with the temptation, that ye may be able to beare it.

37 Wherefore my beloved, flee from idolatry.

38 I speake as vnto them which haue vnderstanding, Iudge ye what I say.

39 The cup of blessing which wee bleste, is it not the Communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

40 For we that are many are one bread and one body, because we all are partakers of one bread.

41 Behold Israel, which is after the flesh: are not they which eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the Altar?

42 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?

43 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils, and not vnto God: and I would not that yee should haue fellowship with the deuils.

44 Ye cannot drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cup of the deuils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords Table and of the table of deuils.

45 Doe we prouoke the Lord to anger? are wee stronger then he?

46 * All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

47 Let no man seeke his owne, but every man an others wealth.

48 Whatsoeuer is sold in the shambles, eate ye, and aske no question for conscience sake.

49 * For the earth is the Lords, and all that therin is.

50 If any of them which beleue not call you to a feast, and they will go, whatsoeuer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

51 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eate it not: because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience, (for the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.)

52 And the conscience, I say, not thine, but of that other: for why should my libertie bee condemned of another mans conscience?

53 For if I through Gods benefite bee partaker, why am I euill spoken of for that, wherefore I giue thanks?

54 * Whether therefore ye eate, or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye doe, do all to the glory of God.

55 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

56 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profit, but the profite of many, that they might be saved.

CHAP. XI.

He rebuketh the abuses which were crept into their church, 4. as touching prayer, prophecy, 13. and ministering the Lords Supper, 23. bringing them againe to the first institution thereof.

BE ye yet followers of me, euen as I am of Christ: 2. Thof. 3.

3 Now brethren, I command you that you remember all my things, and keepe the ordinances, I Or all as I deliuered them vnto you.

4 But I will that ye know: Christ is the head member of euery man, and the mass is the womans head: and as God is Christs head.

5 Every man praying or prophesying, hauing any thing on his head, dishonoureth his head.

6 But euery woman that prayeth or prophesieth, being bare headed, dishonoureth her head: for it is euen one very thing as though she were shewen.

7 Therefore if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorne: and if it bee shame for a woman to be shorne or shaued: let her be covered.

8 For a man ought not to cover his head: forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but as the man is the glory of the man.

9 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

10 * For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

11 Therefore ought the woman to haue power on her head because of the Angels.

12 Newertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man: in the Lord.

13 For as the woman is of the man, soe is the man also by the woman: but all things are of God.

14 Iudge in your selues, Is it comely that a woman pray vnto God vncovered?

15 Doe it not naturall for her to teach you, that if a man haue long haire, it is a shame vnto him?

16 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a praise vnto her: for her haire is giuen her for a covering.

17 But if any man lust to be contentious, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

18 Now in this that I declare, I praise you not, that yee come together, not with profite, but with hurt.

19 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I heare that there are dissensions among you, and I beleue it to be true in some part.

20 For there must bee heresies euen among you, that they which are approued among you, might be knownen.

21 When ye come together therefore into one place, place, this is not to eate the Lords Supper.

21 For every man when they should eate, taketh his owne Supper aboue, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houses to eate and to drinke in? despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? what shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the Lord that which I also haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, That the Lord Iesus in the night that hee was betrayed, tooke bread:

Mat. 26. 25. Marke 14. 22. Luke 22. 19. 1. Cor. 13. 5. 24 * And when he had giuen thanks, hee brake it and said, Take, eate: this is my body, which is broken for you: this doe ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the same maner all of hee tooke the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the New testament in my blood: this doe as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as yee shall eate this bread, and drinke this cup, yee shew the Lords death till hee come.

27 Wherefore whosoever shall eate this bread and drinke the cup of the Lord vnworthily, shall be guiltie of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 * Let a man therefore examine himselfe, and so let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For hee that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, because he discerneth not the Lords body.

30 For this cause many are weak, and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our selues, wee should not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chastened of the Lord, because wee should not bee condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore my brethren, when yee come together to eate, take one for another.

34 And if any man bee hungry, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things will I set in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

The diuersities of the gifts of the holy Ghost ought to bee vsed to the edifying of Christs Church, 12 as the members of mans body: thus to the v's one of an's: ar.

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

3 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, and were carried away vnto the dambe idoles, as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that no man speaking by the spirit of God, calleth Iesus * execrable: also no man can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

Mar. 9. 39. Iohn 13. 13. chap. 8. 6. phil. 2. 11.

4 Now there are diuersities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

5 And there are diuersities of ministrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diuersities of operations, but God is the same which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is giuen to every man to profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the word of Wisdome: and to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit.

9 And to another is giuen faith, by the same Spirit: and to another the gifts of healing, by the same Spirit:

10 And to another the operations of great works: and to another prophesie: and to another the discerning of spirits: and to another diuersities of tongues: and to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 * And all these things worketh euery one the selfe same Spirit, distributing to euery man generally as he will. Rom. 12. 8. 1. Cor. 12. 4. 7.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, which is one, though they be many, yet are but one body, euen so is Christ.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether wee bee Iewes or Grecians, whether wee bee bond, or free, and haue been all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the body also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote would say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body, it is therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare would say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body, is it therefore not of the bodie?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God disposed the members euery one of them in the body at his owne pleasure.

19 For if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand, I haue no neede of thee: nor the head againe to the feete, I haue no neede of you.

22 Yea, much rather: those members of the body, which seeme to be more feeble, are necessary.

23 And vpon those members of the body, which we thinke most vncomely, put we more honesty on, and our vncomely parts haue more comelinesse on.

24 For our comely parts neede it not: but God hath tempered the body together, and hath giuen the more honour to that part which lacketh.

25 Left there should be any diuision in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 Therefore if one member suffer, all suffer with it: if one member bee had in honour, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Now ye are the body of Christ, and members of his body.

28 * And God hath ordained some in the Church: as first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly Teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the gifts of healing, helpers, gouernours, diuinitie of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all Teachers?

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the gifts of healing? doe all speake with tongues? doe all interpret?

31 But I desire you the best gifts, and I will yet shew you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, bee set forth fourth the nature, office and praise thereof.

THOUGH I speake with the tongues of men and Angels, and haue not loue, I am as sounding brasie, or a tinkling cymball.

3 And though I feele thee poore with all my goods,

39 Wherefore brethren, come to prophesie, and forbid not to speake languages.

40 Let all things be done honestly, and by order.

CHAP. XV.

Hee prooueth the resurrection of the dead, 3 and first that Christ is risen. 33 Then that we shall rise, 51 and the manner how.

Galat. 1. Moreouer, brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospel, which I preached vnto you, which ye haue also receiued, and wherein ye continue,

2 And whereby ye are saved, if ye keepe in memorie, after what manner I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vaine.

3 For first of all I deliuered vnto you that which I receiued, how that Christ died for our finnes, according to the Scriptures,

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose the third day according to the Scriptures,

5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelve.

6 After that, he was seene of more then six hundred brethren at once: whereof many remaine vnto this present, and some also are asleepe.

7 After that, he was seene of Iames: then of all the Apostles.

Act. 9. 4. 8 And last of all he was seene also of mee, as of one borne out of due time.

1. Cor. 15. 3. 9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

1. Cor. 15. 37 10 But by the grace of God, I am that I am: and his grace which is in me, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God, which is with me.

11 Wherefore, whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

12 Now if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 For if there bee no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ bee not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

15 And we are found also false witnesses of God: for we haue testified of God, that hee hath raised vp Christ: whom hee hath not raised vp, if so bee the dead be not raised.

16 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised.

17 And if Christ bee not raised, your faith is vaine: ye are yet in your finnes.

18 And for they which are asleepe in Christ, are perished.

1. Cor. 15. 18 19 If in this life I onely we haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and was made the first fruite of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, euen so in Christ shall all be made aliae.

1. Cor. 15. 42 23 But euery man in his owne order: the first fruite is Christ: after ward they that are of Christ, at his coming shall rise againe.

24 Then shall be the end, when he hath deliuered vp the kingdome to God, euen the Father, when hee hath put downe all rule, and all authoritie and power.

25 For hee must reigne, till hee hath put all his enemies vnder his feete.

26 The last enemy that shall bee destroyed, is death.

27 For hee hath put downe all things vnder his feet. And when hee saith that all things are subdued to him, it is manifest that hee is excepted which did put downe all things vnder him.)

28 And when all things shall bee subdued vnto him, then shall the Sonne also himselfe bee subiect vnto him that did subdue all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Els what shall they doe which are baptized for dead? If the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead?

30 Why are we also in icopardie euery houre?

31 By our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus after the manner of men, what advantage it mee, if the dead be not raised vp? let vs cate and drinke: for to morrow we shall die.

33 Bee not deceived: euill speakings corrupt good manners.

34 Awake to liue righteously, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised vp? and with what body come they forth?

36 O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickned, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that bodie that shall be, but bare come, as is fallsthe, of wheat, or of some other.

38 But God giueth it a bodie at his pleasure, euen to euery seed his owne bodie.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also heavenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but the glory of the heavenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another.

41 There is another glory of the Sonne, and another glory of the Moone, and another glory of the Starres: for one Starre differeth from another Star in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. The body is sown in corruption, and is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, and is raised in glory: it is sown in weaknesse, and is raised in power.

44 It is sown a naturall body, and is raised a spirituall bodie: there is a naturall bodie, and there is a spirituall bodie.

45 As it is also written, The first man Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam was made a quickning Spirit.

46 Howbeit, that was not first made which is spirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord from heauen.

48 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthly: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthly, so shall wee beare the image of the heavenly.

50 This say I, brethren, that flesh and blood can

CHAP. XVI.

¶ He putteth them in remembrance of the gathering for the poore brethren at Ierusalem. 13 Wee must perseuere in faith, in the loue of Christ and our neighbours. 15 After his commendations, he wisheth to them all prosperitie.

¶ Concerning * the gathering for the Saints, as I haue ordered in the Churches * of Galatia, so doe ye also.

2 Every first day of the weeke, let euery one of you put aside by himselfe, and lay vp as God hath prospered him: that then there bee no gatherings when I come,

3 And when I am come, whomsoever yee shall allow by letters, them will I send to bring your liberallitie vnto Ierusalem.

4 And if it bee meete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

5 Now I will come vnto you, after I haue gone thorow Macedonia, (for I will passe thorow Macedonia)

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, or winter with you, that yee may bring mee on my way whither soeuer I goe.

7 For I will not see you now in my passage: but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 And I will tary at Ephesus, vntill Pentecost. 9 For a great doore and effectually is opened vnto me: but there are many aduersaries.

10 ¶ Now if Timotheus come, see that hee bee without feare with you: for hee worketh the worke of the Lord, euen as I doe.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conuerty him soorth in peace, that he may come vnto me, for I looke for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren: but his minde was not at all to come at this time: howbeit he will come, when hee shall haue conuenient time.

13 ¶ Watch ye: stand fast in the faith: quet you like men, and be strong.

14 Let all your things be done in loue.

15 Now brethren, I beseech you (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first fruit of Achaia, and that they haue giuen themselves to minister vnto the Saluts.)

16 That ye be obedient euen vnto such, and to all that helpe with vs, and labour.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for they haue supplied the want of you.

18 For they haue comforted my spirit & yours: I acknowledge therefore such men.

19 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila, and Priscilla, with the Church that is in their house, salute you greatly in the Lord.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greete yee one another with * an holy kisse.

22 If any man loue not the Lord Iesus Christ, let him be had in excommunication, ¶ yea excommunicate to death.

23 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you.

¶ The first Epistle to the Corinthians, written from Philippi, and sent by Stephanas and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

As nothing can be written either so perfectly, or with so great affliction & weale, which is not unprofitable to many, and resisted by some: so the first epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the parties and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue toward them, surely passing all natural affections: which did not only not professe all, but hardned the hearts of many to remaine in their stubbornness, and contumacie: the Apostles authority. By reason whereof S. Paul bringeth with iust occasions to come vnto them, wrote this Epistle from Macedonia, intending to accomplish the worke which hee had begun among them. First therefore hee wisheth them well in the Lord, declaring that albeit certaine wicked persons abused his afflictions to condemn thereby his authority, yet they were necessary schooling, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And whereas they blame his long absence, it came of no inconstancie, but to learne with their inability and imperfection, lest contrary to his fatherly affection, he should haue bene compelled to use rigor and severity. And as touching his short writing in the former Epistle, it came through their default: as is now euident both in that that he pardoned the offence, being both repented: and also in that hee was requited in his minde, still hee was certified by Trium of their estate. But so much as the false Apostles went about to undermine his authority, hee confuteth their arrogant brag, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: So that S. Paul must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which cannot the brightness of the Gospell in his preaching: therefore whereof is unuſe of life forſaking of our ſelues, cleauiſing to God, ſtriving from idollry, embracing the trueſt doctrine, and that ſorrow which ingend'reth true repentance: to the which is rayned mercie and compaſſion toward our brethern: alſo wiſdome to put difference betwixt the ſimpliſme of the Goſpell and the arrogancie of the falſe preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the truth, ſought onely to fill their bellies, whereas he contrarie: ſe ſought ſhame and not their goods: as thoſe ambitious perſons ſlandered him: wherefore at his coming he was receiued ſuch an rebell againſt his authoritie, that hee will declare by huch example, that he is the ſubiect: all a doore of Ieſus Chriſt.

CHAP. I.

¶ He declareth the great profit that cometh to the ſubiect by their afflictions. 15. 17 And let vs ſhew ſhould not impute to liſtneſſe, that hee offered his counſay contrary to his promiſe, hee promiſeth his excellencie both by the ſinceritie of his preaching, and alſo by the immutable truth of the Goſpell: 21 which truth is promiſed on Chriſt, and ſet in our hearts by the holy Ghoſt.

P And an Apoſtle of Ieſus Chriſt, by the will of God, and our brother Timotheus, to the Church of God which is at Corinthus, with all the Saints which are in all Achaia:

1 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

¶ 2 Blessed be God even the Father of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort.

3 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any affliction, by the comfort wherewith wee our ſelues are comforted of God.

4 For as the ſufferings of Chriſt abound in vs, ſo our conſolation aboundeth through Chriſt.

5 And whether we bee afflicted, it is for your conſolation and ſaluation, which is wrought in the enduring of the ſame ſufferings, which wee alſo ſuffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your conſolation and ſaluation.

6 And our hope is ſtedfaſt concerning you, in as much as wee know, that as yee are partakers of the ſufferings, ſo ſhall yee be alſo of the conſolation.

7 For brethren, wee would not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how wee were preſſed out of meaſure, paſſing ſtrength, ſo that wee altogether doubted, euen of life.

8 Yea wee receiued the ſentence of death in our ſelues, becauſe wee ſhould not truſt in our ſelues, but in God, which raiſed the dead.

9 Who deliueſt vs from ſo great a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whom wee truſt, that yet hereafter he will deliuer vs.

¶ 10 So that ye labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift beſtowed vpon vs for many, thanks may be given by many perſons for vs.

11 For our reioycing is this, the teſtimonie of our conſcience, that in ſimplicitee and godly pureneſſe, and not in ſelfiſh wiſedome, but by the grace of God wee haue had our conuerſation in the world, and moſt of all to you wards.

12 For we write none other things vnto you, then what ye read, or elſe that ye acknowledge, and I truſt ye ſhall acknowledge vnto the end.

13 Euen as yee haue acknowledged vs partly, that wee are your reioycing, euen as yee are ours, in the day of our Lord Ieſus.

14 And in this confidence was I minded firſt to come vnto you, that yee might haue had a double grace.

15 And to paſſe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth toward Iudea of you.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vic lightneſſe? or minde I thoſe things, which I minde, according to the fleſh, that with mee ſhould be, Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

18 Yea, God is faithfull, that our word toward you was not Yea and Nay.

19 For the Sonne of God Ieſus Chriſt, who was preached among you by vs, that is, by mee, and Silvanus, and Timothy, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was Yea.

20 For all the promiſes of God in him are Yea: and are in him Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And it is God which ſtabiliſeth vs with you in Chriſt, and hath annoynted vs.

22 Who hath alſo ſealed vs, and hath given the earnest of the ſpirit in our hearts.

23 Now I call God for a record vnto my ſoule, that to ſure you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that wee haue dominion over your faith, but wee are helpers of your ioy: ſo for faith ſtand.

CHAP. II.

¶ He ſheweth his loue toward them, requiring that they ſhould be ſeuerable to the interſtice adulterers, ſeeking to repent: 16. He alſo reſpecteth in God, or the efficacy of his doctrine, 17. conuincing thereby ſuch quarrell pickers, and vnder pretence of teaching againſt his perſon, ſought nothing but the overthrow of his doctrine.

But I determined thus in my ſelfe, that I would not come againe to you in heavineſſe.

3 For if I ſhould come ſorry, who is hee then that ſhould make me glad, but the ſame which is made ioy by me?

4 And I wrote this ſame thing vnto you: leſt when I came, I ſhould take heavineſſe of them, of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

5 For in great affliction and anguiſh of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares, not that yee ſhould be made ſorry, but that yee might perceiue the loue which I haue, ſpecially vnto you.

6 And if any haue cauſed ſorrow, the ſame hath not made mee ſorry, but partly (leaſt I ſhould not charge him) you all.

7 It is ſufficient vnto the ſame man, that he was rebuked of many.

8 So that now contrariwiſe yee ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, leſt the ſame ſhould be ſwallowed vp with ouermuch heavineſſe.

9 Wherefore I pray you that you would confirme your loue towards him.

10 For this cauſe alſo did I write, that I might know the proofe of you, whether you would be obedient in all things.

11 To whom ye forgave any thing, I forgiue alſo: for verely, if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgive it, for your ſakes, forgive I it in the ſight of Chriſt.

12 Leſt Satan ſhould circumuent vs: for wee are not ignorant of his enterpriſes.

13 Furthermore when I came to Troas, to preach Chriſts Goſpell, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord,

For in my spirit, because I found not I was my brother, but took my leave of them, and went away into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be unto God which alwayes maketh vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For wee are vnto God the sweete labour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them which perish.

Rom. 1. 16 16 To the one wee are the fauour of death vnto death, and to the other the fauour of * life vnto life: and who is sufficient for these things?

17 * For we are not as many, which make merchandise of the word of God: but as of sinceritie, but as of God in the sight of God, speake wee in Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 He taketh for example the fuph of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached, and to exalt his Apostleship against the arrogances of the false apostles. 2, 7. 13 he maketh comparison between the Law and the Gospel.

2 We begin to praise our selves againe for need we, as some other, Epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

3 Yee are our Epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstood and read of all men,

4 In that yee are manifest to bee the Epistle of Christ ministered by vs and written, not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

5 And such trust haue wee through Christ to God:

6 Now that wee are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God.

7 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the New Testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

8 If then the ministration of death written with letters, and engrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance (which glory is done away)

9 How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be more glorious?

10 For if the ministry of condemnation was glorious, much more doeth the ministration of righteousness exceede in glory.

11 For euery thing that was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that is, as touching the exceeding glory.

12 For if that which should be abolished was glorious, much more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

13 Seeing then that we haue such trust, wee vfe great boldnesse of speech.

14 * And we are not as Moses, which put a vail vpon his face, that the children of Israel should not looke vnto the end of that which should be abolished.

15 Therefore their minds are hardened: for vntill this day remaineth the same couering vntaken away in the reading of the olde Testament, which vail in Christ is past away.

16 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is layd ouer their hearts.

17 Neuertheless, when their hearts shall be turned to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

18 Now the Lord is the * Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberatie.

19 But we all behold as in a mirrour the glory of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Hee declareth his diligencie and roundnesse in his Office. 2 And that which his enemies took for his disadvantage, so was the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turneth to his great advantage. 11. 17 Shewing what profit cometh hereby.

2 Therefore, seeing that we haue this ministry, as we haue receiued mercie, we faint not:

3 But haue cast from vs the cloakes of shame, and * walke not in craftinesse, neither handle we the word of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth we approue our selues to euery mans confidence in the light of God.

4 If our Gospel then hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

5 In whom the God of this world hath blinded the mindes, that is, of the infidels, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, should not shine vnto them.

6 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Iesus sake.

7 For God that * commanded the light to shine out of darkenesse, is hee which hath shined in our hearts, to giue the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Iesus Christ.

8 But wee haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of that power might be of God, and not of vs.

9 We are afflicted on euery side, yet are we not in distresse: in pouerty, but not overcome of pouerty.

10 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast downe, but we perish not.

11 Enery where we beate about in our body the dying of our Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest in our bodies.

12 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

13 So then death worketh in vs, and life in you.

14 And because we haue the same Spirit of faith, according as it is written * I beleueed, & therefore haue I spoken, we also beleuee, & therefore speake.

15 Knowing that hee which hath raised vp the Lord Iesus, shall raise vs vp also by Iesus, and shall set vs with you.

16 For all things are for your sakes, that most plenteous grace by the thankgiuing of many, may redound to the praise of God.

17 Therefore we faint not, but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed daily.

18 For our light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre more excellent and an eternall waight of glory.

19 While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporal: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that cometh by the crosse. 4 How we ought to prepare our selues thereto, & by whom. 5 And for what end. 14. 19 He setteth forth the grace of Christ, 20 And the office of Ministers, and all the faithfull.

2 For wee know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle bee destroyed, wee haue a building giues of God, that is, an house not made with hands, but eternal in the heavens.

2 For therefore we fight, desiring to be clothed with our house which is from heauen.

3 Because that if we be clothed, we shall see as we should be found * naked.

4 For in deede wee that are in this tabernacle fight, and are burdened; because we would not be unclashed, but would be clothed vpon, that mortality might be swallowed vp of life.

5 And he that hath created vs for this thing, o God, who also hath giuen voto vs the * earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are alway bolde, though wee know that while we are in this house, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walke by faith, and not by sight)
8 Nevertheless, we are bold, and loose rather to remoue out of the body, and to dwell with the Lord.

9 Wherefore also we conet, that both dwelling at home, and remouing from home, wee may be acceptable to him.

10 * For we must all appeare before the iudge-ment seate of Christ, that euery man may receiue the things which are due in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill.

11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we perfwade men, and wee are made manifest vnto God, and it is also that wee are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, that yee may haue to answer against them, which reioyce in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For whether we be out of our wit, we are to God: or whether we be in our right minde, we are to you.

14 For the loue of Christ constraineth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one be dead for all, then were all dead.

15 And hee died for all, that they which liue should not henceforth liue vnto themselves, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh, yea, though we had known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we thus no more.

17 Therefore if any man bee in Christ, let him bee a new creature. * Old things are passed away: because all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Iesus Christ, and hath gi-uen vnto vs the ministry of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Christ, and reconciled the world to himselfe, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then are we ambassadours for Christ: as though God did beseech you through vs, we pray you in Christs stead, that yee be reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him to be sinne for vs, which knew no sinne, that wee should be made the righte-ousnesse of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to Christian life, 11 and to beare him like affliction as he doth them. 14 Also to keepe themselves from all pollution of idolatry both in body and soule, and to haue none acquaintance with idolaters.

So we therefore, as workers together beseech you that yee receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

2 For her sake, * I haue heard thee in rime accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I succeeded thee: behold now the accepted time, behold now the day of saluation.

3 We giue no occasion of offence in any thing, that our ministry should not be reprehended.

4 But in all things we approve our selues as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in needes, in distresses,

5 In stripes in prisons, in tumults, in labours,

6 By watchings, by fastings, by purity, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindnesse, by the holy Ghost, by loue vnfained,

7 By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by euill report, and good report, as deceits, and yet true.

9 As vnknewen, and yet knowen: as dying, and behold we liue: as chastened, and yet not killed:

10 As forrowning, and yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet make many rich: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O Corinthians, our mouth is open vnto you:
our heart is made large.

12 Ye are not kept strait in vs, but yee are kept strait in your owne bowels.

13 Now for the samer recompense, I speake as to my children, Be you also enlarged.

14 Be not vnequally yoked with the infidels: for what fellowship hath righteousness with vniuer-sall sinne? and what communion hath light with darkenesse?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? Or, the or what part hath the beleeuers with the Infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the Temple of God with idoles? * For ye are the Temple of the liuing God: as God hath said, * I will dwell among them, and walke there, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 * Wherefore come out from among them, and separate your selues, saith the Lord: and touch none vncleane thing, and I will receiue you.

18 * And I will be a father vnto you, and ye shall be my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord Al-mightie.

CHAP. VII.

1 Hee exhorted them by the promises of God to keepe themselves pure, 3. 7 Assuring them of his loue, 8. 12 And doeth not exhort his hearers to ward them, but reioyceth therein, considering what profits cometh thereby. 10 Of two sorts of sorrow.

Seeing then we haue these promises, dearly beloved, let vs cleanse our selues from all filthinesse of the flesh and spirit, and grow vp vnto full holines in the feare of God.

2 Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man:
we haue consumed no man: we haue defrauded no
man.

3 I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue said before, that yee in our hearts to die and liue together.

4 I write great boldnesse of speech toward you:
I reioice greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on euery side, fightings without, and terrors within.

6 But God that comforteth the afflicted, comforted vs at the coming of Titus:

7 And not by his coming onely, but also by the deuotion

the consolation wherewith hee was comforted; of you, when he told vs your great desire. your mourning, your stent mind to me ward, so that I reioyced twich more.

8 For though I made you fory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repute: for I perceiue that the same Epistle made you fory, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce, not that yee were fory, but that ye forwore to repentance: for ye forwore godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorrow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the worldly sorrow causeth death.

11 For behold, this thing that ye haue been godly fory, what great care it hath wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your felmes: yea, what indignation: yea, what teare: yea, what great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what punishment: in all things ye haue shewed your felmes that yee are pure in this matter.

12 Wherefore though I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrong, neither for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care toward you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

13 Therefore wee were comforted, because yee were comforted: but rather we reioiced much more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For it that I haue boasted any thing to him of you, I haue not been ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in truth, even so our boasting vnto Titus was true.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, and how with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, hee exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning. 23 After hee commendeth Titus and his fellowes vnto them.

WE doe you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia.

2 Because in great triall of affliction their ioy abounded, & their most extreme pouerty abounded vnto their rich liberality.

3 For to their power (I beare record) yea, and beyond their power they were willing.

4 And prayed vs with great instance that wee would receiue the grace and fellowship * of the ministering which is toward the Saints.

5 And this they did, not as wee looked for: but gave their owne felmes: first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God.

6 That we should exhort Titus, that as hee had begun, so he would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

7 Therefore as ye abound in euery thing, in faith and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue toward vs, even so see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore pionic I the naturalnesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord IESVS CHRIST, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that yee through his pouerty might be made rich.

10 And I shew my mind herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to doe only, but also to will a yere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also, that as there was a readinesse to will, even so yee may performe it of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Neither is it that other men should be eased, and you grieved.

14 But vpon like condition, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may bee equalitye.

15 As it is written, * He that gathereth much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathereth little, had not the lesse.

16 And thanks bee vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation, yea, hee was so careful, that of his owne accord he went vnto you.

18 And we haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so ouely, but as also chosen of the Churches to be a fellow in our iourney, concerning this grace that is ministered by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your prompt minde.)

20 Auiding this, that no man should blaime vs in this abundance that is ministered by vs,

21 * Proudling for honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men.

22 And we haue sent with them our brother, who wee haue oft times proued to be diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.

23 Whether any doe enquire of Titus, hee is my fellow and helper to youward, or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew toward them, and before the Churches the prooue of your loue, and of the reioicing that we haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

3 The cause of Titus and his companions coming to them. 6 Hee exhorteth to giue almes chearefully, 7 shewing what fruit will come thereof.

FOR as touching the ministering to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

2 For I know your readinesse of mind, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yere agoe, and your zeale hath prouoked many.

3 Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioicing ouer you should be in vain in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue said) be readie:

4 Lest if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, wee (I neede not to say you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Wherefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish our beneuolence appointed afore, that it might bee ready, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yet remember, that hee which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and hee that soweth growth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

11. As every man willeth in his heart, so let him give, not grudgingly, or of necessity: * for God loveth a cheerful giver.

12. And God is able to make all grace to abound toward you, that ye alwayes having all sufficiency in all things, may abound in every good worke,

13. As it is written, He hath sparfed abroad, and hath given to the poore: his benecolence remaineth for ever.

14. Also he that sareth seed to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiply your seede, and increase the fruite of your benecolence,

15. That on all parts ye may bee made rich vnto all liberality, which cansteth through vs thanksgiving vnto God,

16. For the ministrati- on of this service not onely supplieth the necessities of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thanksgiving of many vnto God.

17. (Which by the experience of this ministrati- on praise God for your voluntary submission to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberall distribution to them, and to all men.)

18. And by their prayer for you, Id. siring after you greatly for the abundant grace of God in you.

19. Thankes therefore be vnto God for his vn- speakable gift.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authority exhorting them to obedience. 11. & so. weth what his power is, 12. and how hee vseth it.

Now I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meek- nes, and gentlenes of Christ, which when I am present among you, am base, but am bolde toward you being absent:

1. And that I require you, that I need not to be bold when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to bee bold against some, which effectue vs as though wee walked according to the flesh.

2. Nevertheless though we walk in the flesh, yet we doe not warre after the flesh,

3. (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mighty through God, to cast downe holds)

4. Casting downe the imaginations, and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captiuitie every thought to the obedience of Christ,

5. And having ready the vengeance against all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

6. Look ye on things after the appearance? if any man trust in himselfe that he is Christs. let him consider this again of himselfe, that as he is Christs, euens so are we Christs.

7. For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath giuen vs for edi- fication, and not for your destruction, I should haue no shame.

8. This I say, that I may not seeme as it were to feare you with letters.

9. For the letters, such he are fore and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is of no value.

10. Let such one thinke this, that such as wee are in word by letters, when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

11. For we dare not make our felicitie of the num- ber, or to compare our felicitie to them, which praise themselves, but they vnderstand not that they mea- sure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves with themselves.

12. But we will not reioyce of things which are not within our measure, * but according to the mea- sure of the line, wherof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to attaine euen vnto you.

13. For we stretch not our felicitie beyond our mea- sure, as though we had not attained vnto you: for e- uen to you also haue we come in preaching the Gos- pel of Christ,

14. Not boasting of things which are without our measure: that is, of other mens labours: & we hope when your faith shall increase, to bee magnified by you according to our fine abundantly,

15. And to preach the Gospell in those regions, which are beyond you: not to reioyce in anothers mans line, that is, in the things that are prepared al- ready.

16. * But let him that reioyceth, reioyce in the for. 9. 24. Lord.

17. For hee that praiseth himselfe, is not allowed, 1. cor. 14. but he whom the Lord praiseth.

CHAP. XI.

He declareth his affliction toward them. 5. The excellency of his ministry, 9. and his diligence in the same. 13. The ferdies of the false apostles. 16. The per- uerse iudgement of the Corinthians, 22. and his vaine praies.

Would to God, ye could suffer a little my foo- lishnesse, and indeed ye suffer me.

2. For I am zealous ouer you with godly lonfies for I haue prepared you for one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to Christ,

3. But I leaue left as the * serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, so your minds should be cor- rupt from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4. For if he that commeth, preacheth another Ie- sus then him whom we haue preached: or if ye re- ceiae another spirit then that which ye haue recei- ued: either another Gospel then that ye haue recei- ued, ye might well haue suffered him.

5. Verely I suppose that I was not inferior to the very chiefe Apostles.

6. And though I be rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledge, but among you wee haue bin made manifest to the vtmost in all things.

7. Haue I committed an offence, because I aba- sed my selfe, that ye might be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8. I robbed other Churches, and tooke awayes of them to doe you service.

9. And when I was present with you, & had need, I was not slowfull to the hinderance of any man: for that which was lacking vnto mee, the brethren which came from Macedonia, supplied, and in all things I kept and will keepe my selfe, that I should not be * grieuous vnto you.

10. The truth of Christ is in me, that this reioy- Chap. 13. ciug shall not bee shut vp against me in the regions 13. 41. of Achaia.

11. Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12. But what I do, that will I doe: that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion, that they might be found like vnto vs in that wher- in they reioyce.

13. For such false apostles are deceitfull workers, and transfigureme themselues into the Apostles of Christ.

14. And no maruell, for Satau himselfe is trans- formed into an Angel of light:

15. Therefore it is no great thing, though his mi- nisters transfigureme themselves, as though they were the ministers of righteousness, who stand shall be according to their works.

16 I say againe, Let no man think that I am foolish, or else take mee such as a fowle, that I also may boast my selfe a little.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this my great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce after the flesh, I wil reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 For ye suffer, euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man denoure you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face:

as I ſpeak as concerning the reproch: as though that we had beene weake: but wherein any man is bold (I ſpeake as a foole) I am bold alſo.

CHAPTER XII.

1 He reioyceth in his preformance, 5 7 but chiefly in his humbleness, 11 And layeth the cause of his blessings upon the Corinthians, 13 He sheweth what good will he beareth them, 20 and promisseth to come unto them.

IT is not expedient for mee no doubt to reioyce:
For I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

Acts 9.3. I know a man in Christ about fourteen yeres agoe (whether he were in the body, I cannot tell, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the third heauen.

3 And I know such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth)

4 How that he was taken vp into Paradife, and heard wordy which cannot be spoken, which are not possible for man to vtter.

5¹ Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will Not reioyce, except it be of mine infirmities.

¶ For though I would reioyce, I should not be a foole: for I will say the truth, but I reſtraine, left any man ſhould thinke of me aboue that he ſeeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted out of measure, through the abundance of revelations, there was given unto me a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord thrise, that it might depart from me.

And he said unto mee, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my power is made perfect through weakness. Very gladly therefore will I reioyce rather in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ may dwell in me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproches, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christ's sake : for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I was a foole to boast my selfe: ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue bene commended of you: for in nothing was I inferior vnto the very chefe Apostles though I be nothing.

13 The signs of an Apostle were wrought among you with all patience, with signs and wonders and great works:

13 For what is it, wherein yee were inferiours unto other Churches, "except that I haue not been flouthfull to your hinderance? forgive mee this wrong.

14 Beholde, the third time I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be slothfull to your hinderance: for I seeke not yours, but yours: for the children ought not to lay v^p for the fathers, but the fathers for the children.

15 And I will most gladly bestow, and will be bestowed for your I soales: though the more I loue you, the lesse I am loued.

16 But bee it that I charged you not: yet foras-much as I was crafty, I tooke you with guile.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whome I sent vnto you?

18 I have desired Titus, and with him I have sent a brother: did Titus tell you of any thing? walked we not in the selfe same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 Again, think ye that we excuse our selves vnto you? we speake before God in Christ. But we doe all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I feare, left when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would: and that I shall be found vnto you such as ye would not, and left there be sterile, enuoying, wrath, contentions, backbitings, whisperings, wellwills, and discord.

as I fear left when I come againe, my God abase me among you, and I shall bewaile many of them which haue sinned already, and haue not repented of the vnchastitie and fornication, and wantonnes, which they haue committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Her threatenings the obstinate, y and declareth what his power is by the r owne testimony. 10 And sheweth what is the effect of this epistle. 11 After having exhorted them to their duty, he wisheth them all prosperity.

This is the third time that I come unto you.* In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word stand.

3 I tolde you before, and tell you before, as though I had bene present the second time, to write I now being absent to them which heretofore have feared, and to all others, that if I come againe, I will not spare.

3 Seeing that ye seek experience of Christ that he speaketh in me, which toward you is not weak, but is mightie in you.

4 For though hee was crucified concerning his infirmities, yet hitherto he through the power of God. And we no doubt are weak in him: but wee shall live with him, through the power of God toward you.

5 * Prone your selves whether ye are in the faith: examine your selves: know ye not your own selves, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye bee reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray vnto God that ye do none euill, not that we should seeme approued, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 For we cannot do any thing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad when wee are weak, and that ye are strong: this also wee will for, see your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these things being absent, lest when I am present, I should vie hartnes according to the power which the Lord hath giuen me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally brethren, fare ye well: be perfect & be of good comfort: be of one mind: line in peace: and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

12 Greete one another with an * holy kisse. All Rom. 16 the Saints salute you.

13 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the holy Ghost be with you all. Amen.

* The second Epistle to the Corinthians, written from Philippi, a city in Macedonia, and sent by Titus and Lucas.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE

Paul to the Galatians.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Galatians after they had bene instructed by S. Paul in the truth of the Gospel, gave place to false disciples, who entering in, in his absence, corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, and taught that the ceremonies of the Law must necessarily be observed, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he promoueth that the granting thereof is the overthrow of mans saluation purchased by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the Testaments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false teachers did pretend as though they had bene sent of the chiefe Apostles, and that Paul had no authority, but spake of himselfe, he prometh both that he is an Apostle ordained by God, and also that he is not inferior to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he proceedeth to his purpose, proving that we are freely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which not withstanding in their time had their use and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnpromisable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ the truth and the end thereof is come: wherefore men ought now to embrace that liberty, which Christ hath purchased by his blood, and not to haue their consciences shrouded in the gremmes of mans traditions: finally, hee sheweth wherein this liberty standeth, and what exercises appertaine thereto.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul rebuketh their inconsistency which suffered themselves to be seduced by the false apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the law were necessary to saluation. 8 and detesteth them that preach any otherwise than Christ purely. 12 He sheweth his own conuersation magnifieth his office and Apostleship, and declareth himselfe to be equal with the chiefe Apostles.

Paul * an Apostle (not of men, neither by man, but by Iesus Christ, and God the Father, which hath raised him from the dead)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace bee with you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 Which gaue himselfe for our finnes that hee might deliuer vs * from this present euill world, according to the will of God, euen our Father,

5 To whom be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I maruell that ye are so soon removed away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the grace of Christ,

7 Which is not another Gospel, see that there bee some which trouble you, and intend to pervert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that we, of an Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise, than that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, if any man preach vnto you otherwise then that yee haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For now preach I mans doctrine, or Gods? he goe I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 * Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after man:

12 For neither receiued I it of man: neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past in the Iewish religion, how that I * persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it,

14 And profited in the Iewish religion about many of my companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

16 To reueale his Sonne in mee, that I should preach him * among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither came I againe to Ierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres I came againe to Ierusalem to visit Peter, & abode with him fiftene daies.

was not circumcised.

Justification by faith.

The La

19 And none other of the Apostles sawe I, sine Iames the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write vnto you, be- hold, I write before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coasts of Syria and Cilicia: for I was unknown by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard onely some say, He which persecuted vs in time past, now preacheth the faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6 and that hee is wishing inferior to other Apostles: 11 yea and that he hath reposed Peter the Apostle of the Iewes. 16 After hee cometh to the principall scope, which is to prove that iustification onely cometh of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the works of the Law.

Then fourteene yeeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and communicated with them of the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles. * but particularly with them that were the chiefe. leat by any meanes I should blame, or had tunc in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with mee, though he were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised,

4 For all the false brethren that crept in: who came in principally to trie our liberie. which wee haue in Christ Iesus, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whom we gaue no place by subiection for an houre, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 And of them which seemed to be great I was not laughy (what they were in time past, it maketh no matter to me: * God accepteth no mans person) neuertheless they that are the chiefe, did communicate nothing with me.

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto mee, as the Gospel of the circumcision was vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mighty by Peter in the Apostleship over the circumcision, was also mighty by me to ward the Gentiles)

9 And when Iames, and Cephas, & Iohn knew of the grace that was giuen vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they came to me, and to Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should preach vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the Circumcision,

10 * Warning only that we should remember the poore: which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 ¶ And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstood him to his face: for hee was to bee blamed.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, he are with the Gentiles, but when they were come, he withdrew & separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the Circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him in so much that Barnabas was brought into their disimulation also.

14 But when I saw, that they were not the right way to the truth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Jew, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why constrainest thou the Gentiles to doe like the Iewes?

15 We which are Iewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles.

16 Know that a man is not iustified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Iesus Christ, such we, I say, haue beleued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the Law, because that by the works of the law, no flesh shalloe iustified.

17 * If then while we seek to be made righteous by Christ, wee our selues are found sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I builde againe the things that I haue destroyed, I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Law, am dead to the Law, and that I might liue vnto God, I am crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue, yet not I now, but Christ liueth in mee, and in that that I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the Son of God, who hath loosed me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I doe not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousness be by the law, then Christ died [with] out a cause.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee rebuketh them sharply, 2 and prooueth by diuers reasons that iustification is by faith, 6 as appeareth by the example of Abraham, 10 19, 24 and by the office, and the end, both of the Law, 11, 25 and of faith.

Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that yee should not obey the truth, to whom Iesus Christ before was described in your sight, and among you crucified?

2 This only would I learne of you. Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

3 Are ye so foolish, that after yee haue begun in the Spirit, ye would now bee made perfect by the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine? if so be it bee euen in vaine.

5 Hee therefore that ministrerth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doth he it thowrow the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 Ye rather as Abraham beleued God, and it was * imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which bee of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the works of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, * Cursed is euerie man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the booke of the Lawe to doe them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the Lawe is not of faith: but the * man that shall doe those things, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the law, when hee was made a curse for vs (for it is written, * Cursed is euerie one that hangeth on a tree)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that wee might receiue the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speake as men doe, * Though I be but a mans conceipt, which is confirmed, yet no man doth abrogate it. or addeth any thing thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his ſeed were the promiſes made. He ſaith not, And to the ſeedes as thou ſaith of many: but, And to thy ſeed, as o. one, which is Chriſt.

17 And this I ſay that the Law which was ſonne hundred and thirty yeeres after, cannot diſannul the conſtant that was confirmed afore of God in reſpect of Chriſt, that it ſhould make the promiſe of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance bee of the Lawe, it is no more by the promiſe, but God gaue it vnto Abraham by promiſe.

19 Wherefore then ſerueth the Law? It was added becauſe of the tranſgreſſions, till the ſeed came vnto the which the promiſe was made: and it was ordained by Angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of one: but God is one.

21 Is the Law then againſt the promiſe of God? God forbid: for if there had bene a Law giuen which could haue giuen life, ſurely righteouſneſſe ſhould haue bene by the Law.

22 But the Scripture * hath concluded all vnder ſinne, that the promiſe by the faith of Ieſus Chriſt ſhould be giuen to them that beleaue.

23 But before faith came, wee were kept vnder the Lawe, and ſhut vp vnto the: faith, which ſhould afterward be revealed.

24 Wherefore the * Law was our Schoolemaſter, to bring vs to Chriſt, that wee might bee made righteous by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder a Schoolemaſter.

26 For ye are all the ſonnes of God by faith in Chriſt Ieſus.

27 *For all ye that are baptized into Chriſt, haue put on Chriſt.

28 There is neither Iew nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Chriſt Ieſus.

29 And if ye bee Chriſts, then are ye Abrahams ſeed, and heires by promiſe.

CHAP. IIII.

2 He ſheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordained. 3 Where being ſhadowes, muſt not when Chriſt the truth cometh. 4 The mouth is ſealed by certain exhortations. 22 and confirmeth his arguments with a ſtrong example of allegory.

T hen I ſay, that the heire, as long as hee is a child, differeth nothing from a ſeruant, though hee be lord of all,

2 But is vnder tutors and gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the Father.

3 Euen ſo we when we were children, were in bondage vnder the rudiments of the world.

4 But when the fulneſſe of time was come, God ſent forth his Sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the Law,

5 That he might redeeme them which were vnder the Law, * that we might receiue the adoption of the ſonnes.

6 And becauſe ye are ſonnes, God hath ſent forth the Spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, which crieth, Abba Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a ſeruant, but a ſonne: now if thou be a ſonne, thou art alſo the heire of God through Chriſt.

8 But euen then when ye knew not God, ye did ſerue vnto them, which by nature are not gods.

9 But now ſeeing ye know God, ye, rather are knowne of God, how true ye againe vnto impotent and beggerly rudiments, whereunto as from the beginning, ye will be in bondage againe?

10 Ye obſerue dayes, and months, and times, and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, leſt I haue beſtowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Be ye as I: for I am euen as you: brethren I beſeech you, ye haue not hurt me at all.

13 And ye knowe, how through infirmity of the fleſh, I preached the Goſpel vnto you at the firſt.

14 And the triall of mee which was in my fleſh, ye deſpiſed not, neither abhorred: but ye received me as an Angel of God, yea, as Chriſt Ieſus.

15 What was then your felicitie: for I beare you record, that if it had bene poſſible, yet would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, becauſe I tell you the truth?

17 They are iſcariots ouer your amiſſe, yea they would exclude you, that ye ſhould altogether loſe them.

18 But it is a good thing to loſe carnally alwayes in a good thing, * and not onely when I am preſent with you,

19 My little children, of whom I trauell in birth againe, vntill Chriſt be formed in you.

20 And I would I were with you now, that I might change my voice: for I am in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that will be vnder the Law, do ye not heare the Lawe?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two ſonnes, * one by a ſeruant, and * one by a free woman.

23 But he which was of the ſeruant, was borne after the fleſh: and hee which was of the free woman, was borne by promiſe.

24 By the which things another thing is meant: for theſe myſters are the two Teſtaments, the one which is Agar of mount Sina, which gendereth vnto bondage, 25 (For Agar or Sina is a mountaine in Arabia, and it ſtandeth to Ieruſalem which now is) and hee is in bondage with her children.

26 But Ieruſalem, which is Iſraell, is free: which I ſay is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, * Reioice thou barren that beareſt no children: breake forth, and cry, thou that trauaileſt not: for the deſolate hath many moe children then ſhe which hath an husband.

28 * Therefore brethren, we are after the maner of Iſaac, children of the promiſe.

29 But as then he that was borne after the fleſh, perſecuted him that was borne after the ſpirit, euen ſo is it now.

30 But what ſaith the Scripture? * Put out the ſeruant and her ſonne: for the ſonne of the ſeruant ſhall not be heire with the ſonne of the free woman.

31 Then brethren, wee are not children of the ſeruant, but of the free woman.

CHAP. V.

2 He laboureth to draw them away from circumciſion. 17 And ſheweth them the lawe of the ſpirit and the fleſh, and the ſpirit of Iſraell.

Stand faſt therefore, in the libertie wherewith Chriſt hath made vs free, and be not entangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

* Behold, I Paul ſay vnto you, that if ye be circumciſed, Chriſt ſhall profit you nothing.

3 For I tell thee againe to curſe you, which is circumciſed.

canceled, that he is bound to keepe the whole Law.

4 Ye are ^{abolished} from Christ: whoeuer are iustified by the Law ye are fallen from grace.

5 For through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ neither circumcision aniseth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Yee did runne well: who did let you, that yee did not obey the truth?

8 ^{It is} not the perswasion of him that calleth you.

9 ^{A little leaven} doeth leaue ^{the} whole lump.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord, that yee will be none otherwise minded, but hee that troubleth you, shall beare ^{his} condemnation, whoeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slander of the crosse affected.

12 Would to God they were euen cut off, which doe disquiet you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bin called vnto liberty: onely vnto ^{your} liberty as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the Lawe is fulfilled in one worde, which is this, ^{Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.}

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heed lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, ^{Walke in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh.}

17 For the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other, so that yee cannot doe the same things that ye would.

18 And if ye be led by the Spirit, yee are not vnder the Law.

19 Moreover, the workes of the flesh are manifest, which are: adultery, fornication, vncleanness, wantonnesse,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulation, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies,

21 Enuie, murders, drunkennesse, gluttony, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as also I haue told you before, that they which do such things, shall not inherit the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is loue, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentlenesse, goodnesse, faith, 23 Meekenesse, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 For they that are Christs haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lusts.

25 If we liue in the Spirit, let vs also walke in the Spirit.

26 Let vs not be desirous of vaine glory, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

1 He exhorteth them to vs gentlenesse toward the weak, 2 and to show their brotherly loue and modesty, 6 Also to provide for the ministers, 9 to persevere, 14 to stay in the crosse of Christ, 15 to newnesse of life, 16 And to set of all wishes to them with the will of the flesh full all propriety.

Brethren, if a man be fallen, by occasion, into any fault, yee which are spirituall, restoree such one with the spirit of meekenesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou be also tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfil the Law of Christ.

3 For if any man seeme to himselfe, that hee is somewhat, when he is nothing, hee deceiveth himselfe in his imagination.

4 But let euery man praise his owne worke, and then shall he haue reioycing in himselfe onely, and not in another.

5 ^{For euery man shall beare his owne burden.}

6 Let him that is taught in the word, make him that hath taught him, partaker of all ^{his} goods.

7 Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reape.

8 For he that soweth to the flesh, shall of the flesh reape corruption: but hee that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the spirit reape life euertlasting.

9 Let vs not therefore be weary of well doing: for in due season we shall reape, if we faint not.

10 While wee haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, but specially vnto them which are of the household of faith.

11 ^{Ye see how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand.}

12 As many as desire to make a faire shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, onely because they would not suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For they themselves which are circumcised, keepe not the law, but desire to haue you circumcised, that they might reioyce in you.

14 But God forbid that I should reioyce but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, whereby ^{the} world is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the world.

15 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor vncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace shall be vpon them, and mercie, and vpon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man put mee to businesse: for I beare in my body the marks of the Lord Iesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit. AMEN.

¶ Vnto the Galatians written from Rome.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Ephesians.

THE ARGUMENT.

While Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which hee had taught them, by reason whereof he wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing which they had learned of him. And first, after his salutation, he assureth them of saluation because they were therunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed up to his eternall life by the holy Ghost, giuen vnto them by the Gospel, the knowledge of the which mysterie hee prayeth God to confirme toward them. And to the intent they should not glory in themselves, hee sheweth them their veruaine miserie, wherein they were plunged before they knewe Christ, as people without God, Gentiles, in whom the promises were not made, and yet by the free mercy of God in Christ Iesus they were found, and he appointed to be their Apostles, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desired God to lighten the Epistles hearts with the perfect understanding of his Law, and exhorteth them likewise to be minded full of grace, lest they be moved with the false apostles, which seek to overthrow their faith, and tread under foot the Gospel, which was first preached to them by chosen or fortune, but according to the eternal counsel of God, who by this means preferreth only his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministry, forasmuch as God thereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring forth most plentiful fruits, as innocency, holiness, with all such of- fices, appertaining to godliness. Last of all he declareth not only in generall, but also to be the life of the Chris- tians: but also for each particularly, what things concerne every mans vocation.

CHAP. I.

1 After his salutation, as beforesaid, that the chiefest cause of their salvation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them giving thanks, and praying God for their faith. 21 The Mainie of Christ.

PAUL an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, to the * Saints which are at Epheſus, and to the faithfull in Christ Iesus.

2 Grace be with you, & peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 * Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which hath blessed vs with all spiritual blessing in heavenly things in Christ.

4 * As hee hath chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the world, that we * should be holy, and without blame before him in love:

5 Who hath predestinated vs to be adopted through Iesus Christ vnto himselfe according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, where- with he hath made vs accepted in his beloved,

7 By whom wee have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of finnes, according to his rich grace:

8 Whereby he hath bene abundant toward vs in all wisdom and understanding,

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mystery of his will according to his good pleasure which hee had purposed in him,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times he might gather together in one all things both which are in heauen, and which are in earth, euen in Christ:

11 In whom also we are chosen when wee were predestinate according to the purpose of him, which worketh all things after the counsell of his owne will.

12 That we which first trusted in Christ, should be vnto the praise of his glorie:

13 In whom also ye have trusted, after that yee heard the word of truth, euen the Gospel of your salvation, wherein also after that yee beleueed, yee were sealed with the holy Spirit of promise.

14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vntill the redemption of the possession purchased vnto the praise of his glory.

15 Therefore also after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, and loue toward all the Saines,

16 I cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of glory, might giue vnto you the Spirit of wisdom, and reuelation through the knowledge of him,

18 That the eyes of your vnderstanding may be lightened, that ye may know what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of his glorious inheritance in the Saines,

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power toward vs, which beleeue, * according to the Col. 1. 28. Chap. 3. 7.

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his right hand in the heauenly places,

21 For about all principallitie, and power, and might, and domination, and euerie Name that is named, not in this world only, but also in that that is to come,

22 * And hath made all things subject vnder his feet, and hath appointed him ouer all things to bee the head of the Church,

23 Which is his body, euen the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all things.

CHAP. II.

1 To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the only cause of salvation, 11 He sheweth them what manner of people they were before their conuersion, 18 And what they are now in Christ.

AND * you hath bene quickened that were dead in Col. 2. 13. Atreſpases and finnes,

2 Wherein times past yee walked, according to the course of this world, and after the * prince that ruleth in the ayre, euen the spirit, that now worketh in the children of disobedience.

3 Among whom we also had our conuersion in time past, in the lusts of our flesh, in fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the mind, and were by nature the children of wrath, as well as others.

4 But God which is rich in mercie, through his great loue wherewith hee loved vs,

5 Euen when wee were dead by finnes, hath quickened vs together in Christ, by whose grace ye are faued,

6 And hath raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenly places in Christ Iesus,

7 That hee might shew in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnes toward vs in Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace ye are faued through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God,

9 Not of works, lest any man should boast himselfe.

10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordained, that wee should walke in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that yee being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, and called * vncircumci- 1. Sem. 17. of them, which are called circumcision in the 2. Cor. 12. 11. flesh, made with hands, 12 That yee were, 7/7, at that time without Christ, and were aliens from the Common wealth of Israel, and were * strangers from the Covenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the world.

13 But now in Christ Iesus, yee which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ.

14 For hee is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stop of the partition wall,

15 In abrogating through his flesh the hatred, which was, the Law of Commandments which bound desire in ordinances, for to make of twaine, one new man in himselfe, by making peace.

16 And that hee might reconcile both vnto God for death in one body by his crosse, and slay hatred thereby.

17 And came and preached peace to you which were at enmity off, and to them that were enemics.

Rom. 3. 18 For through him wee both haue an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.

19 Now therefore, ye are no more strangers and forreiners; but citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God;

20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophetes, Iesus Christ himselfe being the chiefe corner stone,

21 In whom all the building coupled together groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord;

22 In whom ye also are built together, to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. I I I.

1 Her sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13 desireth them not to faint because of his trouble, 14 and praiseth God to make them steadfast in his Spirit.

For this cause, I Paul am the prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 If yee haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you ward,

3 That is, that God by reuelation hath shewed this mysterie vnto mee, (as I wrote aboue in fewe words.

4 Whereby when ye reade, yee may know mine vnderstanding in the mysterie of Christ)

5 Which in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and Prophetes by the Spirit,

6 That the Gentiles should bee inheritors also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel,

7 Whereof I am made a Minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto mee through the working of his power.

8 *Euen vnto me the least of all Saints, is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the *Gentiles, the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the *mysterie is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, who hath created all things by Iesus Christ,

10 To the intent, that now vnto principalities and powers in heavenly places, might bee known by the Church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternal purpose, which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord, 12 By whom wee haue boldnesse and entrance with confidence by faith in him.

13 Wherefore I desire that yee faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ;

15 (Of whom is named the whole familie in heauen and in earth.)

16 That hee might grant you according to the riches of his glory, that yee may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that yee being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to know the loue of Christ which passeth knowledge, that yee may be filled with all fulnesse of God.

20 *Vnto him (whereof that is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that wee aske or thinke 25. according to the power that worketh in vs.

21 Be praise in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

C H A P. I I I I.

He exhorteth them vnto vnderstanding long suffering, vnto loue and peace, 3. euerie one to serue and to love another with the gifts that God hath giuen him, 14. to beware of strange doctrines, 22. to lay aside the old conuersion of greedy lusts and to walke in new life.

1 Therefore being prisoner in the Lord, pray you As hat ye walke worthy of the vocation wherunto col. 1. 12. ye are called,

2 With all humblenesse of minde, and meeknesse, with long suffering, supporting one another through loue,

3 Endeavouring to keepe the vnitie of the spirit in the bond of peace,

4 There is one bodie, and one spirit, euen as yee are called in one hope of your vocation,

5 There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme,

6 *One God and Father of all, which is aboue all, and through all, and in you all.

7 *But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, *When hee ascended vp on high, hee led captiuitie captiue, and gave gifts vnto men.

9 (Now in that hee ascended, what is it but that hee had also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth?)

10 He that descended is euen the same that ascended farre aboue all heauens, that hee might fill all things)

11 *He therefore gave some to be Apostles, and I Cor. 12. some Prophetes, and some Euangelists, and some pastors and teachers.

12 For the gathering together of the Saints, for the wo ke of the ministry, and for the edification of the body of Christ.

13 Till wee all meete together (in the vnitie of faith and knowledge of the Sonne of God) vnto a perfect man, and vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christ, 14 That wee henceforth bee no more children, wanting, and caried about with every wind of doctrine, by the deceit of men, and with craftinesse, whereby they lye in waite to deceive.

15 But let vs follow the truth in loue, and in all things grow vp into him, which is the head, that is, Christ.

16 By whom all the body being coupled & knit together by euery ioynt, for the furniture thereof according to the (seuall power which is in the measure of euery part) receiveth increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.

17 This I say therefore and testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walke not as *other Gentiles walke in vanitie of their mind,

18 Having their cogitation darkened, and being strangers from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardnesse of their heart:

19 Which beeing I past *feeling, haue giuen them selfes vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vnclean- Rom. 1. 21. nesse, euen with greedinesse.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If so be ye haue heard him, and haue bene taught by him, as the truth is in Iesus,

22 *That is, that yee cast off, concerning the con- Col. 3. 2. uersion our faces in time past, the whole man which is corrupt through the detestable lusts.

19. And be renewed in the spirit of your minds.

20. And put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

21. Wherefore cast off lying, and speak every man truth unto his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

22. Be angry, but sinne not: let not the Sunne goe downe vpon your wrath.

23. Neither giue place to the deuill.

24. Let him that stole, steal no more: but let him rather labour, and worke with his hands the thing which is good, that hee may haue to giue vnto him that needeth.

25. Let no corrupt communication procede out of your mouthes: but that which is good, to the use of edifying, that is may minister grace vnto the hearers.

26. And grue not the holy Spirit of God, by whom yee are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

27. Let all bitterness, and anger, and wrath, crying, and euill speaking be put away from you, with all malitiousnes.

28. Be ye courteous one to another, and tender hearted, forgiving one another, euen as God for Christes sake forgiues you.

29. Be ye courteous one to another, and tender hearted, forgiving one another, euen as God for Christes sake forgiues you.

C H A P. V.

1 He exhorteth them vnto loue, 2 warneth them to beware of vncleanesse, courteousnesse, foolish talking and false doctrine, 3 to be circumspect, 4 to avoid drunkennesse, 5 to reioyce and to be thankfull toward God, 6 to submit themselues one to another, 7 to be true in all things, 8 to be true in all things,
9 to be true in all things, 10 to be true in all things.

BE ye therefore followers of God as deare children.

2 And walke in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, to be an offering and a sacrifice of a sweet smelling sauour to God.

3 But fornication, and all vncleanesse, or concupiscence, let it not bee once named among you, as it becometh Saints,

4 Neither filthinesse, neither foolish talking, neither iesting, which are things not comely, but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, neither vnclean person, nor concubinous person, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 Let no man deceiue you with vaine words:
for, for such things cometh the wrath of God vpon
the children of disobedience.

7 Be not therefore companions with them.

8 For ye were once darkenesse, but are now light in the Lord: walke as children of light,

9 (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodnes and righteousness, and truth)

10 Approouing that which is pleasing to the Lord,

11 And haue no fellowship with the vniuersall workes of darknes, but euen reprove them rather.

12 For it is shame euen to speake of the things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things when they are reprobued of the light, are manifest: for it is light that maketh all things manifest.

14 Wherefore: hee saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from the dead, and Christ shall giue thee light.

15 Take heed therefore that yee walke circumspectly, as ye would be wise, as ye would be wise.

16 Redeeeming the time: for the dayes are euill.

17 Wherefore, bee ye not vaine: but vnder-stand what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunken with wine, wherein is encellation: but be filled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in Psalmes, and Hymnes, and Spirituall songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts,

20 Singing thanks alwayes for all things vnto
God, euen the Father, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ,

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the fear of God.

22 Wives, submit your selues vnto your husbands as vnto the Lord.

23 For the husband is the wiues head, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and the same is the saviour of his body.

24 Therefore, as the Church is in subiection to Christ, euen so let the wiues be to their husbands in euery thing.

25 Husbands, loue your wiues, euen as Christ
loued the Church, and gaue himselfe for it,

26 That he might sanctifie it, and cleanse it by the washing of water through the word,

27 That he might make it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing spot or wrinkle or any such thing: but that it should bee holy and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues as their owne bodies: hee that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord doth the Church.

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shal cleaue to his wife, and they twaine shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great secret, but I speake concerning Christ, and concerning the Church.

33 Therefore eury one of you do so: let eury one of you loue his wife euen as himselfe, and let the wife see that she feare her husband.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Philippians.

THE ARGUMENT.

Paul being warned by the holy Ghost to go to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi, a chiefe of the same country: but because his charge was to preach the Gospel vniuersally to all the Gentiles, hee re-mailed from place to place, till at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, wherof the Philippians being aduer-sified, sent their Minister Epaphroditus with reliques vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, confessed him to write this Epistle, wherein he commendeth them that they stood manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good will toward them, and exhorteth them that his imprisonments make them not so shrink: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed, and not diminished: especially hee comforteth them to cease ambition, and to imitate modestie, promising to send Timotheus vnto them, who should in speciall sort increase more amply yea, and that hee himselfe would also come vnto them, adding therein the cause of their Ministers to loue abode. And because there were no greater enemies to the cross then the false apostles, hee comforteth their false doctrine by proving inely Christ to bee the end of all true Religion, with whom wee haue all things, and without whom wee haue nothing, so that his death is our life, and his resurrection our iustification. After this followe certaine admonitions both particular and generall, with testification of his affection toward them, and thankesfull accepting of their beneuolence.

CHAP. I.

1 Saint Paul discovereth his heart toward them, 2 By his thanksgiving, 3 prayers, 8 and wishes for their faith and saluation. 7. 12. 20. He sheweth the fruit of his Crosse, 15. 27. and exhorteth them to re-uerence. 8. 23. patience.

PAUL and Timotheus the seruants of Iesus Christ, to all the Saints in Christ Iesus which are at Philippi, with the Bishops and Deacons:

1 Grace bee with you, and peace
from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ,

2 I thank my God for you in perfect ieouism,

3 ¶ Always in all my prayers for all you, praying with gladnesse

4 Because of the fellowship which ye haue in the Gospel, from the first day vnto now.

5 And I am persuaded of this same thing, that hee that hath begun this good worke in you, will performe it vntill the day of Iesus Christ,

6 As it becometh me so to iudge of you all, because I haue you in remembrance, that both in my bands, & in my defence, and confirmation of the Gospel you all were partakers of my grace.

7 For God is my record, how I long after you all from the very heart roote in Iesus Christ.

8 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudge-ment,

9 That ye may discern things that I differ from another, that ye may be pure, and without offence, vntill the day of Christ,

10 Filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Iesus Christ vnto the glory and praise of God,

11 ¶ I would ye vnderstood, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto mee, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel.

12 So that my bands in Christ are famous thoroughout all the Iudgement hall, and in all other places,

13 Inasmuch that many of the brethren in the Lord are bolded through my bands, and dare more frankly speake the word.

14 Some preach Christ euen through emule and strife, and some also of good will.

15 The one part preach Christ of contention, and not partly, supposing to add more affliction to my hands.

17 But the others of love, knowing that I am for the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? yet Christ is preached all manner ways, whether it be under a pretence, or sincerely: and therein I joy: yea, and will joy.

19 For I know that this shall turne to my salvation through your prayer, and by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ.

20 As I feruently looke for, and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes so now Christ shall bee magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For Christ is to mee both in life, and in death advantage.

22 And whether to liue in the flesh more profitable for me, and what to chuse I know not.

23 For I am greatly in doubt on both sides, desiring to be loosed, and to bee with Christ, which is best of all.

24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.

25 And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and ioy of your faith.

26 That yee may more abundantly reioyce in Iesus Christ for me, by my continuing to you againe.

27 *Oonly let your conversation be, as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or elie be absent, I may heare of your matters that ye continue in one Spirit, and in one minde, fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.

28 And in nothing faile your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition, and to you of salvation, and that of God.

29 For vnto you it is given for I Christ, that not only ye should beleue in him, but also suffer for his sake.

30 Having the same fight, which yee saw in me, and now haue to be in me.

CHAP. II.

31 He exhortheth them about all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is clearly maintained, 14 promising that he and Timotheus will speedily come vnto them, 27 And excuseth the long tarrying of Epaphroditus.

32 If there be therefore any consolation in Christ if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion and mercy,

33 Fulfill my loy, that yee be like minded, hauing the same love, being of one accord, and of one iudgement, 34 That nothing be done through contention, or vaine glory, but that in meeknesse of mind * every man esteeme other better then himselfe.

35 Looke not every man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of other men.

36 Let the same minde be in you that was enen in Christ Iesus,

37 Who being in the forme of God, thought it no robbery to be equal with God:

38 * But he made himselfe of no reputation, and tooke vpon him the forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, and was found in shape as a man.

39 * Hee humbled himselfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the Crosse.

40 Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name aboue euery name,

41 * That at the Name of Iesus should euery knee bow, both of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth.

42 * And that euery tongue should confesse, that Iesus Christ is the Lord, vnto the glory of God the Father.

43 Wherefore my beloved, as yee haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence onely, but now much more in mine absence, so make an ende of your owne salvation with feare and trembling.

44 For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deed, through of his good pleasure.

45 Doe all things without murmuring and reuiling.

46 That ye may be blamelesse and pure, as the sonnes of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a naughty and crooked nation, among whom ye shine as * lightes in the world.

47 Holding forth the word of life, that I may reioyce in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vaine, neither haue laboured in vaine.

48 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I am glad, and reioyce with you all.

49 For the same cause also be yee glad, and reioyce with me.

50 And I trust in the Lord Iesus, to send * Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I may also bee of good comfort when I know your state.

51 For I haue no man like minded, who will faithfully care for your matters.

52 * For all seeke their owne, & not that which is Iesus Christ.

53 But yee knowe the prooffe of him, that as a sonne with the father, hee hath furnished me in the Gospel.

54 Him therefore I hope to send as soon as I know how it will goe with me.

55 And trust in the Lord that I also myselfe shall come shortly.

56 But I supposed it necessary to send my brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in labour, and fellow souldier, even your messenger, and hee that ministered vnto me such things as I wanted.

57 For he longed after all you, & was full of heaviness, because ye had heard that he had bin sicke.

58 And no doubt hee was sicke very neere vnto death: but God had mercy on him: and not on him only, but on me also: lest I should haue sorrow vpon sorrow.

59 I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when yee should see him againe, yee might reioyce, and I might be the lesse sorrowfull.

60 Receiue him therefore in the Lorde with all gladnesse, and make much of such:

61 Because that for the worke of Christ hee was neere vnto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that seruice which was lacking on your part toward me.

CHAP. III.

62 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 Against whom he saith Christ. 4 Likewise himselfe, 9 and his doctrine, 12 and reprooveth many among them who are idle.

63 Wherefore, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It mighte mee not to write the same things to you, and for you it is a sure thing.

64 Beware of dogs, beware of euill workers, beware of the circumcision.

65 For wee are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reioyce in Christ Iesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh:

66 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesh, if any other man thinke that he hath where-

Epaphras had prayed, wishing them increase of faith, to obtain the excellency of Gods house to them, teaching them also that salvation is by what ever good thing can be desired, standing upon in Christ, whom they were embraced by the Gospel. But first, as the full brethren would have heard the Law with the Gospel, he toucheth those passages verily, and exhorteth the Colossians to stay only in Christ, without whom all things are but in vain. And as for circumcision, he sheweth from nature, external holiness, worshipping of Angels, in places whereby to come to Christ, he utterly condemneth, shew-ing what was the office and nature of ceremonies which by Christ are abrogated: so that with the exercise of the Christian stand in meditation of the first principle of life, with other like offices appertaining unto godly and pious life to all the faithful.

CHAPTER I

1. Hezekiah thanks God for their faith, 2. Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 3. Prayeth for the increase of their faith, 13. He sheweth unto them the true Christ, 14. discovereth the counterfeit Christ of the false Apostles, 25. He approacheth by authority and force, 28. and of his faithful execution of the same.

Aulan Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2. To them which are at Colosse,
Saints and faithful brethren in Christ:
Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3. We give thanks to God even the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, always praying for you:

4. Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of your love toward all Saints,

5. For the hopes sake which is layde vp for you in heauen, wherof yee haue heard before by the word of truth, which is the Gospel,

6. Which is come vnto you, euen as it is vnto all the world, and is fruitfull, as it is also among you, from the day that yee heard and truly knewe the grace of God.

7. As ye also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow seruant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

8. Who hath also declared vnto vs your loue, which ye haue by the Spirit.

9. For this cause we also since the day wee heard of it, cease not to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his will, in all wisdom, and spiritual vnderstanding,

10. That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, and please him in all things, being fruitful in all good works, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

11. Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, vnto all patience, and long suffering with ioyfullnesse,

12. Giving thanks vnto the Father, which hath made vs merite to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light,

13. Who hath delivered vs from the power of darkenesse, and hath translated vs into the kingdome of his deare Sonne,

14. In whom wee haue redemption through his blood, that is the forgiveness of sinnes,

15. Who is the image of the invisible God, the first begotten of every creature,

16. For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and invisible: whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principallities, or Powers, all things were created by him, and for him,

17. And hee is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18. And hee is the head of the body of the Church: he is the beginning, and the first borne of the dead, that in all things hee might haue the pre-eminence.

19. For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulnesse dwell,

20. And by him to reconcile all things vnto himselfe, and to set at peace through the blood of his crosse, both the things in earth, and the things in heauen.

21. And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because your minds were in dark-nesse, hath he now also reconciled,

22. In the body of his flesh through death, to make you holy, and blameable, and without foule in his sight,

23. If ye continue grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not mooued away from the hope of the Gospel, wherof yee haue heard, and which hath become preached to every creature which is vnder heauen, wherof I Paul am a minister.

24. Now reioyce in my sufferings for you, and fulfill the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,

25. Wherof I am a minister, according to the dispensation of God, which is given mee vnto you-ward, to fulfill the word of God,

26. Which in the mysterie hid since the world began, and from all ages, but now is made manifest to his Saints,

27. To whom God would make known what is the riches of his glorious mysterie among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory,

28. Whom we preach, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that wee may present every man perfect in Christ Iesus:

29. Wherunto I also labour and strime, according to his working which worketh in mee mightily.

CHAPTER II

1. Having protesteth his good will towards them, 4.
he admonesteth them not to turne backe from Christ,
8. to the seruice of Angels or any other invention, or else ceremonies of the Law, 17. which haue fastned their office, and are ended in Christ.

For I would yee knowe what great fighting I for paine haue for your sakes, and for them of Laodicea, and here, and for as many as haue not scene my person in the flesh,

2. That their hearts might be comforted, and they knit together in loue, and in all riches of the full assurance of vnderstanding, to know the myste-rie of God, euen the Father & of Christ:

3. In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4. And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words:

5. For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, reioicing, & beholding your order, in I your stedfast faith in Christ.

6. As ye haue therefore receiued Christ Iesus
the Lord, so walke in him,

7. Rooted and built in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8. Beware, lest there be any man that spoile you through philosophic, and vaine deceit, through the traditions

traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.

Eph. 1.19. 9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily.

10. And ye are complete in him; which is the head of all principallie and power:

Rom. 3.20. 11 In whom also ye are circumcised with * circumcision made without hands, by putting of the fountaine body of the flesh, through the circumcision of Christ,

Rom. 6.4. 12 In that yee are * buried with him through Baptisme, in whom ye are also raised vp together;

Eph. 1.19 through the faith of the operation of God, which raised him from the dead.

Eph. 2.1. 13 * And you which were dead in finnes, and in the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath hee quickened together with him, forgiving you all your trespasses,

Eph. 2.13 And putting on the * hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, which was contrary to vs, hee euent took it out of the way, and fastened it vpon the crosse.

Eph. 2.13 And hath spoiled the principallities and powers, and hath made a shew of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the same crosse.

16. Let no man therefore condemne you in meat and drinke, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moone, or of the Sabbath dayes,

17. Which are but a shadow of things to come: but the body is in Christ.

18 * Let no man at his pleasure heare rule ouer you by humbleness of minde, and worshipping of Angels, aduancing himselfe in those things which hee neuer sawe, rashly putt vp with his fleshly minde.

19. And holdeth not the head, whereof all the body is furnished and knit together by ioynts and bands, increaseth with the increasing of God.

20. Wherefore it yee be dead with Christ from the ordinances of the world, why as though ye liued in the world, are ye burdened with traditions?

21. Touch not, Taste not, Handle not:

22. Which all perish with the vsing, and are after the commandments, and doctrines of men:

23. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

24. Touch not, Taste not, Handle not:

25. Which all perish with the vsing, and are after the commandments, and doctrines of men:

26. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

27. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

28. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

29. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

30. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

31. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

32. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

33. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

34. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

35. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

36. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

37. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

38. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

39. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

40. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

41. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

42. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

43. Which things haue in deed a shew of wisdom in voluntarie religion and humbleness of minde, and in not sparing the body neither haue they it in any estimation to satisfie the flesh.

wrath, anger, malitiousnesse, cursed speaking, filthy speaking out of your mouth.

10. Lie not one to another, seeing that yee haue put off the old man with his workes,

11. And haue put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge, * after the image of him that created him,

12. Where is neither Grecian nor Jew, circumcison nor vncircumcison, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free, but Christ is all, and in all things.

13. * Now therefore as the cleet of God holy and beloved, put on tender mercie, kindnesse, humble, meeknesse, meeknesse, long sufferings,

14. Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another if any man haue a quarrell to another: even as mercon, Christ forgave you, euen so doo ye.

15. And about all these things put on loue, which is the bond of perfectnesse.

16. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts to the which ye are called in one body, and bee ye familiar.

17. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing your owne selues in Psalmes and Hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing with a * grace in your hearts to the Lord.

18. And whatsoever ye shall do in word or deede, do all in the Name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thanks to God, euen the Father by him.

19. * Wines, submit yourselves vnto your husbands, as it is comely in the Lord.

20. * Husbands loue your wines, and be not bitter vnto them.

21. * Children, obey your parents in all things, for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

22. Fathers prouoke not your children to anger: lest they be discouraged.

23. * Seruants, bee obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, in all things, not with eye seruice as men pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing God.

24. And whatsoever yeer doe, doe it heartily, as to the Lord, and not vnto men,

25. Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receiue the reward of the inheritance: for yee serue the Lord Christ.

26. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

27. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

28. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

29. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

30. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

31. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

32. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

33. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

34. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

35. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

36. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

37. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

38. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

46. But he that doeth wrong, he shall receiue for the wrong that he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

C H A P. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to bee feruent in prayer

2 To walke wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. Hee salueth them, and wisheth them all prosperitie.

3 * Masters, doe vnto your seruants that which is iust and equall, knowing that yee also haue a master in heauen.

4 * Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving,

5 * Praying also for vs, that God may open vnto vs the doore of vterance, to speake the mystry of Christ: wherefore I am also in bonds,

6 That I may utter it as it becommeth mee to speake.

7 * Walk wisely toward them that are without, and redeeme the time.

8 Let your speech bee gracious alwayes, and powdered with salt, that yee may know how to answer enery man.

9 * Tytacus our beloued brother and faithful minister, and fellow seruant in the Lord, shall declare

1 He sheweth where we should seeke Christ. 5 He exhorteth to mortification.

10 To put off the old man, and so put on Christ. 12 To the which be addeth exhortations both generall and particular to charitie and humilitie.

13 If ye then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are aboue, where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.

14 Set your affections on things which are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth.

15 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

16 When Christ which is our life, shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glory.

17 * Mortifie therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, vncleannesse, the inordinate affection, euill concupiscence, and courtesies which is idolatrie.

18 For the which things takes the wrath of God commeth on the children of disobedience.

19 Wherein ye walked once, when ye liued in them.

20 * But now put ye away euen all these things,

21 Anger, wrath, malitiousnesse, cursed speaking, filthy speaking out of your mouth.

22 Lie not one to another, seeing that yee haue put off the old man with his workes, ¶ Written from Rome to the Colosians, and sent by Tychicus and Onesimus.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Theſſalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the Theſſalonians had bene well instructed in the faith, persecution, which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospel, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet S. Paul (as most careful for them) sent Timothy to strengthen them, who came after admonishing him of their estate, gave occasion in the Apostles to confirm them by diuers arguments to be constant in faith, and to suffer: whereupon God calleth them vnto for the testimony of the Gospel, exhorting them to declare by their good living, the purity of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be so purged, that some cockle remaine not among the wheat, so there were among them wicked men, which by moouing vaine and curious questions to overthrow their faith, taught falsly, as touching the point of the resurrection from the dead, whereof he briefly telleth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to seeke curiously to know the times, wishing them rather to watch, lest the sudden coming of Christ come upon them as vnwares; and so after certain exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, he endeth.

CHAP. I.

2. He thanketh God for them that they are so fast in faith and good works, 6. and receiue the Gospel with such earnestnesse, 7. that they are an example to all others.

PAUL and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

1. ¶ Wee giue God thanks alwayes for you all, making * mention of you in our prayers

2. Without ceasing, remembering your effectuall faith, and diligent loue, & the patience of your hope in our Lord Iesus Christ, in the sight of God, euen our Father,

3. Knowing, beloued brethren, that yee are elect of God.

4. For our Gospel was not vnto you in word onely, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance as ye knowe after what manner wee were among you for your sakes.

5. And yee became followers of vs and of the Lord, and receiued the word in much affliction, with ioy of the holy Ghost,

6. So that ye were as [examples] to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

7. For from you sounded out the worde of the Lorde, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely: but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that we need not to speake any thing.

8. For they themselves shew of you what manner of entering in we had vnto you, and how ye turned to God from idoles, to serue the lining and true God,

9. And to looke for his Son from heauen, whom hee raised from the dead, euen Iesus which deliuereth vs from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

2. To the intent they should not faint vnder the crosse, 2. hee commendeeth his diligence in preaching, 13. and theirs in obeying. 18. He excuseth his absence, that he could not come and open his heart to them.

FOR yee your selues knowe, brethren, that our entering in vnto you was not in vaine,

2. But euen after that we had suffred before, and were shamefully intreated at * Philippis (as ye know) wee were bolde in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God with much straining.

3. For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vncleanesse, nor by guile,

4. But as wee were allowed of God, that the Gospel should be committed vnto vs, we so speake, not as they that please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5. Neither yet did we euer use flattering wordes, as yee knowe, nor coloured countenauce, God is record.

6. Neither sought wee praise of men, neither of you, nor of others,

7. When we might haue bene [chargeable] as the Apostles of Christ: but we were gentle among you, euen as a nurse cherisheth her children.

8. Thus beeing affectioned toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because we were deare unto vs.

11. 12

10. For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail for we laboured day and night, because we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, and preached the Gospel of God.

11. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and blamelessly we behaved our selves among you that beleue.

12. As ye know how that wee exhorted you, and comforted, and besought every one of you (as fathers their children)

13. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you into his kingdome and glory.

14. For this cause also thanke wee God without ceasing, that when ye received of vs the word of the preaching of God, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeede, the word of God, which also worketh in you that beleue.

15. For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God; which in Iudea are in Christ Iesus, because ye have also suffered the same things of your owne country men, euen as they have of the Iewes.

16. Who both killed the Lord Iesus and their owne Prophets, and have persecuted vs, and God they please not, and are contrary to all men.

17. And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fulfil their sinnes alwayes: for the wrath of God is come on them to the vtmost.

18. Forasmuch brethren, as wee were kept from you for a season, concerning fight, but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see your face with great desire.

19. Therefore we would haue come vnto you, (I Paul at least once or twice) but Satan hindered vs.

20. For what is our hope or ioy, or crowne of glorying? are not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his coming?

21. Yee, ye are our glory and ioy.

CHAP. III.

1. Herewith how greatly he was affectioned toward them, both in that he first ministered to them; and also prayed for them.

2. Herefore since we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone,

3. And haue sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, & our labour-fellow in the Gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,

4. That no man should be mooued with these afflictions: for ye your selues know, that wee are appointed thereunto.

5. For verely when we were with you, we tolde you before that wee should suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and ye know it.

6. Euen for this cause when I could no longer forbear, I sent him that I might knowe of your faith, lest the tempest had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

7. But now lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and loue, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as wee also doe you,

8. Therefore brethren, wee had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessitie through your faith.

9. For now are wee alive, if yee stand fast in the Lord.

10. For what thanks can we recompense to God against the you, for all the ioy which wee enjoy coe for your sakes before our God;

11. Night & day, praying exceedingly that wee might see your face, & might accomplish that which is lacking in your faith.

12. Now God himselfe, euen our Father, and our Lord Iesus Christ guide our journey vnto you.

13. And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in loue one toward another, and toward all men, euen as wee do toward you.

14. To make your hearts stable, and blameable in holines before God euen our Father, at the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saints.

CHAP. IIII.

1. He exhorted them to holiness, 6. Timotheus, 9. Loue, 11. Labor, 13. & moderation in lamenting for the dead, 17. Describing the end of the resurrection.

2. And far hermore we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that ye increase more and more, as yee haue received of vs, how ye ought to walke, and to please God.

3. For ye know what commandements we gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

4. For this is the will of God, euen your sanctification, and that yee should abstaine from fornication,

5. That every one of you should know, how to possesse his vessel in holinesse and honour,

6. And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God.

7. That no man oppress or desire his brother in any matter: for the Lord is iudger of all such things, as wee also haue told you before time and testified.

8. For God hath not called vs vnto vncleanesse, but vnto holinesse.

9. He therefore that despiseth these things despiseth not man, but God who hath euen giuen you his holy Spirit.

10. But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write: vnto you: for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

11. Yea, and that thing verely ye doe vnto all the brethren which are thoroughout all Macedonia: but we beseech you brethren, that ye increase more and more.

12. And that ye studie to be quiet, and to meddle with your owne businesse, and to worke with your own hands: as we commanded you,

13. That ye may behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without, and that nothing be lacking vnto you.

14. I would not brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them which are asleepe, that yee know not euen as other which haue no hope.

15. For if wee beleue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euen so them which sleepe in Iesus, will God bring with him.

16. For this say wee vnto you by the word of the Lord, that wee which liue, and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not preuent them which sleepe.

17. For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heauen with a shout, and with the voyce of the Archangel, and with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

18. Then shall wee which liue and remaine, be caught vp with them also in the cloudes, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and so shall wee euer be with the Lord.

16 Wherefore comfort your felow one another with these words.

CHAP. V.

17 He sheweth them of the day of iudgement, and coming of the Lord: 18 exhorting them to watch, 19 And to rejoyce such as in each Gods word among them.

17 Of the times and seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write vnto you.

18 For yet your felues know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall come, euen as a thiefe in the night.

19 For when they shall say, Peace and safety, then shall come vpon them sudden destruction, as the travail vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape.

20 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should come vpon you as it were a thiefe. Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkness.

21 Therefore let vs not sleepe as do others, but let vs watch, and be sober.

22 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the night, & they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

23 But let vs which are of the day be sober, putting on the breast-plate of faith and loue, and the hope of saluation for an helmet.

24 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtaine saluation by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ.

25 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we should liue together with him.

26 Wherefore exhort one another, and edifie

one another, euen as ye doe.

27 Now we beseech you brethren, that ye know them, which labour among you, and are vnto you in the Lord, and admonish you.

28 That ye know them in singular loue for their works sake. Be at peace among your felues.

29 We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are vnto you: comfort the feeble minded: beare with the weak: be patient toward all men.

30 See that none recompense euil for euil vnto any man: but euer follow that which is good, both toward your felues, and toward all men.

31 Reioyce euermore.

32 Pray continually.

33 In all things give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

34 Quench not the spirit.

35 Despise not prophesying.

36 Try all things, and keepe that which is good.

37 Abstaine from all appearance of euil.

38 Nowe the very God of peace sanctifie you throughout: and pray God that your whole spirit, and soule and body may be kept blamelesse vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

39 Faithfull is he which calleth you, which will also doe it.

40 Brethren pray for vs.

41 Greet all the brethren with an holy kisse.

42 I charge you in the Lord, that this Epistle be read vnto all the brethren the Saints.

43 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you, Amen.

44 The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

1. That the Thessalonians should thinke that Paul neglected them, because he went to other places: rather than because he came to them, he writeth vnto them and exhorteth them to patience and other fruits of faith, which to be vnto them, that vaine opinion of such a taught, that the coming of Christ was at hand, first much as before that day there should be a falling away from true Religion, euen by a great part of the world, and that Antichrist should reigne in the Temple of God: finally commending himselfe to their prayers, and encouraging them to constancie, he writeth them to correct such sharply, as the safety of other mens labours, whereof if they do not obey his admonitions, he commandeth so excommunicate.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth God for their faith, loue & patience. 2 He prayeth for the increase of the same. 3 And sheweth what fruit shall come thereof.

4 Paul and Silvanus and Timotheus vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God our Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ:

5 Grace be with you, and peace from GOD our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

6 We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euery one of you toward another aboundeth.

7 So that wee our felues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, because of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

8 Which is a token of the righteous iudgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for the which ye also suffer.

9 For it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you.

10 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, when the Lord Iesus shall shew himselfe from heaven with his mighty Angels.

11 In flaming fire, rendering vengeance vnto them that do not know God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ.

12 Which shall be punished with euermlasting perdition, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power.

13 When hee shall come to bee glorified in his Saints, and to bee made maruailous in all them that beleeue: because our testimony toward you was beleeued in that day.

14 Wherefore we also pray alwayes for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodnesse, and the worke of faith with power.

15 That the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and yet in him, according to this grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ.

CHAP.

CHAP. II.

For we wish that the day of the Lord shall come, as it is written, that the day shall come as a thief in the night, & the time of Antichrist. And therefore he exhorts them not to be deceived, but to stand fast in the things that he hath taught them.

Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

That yee be not suddenly moued from your minds, nor troubled, neither by spirit, nor by words, nor by letters, as it were from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

Epist. 2. 3 Let no man deceive you by any meanes; for that day shall come, except there come a departing first, and that man of sin be disclosed, and the sonne of perdition.

4 Which is an aduersary, and exalteth himselfe against all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing himselfe as he is God.

5 Remember yee not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For the mystery of iniquity doth already worke: onely he which now withholdeth, shall let till he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall the wicked man be revealed, whose the Lord shall consume with the Spirit of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightnesse of his coming.

9 Euen now whose coming is by the working of Satan, with all power, and signes, and lying wonders,

10 And in all deceiuablenesse of vnrightheousnesse among them that perish, because they receiued not the loue of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleue lies,

12 That all they might be damned which beleueed not the truth, but had pleasure in vnrightheousnesse.

13 But wee ought to giue thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation through sanctification of the Spirit, & the faith of truth.

14 Whereunto hee called you by our Gospel, to obtaine the glory of our Lord Iesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and keepe the instructions which yee haue bene taught, either by word, or by our Epistle.

16 Now the same Iesus Christ our Lord, and our God, euen the Father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euermouring consolation, and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every word and good worke.

CHAP. III.

He desired them to pray for him, that the Gospel might prosper, and giue them warning to reprove the idle. And to wisheth them all wealth.

Furthermore, brethren, pray for vs, that the word of the Lord, may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as it is with you.

2 And thus we may be deliuered from unreasonable and euill men: for all men haue not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, which will stablish you, and keepe you from euill.

4 And we are persuaded of you, that our Lord, that he both doe and will doe the things which wee command you.

5 And the Lord guide your hearts to the loue of God, and the waiting for of Christ.

6 Wee commend you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that yee withdraw your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction which he receiued of vs.

7 For yee yourselves know how yee ought to follow vs: for we behaue not our selues inordinately among you.

8 Neither tooke wee bread of any man for ought: but we wrought with labour and traunse night and day, because we would not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not but that we had authoritie, but that we might make our selues an example vnto you to follow vs.

10 For euen when wee were with you, this wee warned you of, that if there were any which would not worke, that he should not eat.

11 For we heard, that there are some which walke among you inordinately, and worke not at all, but are busie bodies.

12 Therefore them that are such, wee command & exhorte by our Lord Iesus Christ, that they worke with quietnesse, and eat their owne bread.

13 And yee, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14 If any man obey not our sayings, note him by a letter, and haue no company with him, that hee may be ashamed.

15 Yet counthim not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of mee Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the token in euery Epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

The second Epistle to the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL to Timotheus.

THE ARGUMENT.

In writing this Epistle Paul seemed not one who haue respect to teach Timotheus, but chiefly in keeping order in Law, which would haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And therefore hee doeth arme him against those ambitious questionists, which vnder pretence of zeale to the Law, diquitted the pearly with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Law, they knew not what was the chief end of the Law. And as for himselfe, hee confesseth his vnrightheousnesse, that hee sheweth to what worthinesse the grace of God had preferred him: and therefore hee willeth prayers to be made for all degrees and sorts of men, because

...that God by offering his Gospel: and Christ Jesus himself in blood for a ransom to all men at his precious blood: which is precious to the Gentiles, without which, And first, much of God hath been manifested in his Church to bring men to salvation, but afterwards what manner of men they ought to be: so when the mystery of the Son of God manifested in the flesh is committed to be practiced. After that he sheweth what trouble the Church at all times hath suffered, but especially in the latter days, when all under pretence of religion maintain such things contrary to the word of God. This done he teacheth what wisdom should be received or refused to minister unto the sick: also what all Elders ought to be chosen into office, and how men ought to be diligent in ministering, next in judging any: also what is the duty of Ministers, the manner of supplications of want, of consolation, of comfort, of prayer, and what all things be charged him to be careful of.

CHAP. I.

1 He reburreth Timotheus to write upon his office, namely to see that nothing be taught but Gods word, &c. 2 Declaring that faith with a good conscience, charity, and obligation are the end thereof. 3 And sheweth faith of Hymeneus and Alexander.

As an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the Commandement of God our Saviour, and of our Lord Iesus Christ our hope,

2 I Veto Timotheus my naturall son in the faith, Grace, mercy, and peace from God our Father, and from Christ Iesus our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou maiest command some, that they teach none other doctrine.

4 Neither that they give heed to fables and genealogies, which are endlesse, which breed questions rather then godly edifying which is by faith.

5 For the end of the Commandment is love out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned.

6 From the which things some have erred, and have turned vnto vaine jangling.

7 They would be doctors of the Lawe, and yet understand not what they speake, neither whereof they asseme.

8 And we know that the Law is good, if a man use it lawfully.

9 Knowing this, that the Law is not given vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to the unholy, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whomsoever they bebuggerers, to men fleeters, to liars, to the perjured, and if there bee any other thing that is contrary to whole some doctrine,

11 Which according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

12 Therefore I thanke him which hath made me strong, that is, Christ Iesus our Lord: for he counted me faithfull, and put me in his service:

13 When before I was a blasphemers, and a persecutor, & an oppressor: but I was received to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbellefe.

14 But the grace of our Lorde was exceeding abundant with faith and love, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This I as true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be received, that Christ Iesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause I was received to mercie, that Iesus Christ should first shew on mee all long suffering vnto the example of them, which shall in time to come beleeue in him vnto eternall life.

17 Now vnto the King everlasting, immortall, Inuisible, vnto God eternally, with honour and glory, for ever and ever, Amen.

18 This commandement commit I vnto thee, son Timotheus according to the prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shouldst fight a good fight;

19 Having faith and a good conscience, which some have put away, and as concerning faith have made shipwracke.

20 Of whom is Hymeneus & Alexander, whom I have deliuered vnto Satan, that they might learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, & especially, 2 and bene, 3 As touching the apperall of Ministers of women.

I Exhort therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men,

2 For kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4 Who will that all men should be saved, and come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For there is one God, and one Mediator betweene God and man, which is the man Christ Iesus,

6 Who gave himselfe a ransom for all men, to be a testimony in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an Apostle, (I speake the truth in Christ, and lie not): and as a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and veritie.

8 I will therefore that the men pray, every where lifting vp pure hands, without wrath or doubting.

9 Likewise also the women, that they array themselves in comely apparrell, with shamed, honest, and modestie, not with broidred haire, or gold, or pearles, or costly apparrell,

10 But (as becometh women that profess the feare of God) with good works.

11 Let the woman learn, in silence with all subiection.

12 I permit not a woman to teach, neither to usurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to bee in silence.

13 For Adam was first formed, then Eue.

14 And Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shall be saved, if they continue in faith, and love, and holines with modestie.

CHAP. III.

1 He declareth what is the office of ministers, 11 and as touching their families, 15 the dignity of the Church, 16 and the principall parts of the beatusly doctrine.

This is a true saying (if any man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a worthy worke.

2 A Bishop therefore must be vnreproucable, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, modest, haborous, apt to teach,

3 Not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthy lucre, but gentle, no fighter, not contentious.

4 One that can saue his owne house honestly, his children in vader obedience with all honesty.

9 For if any cannot rule his owne house, how shall he care for the Church of God?

10 He may not be a young scholler, least he being pushed vp fall into the condemnation of the deuill.

11 He must also be wel reported of, ones of them which are without, lest hee fall into rebuke, and the share of the deuill.

12 Likewise must Deacons be honest, not double tongued, not giuen vnto much wine, neither to filthy laze.

Chap. 19. 13 Having the mystery of the faith in pure conscience.

14 And let them first be proued: then let them minister, if they be found blamelesse.

15 Likewise their wives must be honest, not euill speakers, but sober and faithfull in all things.

16 Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.

17 For they that haue ministered well, get themselves a good degree and great liberty in the faith, which is in Christ Iesus.

18 These things write I vnto thee, trusting to come very shortly vnto thee.

19 But if I tary long, that thou mayest yet know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ground of truth.

20 And without controwersie great is the mystery of godlinesse, which is, God is manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seene of Angels, preached vnto the Gentiles, beleueed on in the world, and receiued vp in glory.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He teacheth him what doctrine he ought to keepe, 6. 8. 11 and what to follow, 15 and wherein he ought to exercise himselfe continually.

Now the Spirit speaketh evidently, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, and shall give heed vnto spirits of error, and doctrines of deuils.

2 Which speake lies through hypocrisie, and haue their consciences burned with an hot yron,

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstaine from meats, which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thanks of them, which beleuee and know the truth.

4 For euery creature of Gods good, and nothing ought to bee refused, if it be receiued with thanksgiving.

5 For it is sanctified by the worde of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hath bene nourished vp in the wordes of faith and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.

Chap. 14. 7 But cast away profane and old wines fables, and exercise thy selfe vnto godlinesse.

2. Tim. 2. 8 For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, which hath the promise of the life present, and of that that is to come.

9 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to bee receiued.

10 For therefore we labor and are rebuked, because we trust in the liuing God, which is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that beleuee.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth, but bee vnto them that beleuee, an example in word, in conversation, in loue, in spirit, in faith and in pure conscience.

13 Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.

14 Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee by prophesie with the laying on of the hands of the company of the Eldership.

15 These things exercise and giue thy selfe vnto them; that if it may bee seene how thou profitest among all men.

16 Take heed vnto thy selfe, and vnto learning, continue therein: for in doing this thou shalt both save thy selfe, and them that heare thee.

10 Or thou

CHAP. V.

1 He teacheth him how he shall behaue himselfe in reuoking al degrees. 2 An order concerning widowes.

17 The establishing of ministers. 19 The gouernance of the body, 24 and the iudgements of flours.

Rebuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, and the younger men as brethren.

2 The Elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all purenesse.

3 Honour widowes, which are widowes in deed.

4 But if any widow haue children or nephewes, let them learne first to shewe godlinesse toward their owne house, and to recompense their kindred: for that is an honest thing, and acceptable before God.

5 And she that is a widow indeed, and left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayer night and day.

6 But shee that leueth in pleasure, is dead, while she liueth.

7 These things therefore command, that they may be blamelesse.

8 If there be any that prouideth not for his own, and namely for them of his household, he denieth the faith, and is worse then an infidell.

9 Let not a widow bee taken into the number vnder threescore yeere olde, that hath bene the wife of one husband,

10 And well reported of for good works: if she haue nourished her children, if shee haue lodged the strangers, if she haue washed the Saints feete, if she haue ministered vnto them which were in aduersitie, if she were continually giuen vnto euery good worke.

11 But refuse the younger widowes: for when they haue beguine to waxe wanton against Christ, they will marrie, 12 Having damnation, because they haue broken the first faith.

13 And likewise also being idle, they learne to go about from house to house: yea, they are not onely idle, but also praters and busie bodies, speaking things which are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marrie, and beare children, and gouerne the house, and giue none occasion to the aduersary to speake euill.

15 For certaine are already turned backe after Satan.

16 If any faithfull man or faithfull woman haue widowes, let them minister vnto them, and let not the Church be charged, that there may be sufficient for them that are widowes in derde.

fill the mouth of the one that readeth out y^e cosine:
and, *The labourer is worthy of his wages.

19 Against an Elder receive none accusation, but under two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sime, rebuke openly, that the rest also may feare.

21 *I charge thee before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the Elect Angels, that thou abstaine these things without y^e preferring one to another, and do nothing partially.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, lest thou be partaker of other mens sinnes: keepe thy selfe pure.

23 Drinkke no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomakes sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 Some mens sinnes are open before hand, and goe before vnto judgement: but some mens follow
after.

25 Likewise also the good workes are manifest beforehand, and they that ate otherwise, cannot be hid.

CHAP. VI.

1 The duty of servants toward their masters. 3
Against such as are not satisfied with the word of God.
4 Of true godliness, and contentation of mind. 9 Against covetousnesse. 11 A charge given to Timothy.

12 As many *servants as are vnder the yoke, L count their masters worthy of all honour, that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not euill spoken
of.

13 And they which have beloning masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do service, because they are faithfull, and beloued, and partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

14 If any man teach otherwise, & consenteth not to the wholesome wordes of our Lord Iesus Christ, and to the doctrine, which is according to godlinesse,

15 He is pult vp, and knoweth nothing, but doteth about * questions and strife of words, whereof cometh enuie, strife, railings, euill surmising,

16 Vaine disputations of men of corrupt mindes, and destitute of the truth, which thinke that gainie is godlinesse: from such separate thy selfe.

17 But godlinesse is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.

18 *For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine, that we can carry nothing out.

8 Therefore when wee haue food and raiment, let vs therewith be content.

9 For they that will be rich, fall into temptation and feares, and into many foolish and noisome lusts, which drowne men in perdition and destruction.

10 For the desire of money is the roote of all euill, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorowes.

11 But thou, O man of God, see these things, and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, and meeknesse.

12 Fight the good fight of faith: lay holde of e-ternall life, whereunto thou art called, and haue professed a good profession before many witnes-tes.

13 *I charge thee in the sight of God, who quickneth all things, and before Iesus Christ which vnder Pontius Pilate * witnessed a good confession,

14 That thou keepe this commandment without spot, and vnrebukeable, vntill the appearing of our Lord Iesus Christ,

15 Which in due time he shall shewe, that is
* blessed & praiſe only, the King of kings, and Lord of lords.

16 Who onely hath immortalitie, and dwelleth in the light, that none can attaine vnto, * whom neuer man saw, neither can see, vnto whom be honour and power eueralasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they bee not hie minded, and that they * trust not in vncertaine riches, but in the liuing God (which giueth vs abundantly all things to enjoy)

18 That they do good, and be rich in good works, and ready to distribute, and communicate.

19 *Laying vp in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may obtaine eternall life.

20 O Timothy, keepe that which is committed vnto thee, and auoyd prophane and vaine babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called,

21 Which while some profess, they haue erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee, Amen.

odicea, which is the chiefeſt citie of Phrygia

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF Paul to Timothy.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE APOSTLE being now ready to confirm: that doctrine with his blood, which he had professed and taught, encourageth Timothy (and in him all the faithfull) in the faith of the Gospel, and in the constant and firm confession of the same: wiling him not to shrinke for feare of afflictions, but patiently to attend the issue, as doeth vnto sinners, which at length receive the fruites of their labours, not to cast off all care, and carelesse doe which (seeke only to please their captiues): securing him, briefly the summe of the Gospel which he preached, commanding him to preach the same to others, diligently taking heed of constitutions, curious disputations, and vaine questions, to the intent that his doctrine may altogether chaste, considering that the examples of Hymeneus and Philetus, which denied the true doctrine of the resurrection, were so horrible. And yet to the intent that women should be offended at their fall, being men of authority and estimation, he sheweth that all that pro-fesse Christ, are not his, and that the Church is subiect to this calamitie, that the euill must dwell among the good till Gods triall come: yet he recomforteth them whom he hath elected, run to the end. And that Timothy should not be discouraged by the wicked, he declareth what abominable men and dangerous times shall follow, wiling him to arme himselfe with the hope of the good issue that God will giue vnto his, and to exercise himselfe diligently in the Scriptures, both against theauerſaries, & for the utility of the Church, desiring him to come soon for certain necessary affairs, and so with his and other salutious ends.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to steadfastness and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught him, 12 Whereof his bonds and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

And an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Iesus.

2 To Timotheus my beloved son: Grace, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from Iesus Christ our Lord.

3 I thank God, *whom I serve from mine elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

Desiring to see thee, mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with ioy:

5 When I call to remembrance the vniuersal faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance that thou stirre vp the gift of God, which is in thee, by the putting on of mine hands.

7 For God hath not given to vs the spirit of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sound mind.

8 Be not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, neither of me his prisoner: but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

9 Who hath saved vs, & called vs with an * holy calling, not according to our * workes, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to vs through Christ Iesus before the * world was,

10 But now is made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel, 11 * Wherunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed: for I knowe whome I haue beleened, and I am perswaded that hee is able to keepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

13 Keep the true paterne of the wholsome words which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

14 That worthy thing which was committed to thee, keepe through the holy Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned from me: of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

17 But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant vnto him, that hee may find mercie with the Lord at that day: me and in how many things he hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

2 He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manfully, and to abide fast in the wholsome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 shewing him the fidelity of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19 and the marke thereof.

Thou therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

3 And what things thou hast heard of mee thy many witnesses, the same deliver to faithfull men, which that be able to teach others also.

5 Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good soldier of Iesus Christ.

6 No man that warreth, entangleth himselfe with the affairs of this life, because he would please him that hath chosen him to be a soldier.

7 And if any man also strive for a masterie, he is not crowned except he strive as he ought to doe.

8 The husbandman must labour before he receiue the fruits.

9 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

10 Remember that Iesus Christ made of the seed of David, was raised again from the dead, according to my Gospel, 11 Wherin I suffer trouble as an evill doer, even vnto bonds, but the worde of God is not bound.

12 Therefore I suffer all things for the * Elects sake, * they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternal glory.

13 It is a true saying, For if wee be: * dead with him, we also shall liue with him.

14 If we suffer, we shall also raaigne with him: * If Matt. 10 we denie him, he also will denie vs.

15 If * we beleene not, yet abideth he faithfull: 8.38. he cannot deny himselfe.

16 Of these things put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they strine not about words, which is to no profit, but to the pernering of the hearers.

17 Studie to shew thy selfe approoued, vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to be ashamed, dividing the word of truth aright.

18 * Stay profane and vaine babblings: for they shall encrease vnto more vngodlinesse.

19 And their word shall fret as a canker: of which sort is Hymeneus and Philetus, 20 Which as concerning the truth haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of certaine.

21 But the foundation of God remaineth sure, and hath this seale, The Lord knoweth who are his: and let every one that calleth on * Name of Christ, depart from iniquitie.

22 Notwithstanding in a great house are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and earth, and some for honour, and some vnto dishonour.

23 If any man therefore purge himselfe from these, he shall be a vessel vnto honour, sanctified, and meete for the Lorde, and prepared vnto every good worke.

24 Flee also from the lusts of youth, and follow after righteousness, faith, loue, and peace, with them that * call on the Lord with pure heart,

25 * And put away foolish and vnlearned questions, knowing that they ingender strife.

26 But the seruant of the Lord must not strive, but must be gentle toward all men, apt to teach, suiting the euill men patiently,

27 Instructing them with meeknesse that are contrary minded, prouing if God at any time will giue them repentance, that they may know the truth, 28 And that they may come to amendment out of the snare of the deuil, which are taken of him at their will.

CHAP. III.

1 He prophesieth of the perillous times, 3.14. which our hypocrites in their colours, 12 sheweth the state of a ſerious proſper cometh of the ſcripture.

1. Tim. 3. 3. For men ſhalbe louers of their owne felicitie, concupiſcous, boſters, proud, curſed ſpeakers, diſobedient to parents, vnto inſull, vnholy.

3 Without natural affection, trucebreakers, falſe accuſers, intemperate, fierce deſpiſers of them which are good.

4 Traitors, heady, hie minded, louers of plea-ſures more then louers of God.

5 Having a ſhew of godlineſſe, but haue denied the power thereof, away therfore from ſuch.

6 For of this ſort are they which creepe into houſes, and lead captiue ſimple women, laden with ſinnes, and led with diuers luſts.

7 Which women are euer learning, and are neuer able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 And as Ianues and lambres withſtood Moſes, ſo dothe alſo reſiſt the truth, men of corrupt minde, probrate concerning the faith.

9 But they ſhall preuaile no longer: for their madneſſe ſhall be euident vnto all men, as theirs alſo was.

10 ¶ But thou haſt fully known my doctrine, maner of liuing, purpoſe, faith, long ſuffering, loue,
patience,

11 Perſecutions, and afflictions which came vnto me at Antiochia, at Iconium, and at Lyſtri, which perſecutions I ſuffered: but from them all the Lord deliuered me.

12 Yea and all that will liue godly in Chriſt Je-ſus, ſhall ſuffer perſecution.

13 But the euill men and deceiuers, ſhall waxe worſe & worſe, deceiuing, and being deceiued.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou haſt learned, and art perſwaded thereof, knowing of whom thou haſt learned them:

15 And that thou haſt known the holy Scriptures of a childe, which are able to make thee wiſe vnto ſaluation through the faith which is in Chriſt Jeſus.

16 ¶ For the whole Scripture is giuen by inſpiration of God, and is profitable to teach, to improue, to correct, and to inſtruct in righteouſneſſe.

17 That the man of God may be absolute, being made perfect vnto all good workes.

CHAP. liii.

1 He exhorteſt Timotheus to be ſeruant in the world, and to ſuffer aduerſitie, 6 Maketh mention of his owne death, 9 And ſendeth Timothy come vnto
him.

1 Charges thee therefore before God, and before the Lord Ieſus Chriſt, which ſhall iudge the quicke and dead at his appearing, and in his kingdom,

2 Preach the word: be inſtant, in ſeaſon and out of ſeaſon: improue, rebuke, exhort with all long ſu-ffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come, when they will not ſuffer wholeſome doctrine: but having their eares itching, ſhall after their owne luſts get them an heap of teachers.

4 And ſhall turne their eares from the truth, and ſhall be giuen vnto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things: ſuffer aduerſitie:
do the workes of an Evangelist: make thy miniſterie fully known.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departing is at hand.

7 I haue fought a good fight, and haue finiſhed my courſe: I haue kept the faith.

8 For henceforth is laid vp for mee the crowne of righteouſneſſe, which the Lord the righteous iudge ſhall giue mee at that day: and not to me onely, but vnto all them alſo that lone his appearing.

9 Make ſped to come vnto me at once:

10 For Demas hath forſaken me, and hath embraced this preſent world, & is departed vnto Theſſalonica. Creſcens is gone to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

11 ¶ Onely Luke is with me. Take Marke and Col. 4. 10, bring him with thee: for he is profitable vnto me to a miniſter.

12 And Tychicus haue I ſent to Ephelus.

13 The cloake that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou commeſt, bring with thee, & the bookes,
but ſpecially the parchments.

14 Alexander the copperſmith hath done mee much euill: the Lord reward him according to his workes.

15 Of whom bee thou ware alſo: for he with-ſtood our preaching ſore.

16 At my firſt anſwering no man aſſiſted me, but all forſooke me: I pray God, that it may not be laid to their charge.

17 Notwithſtanding the Lord aſſiſted mee, and ſtrengthened mee, that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles ſhould heare: and I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lyon.

18 And the Lord will deliuer me from every euill worke, and will preferre mee vnto his heavenly kingdome: to whom be praife for euer and euer, Amen.

19 Salute Priſca, and Aquila, & the houſhold of Cha. 1. 1

20 Eratus abode at Corinthus: Trophimus I

21 Make ſped to come before winter. Eubulus and all the bretheren.

22 The Lord Ieſus Chriſt be with thy ſpirit.
Grace be with you, AMEN.

THE ARGVMENT.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO Philemon.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great Argument and a declaration of the same. For farre passing the baseness of his master, he serveth as it were up to heaven, and speaketh with a divine grace and majesty. Onesimus servant to Philemon hath robbed his master, and fled away whom Paul having wonne to Christ sent againe to his master earnestly begging his pardon, with most weighty arguments, proving the duties of our Christians to another, and so wish salutations sendeth.

4 Hee reioiceth to heare of the faith and love of Philemon, 9 whom he desirith to forgive his servant Onesimus, and lovingly to receive him againe.

PAnd a prisoner of Iesus Christ, and our brother Timotheus, unto Philemon our deare friend, and fellow helper, 3 And to our deare sister Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow souldier, and to the Church that is in thine house:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

1. 1. 1. 3. 4 I * gine thanks to God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 (When I heare of thy love and faith which thou hast toward the Lord Iesus; and toward all Saints)

6 That the fellowship of thy faith may be made fruitfull, and that whatsoever good thing is in you through Christ Iesus, may be knowne.

7 For wee have great joy and consolation in thy love, because by thee, brother, the Saints hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I be very bold in Christ to command thee that which is convenient, 9 Yet for lones sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, even Paul aged, and even now a prisoner for Iesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son * Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds, 11 Which in times past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to mee.

12 Whom I have sent againe: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine owne bowels,

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the Gospel.

14 But without thy minde would I doe nothing, that thy benefite should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

15 It may bee, that hee therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever,

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, even as a brother beloved, specially to mee: how much more then unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If therefore thou count our things common, receive him as my selfe.

18 If he hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that putt on mine accounts,

19 I Paul have written this with mine owne hand: I will recompense it, albeit I doe not say to thee, that thou owest to mee, even thine owne selfe.

20 Yea, brother, let me obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my bowels in the Lord.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt doe even more than I say.

22 Moreover also prepare mee lodging: for I trust through your prayers, I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner in Christ Iesus, 24 Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, and Luke, my fellow helpers.

25 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with your spirit. AMEN.

¶ Written from Rome to Philemon, and sent by Onesimus a servant.

THE EPISTLE TO THE Hebrewes.

THE ARGUMENT.

Forasmuch as divers, both of the Greeke writers and Latines, witnesseth that the writer of this Epistle for his cause, would not have his name knowne, is were curiousitie of our parts to labour much therein. For seeing the spirit of God is the author thereof, it diminisheth nothing the authoritie, although we know not with what pen he wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or some other, his chiefe purpose is to perswade unto the Hebrewes, whereby hee principally meaneth them that abode at Ieru-salem,

Jerusalem, and under them all the rest of the Jewes: that Christ Iesus was not onely the redemner, but also that as his coming all ceremonies must have an end: for as much as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the prophetes, and therefore not onely Moses was inferior to him, but also the Angels: for they all were servants, and by the Lord, but so Lord, that he hath also taken our flesh, and is made our brother, to assure us of our salvation through himself: for hee is that eternall Priest, wherof all the Levitical Priests were but shadowes, and therefore as his coming they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proves from the 7. chapter verse 11. unto the 12. Chapter verse 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom all the Prophetes in some past misprised: as is declared from the 12. Chapter verse 18. to the 25. verse of the same Chapter: yea, and even King to whom all things are subject, as appeareth from that 25. verse to the beginning of the last Chapter. Wherefore, according to the examples of the old fathers, we must constantly believe in him, that having sanctified by his justice, taught by his wisdom, and governed by his power, we may steadfastly & courageously persevere: run to the end, in hope of that joy that is set before our eyes, occupying our selves in Christian exercises: that wee may both by thankesfull to God, and dutifull to our neighbours.

CHAP. I.

1 He sheweth the excellency of Christ above the Angels, 7 and of their office.

1 Sunday times, and in diners manners God spake in the olden time to our fathers by the Prophetes:

2 In the last dayes, he hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne, whom hee hath made heire of all things, by whom also hee made the worlds.

3 Who being the brightnesse of the glory, and the ingraued forme of his person, and bearing vp all things by his mighty word, hath by himselfe purged our finnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the Maiestie, in the highest places,

4 And is made so much more excellent then the Angels, inasmuch as hee hath obtained a more excellent Name then they.

5 For vnto which of the Angels said hee at any time, *Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee? and againe, *I will be his Father, and hee shall bee my Sonne?

6 And againe, when he bringeth in the first begotten Sonne into the world, hee saith, *And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And of the Angels he saith, *Hee maketh the Spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But vnto the Sonne hee saith, *O God, thy throne is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquitie, Wherefore God hath anointed thee with the oile of gladnesse above thy fellows.

10 And, *Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shall perish, but thou dost remaine: and they all shall waxe olde as doth a garment,

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them vp, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

13 Vnto which also of the Angels said hee at any time, *Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for their sakes which shall be heires of salvation?

CHAP. II.

1 Hee exhorteth vs to be obedient to the new Law which Christ hath giuen vs, and not to be offended at the infirmities and low degree of Christ, 10 Because it was necessary that for our sakes he should take such an humble state vpon him, that hee might by like vnto his brethren.

Wherefore, we ought diligently to giue heede to the things which wee haue heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by Angels was steadfast, and euery transgression and disobedience received a iust recompence of reward,

3 How shall we escape, if we neglected so great salvation, which at the first began to be preached by the Lord, and afterwards was confirmed vnto vs by them that heard him,

4 God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders, and with diuers miracles, and so gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For he hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels the world to come, whereof wee speake.

6 But *one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou shouldst bee mindful of him? or the sonne of man, that thou wouldst consider him?

7 Thou madest him a little inferior to the Angels: thou crownest him with glory and honour, and hast set him aboue the workes of thine hands.

8 *Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, hee left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. But wee yet see not all things subdued vnto him.

9 But wee see Iesus crowned with glory and honour, which was made a little inferior to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, seeing that he brought many children vnto glory, that he should consecrate the Prince of their saluation through afflictions.

11 For hee that sanctifieth, & they which are sanctified, are all of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren.

12 Saying, *I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the mids of the Church will I sing praise vnto thee.

13 And againe, *I will put my trust in him. And againe, *Behold, here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, hee also himselfe likewise tooke part with them, that hee might destroy *through death, him that had the power of death, that is, the deuill,

15 And that he might deliuer all them, which for feare of death were all their life time subiect to bondage.

16 For he in no sort tooke the Angels, but hee tooke the seede of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faithfull high Priest in things concerning God, that hee might make reconciliation for the finnes of the people.

18 For in that he suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

1 He requirerh them to be obedient vnto the word of Christ, & to be more worthy then Moyses. 2 The punishment of such as will harden their hearts, and not believe it, as they might haue eternall rest.

Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession, Christ Iesus:

3 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed him, even as * Moyses was in all his house.

4 For this man is counted worthy of more glory then Moyses, in as much as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

5 For every house is builded of some man, and hee that hath builded all things is God.

6 Now Moyses verely was faithfull in all his house as a servant for a witness of the things which should be spoken after.

7 But Christ was the Son, over his owne house, whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence and the reioycing of the hope vnto the end.

8 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost sayth, * To day if yee shall heare his voice, 9 Harden not your hearts as in the probation, according to the day of the temptation in the wilderness.

10 Where your fathers tempted mee, provoked mee, and saw my workes forty yeres long.

11 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and sayd, They erre even in their heart, neither haue they knownen my waies.

12 Therefore I sware in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest.

13 Take heede, brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an evil heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the living God.

14 But exhort one another daily, while it is called, To day, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

15 For we are made partakers of Christ, if wee keepe sure vnto the end the beginning wherewith we are vpholden, 16 So long as it is said, To day if yee heare his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the probation.

17 For some when they heard, provoked him to anger: howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moyses.

18 But with whome was hee displeased fourtie yeres? Was he not displeased with them that sinned, whose carkeises fell in the wilderness?

19 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that obeyed not?

20 So we see that they could not enter in because of vnbeliefe.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The word without faith is unprofitable. 2 The Sabbath or rest of the Christians. 3 Punishment of unbelievers. 4 The nature of the word of God.

Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you should seeme to be deprived.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them: but the word that they heard profited not them, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.

3 For we which haue beleueed, doe enter into rest, as he sayd to the other, * As I haue sware in my wrath: if they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, * And God did rest the seventh day, from all his workes.

5 And in this place againe, if they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter thereto, and they to whom it was first preached, enter not therein, for vnbelievers sake:

7 Again hee appointed in David a certain day, by, To day, after so long time, saying, as it is said, * This day, if yee heare his voyce, harden not your hearts.

8 For if I Iesus had given them rest, then would hee not after this haue spoken of another day.

9 These remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entered into his rest, hath also ceased from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs study therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is lively, and mighty in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and cutteth through, even vnto the dividing asunder of the soule and the spirit, and of the ioynts, and the marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and open vnto his eyes, with whom we haue to doe.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great high Priest, which is entered into heauen, vnto Iesus the Sonne of God: let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an high Priest, which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore go boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercie, and finde grace to helpe in time of neede.

CHAP. V.

1 Hee compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall Priests, shewing wherein they either agree or differ. 2 Afterward her reproofe the negligence of the Iewes.

For euery high Priest is taken from among men, and is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sinnes.

3 Which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that he also is compassed with infirmities.

4 And for thesamesake hee is bound to offer for sins, as well for his owne part, as for the peoples.

5 And so man taketh this honour vnto himselfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

6 So likewise Christ tooke not to himselfe this honour, to be made the high Priest, but he that said vnto him, * Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee, gave it him.

7 As he also in another place speaketh, * Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchisedec.

8 Which in the dayes of his flesh did offer vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying, and teares vnto him, that was able to saue him from death, and was also heard in that which he feared.

9 And though he were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered.

10 And being consecrate, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchi-sedec.

11 Of whom wee haue many things to say, which are hard to be vttered, because yee are dull of hearing.

12 For when as concerning the time yee ought to heare teachers, yet haue yee neede againe that wee teach you the first principles of the word of God, and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For carry one that vseth milke, is inexpert in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custome haue their wits exercised to discerne both good and euill.

CHAP. VI.

1 He proceedeth in reproofing them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be steadfast and patient, 18 forasmuch as Gods law is his promise.

1 Herefore leaning the doctrine of the beginning of Christs, let vs be led forward vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptisme, and laying on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternall iudgement,

3 And this will we doe, if God permit.

Matth. 13. 31, 32. 3 pet. 2. 20. comp. 10. 26. 4 For it is impossible, that they which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the powers of the world to come,

6 If they fall away, should bee renewed againe by repentance: seeing they crucifie againe to themselves the Sonnes of God, and make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that cometh oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiueth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes and briars, is reproofed, and is nere vnto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

9 But beloued, wee haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vniuersall, that hee should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which yee shewed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministered vnto the Saints, and yet minister.

11 And wee desire that euerie one of you shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the end, 12 That yee be not slothfull, but followers of them which through faith and patience inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because hee had no greater to sweare by, hee swaie by himselfe,

Gen. 22. 3 and 17. 4. and 22. 17. 14 Saying, Surely I will abundantly blisse thee, and multiply thee marvellously.

15 And so after that he had taried patiently, hee enjoyed the promise.

16 For men vnder sweate by him that is greater then themselves, and an othe for confirmation is amongst them an end of all strife.

17 So God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promise the stableness of his counsell, bound himselfe by an oth,

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God should lie, wee might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to holde fast: the hope that is set before vs,

19 Which we haue as an ancre of the soule, both sure and stedfast: and it extendeth into that which is within the vail,

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred in, euen Iesus, that is made an high Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

CHAP. VII.

1 He compareth the Priesthood of Christs vnto Melchi-sedecs, 11 also Christs Priesthood with the Leuites.

2 Or this Melchi-sedec was King of Salem, the Gen. 14. Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham 18. as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

3 To whom also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things: who first is by interpretation King of righteousness: after that he is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

4 Without Father, without mother, without kindred, and hath neither beginning of his dayes, neither end of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

5 Now consider how great this man was, vnto whom euen the Patriarch Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoiles.

6 For verely they which are the children of Levi, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a commandement to take according to the Lawe, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they came out of the loines of Abraham.

7 But hee whose kindred is not counted among them, receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

8 And without all contradiction, the lesse is blessed of the greater.

9 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth.

10 And to say as the thing is, Levi also which receiue tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

11 For hee was yet in the loines of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

12 If therefore perfection had been by the Priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder it the law was established to the people) what neede it furthermore, that another Priest should arise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

13 For if the Priesthood be changed, then of necessity must there be a change of the Law.

14 For hee of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the Altar.

15 For it is euident, that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moyses spake nothing touching the Priesthood.

16 And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec there is risen vp another Priest, 17 Which is not made Priest after the law of the carnall Commandement, but after the power of the endless life.

18 For he testifieth thus, Thou art a Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

19 For the Commandement that went afore, is a better, disannulled, because of the weakenesse thereof, and hope, vnprofitablenesse.

20 For the Lawe made nothing perfect, but Ihesus being.

bringing in of a better hope made perfect, whereby we draw neere unto God.

20 And forasmuch as it is not without an oath (for these are made Priests without an oath:

21 But this, he is made with an oath by him that said unto him, * The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedec)

22 By so much is Jesus made a sort of a better Testament.

23 And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the transien of death.

24 But this man, because he endureth ever, hath an everlasting Priesthood.

25 Wherefore, hee is able also perfectly to save them that come unto God by him, seeing hee ever liveth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmlesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heauens:

27 Which needeth not daily as those high Priests to offer vp sacrifice, * first for his owne finnes, and then for the peoples: for that did hee once, when he offered vp himselfe.

28 For the Law maketh men hee priests, which haue infirmity: but the word of the oath that was since the Lawe, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

CHAP. VIII.

6 He prometh the abolishing, as well of the Levitical Priesthood, as of the Lawe: names by the spirituall and euertlasting Priesthood of Christ, 8 and by the new Covenant.

NOW of the things which we haue spoken, thus is the summe, that wee haue such an high Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Maiesticie in heauens,

3 And is a minister of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not man.

4 For euery high Priest is ordained to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessity, that this man should haue some what also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priests that according to the Law offer gifts,

5 Who ierue vnto the paterne and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moses was warned by God, when hee was about to build the Tabernacle. * See, said he, that thou make all things according to the paterne, shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now our high Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediator of a better Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had bene faultlesse, no place should haue bene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them, hee saith, * Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iuda a new Testament:

9 Nor like the Testament that I made with their Fathers, in the day that I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel. After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people, 11 And they shall not reach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all that know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will be mercifull to their iniquities, and I will remember their finnes, and their iniquities no more.

13 In that he saith, A new Testament, hee hath abrogated the Old: nowe that which is disannulled and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished, 11 by the eternall and perfection of Christs sacrifice.

T HEN the first Testament had also ordinances of Religion, and a wordly Sanctuary.

2 For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein was the Candlestick, and the Table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called, The holy places.

3 And after the second vaille was the Tabernacle, which is called The Holiest of all,

4 Which had the golden Censer, and the Arke of the Testament overlaid round about with golde, wherein the golden pot which had Manna, was, and Aarons rod that had budded, and the Tables of the Testament.

5 And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the Mercie seate: of which things we will not now speake articularily.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the Priest went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the * high Priest alone once euery yeere, not without blood which hee offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 Whereby the holy Ghost thus signified, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first Tabernacle was standing.

9 Which was a figure for the time present, wherein were offered gifts and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, him that did the seruice.

10 Which only stood in meates and drinckes, and diuers washings, and carnall rites, vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goates and calves: but by his owne blood entred hee in once vnto the Holy place, and obtained eternall redemption for vs.

13 * For if the blood of bulles and goates, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctificch as touching the purifying of the flesh,

14 How much more shall the * blood of Christ, which through the eternall spirit offered himselfe without fault to God, purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is hee the Mediatour of the newe Testament, that through * death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must bee the death of him that made the Testament.

17 * For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yex of no force as long as he that made it is aliue.

18 Wherefore neither was the first ordained without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to the people, according to the Law, hee tooke the blood of calves and of goats, with water and purple wooll, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people.

20 * Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreover, hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministring vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Lawe purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessary, that the similitudes of heavenly things should be purified with such things: but these earthly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places that are made with hands, which are [similitudes of the true] Sanctuary: but is entered into very heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs.

25 Not that hee should offer himselfe often, as the high Priest entered into the Holy place every yeere with other blood.

26 (For then must he haue often suffered since the foundation of the world) but now in the end of the world hath he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall once die, & after that commeth the iudgement:

28 So * Christ was once offered to take away the sinnes of many, and vnto them that looke for him, shall he appeare the second time without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all. 2 An exhortation to receive the goodnesse of God thankfully with patience and steadfast faith.

3 For the Law hauing the shadow of good things, cannot with those sacrifices, which they offer yeers by yeere continually, sanctifie the consciences therewith.

4 For would they not then haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

5 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of sinnes euery yeere.

6 For it is vnpossible that the blood of buls and goats should take away sinnes.

7 Wherefore when he commeth into the world, hee saith, * Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not: but a body hast thou ordeined me.

8 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

9 Then I said, Loe I come (in the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I should doe thy will, O God.

10 Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou wouldst not haue, neither haddest pleasure therein (which are offered by the Law.)

11 Then said he, Loe I come to doe thy will, O God, he taketh away the first, that hee may stablish the second.

12 By the which will we are sanctified, men by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once made.

13 And euery Priest appeareth daily ministring, and oftentimes offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away sinne:

14 But this man after hee had offered one sacrifice for sinnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God.

15 And from henceforth tareth, * till his enemies be made his footstool.

16 For with one offering hath hee consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

17 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had said before,

18 * This is the Testament which I will make vnto them after those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will write them.

19 And their finnes and iniquities will I remember no more.

20 Now where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sinne.

21 Seeing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus wee may bee bold to enter into the Holy place,

22 By the new and liuing way, which hee hath prepared for vs, through the vail, that is, his flesh:

23 And seeing we haue an high Priest, which is ouer the house of God, 24 Let vs draw neere with a true heart in assurance of faith, sprinkled in our hearts from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water.

25 Let vs keepe the profession of our hope without wavering, (for he is faithful that promised.)

26 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue, and to good workes.

27 Not forsaking the fellowship that wee haue among our selues, as the manner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, and that so much the more, because we see that the day draweth neere.

28 * For if we sinne willingly after that we haue receiued the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes.

29 But a fearful looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the adversaries.

30 He that despiseth Moses Law, dieth without mercy: vnder two, or three witnesses.

31 Of how much more punishment suppose yee shall be worthy, which treadeth vnder foote the Sonne of God, and counteth the blood of the Testament as an holy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth despite the Spirit of grace?

32 For we know him that hath said, * Vengeance belongeth vnto me: I will recompence, saith the Lord.

33 And againe, The Lord shall iudge his people.

34 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

35 Now call to remembrance the dayes that are passed, in the which after yee had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions.

36 Partly while yee were made a gazing stocke both by reproches, and afflictions, and partly while yee became companions of them which were so tormented to and fro.

37 For both yee sorrowed with me for my bonds, and suffered with ioy the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better, and an enduring substance.

38 Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompence of reward.

39 For ye haue neede of patience, that after yee haue done the will of God, yee might receiue the promise.

40 For yet a very litle while, and hee that shall come, will come, and will not tarry.

15 * Now the iust shall live by faith: but if any withdraw himselfe, my soule shall have no pleasure in him.

16 But we are not they which withdrew our selves unto perdition, but follow faith unto the consumation of the soule.

CHAP. XI.

1 What faith, and a commendation of the same. 2 Without faith we cannot please God. 3 The first faith is a faith in the old time.

4 Now faith is the ground of things which are hoped for, and the evidence of things which are not seene.

5 For by it our elders were well reported of.

6 Through faith we understand that the world was ordained by the word of God, so that the things which we see, are not made of things, which did appeare.

7 By faith Abel * offered unto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, by * the which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by the which faith also hee being dead, yet speaketh.

8 By faith * Enoch taken away, that he should not see death: neither was he found: for God had taken him away: for before he was taken away, hee was reported of, that he had pleased God.

9 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must beleue that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek him.

10 By faith * Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seene, moved with reverence, prepared the Arke to the saving of his house hold, through the which Arke hee condemned the world, and was made heire of the righteousnesse which is by faith.

11 By faith * Abraham when he was called, obeyed God, to go out into a place which he should afterward receive for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

12 By faith hee abode in the land of promise, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents, with Isaac and Jacob heires with him of the same promise.

13 For he looked for a citie having a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

14 Through faith * Sarra also received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because shee indged him faithfull which had promised.

15 And therefore sprang there of one, even of one which was dead, so many as the * starres of the skie in multitude, and as the sand of the sea shore which is innumerable.

16 All these died in faith, and received not the promises, but saw them as farre off, & beleaved them, and received them thankfully, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

17 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country.

18 And if they had been mindfull of that country from whence they came out, they had leisure to have returned.

19 But now they desire a better, & is an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a citie.

20 By faith * Abraham offered vp Isaac, when he was tried, and he that had received the promises, offered his only begotten sonne.

21 (To whom it was said, * In Isaac shall thy seed be called.)

22 For he considered that God was able to raise him vp even from the dead: from whence hee received him also after a sort.

23 By faith * Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

24 By faith * Jacob when he was dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph, and * leaning on the end of his staffe, worshipped God.

25 By faith * Joseph when hee died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel, and gave commandment of his bones.

26 By faith Moses when he was borne, was hid three monthes of his parents, because they saw hee was a proper child, neither feared they the Kings * commandment.

27 By faith * Moses when hee was come to age, refused to be called the son of Pharaohs daughter,

28 And chose rather to suffer adversitie with the people of God, then to enjoy the pleasures of sinnes for a season,

29 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompence of the reward.

30 By faith he forsooke Egypt, and feared not the fiercenesse of the king: for he endured, as he that saw him which is invisible.

31 Through faith hee ordeined the * Passover, and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

32 By faith they * passed throw the red sea, as by drie land, which when the Egyptians had assaied to doe, they were drowned.

33 By faith the * walles of Jericho fell downe, after they were compassed about seven dayes.

34 By faith the harlot * Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, when * shee had received the spies peaceably.

35 And what shall I more say? for the time would be too short for me to tell of * Gideon, of * Barak, and of * Samson, and of * Iephth, also of * David, and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

36 Which through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousnesse, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of lions,

37 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, of weak were made strong, waxed valiant in battell, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

38 The women received their dead raised to life: other also were racked, and would not be delivered, that they might receive a better resurrection.

39 And others have been tried by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover by bonds and imprisonment.

40 They were stoned, they were hewen asunder, they were tempted, they were slaine with the sword, they wandered vp and downe in sheepes skines, and in goates skines, being destitute, afflicted and tormented:

41 Whome the world was not worthy of: they wandered in wildernesses, and mountaines, and dens, and caves of the earth.

42 And these all through faith obtained good report, and received not the promise, 43 God providing a better thing for vs, that they without vs should not be perfect.

CHAP. XII.

1 An exhortation to bee patient and steadfast in trouble and adversitie, upon hope of everlastinge reward. 2 A commendation of the new Testament above the olde.

Where-

Wherefore, let vs also seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, cast away every thing that pertaineth downe, and the sinne that doth hang vnder, so that we may run with patience the race that is set before vs,

1. Looking vnto Iesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the lay that was set before him, endured the crosse, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.

2. Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against sinners, lest yee should bee wearied, and faint in your minds.

3. Yee haue not yet resisted vnto blood, striving against sinne.

4. And yee haue forgotten the consolation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children: My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

5. For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth every sonne that he receiveth.

6. If ye endure chastening, God offeth himselfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

7. If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are yee bastards, and not sonnes.

8. Moreover we haue had the fathers of our bodies which corrected vs, and we gaue them reverence: should wee not much rather be in subjection vnto the Father of spirits, that we might liue?

9. For they verily for a few dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but hee chasteneth vs for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holinesse.

10. Now is chastening for the present seemeth to bee ioyous, but grievous: but afterward it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness, vnto them which are thereby ex'rcised.

11. Wherefore lift vp your hands which hang downe, and your weak knees,

12. And make straight steps vnto your feete, lest that which is halting be turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

13. Follow peace with all men, and holinesse, without the which no man shall see the Lord.

14. Take heede that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no roote of bitterness spring vp and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

15. Let there be no fornication, or profane person as * Esau, which for a portion of meate sold his birthright.

16. For yee know how that afterward also when he would haue inherited the blessing, hee was reiect- ed: for hee found no place to repentance, though he sought the blessing with teares.

17. For yee are not come vnto the * mount that might bee touched, nor vnto burning fire, nor to blacknesse, and darknesse, and tempest,

18. Neither vnto the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which they that heard it, excused themselves that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

19. (For they were not able to abide that which was commanded, * Yea, though a beast touch the mountaine, it shall be stoned, or thrust thorow with a dart.

20. And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses said, I feare and quake)

21. But yee are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the liuing God, the celestiall Ierusalem, and to the com'pany of innumerable Angels,

22. And to the Congregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of iust and perfect men,

23. And to Iesus the Mediator of the new Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things then that of * Abel.

24. See that ye despise not him that speaketh: lest if they escaped not, which refused him that spake of earth: much more shall we bee escape, if we turne away from him that speaketh from heauen.

25. Whose voice then shooke the earth, & now hath declared, saying, * Yet once more will I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

26. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things which are shaken, as of things which are made with hands, that the things which are not shaken may remaine.

27. Wherefore seeing wee receive a kingdome, which cannot be shaken, let vs haue grace, whereby we may for'ue God, that we may please him with reverence and feare.

28. For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

1. He exhorteth vs vnto love, 2. to hospitality, 3. to shunke vpon such as be in aduersite, 4. to maintaine vnto decks, 5. to auoid courtiers, 6. to make much of them that preach Gods word, 7. to beware of strange learning, 8. to be content to suffer rebuke with Christ, 9. to be thankfull vnto God, 10. and obedient to our gouernours,

Let * brotherly loue continue, 2. Be not forgetfull to lodge strangers: for thereby some haue receiued Angels into their houses vnto waies.

3. Remember them that are in bonds, as though ye were bound with them: and them that are in affliction, as if ye were also afflicted in the body.

4. Marriage is honorable among all, and the bed vndefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will iudge.

5. Let your conuersation be without enuinousnesse, and be content with those things that yee haue: for he hath said, * I will not forsake thee, neither forsake thee:

6. So that we may boldly say, * The Lord is my P'seruer, neither will I feare what man can doe vnto me.

7. Remember them which haue the oversight of you, which haue declared vnto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering what hath bene the end of their conuersation.

8. Iesus Christ yesterday, and to day, the same also is for euer.

9. Be not caried about with diuers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart bee stablished with grace, and not with meates, which haue not profited them that haue bene occupied therein.

10. We haue an altar whereof they haue no authority to eat: which serue in the Tabernacle.

11. * For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the holy place by the life Priest for sinne, are burnt without the campe.

12. Therefore euen Iesus that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

13. Let vs goe forth therefore out of the campe bearing his reproch.

14. * For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

15. Let vs therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

THE ARGUMENT.

James the Apostle and sonne of Alphaeus wrote this Epistle to the Iewes which were converted to Christ, but suffered through many divers countreys; and therefore bee exhorteth them to patience and prayer, so to inherit the true word of God, and not to be partiall neither to loafe of an idle faith, but to declare a true faith by limy fruits, so avoid ambition, so bridle the tongue, so rule the affections, so bee humble and love their neighbours, so beware of swearing, to utter their faults when they have offended, so pray one for another, and so bring him which is out out of the way, so the knowledge of Christ.

CHAP. I.

1. 2. He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, & to bee fervent in prayer with stedfast beliefs, 17 to looke for all good things from above, 21 To forsake all vice, and thankfully receive the word of God, 22 not onely hearing it, and speaking of it, but to doe therafter in deed, 27 What is true religion.

IAMES a servant of GOD, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelve tribes, which are scattered abroad, salutation.

1. 3. My brethren, count it exceeding

1. 4.  Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth patience.*

1. 5. And let patience have her perfect worke, that ye may be perfect and entire, lacking nothing.

1. 6. If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God, which giveth to all men liberally, and reproveth no man, and it shall be given him.

1. 7.  But let him aske in faith, and waver not: for he that wavereth, is like a wave of the sea, tost of the wind, and carried away.*

1. 8. Neither let that man thinke that hee shall receive any thing of the Lord.

1. 9. A swauering minded man is unstable in all his wayes.

1. 10. Let the brother of low degree reioyce in that he is exalted:

1. 11. *Again, hee that is rich, in that hee is made low: for as the flower of the grasse, shall hee * vanish away.*

1. 12. For as when the sunne ariseth with heate, then the grasse withereth, & his flower falleth away, and the beauty of the fashion of it perisheth: even so shall the rich man fade away in all his wayes.

1. 13.  Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.*

1. 14. Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth hee any man.

1. 15. But everyman is tempted, when he is drawn away by his owne concupiscence, and is enticed.

1. 16. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

1. 17. Erre not, my deare brethren.

1. 18. Every good giuing, and every perfect gift is from above, and commeth down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadowing by turning.

1. 19. Of his owne will begate hee vs with the word of truth, that we should be as the first fruits of his creatures.

1. 20. *Wherefore my deare brethren, * let every man bee swift to heare, slow to speake, and slow to wrath.*

1. 21. For the wrath of man doeth not accomplish the righteousness of God.

1. 22. Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluous of malitiousnesse, and receiue with meeknesse the word that is graffed in you, which is able to save your soules.

1. 23.  And be ye doers of the word, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selves.*

1. 24. For if any heare the word, and doe it not, he is like vnto a man that beholdeth his naturall face in a glasse.

1. 25. For when he hath considered himselfe, he goeth his way, and forgetteth immediately what manner of one he was.

1. 26. But who so looketh in the perfect Lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he not being a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shall be blessed in his deede.

1. 27. If any man among you seemeth religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiveth his owne heart, this mans religion is vaine,

C H A P. II.

1 He forbiddeth to have any sort of partiality, 2 but to regard the poore as well as the rich. 3 He loveth learning and knowledge. 4 And was to be of faith where we deeds are: 17 For it is but a dead faith where good works follow not.

10r. 2. MY brethren have not the faith of our glorious apostles.

1 For if there come into your company, a man with a gold ring, and in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vile raiment,

2 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place, & say unto the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool.

3 Are ye not partiall in your iudges, and are become iudges of euill thoughts?

4 Hearken my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they should be rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome which he promised to them that love him?

5 But ye have despised the poore. Doe not the rich oppresse you by tyranny, and doe not they draw you betweene the iudgements?

6 Doe not they blaspheme the worthy Name, after which ye be named?

7 But if ye fulfill the royall Lawe, according to the Scripture, which saith, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye doe well.

8 But if ye regard the persons, ye commit sin, and are rebuked of the Law, as transgressors.

9 For * whosoever shall keepe the whole Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guilty of all.

10 For hee that said, * Thou shalt not commit adultery, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now though thou dost none adultery, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressor of the Law.

11 So speake yee, and so do, as they that shall be iudged by the Law of libertie.

12 For there shall be iudgement mercilesse to him that sheweth no mercie, and mercie reioiceth against iudgement.

13 What availeth it my brethren, though a man faith he hath faith, when he hath no workes? can the faith save him?

14 For if a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of dayly foode,

15 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace: warme your selves, and fill your bellies: notwithstanding yee give them not those things which are needfull to the body, what helpeth it?

16 Even so the faith, if it have no workes, is dead in it selfe.

17 But some man might say, Thou hast the faith, and I have workes: shew mee thy faith out of thy workes, and I will shew thee my faith by my workes.

18 Thou believest that there is one God: thou doest well: the devils also beleue it, and tremble.

19 But wilt thou understand, O thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes, is dead?

20 Was not Abraham our father iustified thorough workes, when hee offered Isaac his sonne vpon the altar?

21 Seest thou not that the faith wrought with his workes, and through the workes was the faith made perfect?

22 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith,

* Abraham belongeth God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and hee was called the friend of God.

23 Telle then, how that of workes a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.

24 Likewise also was not * Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when shee had received the messengers, and sent them out another way?

25 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so men so the faith without workes is dead.

C H A P. III.

1 He forbiddeth all ambition to seek honour above our brethren. 2 He desireth the property of the tongue. 3 He sheweth difference there in betwixt the wisdom of God, and the wisdom of the world.

MY brethren, keepe not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

2 For in many things we: I Sinne all, * If any man Sinne not in word, hee is a perfect man, and able to bridle all the body.

3 If holde, wee put bits into the horses mouths, that they should obey vs, and wee turne about all their body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they bee so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, wherewith directeth the gouernour lieth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, & boasteth of great things: behold how great a thing a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, as a world of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole bodie, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For the whole nature of beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, & things of the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed of the nature of man.

8 But the tongue can as man tame, as an vnuly euill, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith blesse we God euen the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to bee.

11 Doeth a fountaine send forth at one place sweete water and bitter?

12 Can the figtree, my brethren, bring forth olives, either a vine figs? so can no fountaine make both salt water and sweete.

13 Who is a wise man and indeed with knowledge among you? let him shew by good conuersation his workes in meeknesse of wisdom.

14 But if you haue bitter enuyng & strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither be liars against the truth.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.

16 For where enuyng and strife is, there is sedition, and all manner of euill workes.

17 But the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be intreated, full of mercie and good fruits, without iudging, and without hypocrisie.

18 And the fruite of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

C H A P. IIII.

1 Having shewed the cause of all wrong and wickednes, and also of all graces and goodnes. 2 He exhorteth them to loue God, 3 and submitteth to him, 4 & not speaking euill of their neighbours, 5 but patiently to depend on Gods providence.

From whence are warres & contentions among you? are they not hence, part of your lusts, that fight in your members?

Ye lust, and have not: ye envy & have indignation, and cannot obtaine: ye fight & war, and get nothing, because ye aske not.

Ye aske, & receive not, because ye aske amillie, that ye might consume it on your lusts.

Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the amitie of the world is the enemie of God? whoeuer therefore will be a friend of the world, maketh himselfe the enemie of God.

Do ye thinke that the Scripture sayeth in vaine, The Spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enie?

But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore sayth, * God resisteth the proude, and giveth grace to the humble.

* Submit your selues to God: resist the deuil, and he will flie from you.

Draw neere to God, and he will draw neere to you: Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purge your hearts ye wauering minded.

Suffer afflictions, and sorrow ye, and weep: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your ioy into heavinesse.

* Cast down your selues before the Lord, and he will lift you vp.

Speake euill of none of another, brethren. He that speaketh euill of his brother, or hee that condemneth his brother, speaketh euill of the Lawe, and condemneth the Law: and if thou condemnest the Law, thou art not an obseruer of the Law, but a iudge.

There is one Lawgiver, which is able to saue, and to destroy. * Who art thou that iudgeth another man?

Goe to now, ye that say, To day or to morow wee will goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeare, and buy and sell, and get gaine.

(And yet ye cannot tell what shall be to morrow. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and afterward vanisheth away.)

For that ye ought to say, * If the Lord will, and, if we live, we will doe this or that.

But now ye reioyce in your boastings: all such reioycing is euill.

Therefore to him that knoweth how to doe well, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

He that is the wicked rich men, * exhorteth to patience, 12 to beware of swearing, 16 one to knowe his fault to another, 20 and one to labour to be no another to the truth.

Goe to now, ye rich men: weepe and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you.

Your riches are corrupt, and your garments are moth eaten.

Your golde and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh, as it were fire. * Ye have heaped vp treasure for the last dayes.

Behold, the hire of the labourers, which have reaped your fields (which is of you kept backe by fraude & crieth, and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the eares of the Lord of hostes.

Ye have liued in pleasure on the earth, and in wantonnesse. Ye haue nourished your heares, as in a day of slaughter.

Ye haue condemned and killed the iust, and he hath not resisted you.

Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, vntill he receive the former, and the latter raine.

See ye also patient therefore, and settle your heares: for the coming of the Lord draweth neere.

Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffering aduersitie, and of long patience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

Behold, we count them blessed which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue known what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

But before all things, my brethren, * sweare not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other othe: but let your Yea, be yea, and your Nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merrie? Let him sing.

Is any sicke among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and annoynt him with oyle in the Name of the Lord.

And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lord shall raise him vp, and if he haue committed sinne, it shall be forgiven him.

Acknowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: for the prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it be fervent.

* Elias was a man subiect to like passions as we are, and hee prayed earnestly that it might not raine, and it rained not on the earth for three yeres and sixe moneths.

And hee prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

Brethren, if any of you haue erred from the truth, and some man hath conuerted him,

Let him know that he which hath conuerted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide a multitude of finnes.

THE FIRST EPISTLE generall of Peter.

THE ARGUMENT.

He exhorteth the faithfull to denie themselves and to conuene the world, that being deliuered from all carnall afflictions and impediments, they may more speedily attaine to the heavenly kingdom of Christ, whereunto we are called by the grace of God: sent to us in his Sonne, who haue already received it by faith.

possessed it by hope, and are shewen confirm'd by holynesse of life. And to the intent this faith should not slie, seeing Christ commandeth and writeth almost of the whole world, hee declareth that: it is a working els, but the accomplishing of the Scriptures, which testifie that hee should be the saviour from the reprobate, and the sure foundation of salvation to the faithful: therefore hee exhorteth them courageously to goe for word, considering what they were, and to what duty God hath called them. After hee setteth particular points teaching subiects how to obey their governors, and servants their masters, and how warred silkes as to what themselves. And because it is appointed for all that are goy to suffer persecutions, hee willeth them what good use their afflictions shall have, and contrariwise what punishment God reserveth for the wicked. Last of all, hee teacheth how the ministers ought to behave themselves, forbidding them to usurpe authority over the Church: also that young men ought to be modest, and to learn, and so endeth with an exhortation.

CHAP. I.

2 He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God we are elect, & regenerate to a lively hope, 7 and how faith must be tried, 10 that the salvation in Christ is no untrist, but a thing prophesied of old. 12 He exhorteth them to a godly conversation, inasmuch as they are now borne anew by the word of God.

Eter an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to the strangers that dwell heere, and there thorowout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, 3 Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father vnto sanctification of the Spirit, through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ. Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you.

4 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten vs againe vnto a lively hope by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

5 To an inheritance immortal and vnderfild, & that fadeeth not away, reserved in heauen for you,

6 Which are kept by the power of God thorow faith vnto salvation, which is prepared to bee shewed in the last time:

7 Wherein ye reioyce, though now for a season (if neede require) ye are in heavinesse through manifold tentations,

8 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious then gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found vnto your praise, and honour and glory at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

9 Whom yee haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whom now, though yee see him not, yet doe you beleene, and reioyce with ioy vnpeakeable and glorious,

10 Receiuing the end of your faith, even the salvation of your soules.

11 Of the which salvation the Prophets haue inquired & searched, which prophesied of the grace that should come vnto you,

12 Searching when or what time the spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, should declare the sufferings that should come vnto Christ, and the glory that should follow.

13 Vnto whom it was reuelled, that not vnto themselves, but vnto vs they should minister the things, which are now shewed vnto you by them which have preached vnto you the Gospell by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, the which things the Angels desire to behold.

14 Wherefore, gird vp the loynes of your minde: be sober, and traist perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you, by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

15 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lusts of your ignorance:

16 But as he which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation, 17 Because it is written, * Bee ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if yee call him Father, which without respect of person indgeth according to euery mans worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

18 Knowing that yee were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and golde, from your vaine conversation, receiued by the traditions of the Fathers,

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb without spot,

20 Which was ordeined before the foundation of the world, but was declared in the last times for your sakes,

21 Which by his finnes doe beleene in God that traisteth him from the dead, and gane him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God,

22 Seeing your soules are purified in obeying the truth through the Spirit, * to loue brotherly without fauining, loue one another with a pure heart sincerely,

23 Being borne anew, not of mortall seede, but of immortal, by the word of God, who liueth and endureth for euer.

24 For all flesh is as grasse, and all the glory of man as the flower of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the flower falleth away:

25 But the word of the Lorde endureth for euer: and this is the word which is preached among you,

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth them to lay aside all vice, 4 shewing that Christ is the foundation wherupon they build. 9 The excellent estate of the Christians. 11 He prayeth them to abstaine from fleshly lusts, 13 to obey the rulers. 18 How seruants should behave themselves towards their masters. 20 He exhorteth to suffer after the ensample of Christ.

Wherefore laying aside all malitiousnesse, and all guile, and dissimulation, and enuie, and all euill speaking,

2 As new borne babes desire the sincere milke of the word, that yee may grow thereby.

3 If so be that ye haue tasted how bountifull the Lord is.

4 To whom ye come as vnto a liuing stone disallowed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 And yee as liuely stones be made a spiritual house, an holy Priesthood, to offer vp spirituall sacrifices acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contained in the Scripture, Beholde, I put in Sion a chiefe corner stone, elect and precious: and he that beleueth therein, shall not be ashamed.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleene, it is precious: but vnto them which be disallowed, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a stone to stumble at, and a rocke of offence, euen to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, vnto the which thing they were euen ordeined,

But yee are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the virtues of him that hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light.

10 Which in time past were not a people, yet now the people of God, which in time past were not under mercy: but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearlly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, to abstaine from fleshly lusts, which fight against the soule.

12 And have your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that they which speake euill of you as of euill doers, may by your good workes which they shall see, glorifie God in the day of the visitation.

13 Submit your selues vnto all manner of discipline for the Lords sake, whether it be vnto the king as vnto the superiour, 14 Or vnto gouernours as vnto them that are sent of him for the punishment of euill doers, and for the praise of them that doe well.

15 For so is the will of God, that by well doing yee may put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men, 16 As free, and not as having the liberty for a cloke of licentiousnes, but as the seruants of God.

17 Honour all men: Moue brotherly fellowship: feare God: honour the king.

18 Seruants, be subiect to your masters with all feare, not onely to the good and courteous; but also to the froward.

19 For this is thankeworthy, if a man for conscience toward God, endure griece, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what praise is it, if when yee be buffeted for your faults yee take it patiently? but and if when yee doe well, yee suffer wrong and take it patiently, this is acceptable to God.

21 For herunto yee are called: for Christ also suffered for vs, leauing vs an ensample that yee should follow his steps.

22 Who did no sinne, neither was there guile found in his mouth.

23 Who when he was reuiled, reuiled not again: when he suffered, he threatened not, but committed it to him that judgeth righteously.

24 Who his owne selfe bare our sinnes in his body on the tree, that we being deliuered from sin, should liue in righteousness, by whose stripes yee were healed.

25 For yee were as sheepe going astray: but are now returned vnto the Shepheard and Bishop of your soules.

CHAP. III.

1 How wises ought to order themselves toward their husbands, 3 and in their apprell. 7 The duty of men toward their wiues. 8 Hee exhorteth all men to unity and loue, and patiently to suffer trouble by the example and benefit of Christ.

1 Likewise let the wises be subiect to their husbands, as the church is which obeyeth not the word, may without the word be wonne by the conuersation of the wises,

2 While they behold your pure conuersation, which is with feare,

3 Whose apprelling, let it not be outward, as with broided haire, and golde put about, or in putting on of apprell:

4 But let the hidden man of the heart be incorrupt, with a meeke and quiet spirit, which is before God a thing much set by.

For when after this manner in time past did the holy women which trusted in God, ake themselves, and were subiect to their husbands.

6 As Sara obeyed Abraham, and called him Sir: whole daughters ye are, whilens yee doe well, not being afraid of any terror.

7 Likewise yee husbands, dwell with them as with the Lord, as with the weaker vessel, euen as they which are heires together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not interrupted.

8 Finally, be ye all of one minde: one suffer with another: loue as brethren: be pitifull: be courteous.

9 Not rendering euill for euill, neither reuolue for reuolue: but contrariwise blessed, knowing that ye are therunto called, that yee should bee heires of the blessing.

10 For if any man long after life, and to see good dayes, let him restrainge his tongue from euill, and his lips that they speake no guile.

11 Let him eschew euill and doe good: let him seeke peace, and follow after it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their prayers: and the face of the Lord is vpon them that doe euill.

13 And who is it that will harme you, if yee follow that which is good?

14 Notwithstanding, blessed are ye, if ye suffer for righteousness sake. Yea, feare not their feare, neither be troubled.

15 But sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts: and bee ready alwayes to giue an answer to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you,

16 And that with meeknesse and reuerence, hauing a good conscience, that when they speake euill of you as of euill doers, they may be ashamed, which blame your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For it is better (if the will of God be so) that yee suffer for well doing, than for euill doing.

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, that hee might bring vs to God, and was put to death concerning the flesh, but was quickened in the Spirit.

19 By the which hee allowed, and preached vnto the spirits that are in prison,

20 Which were in time past disobedient, when once the long suffering of God abode in the daies of Noah, while the Arke was preparing, wherein few, that is, eight soules, were saved in the water.

21 To the which also the figure that now standeth in the flesh of the flesh, but in that a good conscience make request to God by the resurrection of Iesus Christ.

22 Which is at the right hand of God, gone up into heauen, to whom the Angels, and powers, and conseruators, might be subiect.

CHAP. IIIL

1 He exhorteth men to cease from sinne, 2 to stand no more in the way of sinne, 3 to see sober and apt to pray, 4 to love each other, 5 to be patient in trouble, 6 to beware that no man suffer as an euill doer, 7 to be as a Christian man, and so not to be ashamed.

For Ordine then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme your selues likewise with the same minde, which, that hee which hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne,

2 That hee henceforward should liue (as much time as remaineth in the flesh) not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

3 For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent be patient in trouble.

I. Peter.

The roaring lion,

the time past of the life, after the lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonness, lusts, drunkenness, in gluttonie, drinkings, and in abominable idolatries.

4 Wherein it seemeth to them strange, that ye turne not with them vnto the same excesses of riot: therefore speake they euill of you.

5 Which shall giue accountes to him, that is ready to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose was the Gospel preached also vnto the dead, that they might be condemned, according to men in the flesh, but might liue according to God in the spirit.

7 Now the end of all things is at hand. Be yee therefore sober, and watching in prayer.

8 But aboute all things haue feruent love among you: * for loue shall couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 * Be yee harborous one to another without grudging.

10 * Let every man as he hath received the gift, minister the same one to another, as good disposers of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speake, let him talke as the words of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God ministrereth, that God in all things may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whom is praise and dominion for ever and ever, Amen.

12 Dearly beloved, thinke it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is among you, to prove you, as though some strange thing were come vnto you:

13 But reioyce in as much as yee are partakers of Christs sufferings, that when his glory shall appeare, ye may be glad and reioyce.

14 * If ye be railed vpon for the name of Christ, blessed are ye: for the spirit of glory, and of God, resteth vpon you: which on their part is euill spoken of: but on your part is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or an euill doer, or as a bawdy body in other mens matters.

16 But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorifie God in this behalf.

17 For the time is come, that iudgement must begin at the house of God. If it first begin at vs, what shall the end be of them which obey not the Gospel of God?

18 * And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?

19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their soules to him in well doing, as vnto a faithfull Creator.

CHAP. V.

2 The duty of Pastors is to feed the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they doe diligently. 3 He exhorteth young persons to submit themselves to the Elders, & to be sober and to watch, that they may resist the enemy.

The Elders which are among you, I beseech, which am also an Elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed,

2 Feede the flocke of God, which I dependeth vpon you, caring for it not by constraint, but willingly: not for filthy lucre, but of a ready minde:

3 Not as though ye were lords ouer Gods heritage: but that ye may be ensamples to the flocke.

4 And when the chiefe shepheard shall appeare, ye shall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glory.

5 Likewise ye younger, submit your selues vnto the Elders, and submit your selues euery man one to another: * decke your selues inwardly in lowliness of minde: for God * resisteth the proud, and giueth grace to the humble.

6 Humble * your selues therefore vnder the mighty hand of God, that hee may exalt you in due time.

7 * Cast all your care on him: for he careth for you.

8 Be sober and watch: for your * aduersary the deuill as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may deuoure:

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren, which are in the world.

10 And the God of all grace, which hath called vs into his eternall glory by Christ Iesus, after that yee haue suffered a litle, make you perfect, confirme, strengthen, and stablish you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for ever, and ever, Amen.

12 By Siluanus a faithfull brother vnto you, as I suppose, haue I written briefly, exhorting and testifying how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.

13 The Church that is at Babylon elected together with you, salutech you, and Marcius my sonne.

14 Greete yee one another with the * kisse of loue. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Iesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE Generall of Peter.

THE ARGUMENT.

The first of the Apostle here is to exhort them which haue once professed the true faith of Christ, to stand to the same vnto the last breath: also that God by his effectuall grace towards them, moueth them to holiness of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse the name, and in increasing his gifts in the godly: wherefore by godly life, hee leaues now almost at death doore, exhorteth them to approve their vocation, not setting their affection on worldly things (as he had oft written vnto them) but lifting their eyes toward heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witnesse, chiefly in that he heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to be the Sonne of God, as likewise the Prophets testified. And lest they should prouide so themselves: quietness by professing the Gospel, hee warneth them both of troubles which they should surmount by their false teachers, and also by the mockers and contemners of Religion, whose manners and trade be fully seene forth as in a table: aduertising the faithfull not onely to wait diligently for Christ, but also to be bold presently the day of his coming, and so presume themselves disposed against the same.

CHAP.

C H A P. I.

4. Forasmuch as the power of God hath given them all things pertaining unto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts, 10. to make their calling sure with good works, and fruits of faith. 14. He sheweth the mission of his own death, 17. declaring the Lord Iesus to be the true Sonne of God, as he himself had sene upon the mount.

Simon Peter a servant and an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to you which have obtained like precious faith with vs by the righteousnesse of our God and Saviour Iesus Christ:

3 Grace and peace be multiplied to you by the knowledge of God, and of Iesus our Lord,

8 According as his godly power hath given vnto vs all things, that pertain vnto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs into glory and vertue.

9 Whereby most great, and precious promises are given vnto vs, that by them ye should be partakers of the godly nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the world through lust.

5 Therefore give euen all diligence thereunto: Ioyne moreouer vertue with your faith: and with vertue, knowledge;

6 And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance, patience: & with patience, godliness:

7 And with godliness, brotherly kindness: and with brotherly kindness, loue.

8 For if these things be among you, & abound, they will make you that yee neither shall be idle, nor vnfuitfull in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ:

9 For he that hath not these things, is blinde, and cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherefore, brethren, giue rather diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if yee doe these things, yee shall neuer fall.

11 For by this meanes an entering shall be ministered vnto you abundantly into the euermlasting kingdome of our Lord and Saviour Iesus Christ.

12 Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of these things, though that yee haue knowledge, and bee established in the present trueth.

13 For I thinke it meete as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance, 14 Seeing I knowe that the time is at hand that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 I will endeavour therefore alwayes, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these things after my departing.

16 * For we followed not * deceivable fables when we opened vnto you the power, and comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we saw his Maiestie.

17 For he receiued of God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellencie glory, * This is my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice we heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the holy mount.

19 Wee haue also a most pure word of the Prophets, to the which ye doe well that ye take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, vntill the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hearts.

20 * So that ye first know this, that no prophetic in the Scripture is of any private motion.

21 For the prophetic came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holy Ghost.

C H A P. II.

1. He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishments.

But * there were false prophets also among the people, euen as there shall bee false teachers among you: which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord, that hath bought them, and bring vpon themselves swift damnation.

2 And many shall follow their damnable waies, by whome the way of truth shall be euill spoken of,

3 And through couetousnesse shall they with fained wordes make merchandise of you, whose iudgement long agoe is not farre off, and their damnation sleepeeth not.

4 For if God spared not the * Angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaines of darkenesse, to bee kept vnto damnation:

5 Neither hath spared the olde world, but saved * Noe the eight person, a preacher of righteousness, and brought in the flood vpon the world of the vngodly,

6 And * turned the cities of Sodom, and Gomorthe into ashes, condemned them and overthrow them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after should liue vngodly,

7 * And deliuered iust Lot vexed with the vncleane concubination of the wicked:

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing & hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth to deliue the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement to be punished:

10 And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of vncleannes, and despit of gouernment, which are presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceit, and feare not to speake euill of them that are in dignitie.

11 Whereas the Angels which are greater both in power and might, * giue not railing iudgement against them before the Lord.

12 But these, as brut beasts, led with sensuality, and made to be taken & destroyed, speake euill of those things which they know not, and shall perish through their owne corruption,

13 And shall receiue the wages of vnrighteousnesse, as they which count it pleasure to liue deliciouly for a season. Spots they are and bloat, delighting themselves in their deceitings, in feasting with you,

14 Having eyes full of adultery: and that cannot cease to sine, beguiling vnsutable soules: they haue hearts exercised with couetousnes, cursed children:

15 Which forsaking the right waye haue gone astray, following the way of * Balaam, * the sume of Bofor, which loued the wages of vnrighteousnesse, 16 But he was rebuked for his iniquitie: for the dumbe asse speaking with mans voyce, forbad the foolishnesse of the Prophet.

17 * These are wells without water, and cloudes carried about with a tempest, to whom the blacke darkenesse is reserved for euer.

18 For in speaking swelling words of vanitie, they beguile with wantonnesse through the lusts of the flesh, them that were cleane escaped from them which are wrapped in error,

19 Promising vnto them libertie, and are themselves

12. felues the *torments of corruption: for of whom soeuer a man is overcome, euen vnto the same is hee in bondage.

13. 20 * For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthinesse of the world, through the knowledge of the Lord, and of the Sauioer Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and overcome, the latter end is worke with them then the beginning.

14. 21 For it had bene better for them, not to haue known the way of rightconnesse, then after they haue known it, to turne from the holy | commandement giuen vnto them.

15. 22 But it is come vnto them according to the true prouerbe, * The dog is returned to his owne vomit:
and, The sow that was washed, to the wallowing in the mire.

CHAP. III.

16. 3 He sheweth the impietie of them, which mocke at Gods promises. 7 After what sort the end of the world shalbe. 8 That they prepare themselves there-unto. 16 What they are which abyle the writings of Saint Paul, and the rest of the Scriptures, 18 Concluding with eternall thanks to Christ Iesus.

17 This second Epistle I now write vnto you beloved, where with I stirre vp, and warne your pure minds,

18 2 To call to remembrance the wordes, which were tolde before of the holy Prophets, and also the commandement of vs the Apostles of the Lord and Sauioer.

19 3 * This first vnderstand, that there shall come in the last dayes, mockers, which will walke after their lusts.

20 4 And say, Where is the promise of his com-ming? for since the fathers died, all things continue alikc from the beginning of the creation.

21 5 For this they willingly know not, that the hea-uens were of olde, and the earth that was of the water, and by the water, by the word of God.

22 6 Wherefore the world that then was, perished, overflowed with the water.

23 7 But the heauens and earth which are now, are kept by the same word in store, and reserved vnto fire against the day of iudgement, and of the destruction of vngodly men.

24 8 Dearly beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord, as a thousand yeres, and a thousand yeres as one day.

25 9 The Lord is not slacke concerning his promise (as some men count slackesse) but is patient toward vs, and * would haue no man to perish, but would all mento come to repentance.

26 10 * But the day of the Lord will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a noyse, and the elements shall melt with heate, and the earth with the works that are therein, shall be burnt vp.

27 11 Seeing therefore that all these things must be dissolved, what manner persons ought yee to bee in holy conseruation and godlinesse.

28 12 Looking for, and hastning vnto the coming of the day of God, by the which the heauens being on fire shalbe dissolved, and the elements shall melt with heat?

29 13 But wee looke for * new heauens, and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth rightconnesse.

30 14 Wherefore beloved, seeing that yee looke for such things, be diligent, that yee may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blamelesse.

31 15 * And suppose that the long suffering of our Lord is saluation, euen as our beloved brother Paul according to the wisdomc giuen vnto him wrote
vnto you,

32 16 As one, that in all his Epistles speaketh of these things: among the which some things are hard to be vnderstood, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable | pervert, as they doe also other Scriptures
vnto their owne destruction.

33 17 Yee therefore beloved, seeing ye knew these things before, beware, lest yee be also plucked away with the error of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnesse.

34 18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Sauioer Iesus Christ: to him be glory both now and for euermore, A M E N.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERALL of Iohn.

THE ARGUMENT.

1. After that S. Iohn had sufficiently declared how that our whole saluation doeth consist onely in Christ, lest that any man should thereby take a boldnesse to sinne, he sheweth that no man can be true to Christ, unless he be death eueryday himselfe to keepe his commandmentes: which thing being done, he reborteth them to beware of false prophets, whom he rebath Antichrists, and to try the spirits. Last of all he doth earnestly exhort them vnto brotherly loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

CHAP. I.

2. True minnesse of the euerglasting word of God. 7
The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

3. Hic which was from the beginning, which we haue heard, which we haue scene with our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, and our hands haue handled of the word of life.

4. (For the life appeared, and we haue scene it, and beare witnesse, and shew vnto you the eternall life, which was with the Father, and appeared vnto vs)

5. That, if we, which we haue scene and heard, declare vnto you, that ye may also haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

6. And these things write we vnto you, that your joy may be full.

7. This then is the message, which we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darknesse.

8. If we say that we haue fellowship with him, and walke in darknesse, wee lie, and doe not truly.

9. But if wee walke in the light, as he is in the light, we haue fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

10. * If we say that we haue no sinne, wee deceiue our selues, and truth is not in vs.

11. If we acknowledge our finnes, hee is faithfull
and

and thus to forgive vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all unrighteousnesse.

10 If we say we haue not sinned, we make him a lyar, and his word is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ vs our advocate. 10 Of the loue and how it is tried. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

MY babes, these things write I vnto you, that ye haue sinned not: and if any man sinne, wee haue an Advocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the iust. 2 And hee is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the whole world.

3 And hereby wee are sure that wee know him, if we keepe his Commandements.

4 Hee that faith, I know him, and keepeth not his Commandements, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But hee that keepeth his word, in him is the loue of God perfect indeed: hereby we know that we are in him.

6 Hee that faith, he remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as he hath walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new Commandement vnto you: but an old Commandement, which yee haue had from the beginning: the olde Commandement is the word, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a new Commandement I write vnto you, that which is true in him, and also in you: for the darkenesse is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that faith that hee is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenesse vntill this time.

10 Hee that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darknesse, and walketh in darkenesse, and knoweth not whether he goeth, because that darkenesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13 I write vnto you, Fathers, because yee haue known him that is from the beginning: I write vnto you, young men, because yee haue overcome the wicked.

14 I write vnto you babes, because yee haue known the Father. I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue known him that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, young men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue overcome the wicked.

15 Loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.

18 Babes, it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shall come, euen now are there many Antichrists: whereby wee know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for they had bene of vs, they would haue continued with vs. But this cometh to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

20 But ye haue an oymntment from him that is holy, and ye haue known all things.

21 I haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a lyar, but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ: the same is the Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Whosoever denieth the Sonne the same hath not the Father.

24 Let therefore abide in you the same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shall remaine in the Father, and in the Sonne, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs, euen eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 But the anointing which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and yee neede not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true and is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide in him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may be bold, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, know ye that he which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

1 The singular loue of God towards vs, 7 and how we againe ought to loue one another.

BEhold, what loue the Father hath shewed on vs, that we should be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

2 Dearly beloved, now are we the sonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we shall be: and we know that when he shall appeare, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euerie man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sinne, transgresseth also the Law: for sinne is the transgression of the Law.

5 And ye know that he appeared that he might take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seene him, neither hath known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceiue you: hee that doeth righteousnesse, is righteous, as he is righteous.

8 Hee that committeth sinne, is of the deuill: for the deuill sinneth from the beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that hee might loose the workes of the deuill.

9 Whosoever is borne of God sinneth not: for his seed remaineth in him, neither can he sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knownen, and the children of the deuill: whosoever doeth not righteousnesse is not of God, neither hee that loveth not his brother.

11 For this is the message, that ye heard from the beginning, that we should loue one another, 12 Not as Cain which was of the wicked, and slew his brother: and wherefore slew he him? because his owne workes were euill, and his brothers good.

13 Marraile not, my brethen, though the world hate you,

14 We know that we are gratified from death vnto life, because we loue the brethren: * her that loueth not her brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoener hateth his brother, is a manslayer: and yee know that no manslayer hath eternall life abiding in him.

16 * Herby haue wee perceived loue, that hee layd downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 * And whosoever hath this worlds good, and seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him, how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

18 My little children, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue only, but in deed and in truth.

19 For thereby wee know that wee are of the truth, and shall before him assure our hearts.

20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldnesse toward God.

22 * And whatsoever wee aske, wee receiue of him, because wee keepe his Commandements, and doe those things which are pleasing in his sight.

23 * This is then his Commandement, That we beleue in the Name of his Sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as hee gaue commaundement.

24 * For hee that keepeth his Commandements dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby wee know that hee abideth in vs, euen by the Spirit, which he hath giuen vs.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Difference of spirits. 2 How the spirit of God may be knowne from the spirit of error. 7 Of the loue of God and of our neighbours.

Dearely beloued, beleue not euery spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby shall ye know the Spirit of God. Euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whom yee haue heard, how that he should come, and now already he is in the world.

4 Little children, yee are of God, and haue overcome them: for greater is he that is in you, then hee that is in the world.

5 They are of the world, therefore speake they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God, * he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know wee the Spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue cometh of God; and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

9 * In this appeared the loue of God toward vs, because God sent his only begotten Sonne in to the world, that we might liue through him.

10 Herein is loue, not that wee loued God, but that hee loued vs, and sent his Sonne to be a reconciliation for our finnes.

11 Beloued, if God so loued vs, wee ought also to loue one another.

12 * No man hath serued God at any time. If wee loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby know we, that we dwell in him, and he in vs: because he hath giuen vs of his Spirit.

14 And wee haue scene and doe testifie, that the Father sent his Sonne to be the Saviour of the world.

15 Whosoener confesseth that Iesus is the Son of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And wee haue knowne, and beleueed the loue that God hath in vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we should haue boldnesse in the day of iudgement: for as he is, euen so are we in this world.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath painefulnesse: and he that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, because he loued vs first.

20 If any man say, I loue God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: for how can hee that loueth not his brother whom hee hath scene, loue God whom he hath not serued?

21 * And this Commandement haue we of him, that hee that loueth God, should loue his brother also.

CHAP. V.

1. 10. 13. Of the fruites of faith. 14. 30 The Office, authoritie, and a minis of Christ. 21 Against Images.

Whosoener beleueth that Iesus is the Christ, is borne of God, and euery one that loueth him which begate, loueth him also which is begotten of him.

2 In this we know that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, and keepe his Commandements.

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his Commandements: and his Commandements are not grievous.

4 For all that is borne of God, overcome the world: and this is the victorie that ouercometh the world, euen our faith.

5 * Who is it that overcome the world, but hee which beleueth the Iesus is that Sonne of God?

6 This is that Iesus Christ that came by water and blood: and not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witnesse, for the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three, which beare record in heauen, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8 And there are three, which beare record in the earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: for this is the witnesse of God which he testified of his Sonne.

10 * Hee that beleueth in the Sonne of God, hath the witness in himselfe: he that beleueth not God, hath made him a liar, because hee beleueth not the record that God witnessed of his Sonne.

11 And this is the record, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.

12 He that hath the Sonne, hath life: and hee that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.

13 These things haue I written vnto you, that ye beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God, that yee may know that yee haue eternall life, and that yee may beleue in the Name of the Sonne of God.

14 And this is the assurance that we haue in him, that if we aske any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heareth vs, whatfoever we aske, we know that wee have the position that we have desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne that is not unto death, let him aske, & hee shall give him life for them that sinne not unto death. 17 There is a sinne unto death: I say not that thou shouldst pray for it.

17 All unrighteousnesse is sinne, but there is a sinne not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is borne of God, sinne not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himselfe, & the wicked one couereth him not.

19 We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse.

20 But wee know that the Sonne of God is come, and hath given vs a minde to know him which is true: and wee are in him that is true, that is in his Sonne Iesus Christ: this same is very God, and eternal life.

21 Babes, keepe your selues from idoles. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE of Iohn.

He writeth vnto a certa in Lady, & rejoyceth that her children walke in the truth, & exhorteth them vnto loue, & warneth them to beware of such deceivers as denie that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, & prayeth them to continue in the doctrine of Christ, and to haue nothing to doe with them that bring not the true doctrine of Christ to vs our Saviour.

Elder to the elect Lady, and her children, whom I loue in the truth:
and not I onely, but also all that haue known the truth,

1 For the truths sake which dwelleth in vs, and shall be with vs for euer:

2 Grace be with you, mercie and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of the Father, with truth and loue.

3 I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in the truth, as wee haue receiued a commandement of the Father.

4 And now beseech I thee Lady, (not a writing a new commandement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that wee loue another.

5 And this is the loue, that wee should walke

after his Commandements. This Commandement is, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceivers are entred into the world which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiver, and an Antichrist.

8 Looke to your selues, that wee looke not the things which wee haue done, but that wee may receiue a full reward.

9 Whofoeuer transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that con-tinueth in the doctrine of Christ, hee hath both the Father and the Sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, and bring not this doctrine, receiue him not to house, neither bid him, God speed.

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his euill deeds. Although I had many things to write vnto you, yet I would not write with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you and speake mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

12 The sonnes of thine elect sister greet thee,

AMEN.

THE THIRD EPISTLE of Iohn.

3 He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the truth, & exhorteth them to be louing vnto the poore Christen in their persecution, & sheweth the unkind dealing of Diotrephes, & the good report of Demetrios.

Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whom I loue in the truth.

1 Beloued, I wish chiefly that thou prosperidst and farest well as thy soule prospereth.

2 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the truth.

3 I haue no greater ioy then this, that is, to heare that my sonnes walke in veritie.

4 Beloued, thou doest faithfully, whatsoever thou doest to the brethren and to strangers,

5 Which bare witness of thy loue before the Churches, Whom if thou bringest on thy journey as it becometh, according to God, thou shalt doe well.

6 Because that for his Names sake they went forth and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receiue such, that wee might be helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue y^e preeminence among them, receiveth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dooers, which hee doeth, prating against vs with malicious words, and not therewith content, neither hee himselfe receiueth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued, follow not that which is enill, but that which is good: hee that doth well is of God:
but hee that doth euill hath not scene God.

12 Demetrios hath good report of all men, and of the truth it selfe: yea, and wee our selues beare record, and ye know that our record is true.

13 I haue many things to write: but I will not write with ynke and penne vnto thee.

14 For I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friends salute thee. Greete the friends by name.

THE

THE GENERAL EPISTLE of Iude.

THE ARGUMENT.

And Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heed of deceivers, who goe about to drawe away the Scholes of simple people from the truth of God, and willet them to haue no societie with such, whom he set forth in their liuely colours, shewing by diuers examples of the Scriptures, what horrible vengeance is prepared for them finally, he comforteth the faithfull and authoriseth them to persevere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

I Vde a servant of Iesus Christ, and brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified of God the Father, and referred to Iesus Christ :

1. Mercie vnto you, and peace and love be multiplied.

2. Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needfull for mee to write vnto you, to exhort you, that yee should exactly contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was once giuen vnto the Saints.

3. For there are certaine men creep in, which were before of old ordeined to this condemnation: vnigodly men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnesse, and deny God, the onely
Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

4. I will therefore put you in remembrance, for-asmuch as ye once knew this, how that the Lord after that hee had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them afterward which beleecued not.

5. The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath referred in euilllasting chaines, vnder darknesse, vnto
the iudgement of the great day.

6. As Sodome and Gomorthe, and the cities about them, which in like manner as they did, committed fornication, and followed strange flesh, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fire.

7. Likewise notwithstanding these dreamers also despise the flesh, and despise government, and speake euill of them that are in authoritie.

8. Yet Michael the Archangel when hee stroue against the deuill, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

9. But these speake euill of those things, which they know not: and whatsoever things they know naturally, as beasts, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselves.

10. Woe vnto them that forsake haue followed the way of Cain, and are cast away by the deccit of Balaams wages, and perish in the gaine sayings of Core.

11. These are rocks in your feastes of charitie when they feast with you, without all feare, feeding themselves: * clouds they are without water, caried about of winds, corrupt trees, and without fruit, twice dead, and plucked vp by the roots.

12. They are the raging waves of the sea, foaming out their owne shame: they are wandering starres, to whom is reserved the blacknes of darkness for ever.

13. And Enoch also the seuenth from Adam prophesied of uch, saying, Beholde, the Lord cometh with thousands of his Saints.

14. To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all the vngodly among them of all their wicked deeds, which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruell speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

15. These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lusts: * whole mouthes speake proud things, hauing mens persons in admiration, because of aduantage.

16. But ye beloued, remember the words which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ,

17. How that they tolde you that there should be mockers * in the last time, which should walke after their owne vngodly lusts.

18. These are makers of sedes, fleshly, hauing not the Spirit.

19. But yee beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost.

20. And keepe your selues in the love of God, looking for the mercie of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternall life.

21. And haue compassion of some, in putting difference:

22. And other saue with feare, pulling them out of the fire, and bare euen the garment spotted by the flesh.

23. Now vnto him that is able to keepe you, that ye fall not, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with loy,

24. That ye, to God onely wise, our Sauour, for glorie and maiestie, and dominion, and power, both now and for ever, Amen.

THE REVELATION OF IOWN the Diuine.

THE ARGUMENT.

It manifesteth, that the holy Ghost would, as it were enter into this most excellent booke a summe of those prophecies which were written before, but should be fulfilled after the coming of Christ, adding also such things as should be expedient, as well to forewarne vs of the dangers to come, as to admonish vs to beware of some, and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore vnto the Diminut of Christ, & the testimonies of our Redemption: what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the Ministers, and what things be reprobated: the promise of God for his elect, and of their glory, and consolation in the day of vengeance: how that the hypocrites which sting like scorpions: the members of Christ, shall be destroyed, but the Lamb Christ shall defend

defiled them which beare witness to the truth, who in despite of the death, and Satans, will overcome all. The fourth description of this sickle is for such, whose time and power is almost finished, and when they be permitted to rage against the sickle, yet his power stretcheth out for them. Then to the lives of their bodies, and as long as they shall be destroyed by the wrath of God, when the sickle shall come to reap. For for the witnesses, it is a season God will permit them, Antichrist and strumpets, under colour of faire speech, and pleasant doctrine to deceive the world, when first he aduertiseth the world (which are but a small portion) to abide this baseless flatteries, and for such, who serve him without mercy they shall see, and with the heavenly companies sing continual praises for the Lamb is married: the word of God hath gotten glory. Satan that a long time was stayed in new cast with his ministers into the pit of fire to be consumed for ever: whereas contrary to the faithful, which are the holy city Ierusalem (a city and wife of the Lamb) shall enjoy perpetual glory. Read diligently, judge soberly, and call assembly to God for the true wonderfull thing.

CHAP. I.

1 The cause of this Revelation. 2 Of them that receive it. 3 John writes to the seven Churches. 4 The Message and Office of the Son of God. 5 The vision of the Candlestickes and Starres.

THIS Revelation of Iesus Christ which GOD gave vnto him, to shew vnto his seruants things which must shortly bee done, which he sent, and shewed by his Angel vnto his seruant Iohn.

2 Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Iesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed are they that read, and they that heare the words of this prophesie, and keepe those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

4 Iohn, to the seven Churches which are in Asia, Grace be with you, and peace from him, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, and from the seven Spirits, which are before his Throne.

5 And from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the kings of the earth, vnto him that loved vs, and washed vs from our sinnes in his blood,

6 And made vs Kings and Priests vnto God eternally. Iohn his Father, to him, be glory and dominion for evermore, Amen.

7 Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him: yea, even they which pierced him: yea, and all kindred of the earth shall wail before him. Euen so, Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, sayth the Lord, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, with the Almighty.

9 I Iohn, your brother, and companion in tribulation and in the kingdom and patience of IESVS CHRIST, was in the ycle called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of IESVS CHRIST.

10 And I was rauished in spirit on the Lords day, and heard behinde me a great voice, as it had bene of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first, and the last: and that which thou seest, write in a booke, and send it vnto the seven Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamus, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 Then I turned backe to see the voice that spake with mee, and when I was turned, I saw seven golden candlestickes, 13 And in the mids of the seven candlestickes, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feet, and girded about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and haire were white as white wooll, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feet like vnto fine brasse, burning as in a furnace: his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged sword: and his face shone as the Sonne shineth in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feet as dead: then he layd his right hand vpon mee, saying vnto me, Feare not: I am the first and the last.

18 And am aliae, but I was dead: and behold, I am aliae thee more, Amen: and I have the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shall come hereafter.

20 The mystery of the seven starres which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlestickes, is this, The seven Starres are the Angels of the seven Churches: and the seven candlestickes which thou sawest, are the seven Churches.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth foure Churches to repentance, to perseuerance, patience, and continuance, as well by the reasprings, 2, 10, 17, 26, as promises of reward.

Vnto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus, write, These things saith hee that holdeth the seven starres in his right hand, and walketh in the mids of the seven golden candlestickes.

2 I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear with them which are euill, and hast examined them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars.

3 And thou hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheless, I haue somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first workes: or else I will come against thee shortly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou amend.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit sayth vnto the Churches, To him that overcometh, will I giue to eate of the tree of life which is in the mids of the Paradise of God.

8 ¶ And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Smyrnians write, These things saith hee that is first, and last, which was dead, and is aliae.

9 Know thy workes, and tribulation, and poverty (but thou art rich) and know the blasphemy of them, which say they are Iewes and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satans.

10 Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: behold, it shall come to passe, that the deuil shall cast some of you into prison, for ye may be betrayed, and yet shall haue tribulation ten dayes: but thou shalt faithfull unto the death, and I will give thee the crowne of life.

11. Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches, He that overcommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12. ¶ And to the Angel of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This saith hee which hath the sharpe sword with two edges.

13. I know thy workes, and where thou dwellest, where Satans throne is, and thou keepest my Name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those dayes when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satans dwelleth.

14. But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the doctrine of * Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

15. Euen so hast thou them, that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16. Repent thy selfe, or else I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17. Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches, To him that overcommeth, will I giue to eate of the Manna that is hid, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth sauing he that receiveth it.

18. ¶ And vnto the Angel of the Church, which is at Thyatira, write, These things saith the Sonne of God, which hath his eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feet like fine brass.

19. I know thy workes, and thy lone, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy workes, and that they are more at the last, then at the first.

20. Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman * Iezabel, which calleth her selfe a Prophetesse, to teach & to deceiue my seruants, to make them to commit fornication, and to eate meate sacrificed vnto idoles.

21. And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and shee repented not.

22. Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their workes.

23. And I will kil her children with death: and all the Churches shal know that I am he which search the reins and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according vnto your workes.

24. And vnto you I say, the rest of them of Thyatira, As many as haue not this learning, neither haue knownen the deepe secret of Satans (as they speake) I will put vpon you none other burden.

25. But that which ye haue already, hold fast till I come.

26. For hee that overcommeth and keepeth my workes vnto the ende, to him will I giue power ouer nations,

27. * And hee shall rule them with a rod of yron: and as the vessell of a potter, shall they be broken.

28. Euen as I receiued of my Father, so will I giue him the morning starre.

29. Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches.

CHAP. III.

He exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith, and to watching, 12. with promises to them that perseuere.

¶ And write vnto the Angel of the Church which is at Sardis, These things saith hee that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven starres, I know thy workes: for thou hast a name that thou livest, but thou art dead.

1. Be awake and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I haue not found thy workes perfect before God.

2. Remember therefore how thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast and repent. * If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come vpon thee.

3. Notwithstanding thou hast a few names yet in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments: and they shall walke with mee in white: for they are worthy.

4. Hee that overcommeth shall be clothed in white array, and I will not put out his name out of the booke of life, but I will confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

5. Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

6. ¶ And write vnto the Angel of the Church which is of Philadelphia, These things saith he, that is Holy, and True, which hath the key of David, which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth.

7. I know thy workes: behold, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: who thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

8. Behold, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satans, which call themselves Iewes, and are not, but doe lie: behold, I say, I will make them, that they shall come and worship before thy seate, and shall know that I haue loved thee.

9. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

10. Behold, I come shortly: hold that which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

11. Him that overcommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is, the new Hierusalem, which cometh downe out of heauen from my God, and I will write vpon him my new Name.

12. Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches,

13. And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saith A M E N, the faithfull and true witness, the beginning of the creatures of God.

14. I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hote: I would thou werest cold or hote.

15. Therefore, because thou art luke warme, and neither cold nor hote, it will come to passe, that I shal spew thee out of my mouth.

16. For thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and haue neede of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

17. I counsell thee to buy of me gold tried by the fire, that thou mayest bee made rich: and white raiment, that thou mayest bee clothed, and that thy filthy nakednes doe not appeare: and a noint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest see.

18. As many as I loue, * I rebuke and chasten: be be zealous therefore and amend.

20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knocke. If a my man heare my voice and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will suppe with him, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercometh, will I giue to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and sit with my Father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit sayth vnto the Churches.

C H A P. IIII.

1 The vision of the Masseie of God. 2 Hee seeth the throne, and our sitting vpon it. 3 And foure and twenty seates about it, and foure and twenty Elders sitting vpon them, and foure beasts praising God day and night.

After this I looked, and behold, a doore was open in heauen, and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with mee, saying, Come vp hither, and I will shewe thee things, which must be done hereafter.

2 And immediately I was raised in the spirit, and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and one fate
vpon the throne.

3 And he that sat, was to looke vpon, like vnto a lapis stone, and a Sardine, and there was a rainbowe round about the throne, in sight like to an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were foure and twenty seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure and twenty Elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and had on their heads crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunders, and voices, and there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto crystal: and in the middles of the throne, and round about the throne were foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lyon, and the second beast like a calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying Eagle.

8 And the foure beasts had each one of them sixe wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they ceased not day nor night, saying,

9 Holy, holy, holy Lord God Almighty, Which was, and Which is, and Which is to come.

10 And when those beasts gaue glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sat on the throne, which lieth for euer and euer,

11 The foure and twenty Elders fell downe before him that sat on the throne, and worshipped him that lieth for euermore, and cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

12 Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy wils sake they are and haue been created.

C H A P. V.

1 Hee seeth the Lambe opening the booke. 2. 14
And therefore the foure beasts, the foure and twenty Elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 3 for their redemption and other benefites.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne a booke written within, and on the backefide, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I saw a strong Angel which preached with a loude voice, Who is worthy to open the booke, and to loofe the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither

Chap. liij. v. vj.

vnder the earth was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 Then I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders said vnto me, Weepe not: behold, the * Lion which is of the tribe of Juda, the roote of David, hath obtained to open the Booke, and to loofe the seuen seales thereof.

6 Then I beheld, and loe, in the middles of the throne, and of the foure beasts, and in the middles of the Elders, stood a Lambe as though hee had been killed, which had seuen hornes, and seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the world.

7 And he came and tooke the Booke out of the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne.

8 And when hee had taken the Booke, the foure beasts, and the foure and twenty Elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one harpes, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints,

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euery kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation,

10 And hast made vs vnto our God * Kings and Priests, and we shall raigne on the earth.

11 Then I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels round about the throne, & about the beasts, and the Elders, and there were * thousand thousands,

12 Saying with a loud voyce, Worthy is the
* Lambe that was killed, to receiue power, and riches, and wisdom and strength, and honour, and glory, and praise.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Praise, and honor, and glory, and power, be vnto him that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen, and the foure and twenty Elders fell downe and worshipped him that lieth for euermore.

C H A P. VI.

The Lambe openeth the fixe seales, and many things fall: the opening thereof, so that thus continueth a generall prophesie to the end of the world.

After I beheld, when the Lambe had opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beasts say, as it were the noyse of thunder, Come and see.

2 Therefore I beheld, and loe, there was a white horse, and hee that sat on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering that he might ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse, that was red, and power was giuen to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come and see: Then I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse, and hee that sat on him, had balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middles of the foure beasts say, A measure of wheat for a pennie, and three measures of barley for a pennie, and oyle and wine hurt thou not.

For the grace.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and beheld, a pale horse, and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed after him, and power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when hee had opened the fifth seale, I saw under the altar the soules of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimony which they maintained.

10 And they cried with a loud voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holy and true! dost thou not iudge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white robes were given unto every one, and it was said unto them, that they should rest for a little season, untill their fellow servants, and their brethren that should bee killed, euen as they were, were fulfilled.

12 And I behelde when hee had opened the sixth seale, and loe there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth of haire, and the moone was like blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, as a figge casteth her greene figges when it is shaken of a mighty winde.

14 And heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, and euery mountaine and yle were moued out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaiues, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, and euery freeman, hid themselves in deuces, and among the rockes of the mountaines,

16 And said to the mountaines and rocks, * Fall on vs, and hide vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe.

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

CHAP. VII.

4-9 Hee sealeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads out of all nations and people. 15 Which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe (beareth them), leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

And after that, I saw foure Angels stand on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the windes should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

2 And I sawe another Angel come vp from the East which had the seale of the liuing God, and he cried with a loud voyce to the foure Angels to whom power was given to hurt the earth, and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt yee not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we haue sealed the seruants of our God, in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundredth and foure and forty thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasse were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Iussachar were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After these things I beheld, and loe, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long white robes, and palmes in their hands.

10 And they cried with a loud voyce, saying, Salvation cometh of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, and of the Lambe.

11 And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the Elders, and the foure beasts, and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen. Praise, and glory, and wisdom, and thanks, and honor, and power, and might be vnto our God for euermore. Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, saying vnto me, What are these which are arrayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest. And hee said to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and haue made their long robes white in the blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his Temple, and hee that sitteth on the throne will dwell among them.

16 *They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sunne light on them, neither any heat.

17 For the Lambe, which is in the middes of the throne shall gouerne them, and shall lead them vnto the liuely fountaines of water, and * God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The seventh seale is opened: there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure Angels blow their trumpets, and great plagues follow vpon the earth.

And when hee had opened the seventh seale, there was silence in heauen about halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seuen Angels which stood before God, and to them were given seuen trumpets.

3 Then another Angel came and stood before the Altar, hauing a golden censer, and much odours was giuen vnto him that hee should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went vp before God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth, and there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 Then the seuen Angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselves to blow the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel blew the trumpet, and there was haile and fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene graffe was burnt.

8 And the second Angel blew the trumpet, and as it were a great mountaine, burning with fire, was cast ent into the sea, & the third part of the sea became blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of ships were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, and there fell a great flarre from heauen burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the rivers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the flarre is called wormewood: therefore the third part of the waters became wormewood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moone, and the third part of the starres, so that the third part of them was darkened: and the day was warmsitten, that the third part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I behelde, and heard one Angel flying through the middes of heauen, saying with a loud voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the sounde to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

CHAP. IX.

1 The first & last Angel blow their trumpets: the flarre falleth from heauen. 2 The locusts come out of the smoake. 3 The locusts come out of the smoake. 12 The first woe is past. 14 The four Angels that were bound, are loosed, 18 and the third part of men is killed.

And the first Angel blew the trumpet, and I saw a flarre which was fallen from heauen vnto the earth, and to him was given the key of the bottomlesse pit.

2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and there arose the smoake of the pit, as the smoake of a great furnace, and the sunne and the ayre were darkened by the smoake of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoake locusts vpon the earth, and vnto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them, that they should not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.

5 And to them was commanded, that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed fise moneths, and that their paine should be as the paine that cometh of a scorpion, when hee hath stung a man.

6 * Therefore in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shal not find it, and shal desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 * And the sorne of the locusts was like vnto horses prepared to battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes, like vnto golde, and their faces were like the faces of men.

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lyons.

9 And they had habergions like to habergions of yron: and the sound of their wings was like the sound of charrets when many horses runne vnto battell.

10 And they had tailles like vnto scorpions, and there were stings in their tailles, and their power was to hurt men fise moneths.

11 And they haue a king ouer them, which is the Angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name is in Hebrew Abaddon, and in Greeke he is named Apollyon.

12 One woe is past, and beholde, yet two woes come after this.

13 Then the first Angel blew the trumpet, and I heard a voyce from the four corners of the golden altar, which is before God.

14 Saying to the first Angel, which had the trumpet, Loose the four Angels, which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four Angels were loosed, which were prepared at an houre, at a day, at a moneth, and at a yere, to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of horses of warre were twentie thousand times ten thousand: for I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in a vision, and them that sate on them, having fierce habergions, and of lacinth, and of brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of hyons: and out of their mouthes went forth fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 Of these three was the third of part men killed, that is, of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brimstone, which came out of their mouthes.

19 For their power is in their mouthes, and in their tailles: for their tailles were like vnto serpents, and had heads wherewith they hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by these plagues, repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship deuils, and * idoles of gold and of siluer, and of brasie, and of stone and of wood, which neither can see, neither can beare nor goe.

21 Allo they repented not of their murder, and of their fornicie, neither of their fornication, nor of their theft.

CHAP. X.

1 The Angel hath the booke open. 4 He swareth there shall be no more time. 9 Hee giueth the booke vnto soln, which eateth it vp.

And I saw another mightie Angel come downe from heauen clothed with a cloud, and the rainbow vpon his head, and his face was as the sunne, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2 And hee had in his hand a little booke open, and he put his right foot vpon the sea, and his left on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voyce, as when a lyon roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seven thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: but I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, * Seale vp those things which the seven thunders haue spoken, and write them not.

5 And the Angel which I saw stand vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the things that therein are, and the earth, & the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which therein are, that time should be no more.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seventh Angel, when hee shall begin to blow the trumpet, euen the myserie of God shall be finished, as he hath declared to his seruants the Prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heauen, spake vnto me againe, and said, Go, and take the little booke which is open in the hand of the Angel, which standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the earth.

9 So I went vnto the Angel, and saide to him, Giue mee the little booke. And hee saide to mee,

* Take it, and eate it vp, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall bee in thy mouth as sweete as honie.

14. Then I looked the little book out of the angels hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth as sweete as honey: but when I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

15. And he said vnto me, Thou must prophesie again among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kings.

CHAP. XIII.

1. The Temple is measured. 2 Two witnesses raised by the Lord. 3 are murdered by the beast. 4 after reuiued to glory. 5 Christ exalted, 10 and God praised by the foure and twenty Elders.

1. Then was giuen mee a reede, like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise and mete the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worshipping therein.

2. But the court which is without the Temple, call out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they tread vnder foot, two and foure moneths.

3. But I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesie a thousand two hundred and threescore daies, clothed in sackcloth.

4. These are two olive trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

5. And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and deuoureth their enemies: for if any man would hurt them, thus must he be killed.

6. These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying, & haue power ouer waters to turne them into blood, and to smite the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will.

7. And when they haue finished their testimony, the beast that cometh out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8. And their corpses shall lie in the streetes of the great citie, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

9. And they of the people and kindreds, & tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three dayes and on halfe, and shall not suffer their carkeises to be put in graues.

10. And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two Prophets vexed them that dwell on the earth.

11. But after three dayes and an halfe, the spirit of life comming from God, shall enter into them, and they shall stand vp vpon their feete: and great feare shall come vpon them which saw them.

12. And they shall heare a great voice from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they shall ascend vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enemies shall see them.

13. And the same houre shall there bee a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie shall fall, and in the earthquake shall bee slaine in number foure thousand: and the remnant shall be afraid, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14. The second woe is past, and behold, the third woe will come anon.

15. And the seventh Angel blew the trumpet, and there were great voices in heauen saying, The kingdomes of this world are our Lorde, and his Christs, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16. Then the foure and twenty Elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God,

17. saying, It is thy thanks, Lord God Almighty, Which art, and Which wast, and Which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obtained thy kingdom.

18. And the Gentiles were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldst giue reward vnto thy seruantes the Prophets, and to the Saints, and to them that feare thy Name, to small and great: and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19. Then the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seen in his Temple the Arke of his Covenante: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thundring, and earthquake, and much haile.

CHAP. XIV.

1 There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. 2 Michael fighteth with the dragon, which persecuteth the woman. 3 The victory is gotten, so the comfort of the faithfull.

1. And there appeared a great wonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the sun, and the moone was vnder her feet, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres.

2. And shee was with childe, and cried trauieling in birth, and was pained ready to bee deliuered.

3. And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for behold, a great red Dragon hauing seven heads and ten hornes, and seven crownes vpon his heads.

4. And his taile drew the third part of the stars of heauen, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman, which was ready to be deliuered, to deuoure her childe, when shee had brought it forth.

5. So shee brought forth a man childe, which should rule all nations with a Rod of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God and to his throne.

6. And the Woman fledde into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there, a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes.

7. And there was a battell in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels.

8. But they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9. And the great dragon, that old serpent, called the deuill and Satan, was cast out, which deceiuet all the world: hee was euen cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10. Then I heard a loud voice, saying, Now is saluation in heauen, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethien is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11. But they overcame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the word of their testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12. Therefore reioyce, yee heauens, and yee that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, knowing that hee hath but a short time.

13. And when the dragon saw that hee was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man childe.

14. But to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that shee might flee into the wilderness, into into his place: where the I. searched sea time, and time, and lasting time from the presence of the serpent.

10 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, like a flood, the bee might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

11 But the earth hope the woman, and the earth opened between, and swallowed up the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

12 Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and would have made warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the commandmentes of God, and haue the testimony of Iesus Christ.

13 And I stood on the sea sand.

CHAP. XII.

1 And the beast deceiued the reprobate, 2. 4. 13 and is commonly another beast. 17 The primative of the beast make.

And I saw a beast rise out of the sea, having seven heads, and ten hornes, & upon his hornes, were ten crownes, and upon his heads the name of blasphemie.

And the beast which I saw, was like a Leopard, and his feet like a beere, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his throne, and great authoritie.

And I saw one of his heads, as it were wounded to death: but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered, and followed the beast.

And they worshipped the dragon, which gave power unto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

And there was given unto him a mouth, that spake great things, and blasphemie, & power was given unto him: doe two and forty monthes.

And he opened his mouth, & blasphemed against God, to blaspheme his Name, and his Tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

And it was given unto him to make warre with the Saints, and to overcome them, and power was given him over every kindred, and tongue, and nation.

Therefore all that dwell upon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the Booke of life of the Lambe, which was slain from the beginning of the world.

If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

If any man leadeth into captivity, he shall goe into captivity: if any kill with a sword, he must be killed by a sword: here is the patience and the faith of the Saints.

And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth, which had two hornes like the Lambe, but he spake like the dragon.

And hee did all that the first beast could doe before him, and he caused the earth, and them that dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

And hee did great wonders, so that he made fire to come downe from heaven on the earth, in the sight of men.

And deceiued them that dwell on the earth by the signes, which were permitted to him to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make the image of the beast, which had the wound of a sword, and did liue.

And it was permitted to him to giue a spirit unto the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast should speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

And he made all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, to receive a marke in their right hand, or in their forehead.

And that no man might buy or sell, one that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

Here is wisdom. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is like hundred threescore and sixe.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Thou shalt see the company of the Lambe, 4 One Angel announced the Gospel, 8 another the fall of Babylon, 9 and the third warned to flee from the beast, 13 Of their blessing which die in the Lord, 18 Of the Lords harvest.

Then I looked, and lo a Lambe stood on mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and foure thousand, having his Fathers name written in their foreheads.

And I heard a voice from heaven, as the sound of many waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: & I heard the voices of harpers harping with their harpes.

And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the Elders: so man could learne that song, but the hundred forty and foure thousand, which were bought from the earth.

These are they, which are not defiled with women: for they are virgines: these follow the Lambe whithersoever he goeth: these are bought from men, being the first fruites ynto God, and to the Lambe.

And in their mouths was found no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

Then I saw another Angel, flie in the midst of heaven, having an euangelium Gospel, to preach, vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, & people.

Saying with a loud voice, Feare God, and giue glory to him: for the hour of his judgement is come: and worship him that made heaven and earth, and the sea, and the fountaines of waters.

And there followed another Angel, saying, It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great citie: for shee made all nations to drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue a marke in his forehead, or on his hand,

The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, yea, of the pure wine which is poured into the cup of his wrath, and hee shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe.

And the smoke of their torment shall ascend euermore: & they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast and his image, and whose neuer receiueth the print of his name.

Here is the patience of Saints: here are they that keepe the commandmentes of God, and the faith of Iesus.

Then I heard a voyce from heaven, saying vnto mee, Write, Blessed are the dead which hereafter die in the Lord. Even so sayth the Spirit: For they rest from their labours, and their workes follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sitting like unto the Sonne of man, having on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Joel. 3. 13. * Thrust in thy sickle and reape: for the matth. 13. time is come to reape: for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And here that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 Then another Angel came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, having also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cried with a loud voice to him that had the sharpe sickle, and said, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyard of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut down the vines of the vineyard of the earth, & cast them into that great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20 And the wine-press was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the wine-press, vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

7. The seven Angels haue the seven last plagues. 8. The song of them that ouercome the beast. 9. The seven vials full of Gods wrath.

And I sawe another signe in heauen: great and marueilous, seuen Angels having the seuen last plagues: for by them it is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, having the harpes of God.

Exo. 15. 1. 3 And they sing the song of Moyses the * seru-

4 * Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorify thy Name: for thou only art holy, and all nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that, I looked, and behold, the Temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the Temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linen, and hauing their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels, seuen golden vials full of the wrath of God, which lieth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

2. The Angels poure out their vials full of wrath, 6. and the plagues follow thereon p. 15. Admonition to take heed and watch.

And I heard a great voice out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Go your wayes, and poure out the seuen vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

3 And the first went, and poured out his viall vpon the earth: and there fell a noysome and a grievous sore vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

4 And the second Angel poured out his viall vpon the sea, and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every liuing thing died in the sea.

5 And the third Angel poured out his viall vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they became blood.

6 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lord, thou art iust. Which art, and Which wast, and holy, because thou hast iudged these things.

7 For they shed the blood of the Saints, and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke, for they are worthy.

8 And I heard another out of the Sanctuary say, Euen so, Lord God almighty, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

9 And the fourth Angel poured out his viall on the sunne, and it was given vnto him to torment men with heat of fire.

10 And men boyled in great heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not to giue him glory.

11 And the fifth Angel poured out his viall vpon the throne of the beast, and his kingdomes waxed dark, and they gnawed their tongues for sorrow,

12 And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, and repented not of their workes.

13 And the sixth Angel poured out his viall vpon the great riuier Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of the East should be prepared.

14 And I saw three vncleane spirits like frogs, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the woman, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

15 For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles to goe vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almighty.

16 * Behold, I come as a thief: blessed is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments, lest hee walke naked, and men see his filthiness.

17 And they gathered them together into a place called in Hebrew Arma-gedon.

18 And the seventh Angel poured out his viall into the aire: and there came a loud voice out of the Temple of heauen from the throne, saying, It is done.

19 And there were voyces, and thundrings, and lightnings, and there was a great earthquake such as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mighty an earthquake.

20 And the great citie was diuided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell, and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, * to 1w. 18. 17. giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

21 And euery yle fled away, and the mountaines were not found.

22 And there fell a great haille like talens, out of heauen vpon the men, & men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haille, for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

3. The description of the great whore. 8. Her sinnes and punishment. 14. The vision of the Lambe.

Then

Then came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying, Come, I will shew thee the damnation of the great whore, that sitteth upon many waters.

With whom have committed fornication the Kings of the earth, and the inhabitants of the earth, are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

So he carried me away into the wilderness in the Spirit, and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet-coloured beast full of names of blasphemy, which had seven heads, and ten horns.

And the woman was arrayed in purple, and scarlet, and girded with gold, and precious stones, and pearls, and had a cup of gold in her hand, full of abominations, and filchiness of her fornication.

And in her forehead was a name written, A mystery, Great Babylon, the mother of whoredoms, and abominations of the earth.

And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of Saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great marvel.

Then the Angel said unto me, Wherefore marvellest thou? I will shew thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seven heads, and ten horns.

The beast, that thou hast scene, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and shall go up and perdition, and they that dwell on the earth, shall wonder (whose names are not written in the book of life, from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

Here is the mind that hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, whereon the woman sitteth: they are also seven kings.

Five are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

And the beast that was, and is not, even the eight, and is one of the seven, and shall go up, and shall stand upon the waters.

And the ten horns which thou hast scene, are ten kings, which yet have not received a kingdom, but shall receive power as kings at one hour with the beast.

These have one mind, and shall give their power and authority unto the beast.

These shall fight with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are on his side, called, and chosen, and faithful.

And he said unto me, The waters which thou sawest, whereto the whore sitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, they shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to do with one consent, to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God be fulfilled.

And the woman which thou sawest, is the great city, which reigneth over the Kings of the earth.

C H A P. XVIII.

The towers of the world are sore for the fall of the whore of Babylon, 4. An admiration to the people of God to see out of her dominion, 20. Was they that be of God, have cause to be glad for her destruction.

And after the things, I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glory.

And he cried out mightily with a loud voice, saying, It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great: for she is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of all foul spirits, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

For all nations have drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxen rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

And I heard another voice from heaven say, Go out of her my people, that ye be not partakers in her sinnes, & that ye receive not of her plagues.

For her sinnes are come up into heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

Reward her, even as she hath rewarded you, and give her double according to her works, and in the cuppe that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

In as much as she glorified herself, and lived in pleasure, so much give ye to her torment, and sorrow: for she hath in her heart, that she will be a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no mourning.

Therefore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorrow, and famine, and she shall be burnt with fire: for strong is the Lord God which will condemn her.

And the Kings of the earth shall bewile her, and shall say, We will fight with her, because she hath made us so rich, and she shall be burnt with fire.

And thus stands the sentence of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, the mighty citie: for in one hour is thy judgement come.

And the merchants of the earth shall weep and wail, because there is no man buyeth their ware any more.

The ware of gold, and silver, and of precious stone, and of pearls, and of fine linen, and of purple, and of silk, and of scarlet, and of all manner of Tyne wood, and of all vessels of yron, and of all vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and of yron, and of marble.

And of cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flower, and wheate, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chaires, and furniture, and soles of men.

And the appliers that they use after, are departed from thee, and all things which were sweet and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more.

The merchants of these things, which were waxed rich, shall stand a farre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wailing.

And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and girded with gold, and precious stone, and pearls.

For in one hour so great riches are come to desolation: and every shipmaster, and all the people that occupie ships, and shippes, and whose soeuer traile on the sea, shall stand a farre off,

And cry, when they see the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie was like unto this great citie?

And they shall cast dust on their heads, and erie, weeping and wayling, and say, Alas, alas, the great city, wherein were made rich all that had things upon the sea by her; for in one houre these is made desolate.

20 O heauen, reioyce of her, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets: for God hath giuen your iudgment on her.

21 Then a mighty Angelooke vpon a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall the great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe found no more.

22 And the voice of harpers and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters shall be heard no more in thee, and no craftsman of whatsoever craft he be, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shalbe heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shal shine no more in thee: & the voyce of the bridegroom & of the bride shalbe heard no more in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine inuicements were deceived all nations.

24 And when they saw the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Praised be they that are to God for iudging the whore, and for avengeing the blood of his seruants. 2 The Angel will not be worshipped. 3 The foules and birds are called to the slaughter.

And when these things I heard, I heard a great voyce of a great multitude in heauen, saying, Halleluiah, saluation and glory, and honour, and power be to the Lord our God.

For the righteous are his iudgements: for hee hath condemned the grece whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avengeed the blood of his seruants shed by her hand.

And againe they said, Halleluiah: and her smoke rose vp: for euermore.

4 And the foure & twenty Elders, & the foure beasts fell downe, and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen, Halleluiah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, al ye his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thunderings, saying, Halleluiah: for our Lord God Almighty hath reigned.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue glory to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed with pure fine linnen and shining: for the fine linnen is the righteousness of Saints.

9 Then he sayd vnto me, Write, * Blessed are they which are called vnto the Lambs supper. And he said vnto me, These words of God are true.

10 And I tell before his feete, * to worship him: but he said vnto me, See thou doe it not: I am thy fellow seruant, and one of thy brethren which haue the testimony of Iesus. Worship God: for the testimony of Iesus is the Spirit of prophetic.

11 And I saw heauen open, and behold a white horse, and he that sat vpon him was called Faithfull and true, and hee iudgeth and fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes: and he had a Name written that no man knew but himselfe.

13 And * he was clothed with a garment dipt in blood, and his name is called THE WORD OF GOD.

14 And the warriors which were in heauen, followed him vpon white horses, clothed with fine linnen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe sword, that with it hee should smite the heauen: for hee * shal rake them with a rod of yron: for he it is that treadeth the winepresse of the Beccards and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath vpon his garment, and vpon his thigh a Name written, * The Kings of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

17 And I saw an Angel stand in the Saine, who cryed with a loud voyce, saying to all the foules that did fle by the mids of heauen, Come, and gather your selves together vnto the supper of the great God.

18 That ye may eat the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of his captiues, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, & of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men and bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, & the kings of the earth, and their warriors gathered together to make battell against him that sat on the horse, and against his souldiers.

20 But the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought his miracles before him, whereby he deceived them that received the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast into a lake of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which cometh out of his mouth, and all the foules were filled full with their flesh.

CHAP. XX.

1 Satan being bound for a certaine time, y and after let loose, catcheth the Church generally. 2 And after the world is judged, hee shall be cast into the lake of fire.

And I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, having the key of the bottomles pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he tooke the dragon that old serpent, which is the deuil and Satan, and he bound him a thousand yeres.

3 And cast him into the bottomles pit, and he shut him vp, and sealed the doore vpon him, that he should deceive people no more, till the thousand yeres were fulfilled: for after that he must be loosed for a little season.

4 And I saw seates, and they sat vpon them, and iudgment was giuen vnto them, and I saw the foules of them that were beheaded for the witness of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which did not worship the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or on their handes: and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand yeres.

5 But the rest of the dead men shall not liue againe, vntill the thousand yeres be finished: this is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he, that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power: but they shalbe the Priests of God, and of Christ, and shalbe reigne with him a thousand yeres.

7 And when the thousand yeres are expired, Satan shalbe loosed out of his prison,

10 And the deuil that deceived them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beaſt and the falſe prophet ſhalbe tormented euery day and night for euermore.

11 And I ſaw a great white throne, and one that ſate on it, from whoſe face ſhed away both the earth and heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I ſawe the dead both great and ſmall, ſtand before God: and the bookes were opened, and another booke was opened, which is the booke of life, And the dead were iudged of thoſe things which were written in the bookes, according to their workes.

13 And the ſea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to their workes.

14 And death and hell were caſt into the lake of fire: this is the ſecond death.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The bleſſed eſtate of the godly. 2 And the miſerable condition of the wicked. 3 The deſcription of the beaueuly Ierusalem, and of the wife of the Lambe.

1 And I ſaw a new heauen, and a new earth: for the firſt heauen and the firſt earth were paſſed away, and there was no more ſea.

2 And I Iohn ſawe the holy citie nowe Ierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trimmed for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heauen, ſaying, Beholde, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them: and they ſhalbe his people, and God himſelfe ſhalbe their God with them.

4 And God ſhall wipe away all teares from their eyes, and there ſhalbe no more death, neither ſorrow, neither crying, neither ſhall there bee any more paine: for the firſt things are paſſed.

5 And he that ſate vpon the throne, ſaid, Behold, I make all things newe: and hee ſayde vnto me, Write: for theſe words are faithfull and true.

6 And he ſaid vnto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will giue to him that is athirſt, of the well of the water of life freely.

7 Hee that overcommeth, ſhall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and hee ſhall be my ſonne.

8 But the fearful, and vncleane, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and ſorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, ſhal hane their part in the lake, which burneth with fire and brimſtone, which is the ſecond death.

9 And there came vnto me, one of the ſeuen Angels which had the ſeuen vials full of the ſeuen laſt plagues, and talked with me, ſaying, Come: I will ſhew thee the Bride, the Lambes wife.

10 And hee caried mee away in the ſpirit to a great and high mountaine, and he ſhewed mee the great city, holy Ieruſalem, deſcending out of heauen from God.

11 Having the glory of God, and her ſhining was like vnto a ſtone moſt precious, as a glaſſe cleare as cryſtall.

12 And ſhe had a great wall & ſhe, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, & the names written, which are the twelue tribes of the children of Iſrael.

13 On the Eaſt part there were three gates, and on the North ſide three gates, and on the South ſide three gates, and on the Weſt ſide three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue Apoſtles.

15 And hee that talked with mee, had a golden reede to meaſure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lay ſoure ſquare, & the length is as large as the breadth of it, and he meaſured the citie with the reed, twelue thouſand ſarongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.

17 And he meaſured the wall thereof, an hundred foure and foure cubites, by the meaſure of man, that is, of the Angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of Iaſper: and the citie was pure golde, like vnto cleare glaſſe.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garniſhed with all manner of precious ſtones: the firſt foundation was Iaſper: the ſecond of Saphire: the third of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emeraude:

20 The fiſt of a Sardoniſ: the fixt of a Sardius: the ſeuenth of a Chryſolite: the eight of a Beryl: the ninth of a Topaze: the tenth of a Chryſopraſus: the eleuenth of a Iacynth: the twelfth an Amethyſt.

21 And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate was of one pearle, and the ſtreet of the citie pure gold, as ſhining glaſſe.

22 And I ſaw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lambe are the Temple of it.

23 And the citie hath no neede of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to ſhine in it: for the glory of God did light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24 And the people which are ſaned, ſhal walke in the light of it: and the Kings of the earth ſhal bring their glory and honour vnto it.

25 And the gates of it ſhall not bee ſhut by day: for there ſhalbe no night there.

26 And the glory and honour of the Gentiles ſhalbe brought vnto it.

27 And there ſhall enter into it none vncleane thing, neither what ſoener worketh abomination, or lies: but they which are written in the Lambes booke of Life.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 2 The ſeruant ſerue and light of the citie of God. 3 The Lord giueth cuer his ſeruant warning of thy things to come. 4 The Angel wil not be worſhipped. 5 To the word of God may nothing be added, nor diminiſhed therefrom. 6 And he ſhewed me a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as chryſtall, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the midſt of the ſtreet of it, and of either ſide side of the river, was the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and gave fruit to every month: and the leaves of the tree shall heal the nations with.

3 And there shall bee no more curse, but the throne of God, and of the Lambe shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his Name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there, and they neede no candle, neither light of the Sonne: for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reigne for evermore.

6 And he said vnto mee, These words are faithfull and true: and the Lord God of the Holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Behold, I come shortly. Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophetic of this booke.

8 And I am Iohn, which saw and heard these things: and when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed me these things.

9 But he saide vnto mee, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the words of this booke: worship God.

10 And hee said vnto mee, Seale not the wordes of the Prophetic of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is iust, let him be iust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and hee that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and hee charis holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with mee: to giue every man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that doe his commandments, that their right may be in the tree of life, and may enter in thorow the gates into the citie.

15 For without shall be dogges, and inchesters, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh lies.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testify vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roose, and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the Spirit, and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come: and let him that is athirst come: and let whosoever will, take of the water of life freely.

18 For I protest vnto every man that heareth the words of the prophetic of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are writen in this booke:

19 And if any man shall diminish of the words of the booke of this prophetic, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from those things which are writen in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Euen so come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

the Chapter, the second the Verse, will be quite good and sove

Whereas the blindness of sin; and the blindness of the former age hath been such, that all things together have been hid, and so that the very right name of Christ of the holy manifested in the Scriptures hath been forgotten; and now some strange conceits; and the names of Infants that should carry have strangely adulterations in them; and should be memorial and marks of the children of God received into his Church, have been utterly of and out, and made the signs and badges of Infidelity, and Heathenish Pieties, we have now by fourth this Table of the names shall be used in the Old Testament, with their interpretation; as the Hebrew imperfectly partly to call back the guilty from the altar, when they shall know the names of the guilty Fathers, and shall very feignly; that their children may named after them, may have testimony by their very names, that they are within the faithful family, that in all their doings had our God before their eyes, and that they are bound by their names to serve God from their infancy, and have occasion to praise him for his most merciful love to them and their fathers; but chiefly to reprove themselves in their infidelity, whereby many places of the Scriptures, and secret mysteries of the holy Ghost shall be better understood. We have omitted rarely with the Greek manner, because their interpretation is uncertain, and many of them are corrupted from their original, as we may see these Hebrew names; as in the margin of the Table, which have been corrupted by the Grecians. Now for the above Hebrew names which are not here interpreted, let not the diligent Reader be careless; for he shall find them in places most convenient amongst the Annotations: at least in many in many places to make for his satisfaction, and under shadow of the Scriptures.
